11 WHEREAS, Planning Code, Section 306.7, authorizes the Board of Supervisors to 12 impose interim zoning controls to allow time for the orderly completion of a planning study and 13 for the adoption of appropriate legislation, which are necessary to ensure that the legislative 14 scheme that may be ultimately adopted is not undermined during the planning and legislative 15 process by the approval or issuance of permits authorizing changes of use that could conflict 16 with that scheme; and

17 WHEREAS, In recent decades, the rate of production of housing in San Francisco has 18 failed to keep pace with an influx of jobs and increased demand for housing in San Francisco 19 and in the broader region, which has contributed to increased unaffordability and repeat 20 waves of evictions and displacement, largely to the detriment of long-term residents and 21 communities and lower-income communities, in particular; and

22 WHEREAS, Policymakers at the City and state level have sought to increase housing 23 density across the state, including through the implementation of a Citywide Accessory 24 Dwelling Unit Program in San Francisco that applies to existing structures and to new

1 construction and which allows for the increased densification of residential and mixed use 2 neighborhoods and zoning districts; and

3 WHEREAS, While significant emphasis has been placed on increasing the capacity for 4 increased housing density in residential and mixed use zoning districts, and to remove various 5 substantive and procedural restrictions on the construction of affordable housing in particular, 6 comparatively little emphasis has been placed on setting density minimums and creating 7 disincentives for low-density projects in zoning districts that allow for greater density; and

8 WHEREAS, The construction of large residences is indicative of a market preference 9 for demonstrably unaffordable housing, even in zoning districts that permit greater capacity for 10 housing density and which tend to be characterized by higher density, more affordable, and 11 rent-stabilized housing; and

12 WHEREAS, The construction of large residences in zoning districts that permit greater 13 capacity for housing density, such as Residential-Commercial Combined (RC), Residential - 14 Mixed (RM) or Residential - Transit Oriented (RTO) districts, forgoes opportunities for more 15 affordable housing, and frequently results in the loss or conversion of housing protected by 16 rent stabilization provisions of the San Francisco Rent Ordinance; and

17 WHEREAS, Objective 2 of San Francisco’s 2014 Housing Element states that 18 “conserving and improving the existing (housing) stock is critical to San Francisco's long term 19 housing strategy”; and

20 WHEREAS, The 2020 Housing Balance Report, produced by the Planning Department
21 pursuant to Section 103 of the Planning Code, indicates that for the period from 2010 Quarter 22 1 - 2019 Quarter 4, 7,081 units of net new affordable housing have been built in San 23 Francisco while 3,951 units have been removed from protected status, a ratio of just 1.79 24 units built for every 1 unit lost; and

1           WHEREAS, The loss of affordable and rent controlled housing is driven in part by the 2 demolition, merger, and conversion of those homes and their replacement with market rate 3 housing and, notably, large single family homes in zoning districts that permit increased 4 capacity for housing density; and

5           WHEREAS, Planning Commission Resolution No. 20024, also known as the 6 “Residential Flat Removal Policy,” defines a “Residential Flat” as a common San Francisco
7 housing typology consisting of a single dwelling unit, generally occupying an entire story 8 within a building, and having exposure onto open areas at the front and rear of the property; 9 and

10           WHEREAS, Planning Commission Resolution No. 20024 enconces a preference for 11 the Residential Flat housing typology by subjecting any project that proposes to remove a 12 Residential Flat to mandatory discretionary review before the Planning Commission; and

13           WHEREAS, The interim controls established by this Resolution will allow time for the 14 orderly completion of a planning study and for the adoption of appropriate legislation; and

15           WHEREAS, The Board of Supervisors (Board) has considered the impact on the public 16 health, safety, peace, and general welfare if these interim controls are not imposed; and

17           WHEREAS, The Board has determined that the public interest will best be served by 18 imposition of these interim controls to ensure that the legislative scheme which may be 19 ultimately adopted is not undermined during the planning and legislative process for 20 permanent controls; and

21           WHEREAS, The Board makes the following findings of consistency with the Priority
22 Policies set forth in Planning Code, Section 101.1: by requiring Conditional Use authorization 23 for any residential development in an RC, RM or RTO district that does not maximize the 24 number of units that could be constructed based on the applicable density limits, these interim 25 controls advance Priority Policy 2, that existing housing and neighborhood character be

1 conserved and protected to preserve the cultural and economic diversity of our 2 neighborhoods, and these interim controls do not conflict with the other Priority Policies of 3 Section 101.1; and

4 WHEREAS, The Planning Department has determined that the actions contemplated in 5 this Resolution comply with the California Environmental Quality Act (California Public 6 Resources Code, Section 21000 et seq.); said determination is on file with the Clerk of the 7 Board of Supervisors in File No. 201370 and is incorporated herein by reference; the Board
8 hereby affirms this determination; now, therefore be it

9 RESOLVED, That in multi-unit residential (R) districts, and in single family home zoning 10 districts that allow for the construction of an Accessory Dwelling Unit, the City and County of 11 San Francisco hereby reiterates its preference for multi-unit buildings consisting of equitably-
12 sized Residential Flats, as that housing typology is defined in Planning Commission
13 Resolution No. 20024; and, be it

14 FURTHER RESOLVED, That as to the proposed new construction of a residential 15 building in RC, RM and RTO zoning districts or as to any proposed alteration that would result
16 in the expansion of a residential building in RC, RM and RTO zoning districts, Conditional Use
17 Authorization under Planning Code, Section 303, shall be required if the residential building 18 does not maximize the principally permitted residential density, not including any additional 19 residential density permitted under state law or Planning Code, Section 206, et seq., while 20 adhering to the minimum unit size requirements set forth in Planning Code, Section 206.3; 21 and, be it

22 FURTHER RESOLVED, That if existing lot conditions or form-based restrictions on 23 development (e.g., height, bulk, rear yard requirements) are such that a proposed project 24 cannot maximize density without seeking a variance or subdividing existing units on the lot,
25 and while adhering to the minimum unit size requirements set forth in Planning Code, Section

1 206.3, Conditional Use Authorization under Planning Code, Section 303 shall not be required
2 if a proposed project increases density on a subject lot, does not include any single unit
3 greater than 2000 square feet in size, and would not be subject to Conditional Use 4 Authorization under any other provision of the Planning Code; and, be

5 FURTHER RESOLVED, That Conditional Use Authorization shall not be required for 6 expansions of existing residential buildings in RC, RM and RTO districts, wherein the 7 proposed expansion is 25% or less of the existing residential building, provided that the 8 proposed expansion (1) does not increase the size of any unit that is already larger than 2000 9 square feet in size, (2) does not create any new unit that is greater than 2000 square feet in 10 size, and (3) does not cause an existing unit that is less than 2000 square feet in size to be 11 larger than 2000 square feet in size; and, be it

12 FURTHER RESOLVED, That upon imposition of these interim controls, the Planning 13 Department shall conduct a study of the contemplated zoning proposal and propose 14 permanent legislation to address the issues posed by large residential development that does 15 not maximize the allowable density; and be it

16 FURTHER RESOLVED, That these interim controls shall apply to all applications for 17 residential development where a final site or building permit has not been issued as of the 18 effective date of this Resolution, to the extent allowed by law; and be it

19 FURTHER RESOLVED, That for projects scheduled for a hearing at the Planning 20 Commission under a Discretionary Review as of the effective date of this Resolution, the 21 Planning Department is requested to expedite the processing and calendaring of any required
22 Conditional Use authorization under these controls; and, be it

23 FURTHER RESOLVED, That these interim controls shall remain in effect for 18
24 months from the effective date of this Resolution, or until the adoption of permanent legislation 25 that addresses substantially the same issues, whichever first occurs; and, be it

6 FURTHER RESOLVED, That the Planning Department shall provide reports to the

Re: File # 201370; Interim Zoning Controls - Large Residential Projects in RC, RM and RTO Districts

Dear members of the Land Use Committee,

Vote no on the above captioned resolution. Allow this proposed zoning change to go through the ordinary process for zoning changes so that its effects and shortcomings can be accurately assessed.

Bad Process

The City of San Francisco has an extensive process for making zoning changes, regarding this proposed policy change, the city should avail itself of that process and not institute a change without public hearings and feedback. If this policy proposal is a good idea, it, or a version of it, will be passed after the requisite public process. If upon further study it's a bad idea, you don't want to have had it in effect for any amount of time.

There is no way for this committee to have sufficient information, on this compressed timeline and without any of the normal public process, or even a staff report from Planning, to be able to make a decision on this proposed legislation. Vote no on the emergency legislation, and allow it to go through the ordinary process.

Redundant, state (and local) laws already achieve the the tenant protecting goals

The most generous reading of the purpose of this legislation is that it is meant to protect rent controlled housing, or even non-rent controlled apartments, that are in small apartment buildings, from project sponsors who intend to merge the apartments into one big single family house.

To accomplish that end, this legislation is not necessary. In addition to the local legislation already requiring a CU hearing when demolishing (including merging) rent controlled apartments, there is an even stronger state law preventing almost all of these mergers. It covers both rent controlled and market rate apartments. This is Government

Supervisor Haney & Others:

As a longtime resident of D6, I'm shocked to hear that the Supervisors on the Land Use and Transportation Committee are attempting to increase/maximize growth in many of San Francisco's communities of concern in response to our state required zoning for housing growth (RHNA) while allowing our wealthiest and least dense western neighborhoods to remain unchanged. The notice of this emergency bill is found here:

Instead of focusing on equity by expanding/fast-tracking housing production in the neighborhoods south and west of the Mission, which have long maintained exclusionary neighborhoods of single-family homes as a way to prevent people of color and lower-income residents from moving there, city leaders now want to push more growth into the few neighborhoods, like most of D6, that have already built the vast majority of new housing over the last 3 decades. While the Sunset would remain virtually unchanged, this policy would target growth in the Tenderloin, Fillmore, Japantown, Mission, etc.

This is offensive and goes against every stated city policy on housing equity, and practically begs for the state to take more decisive action in removing control from local politics. Please DO NOT allow such a farce to continue—San Francisco deserves to see housing growth spread equitably among every neighborhood in the city, with particular protections for communities of concern and expanded growth in wealthy, job-rich neighborhoods that have built little to no new housing. I have no issue with fast-tracking housing development, particularly when it is providing affordable units of funds for future affordable housing; however, this bill seems to pretend it is promoting affordable-housing growth, while directing the zoning changes at neighborhoods facing wide scale displacement and does nothing to promote growth in the two-thirds of SF that currently ban apartments.

Please let me know how you plan to fix this.
