Due to the health emergencies impacting our legislative process, the Public Safety and Neighborhood Services Committee is only intermittently able to handle regular business. The committee may hear this matter remotely on April 9, 2020. At this time, we're working out the logistics of how the meeting would be conducted and run. If this PC or N hearing is scheduled, I will let everyone know in a follow-up email, and we can discuss how to appear before the committee remotely.

The Epicurean Trader is a respected retailer in the San Francisco community with three small grocery markets in the Bernal Heights, Cow Hollow and Hayes Valley neighborhoods of San Francisco. We are a husband-and-wife run business and are completely independent with no outside investors or ownership.

Our current markets are highly regarded, as indicated by online reviews, and have been recognized in publications like Sunset Magazine and San Francisco Magazine for our dedication to small, local producers as well as being a great addition to San Francisco neighborhoods. The local residents in neighborhoods where our current markets reside are thrilled to have us as part of their neighborhood and as part of the weekly shopping routine.

Below are a few quotes from our guests to highlight the impact that we can have on a local community:

- Rebecca S.: "A fantastic addition to the neighborhood"
- Carly C.: "Such an amazing addition to Union Street. They have a wide variety selection ranging from meats, cheeses, wines, spirits, etc. I was surprised by the high quality and specialty items that you can't get anywhere close by. I will definitely be adding this store to my regular shopping list!"
- Claire V. "Great addition to neighborhood - panini sandwiches especially good. A gourmet food shop was needed."
- Matt M. "An amazing selection of pretty much everything they carry. My personal favorites are Tartine Bakery bread, and Bi-Rite Creamery ice cream. 5 stars for a very welcome addition to the neighborhood!"
- Ron C. "One of my favorite things is their sandwiches—a welcome addition to the fare on Union St. To top it all off, they even have fresh Tartine Bakery bread and pastries...what more could you ask for?"

Currently there is no offering like ours in the Embarcadero / Financial District neighborhood and the Ferry Building have specifically selected The Epicurean Trader to be their general grocer in the marketplace for the thousands of commuters who take the ferry as a means of transport to the city on a daily basis. In addition, we plan to serve the specialty grocery needs of people who work in the surrounding buildings.

Since we announced our plan to open in the Ferry Building we have been inundated with calls and emails from local residents, commuters and people that work in the surrounding area stating how excited they are to have a curated grocery store in a convenient location where they can purchase affordable and high-quality food.

Less than 5% of the total square footage of the space is dedicated to the sale of alcoholic beverages, with the remainder focused on organic, quality food and pantry items, many of them made locally by San Franciscan artisans.

Despite alcohol being a small percentage of our overall business, it is important to the overall economics of our store format and our ability to pay our employees a 'livable wage' (above the minimum wage) and the high rents that San Francisco commands. In order for us to provide high-quality, organic and healthy produce and staples to the neighborhood at affordable prices, we need to be able to offer higher-margin, non-perishable items such as alcohol and specialty items to help pay the bills. Without the margins on alcohol we simply would not be able to survive.

Like all the categories we serve, we take a lot of pride in the selection of our alcohol and don't simply look to carry cheap, low-quality liquor for the purpose of only getting intoxicated. We focus on smaller producers that care about authentic craftsmanship and quality raw materials. In fact, our dedication to quality has earned several accolades for our selection, including: 'Best Spirits Store in The San Francisco Bay Area' by San Francisco Magazine; 'Best Neighborhood Wine Shop' by Yelp amongst others.

We are responsible retailers and have never had any issues with retailing alcoholic beverages at any of our markets. Our staff are highly knowledgeable and well trained in how to be a responsible servers of alcohol.

We hope that you will support our bid to move into the Ferry Building and provide the community with quality grocery options.

The Epicurean Trader is a respected retailer in the San Francisco community with three small grocery markets in the Bernal Heights, Cow Hollow and Hayes Valley neighborhoods of San Francisco. We are a husband-and-wife run business and are completely independent with no outside investors or ownership.

Our current markets are highly regarded, as indicated by online reviews, and have been recognized in publications like Sunset Magazine and San Francisco Magazine for our dedication to small, local producers as well as being a great addition to San Francisco neighborhoods. The local residents in neighborhoods where our current markets reside are thrilled to have us as part of their neighborhood and as part of the weekly shopping routine.

Below are a few quotes from our guests to highlight the impact that we can have on a local community:

- Rebecca S.: "A fantastic addition to the neighborhood"
- Carly C.: "Such an amazing addition to Union Street. They have a wide variety selection ranging from meats, cheeses, wines, spirits, etc. I was surprised by the high quality and specialty items that you can't get anywhere close by. I will definitely be adding this store to my regular shopping list!"
- Claire V. "Great addition to neighborhood - panini sandwiches especially good. A gourmet food shop was needed."
- Matt M. "An amazing selection of pretty much everything they carry. My personal favorites are Tartine Bakery bread, and Bi-Rite Creamery ice cream. 5 stars for a very welcome addition to the neighborhood!"
- Ron C. "One of my favorite things is their sandwiches--a welcome addition to the fare on Union St. To top it all off, they even have fresh Tartine Bakery bread and pastries...what more could you ask for?"

Currently there is no offering like ours in the Embarcadero / Financial District neighborhood and the Ferry Building have specifically selected The Epicurean Trader to be their general grocer in the marketplace for the thousands of commuters who take the ferry as a means of transport to the city on a daily basis. In addition, we plan to serve the specialty grocery needs of people who work in the surrounding buildings.

Since we announced our plan to open in the Ferry Building we have been inundated with calls and emails from local residents, commuters and people that work in the surrounding area stating how excited they are to have a curated grocery store in a convenient location where they can purchase affordable and high-quality food.

Less than 5% of the total square footage of the space is dedicated to the sale of alcoholic beverages, with the remainder focused on organic, quality food and pantry items, many of them made locally by San Franciscan artisans.

Despite alcohol being a small percentage of our overall business, it is important to the overall economics of our store format and our ability to pay our employees a 'livable wage' (above the minimum wage) and the high rents that San Francisco commands. In order for us to provide high-quality, organic and healthy produce and staples to the neighborhood at affordable prices, we need to be able to offer higher-margin, non-perishable items such as alcohol and specialty items to help pay the bills. Without the margins on alcohol the we simply would not be able to survive.

Like all the categories we serve, we take a lot of pride in the selection of our alcohol and don't simply look to carry cheap, low-quality liquor for the purpose of only getting intoxicated. We focus on smaller producers that care about authentic craftsmanship and quality raw materials. In fact, our dedication to quality has earned several accolades for our selection, including: 'Best Spirits Store in The San Francisco Bay Area' by San Francisco Magazine; 'Best Neighborhood Wine Shop' by Yelp amongst others.

We are responsible retailers and have never had any issues with retailing alcoholic beverages at any of our markets. Our staff are highly knowledgeable and well trained in how to be a responsible servers of alcohol.

We hope that you will support our bid to move into the Ferry Building and provide the community with quality grocery options.
