Our country has become a vast strip mall. We provide "free parking" and "free roads".... But it's not free. It represents a direct wealth transfer and subsidy to drivers, big oil, and car manufacturers.

I know as a former planning commissioner myself that it will take courage. Please make the great HWY a great WALKway and keep it closed to cars permanently.

Thank you!

Dear Commissioners, Directors, General Manager Ginsburg, and Director Tumlin,

I am writing to ask you to keep the Great Highway Park open to people and closed to cars, and to continue to invest in street safety & alternative transit throughout San Francisco. The "Great Walkway" is a city-wide asset that is a civic commons and green commute-way for residents, and also a huge draw for visitors from all over the city, bringing customers to D4 merchants and creating community around an equitable, accessible, beautiful and safe space for all to use.

It's 2021 - nearly 100 years since the first roadway was built along the ocean. Things look different now. Let's invest in creative traffic and transit solutions to address the few bottlenecks that exist, rather than reverting to a polluting and dangerous 4 lane highway through a national park. This moment calls for forward looking leadership that can help San Franciscans boldly meet the moment, with creativity and resilience.

Take a leap on a legacy and make the Great Walkway a permanent promenade along Ocean Beach, and a world-class green commuting, recreation, and community space for all.

Thanks so much for listening!

Dear Commissioners, Directors, General Manager Ginsburg, and Director Tumlin,

I am writing to ask you to keep the Great Highway Park open to people and closed to cars, and to continue to invest in public transit throughout San Francisco. The "Great Walkway" is a city-wide asset that is a civic commons and green commute-way for residents, and also a huge draw for visitors from all over the city, bringing customers to D4 merchants and creating community space for all to use. It has been an incredible asset to public health in the Sunset and beyond.

Let's invest in creative traffic and transit solutions to address the few bottlenecks that exist, rather than reverting to a polluting and dangerous four-lane highway through a national park. This moment calls for forward looking leadership that can help San Franciscans boldly meet the moment, with creativity and resilience.

The Great Highway has been an invaluable resource for me as a mother in the Outer Sunset. It's a place to walk, to clear my head, to take my children for safe playtime and a much safer use of space when we cross to go to the beach.

Subject: I would appreciate an honest answer regarding the Upper Great Highway

Dear Commissioners,

I am considering attending the meeting on the future of the Upper Great Highway on June 10th; however, I beginning to think that I could probably find much better use of my time. The reason I am feeling so cynical is cumulative.

First of all, you are holding this meeting as a forum for "public discussion" in order to gather information and input from those most affected by the closure of the Upper Great Highway, yet, on your website, you are already referring to the Upper Great Highway as "The Great Walkway". It would appear that you have already made a decision on this contentious issue, in which case public comment is meaningless and nothing more than virtue signaling.

Secondly, there is no indication that you have actively worked with any private/non-profit agencies other than the Bicycle Coalition in making your decision. I am not aware of any groups representing seniors or people with disabilities being consulted (I am a former employee of Senior & Disability Action, and I had lunch with two of my former co-workers yesterday who had heard nothing about this). There is no indication that you worked with anyone representing Concerned Residents of the Sunset or those in the Richmond District who are most impacted by the closure of the Upper Great Highway. You have not consulted anyone from the Open the Great Highway Facebook group that has been actively recording daily usage of the Upper Great Highway by way of photographs taken by different people at different times at different locations over course of months. (If you check the Facebook page, you will see scores (it's probably up to hundreds by now) of photos that have been recorded.) You have not consulted with any groups who represent the working people who need the UGH as a means of commuting. You have consulted with no one from the San Mateo County peninsula or the North Bay - people from both areas who use the UGH to quickly pass through the city. You have not consulted with veterans who use the UGH as the easiest way to the VA. You have not consulted any group representing motorists in general. If you had, you would have been forced to acknowledge that re-opening the UGH to cars serves the greater good. Instead, you have simply decided the UGH is now The Upper Great Walkway, slap hands, done deal.

Lastly, you seemed to have ignored a recent study in which San Francisco scored high for amount of park acreage available to residents, but scored dismally when accessibility was considered. Low-income neighborhoods and those of people of color have access to only 36% of the total park acreage while white neighborhoods have access to 51%. But instead of attempting to right that wrong by focusing on creating more parks in places like the Bayview or the Mission, you want to add hundreds of acres of parkland to the mostly white Sunset. This is rather irresponsible and, well, deplorable on your part, don't you think?

So, with all said and done, please, please, please be honest with me. Is the Great Walkway a done deal? I really don't want to spend hours on hold at a meaningless meeting held for no other reason than a pretense of caring about those who pay your salaries.

Sincerely,
Alyse Ceirante

Dear Commissioners, Directors, General Manager Ginsburg, and Director Tumlin,

The pandemic had countless negative impacts, but one of the few silver linings was the creation of the Great Walkway (and other people-first spaces in our city). The Great Walkway has given countless residents a safe place to walk, roll, and connect, and we must save it by approving a pilot to extend the promenade's life while continuing to do studies, outreach, and traffic-calming improvements.

I join Kid Safe SF and countless other organizations and residents in urging you to approve a pilot that extends the Walkway's life beyond the emergency health order.

The SFCTA's survey showed that about 80% of San Franciscans support a promenade in some form, with a majority of San Franciscans supporting a four-lane promenade 24 hours per day, 7 days per week. SFMTA's data shows that at least 6,000 people are using The Great Walkway daily. It's clear that the majority of San Franciscans love The Great Walkway and want it to kept alive.

Concerns about car traffic in the Sunset are valid, and SFMTA's work with Supervisor Mar has had a positive effect on calming car-traffic and diverting it to the arterials (Sunset Blvd. and 19th Ave.), and traffic-calming efforts should continue to ensure Sunset residents are safe. With that said, data shows that collisions in the Sunset are down more than 30% from before the pandemic — traffic-calming measures are working, and will continue to have positive impacts on the Sunset. Furthermore, Director Maguire has publicly stated that Sunset Boulevard and 19th Avenue can both take more car-traffic capacity.

Concerns about north-south traffic to/from the Richmond are valid, and there are a number of things that can be done to address these concerns and improve north-south access to/from the Richmond. These include, but are not limited to, diverting car-traffic from Chain of Lakes to Crossover Drive and Great Highway, improving/increasing north-south bus service, and optimizing traffic-signal timing on Sunset Boulevard. Solutions to these concerns are feasible and effective — we don't need to give in to demands of a small but vocal mob of car drivers who think the only solution is to use more public space for car traffic throughout our city.

It's important to address concerns about the Great Highway closure, but the answer is not to kill the Great Walkway and put cars back on that public space.

I join Kid Safe SF and countless other organizations and residents in urging you to approve a pilot that extends the Walkway's life beyond the emergency health order.

Thank you, and please take care.

Happy Trails,

Dear Commissioners, Directors, General Manager Ginsburg, and Director Tumlin,

I am writing to ask you to keep the Great Highway Park open to people and closed to cars, and to continue to invest in street safety & alternative transit throughout San Francisco. The "Great Walkway" is a city-wide asset that is a civic commons and green commute-way for residents, and also a huge draw for visitors from all over the city, bringing customers to D4 merchants and creating community around an equitable, accessible, beautiful and safe space for all to use.

Personally, I've enjoyed the Great Highway closure on a weekly basis since its inception during the pandemic/shelter-in-place. Every Monday after working from home I ride my bike from D5 along Slow Page Street through Golden Gate Park on a traffic-free JFK and out along the closed Great Highway to meet friends who live in D4 at Taraval & 44th Ave. for a weekly walk and check-in. After parking my bike at my friend's house, we walk along the closed Great Highway, safely enjoying the car-free thoroughfare.

It's 2021 - nearly 100 years since the first roadway was built along the ocean. Things look different now. Let's invest in creative traffic and transit solutions to address the few bottlenecks that exist, rather than reverting to a polluting and dangerous 4 lane highway through a national park. This moment calls for forward looking leadership that can help San Franciscans boldly meet the moment, with creativity and resilience.

Take a leap on a legacy and make the Great Walkway a permanent promenade along Ocean Beach, and a world-class green commuting, recreation, and community space for all.

Thanks so much for listening!

Dear Commissioners, Directors, General Manager Ginsburg, and Director Tumlin, I am writing to ask you to keep the Great Highway open to people and closed to cars. The car-free Great Highway is a city-wide treasure that that offers unparalleled recreation and a green commute option for mobile residents. It is also a huge draw for visitors from all over the city and beyond.

I live in the outer Richmond. I walk about 4 miles every day and also drive a car. Like other drivers, I experience delays because of the closed Great Highway and slow streets. The delays are minor inconveniences compared to the vast benefits of being able to walk or bike without car noise, fumes, etc. The joy of experiencing people of all ages from all neighborhoods exercising and enjoying San Francisco's beauty, including many families, is a great community bonding experience. The physical and mental health benefits of this open space are profound.

Outraged drivers say that there is a walking path next to the Great Highway, as well as a beach and a park. There is no way that these precious assets substitute for a wide space with ocean sound and view that accommodates wheelchairs, scooters, bikes, roller skates, skateboards, and feet. These outraged drivers seldom acknowledge that there are other streets for driving. Of course, it's also essential to continue to invest in street safety and improved transit, especially to ensure transport for people with disabilities and limited mobility. Let's also invest in creative traffic and transit solutions to address the few bottlenecks that exist, rather than reverting to a polluting and dangerous four-lane highway through a national park. For example, designating 41st Avenue as a slow street adds to traffic delays on Chain of Lakes Drive.

This moment calls for visionary, creative, and courageous leadership that can support San Franciscans to innovate with creativity and resilience. Now and in the future we will celebrate a beautiful promenade along Ocean Beach, and a world-class green space that supports health, commuting, recreation, and community for all. Thanks so much for listening!

Dear Commissioners, Directors, General Manager Ginsburg, and Director Tumlin,

The pandemic had countless negative impacts, but one of the few silver linings was the creation of the Great Walkway (and other people-first spaces in our city). The Great Walkway has given countless residents a safe place to walk, roll, and connect, and we must save it by approving a pilot to extend the promenade's life while continuing to do studies, outreach, and traffic-calming improvements.

I join Kid Safe SF and countless other organizations and residents in urging you to approve a pilot that extends the Walkway's life beyond the emergency health order.

The SFCTA's survey showed that about 80% of San Franciscans support a promenade in some form, with a majority of San Franciscans supporting a four-lane promenade 24 hours per day, 7 days per week. SFMTA's data shows that at least 6,000 people are using The Great Walkway daily. It's clear that the majority of San Franciscans love The Great Walkway and want it to be kept alive.

Concerns about car traffic in the Sunset are valid, and SFMTA's work with Supervisor Mar has had a positive effect on calming car-traffic and diverting it to the arterials (Sunset Blvd. and 19th Ave.), and traffic-calming efforts should continue to ensure Sunset residents are safe. With that said, data shows that collisions in the Sunset are down more than 30% from before the pandemic — traffic-calming measures are working, and will continue to have positive impacts on the Sunset. Furthermore, Director Maguire has publicly stated that Sunset Boulevard and 19th Avenue can both take more car-traffic capacity.

Concerns about north-south traffic to/from the Richmond are valid, and there are a number of things that can be done to address these concerns and improve north-south access to/from the Richmond. These include, but are not limited to, diverting car-traffic from Chain of Lakes to Crossover Drive and Great Highway, improving/increasing north-south bus service, and optimizing traffic-signal timing on Sunset Boulevard. Solutions to these concerns are feasible and effective — we don't need to give in to demands of a small but vocal mob of car drivers who think the only solution is to use more public space for car traffic throughout our city.

It's important to address concerns about the Great Highway closure, but the answer is not to kill the Great Walkway and put cars back on that public space.

I join Kid Safe SF and countless other organizations and residents in urging you to approve a pilot that extends the Walkway's life beyond the emergency health order.

Thank you, and please take care.

Dear Commissioners, Directors, General Manager Ginsburg, and Director Tumlin,

I am writing to ask you to keep the Great Highway Park open to people and closed to cars, and to continue to invest in street safety & alternative transit throughout San Francisco. The "Great Walkway" is a city-wide asset that is a civic commons and green commute-way for residents, and also a huge draw for visitors from all over the city and the Bay Area, bringing customers to D4 merchants and creating community around an equitable, accessible, beautiful and safe space for all to use.

I use the Great Walkway every day to walk safely to the beach or to run or bike with plenty of space and no worries about cars. I love seeing the people of all ages enjoying this natural treasure we are so lucky to have in our city.

It's 2021 - nearly 100 years since the first roadway was built along the ocean. Things look different now. Let's invest in creative traffic and transit solutions to address the few bottlenecks that exist, rather than reverting to a polluting and dangerous 4 lane highway through a national park. This moment calls for forward looking leadership that can help San Franciscans boldly meet the moment, with creativity and resilience. Take a leap on a legacy and make the Great Walkway a permanent promenade along Ocean Beach, and a world-class green commuting, recreation, and community space for all.

Thanks so much for listening!

Dear Commissioners, Directors, General Manager Ginsburg, and Director Tumlin,

One of the few good things that came out the pandemic was the opening of several streets to pedestrians and cyclists. Every day cyclists have to use streets shared with cars. And we have to put our trust in that a driver will see us and decide not to hit us. So far I've been hit 7 times in the past year on streets like Market where private cars aren't suppose to be any longer or on streets where drivers decide to use the bike lane as a short cut.

I work at the LGBT National Help Center, the longest running and most comprehensive LGBTQIA+ hotline in the country and since the pandemic I'm the only one who's been holding down the fort in office while everyone else has been able to go remote, so every day I take my life in my hands to continue our vital work. There are only two places in the city where I feel actually safe as a cyclist, JFK when drivers don't skirt the blockades and the Great Highway. I use JFK every day, and If the Great Highway was on my route to work, you bet I would use it every single day. But at the moment I am on it at least 3 or 4 times a week at the end of a rough mental health day and a day where I need to be able to be free of cars.

The Great Highway should be changed to the Great Parkway or Pathway, or what ever you want to call it and keep it free of cars. The argument that the other streets in the Outer Sunset have become unsafe because of drivers speeding only indicates that drivers are the problem here not the route and the city should focusing their efforts on curbing drivers who don't know how to follow traffic rules.

There is already a multiple lane route through the Inner Sunset, Sunset Boulevard, not every single space in the city needs to be for cars.

We're suppose to be trying to curb the use of cars and have a vision zero, so how are we doing that? Please make a lasting change that will benefit the city, it's citizens, tourists and the generations to come and begin the cultural change. If the Great Highway becomes land used for humans not cars it may set an example that we are a city that actually means business when it comes to making positive change.

Dear Commissioners, Directors, General Manager Ginsburg, and Director Tumlin,

I am writing to ask you to keep the Great Highway Park open to people and closed to cars, and to continue to invest in street safety & alternative transit throughout San Francisco. The "Great Walkway" is a city-wide asset that is a civic commons and green commute-way for residents, and also a huge draw for visitors from all over the city, bringing customers to D4 merchants and creating community around an equitable, accessible, beautiful and safe space for all to use.

It's 2021 - nearly 100 years since the first roadway was built along the ocean. Things look different now. Let's invest in creative traffic and transit solutions to address the few bottlenecks that exist, rather than reverting to a polluting and dangerous 4 lane highway through a national park. This moment calls for forward looking leadership that can help San Franciscans boldly meet the moment, with creativity and resilience.

Take a leap on a legacy and make the Great Walkway a permanent promenade along Ocean Beach, and a world-class green commuting, recreation, and community space for all.

What an amazing opportunity this is to create a space that can be shared by locals and visitors alike. This could truly transform the Ocean Beach area in such a positive way.

Thanks so much for listening and please keep it closed to cars and open to people! We love strolling there on the weekends and it's truly become one of our favorite spots in the City.

Paul Mathewson

Dear Commissioners, Directors, General Manager Ginsburg, and Director Tumlin,

The pandemic had countless negative impacts, but one of the few silver linings was the creation of the Great Walkway (and other people-first spaces in our city). The Great Walkway has given countless residents a safe place to walk, roll, and connect, and we must save it by approving a pilot to extend the promenade's life while continuing to do studies, outreach, and traffic-calming improvements.

I join Kid Safe SF and countless other organizations and residents in urging you to approve a pilot that extends the Walkway's life beyond the emergency health order.

The SFCTA's survey showed that about 80% of San Franciscans support a promenade in some form, with a majority of San Franciscans supporting a four-lane promenade 24 hours per day, 7 days per week. SFMTA's data shows that at least 6,000 people are using The Great Walkway daily. It's clear that the majority of San Franciscans love The Great Walkway and want it to be kept alive.

Concerns about car traffic in the Sunset are valid, and SFMTA's work with Supervisor Mar has had a positive effect on calming car-traffic and diverting it to the arterials (Sunset Blvd. and 19th Ave.), and traffic-calming efforts should continue to ensure Sunset residents are safe. With that said, data shows that collisions in the Sunset are down more than 30% from before the pandemic — traffic-calming measures are working, and will continue to have positive impacts on the Sunset. Furthermore, Director Maguire has publicly stated that Sunset Boulevard and 19th Avenue can both take more car-traffic capacity.

Concerns about north-south traffic to/from the Richmond are valid, and there are a number of things that can be done to address these concerns and improve north-south access to/from the Richmond. These include, but are not limited to, diverting car-traffic from Chain of Lakes to Crossover Drive and Great Highway, improving/increasing north-south bus service, and optimizing traffic-signal timing on Sunset Boulevard. Solutions to these concerns are feasible and effective — we don't need to give in to demands of a small but vocal mob of car drivers who think the only solution is to use more public space for car traffic throughout our city.

It's important to address concerns about the Great Highway closure, but the answer is not to kill the Great Walkway and put cars back on that public space.

I join Kid Safe SF and countless other organizations and residents in urging you to approve a pilot that extends the Walkway's life beyond the emergency health order.

Thank you, and please take care.

You may not know how important this walkway is to thousands of City residents. We walk, jog, ride bikes, roller-skate, skateboard, get pushed in strollers and learn to ride bikes on this beautiful stretch of roadway. It is a uniquely level walkway along a special bit of San Francisco's shoreline. I am healthier and more invigorated by walking this road three times per week. Please consider the health benefits to us seniors and dedicate this walkway for the recreation of all citizens now and long into the future.

Thank you for listening,

We live in the outer sunset and have enjoyed countless walks with our two daughters on the Great Highway Park since the pandemic. It is such a beautiful space and it would be a travesty if it reverted to a car route.

Not only are we strongly urging you to keep it, but I think there is huge potential to make minor investments (eg bike racks, seating spots, art spaces) that will make it even better.

Thanks so much for listening!

It's been a place of great joy for me and a source of real mental (and physical) health - I've rediscovered my love of rollerblading! Something I hadn't done since college. But the Great Highway is big, smooth, and with plenty of space for me to remember how to skate without worrying about falling off a sidewalk into traffic or running into pedestrians. I love it!

SFMTA's data shows that at least 6,000 people are using The Great Walkway daily. It's clear that the majority of San Franciscans love The Great Walkway and want it to be kept alive.

Concerns about car traffic in the Sunset are valid, and SFMTA's work with Supervisor Mar has had a positive effect on calming car-traffic and diverting it to the arterials (Sunset Blvd. and 19th Ave.), and traffic-calming efforts should continue to ensure Sunset residents are safe. With that said, data shows that collisions in the Sunset are down more than 30% from before the pandemic — traffic-calming measures are working, and will continue to have positive impacts on the Sunset. Furthermore, Director Maguire has publicly stated that Sunset Boulevard and 19th Avenue can both take more car-traffic capacity.

Concerns about north-south traffic to/from the Richmond are valid, and there are a number of things that can be done to address these concerns and improve north-south access to/from the Richmond. These include, but are not limited to, diverting car-traffic from Chain of Lakes to Crossover Drive and Great Highway, improving/increasing north-south bus service, and optimizing traffic-signal timing on Sunset Boulevard. Solutions to these concerns are feasible and effective — we don't need to give in to demands of a small but vocal mob of car drivers who think the only solution is to use more public space for car traffic throughout our city.

It's important to address concerns about the Great Highway closure, but the answer is not to kill the Great Walkway and put cars back on that public space.

I join Kid Safe SF and countless other organizations and residents in urging you to approve a pilot that extends the Walkway's life beyond the emergency health order.

Thank you, and please take care.

Dear Commissioners, Directors, General Manager Ginsburg, and Director Tumlin,

The pandemic had countless negative impacts, but one of the few silver linings was the creation of the Great Walkway (and other people-first spaces in our city). The Great Walkway has given countless residents a safe place to walk, roll, and connect, and we must save it by approving a pilot to extend the promenade's life while continuing to do studies, outreach, and traffic-calming improvements.

I join Kid Safe SF and countless other organizations and residents in urging you to approve a pilot that extends the Walkway's life beyond the emergency health order.

The SFCTA's survey showed that about 80% of San Franciscans support a promenade in some form, with a majority of San Franciscans supporting a four-lane promenade 24 hours per day, 7 days per week. SFMTA's data shows that at least 6,000 people are using The Great Walkway daily. It's clear that the majority of San Franciscans love The Great Walkway and want it to be kept alive.

I have ridden my bike up and down the Great Walkway, and made a trip to SF just to do that. I always loved driving that way through the city, but it's a thousand times better by bike or foot. Even on a weekday there were a lot of people using it - young, old, strollers, cyclists, walkers, scooters, you name it. The smiles on everyone's faces told the story.

Please keep the Great Highway as the Great Walkway, every day. It's such an important feature of the city now.

Concerns about car traffic in the Sunset are valid, and SFMTA's work with Supervisor Mar has had a positive effect on calming car-traffic and diverting it to the arterials (Sunset Blvd. and 19th Ave.), and traffic-calming efforts should continue to ensure Sunset residents are safe. Dear Commissioners, Directors, General Manager Ginsburg, and Director Tumlin,

The pandemic had countless negative impacts, but one of the few silver linings was the creation of the Great Walkway (and other people-first spaces in our city). The Great Walkway has given countless residents a safe place to walk, roll, and connect, and we must save it by approving a pilot to extend the promenade's life while continuing to do studies, outreach, and traffic-calming improvements.

I join Kid Safe SF and countless other organizations and residents in urging you to approve a pilot that extends the Walkway's life beyond the emergency health order.

The SFCTA's survey showed that about 80% of San Franciscans support a promenade in some form, with a majority of San Franciscans supporting a four-lane promenade 24 hours per day, 7 days per week. SFMTA's data shows that at least 6,000 people are using The Great Walkway daily. It's clear that the majority of San Franciscans love The Great Walkway and want it to be kept alive.

Concerns about car traffic in the Sunset are valid, and SFMTA's work with Supervisor Mar has had a positive effect on calming car-traffic and diverting it to the arterials (Sunset Blvd. and 19th Ave.), and traffic-calming efforts should continue to ensure Sunset residents are safe. With that said, data shows that collisions in the Sunset are down more than 30% from before the pandemic — traffic-calming measures are working, and will continue to have positive impacts on the Sunset. Furthermore, Director Maguire has publicly stated that Sunset Boulevard and 19th Avenue can both take more car-traffic capacity.

Concerns about north-south traffic to/from the Richmond are valid, and there are a number of things that can be done to address these concerns and improve north-south access to/from the Richmond. These include, but are not limited to, diverting car-traffic from Chain of Lakes to Crossover Drive and Great Highway, improving/increasing north-south bus service, and optimizing traffic-signal timing on Sunset Boulevard. Solutions to these concerns are feasible and effective — we don't need to give in to demands of a small but vocal mob of car drivers who think the only solution is to use more public space for car traffic throughout our city.

It's important to address concerns about the Great Highway closure, but the answer is not to kill the Great Walkway and put cars back on that public space.

I join Kid Safe SF and countless other organizations and residents in urging you to approve a pilot that extends the Walkway's life beyond the emergency health order.

Thank you, and please take care.

Dear Board Member,

I wish to provide my analysis of the impact of imposing a permanent fee cap on third-party food service deliveries operating in San Francisco. I do not believe it will help restaurants, drivers, or customers in the slightest.

In the last year such caps have been justified in cities across the country as a way to help restaurants struggling with survival in the midst of a pandemic that limited their ability to open their dining rooms. Several cities concluded that the fee charged by delivery companies unfairly reduces restaurant profits, and capped that fee at around fifteen percent of the cost of the meal. They concluded that capping fees would boost restaurant profits without negative consequences elsewhere.

However, I submit that this perspective is mistaken. In communities that have imposed such caps the response of the market has negated much of the intended impact. For instance, delivery companies faced with a cap have seen fit to add a flat fee of between $1 and $3 to the delivery in places like Washington, DC where I live.

The added fee charged in most markets with a restaurant price cap reduces demand for food delivery, and takeout sales have fallen in places where these fees are imposed. The platform companies often reduce their service areas for restaurants as well in order to make deliveries more economical, further diminishing sales.

Such caps also disrupt the fragile 3-sided food delivery service marketplace, resulting in fewer opportunities for work for these drivers and lower earnings for those who rely on the gig economy for income.

These caps in no way help restaurants: ephemerally increasing their net margins while reducing demand is not a tradeoff that benefits them, and they don't need a government to do this for them--they could do it themselves by merely raising their prices on takeout food.

There can be a rationale for a price cap in a monopsonistic market, but there are multiple competitors in the food delivery market in most places: Four different companies compete for market share across the country and none of them appear to be earning a profit at present.

Also, restaurants are not forced to participate in the food delivery market: they can easily decline to participate, and many choose to do so, or only contract with the one that gives them the best deal. Others provide their own delivery service and eschew the platforms. They choose to contract with delivery platforms because it boosts sales.

Progressive governments have competing goals at stake here: they want to make sure that drivers are paid enough, that restaurants are not charged too much for these services and that consumers continue to frequent their establishments. Those are worthy goals, but the idea that imposing a fee cap would improve upon the status quo for workers is predicated upon consumers being willing to pay significantly more for their delivered food, and that's typically where this calculus breaks down.

I find it hard to identify a public rationale for capping the fees that food delivery companies charge, and the actions by the app companies and restaurants obviate much of the impact of a price cap anyway. These caps are little more than a costly and counterproductive exercise meant to show compassion. I hope you consider allowing them to expire.

To whom it may concern,

We are very concerned with the potential repercussions on consumers and restaurants of the proposed San Francisco Ordinance to impose a fee cap and other regulations on third-party food delivery services (File #210492). The proposal, which permanently caps the fees third-party platforms can charge restaurants for deliveries, although intended to benefit small businesses, would backfire on the very same it is intended to help – restaurants.

Due to the loss of dine-in service, delivery apps have been a lifeline to isolated customers during the COVID-19 pandemic, and modifying what is already working would increase only uncertainty during a time when restaurants are fighting for their survival.

The proposal would essentially make the temporary price controls on the idea of food delivery permanent. We believe this is a very aggressive action by the San Francisco Board of Supervisors to get involved in how companies set their prices as it could ultimately lead to increased costs to the City's small business owners and customers, and lower pay for company delivery drivers due to decreased order volume. Since the costs will have to get recuperated somehow, customer fees would go up and worker pay would suffer. Additionally, the added cost of having to hire and manage their own delivery would be just as, if not more, expensive than using third-party platforms.

Many restaurants would probably not have been able to be in business during the pandemic if it wasn't for the delivery platforms to offer their products. The Board of Supervisors should prioritize ensuring that restaurants are able to stay afloat and NOT jeopardizing their sales and survival at a time when they already do not have enough revenue coming in the door.

Progressive governments have competing goals at stake here: they want to make sure that drivers are paid enough, that restaurants are not charged too much for these services and that consumers continue to frequent their establishments. Those are worthy goals, but the idea that imposing a fee cap would improve upon the status quo for workers is predicated upon consumers being willing to pay significantly more for their delivered food, and that's typically where this calculus breaks down.

I find it hard to identify a public rationale for capping the fees that food delivery companies charge, and the actions by the app companies and restaurants obviate much of the impact of a price cap anyway. These caps are little more than a costly and counterproductive exercise meant to show compassion. I hope you consider allowing them to expire.

This is my Objection to the ordinance that amends the Police Code and removes the sunset provision from the article. I've both attached my testimony and also posted it below.

Sponsor: Aaron Peskin

Dear Board Member,

I wish to provide my analysis of the impact of imposing a permanent fee cap on third-party food service deliveries operating in San Francisco. I do not believe it will help restaurants, drivers, or customers in the slightest.

In the last year such caps have been justified in cities across the country as a way to help restaurants struggling with survival in the midst of a pandemic that limited their ability to open their dining rooms. Several cities concluded that the fee charged by delivery companies unfairly reduces restaurant profits, and capped that fee at around fifteen percent of the cost of the meal. They concluded that capping fees would boost restaurant profits without negative consequences elsewhere.

However, I submit that this perspective is mistaken. In communities that have imposed such caps the response of the market has negated much of the intended impact. For instance, delivery companies faced with a cap have seen fit to add a flat fee of between $1 and $3 to the delivery in places like Washington, DC where I live.

The added fee charged in most markets with a restaurant price cap reduces demand for food delivery, and takeout sales have fallen in places where these fees are imposed. The platform companies often reduce their service areas for restaurants as well in order to make deliveries more economical, further diminishing sales.

Such caps also disrupt the fragile 3-sided food delivery service marketplace, resulting in fewer opportunities for work for these drivers and lower earnings for those who rely on the gig economy for income.

These caps in no way help restaurants: ephemeral increasing their net margins while reducing demand is not a tradeoff that benefits them, and they don't need a government to do this for them--they could do it themselves by merely raising their prices on takeout food. There can be a rationale for a price cap in a monopsonistic market, but there are multiple competitors in the food delivery market in most places: Four different companies compete for market share across the country and none of them appear to be earning a profit at present. Also, restaurants are not forced to participate in the food delivery market: they can easily decline to participate, and many choose to do so, or only contract with the one that gives them the best deal. Others provide their own delivery service and eschew the platforms. They choose to contract with delivery platforms because it boosts sales.

Progressive governments have competing goals at stake here: they want to make sure that drivers are paid enough, that restaurants are not charged too much for these services and that consumers continue to frequent their establishments. Those are worthy goals, but the idea that imposing a fee cap would improve upon the status quo for workers is predicated upon consumers being willing to pay significantly more for their delivered food, and that's typically where this calculus breaks down.

I find it hard to identify a public rationale for capping the fees that food delivery companies charge, and the actions by the app companies and restaurants obviate much of the impact of a price cap anyway. These caps are little more than a costly and counterproductive exercise meant to show compassion. I hope you consider allowing them to expire.

It's time to reopen the Upper Great Highway. Here are some more pictures and videos from today show how uncrowded it is. If it looks like all the other photos I've sent, it's because that's what it looks like the majority of the time. Very few people on the UGH!! I live on the LGH and with lots of windows and I see it all the time. Instead of spending hundreds of thousands of dollars putting in stop signs and speed bumps, you might want to widen and repair the already existing path that would accommodate the regular users. Mr. Mar - please kindly reply, and copy the full board with a quick and straightforward answer to confirm whether or not you will be advocating for further community input on the reopening of the Upper Great Highway before a vote is called to determine the fate of the highway. In particular, I believe it would be prudent for the Board to refrain from a final decision until independent safety and usage data, as well as environmental data, has been placed in front of the entire community in a transparent fashion alongside robust planning and budget work based on full community input.

My belief is that the community has not had an opportunity to engage in robust usage planning based upon input from the entire population that you are duty-bound to represent. If you believe to the contrary because you have not already received multiple inquiries and complaints from community members, then please circulate for the full Board and the public the pre-covid safety data and an independent analysis of that data which demonstrates a compelling safety interest in dumping thousands of highway vehicles into a residential neighborhood. Given that city officials have recently pointed out that emergency response times have been impaired by street closures, it might make more sense to take a much closer look first. Rushing to judgment and creating city risk and liability is not a legislative process that the public embraces.

Our community also continues to await the delivery of lawfully sourced and conducted environmental impact reporting that is consistent with both California and Federal law. Please ensure that the full Board has confirmed that the appropriate designated officials from the Department of the Interior are in agreement with the environmental reviews that should be associated with the usage effects upon Federally-managed resources, and that compliance with the California Environmental Quality Act has been assured so that Board members do not suffer personal liability risk and taxpayers do not bear the cost of negligent processes.

Finally, please ensure that city conflict of interest laws are being followed with respect to any decision-making by any elected officials which affects your district. It would be unfortunate and extremely damaging to city interests, reputations, and credibility if information is revealed which demonstrates impermissible biases or conflicts related to the public legislative process. Additionally, many community members including myself would like an informed review and a specific response about your position so that we may further evaluate the necessity of initiating a recall of your appointment as a public servant in the event that you proceed with an uninformed vote.

I trust you will consider these requests in the most straightforward light. As an elected public servant you have a duty to your district and all its members to advocate for and support the interests of the full community. If however you are unable to reply or are unclear about these requests, please kindly follow-up with the city attorney and Mayor's office, who would be familiar with the process and expense associated with document retention and management, litigation hold requirements, material litigation risks, city publicity, lawful public policy administration, and the mismanagement of community interests and public resources.

Mr Mar, it is time to take a closer look and manage the legislative process carefully, deliberately, and fairly for all your constituents. Thank you for your time and consideration applying good judgment and common-sense to the needs of the full community.

Good afternoon

Please reopen the great Highway, San Francisco is opening up! Muni is running, schools are opening, people back to work this Highway needs to open because all those cars are being detoured through the avenues, the highway was built to avoid that!

We have plenty of room for walking on the paths, there is a bike lane along side the highway.

Please let's live in harmony, plenty of room for all!

This argument about safety for kids is so ridiculous! Kids have plenty of playgrounds and GGP in the area, also the walkway from Lincoln way to pt lobos with ocean views.

Let's be real!!!

Or does some group with $ want it closed????

Thank you

I am writing to let you know that I and over 30,000 other people who utilize the great highway (not the great walkway) are against your land grab. I think it unconscionable that your use of public resources to create a propaganda website advocating for a one sided only permanent closure. I also find it appalling that after closing the Great Highway due to the pandemic RPD and other City entities and actors set in motion a plan to make the closure permanent. I believe that this is illegal and if it isn't it should be. I don't think that it is your job to legislate anything. It is also my opinion that you and your department are doing a terrible job maintaining our city resources. Things that I did as a child in this city were free and now they have become prohibitive expensive. This is no longer a city for children it has become a city for the elite.

Stop trying to take over a vital road way for your departments enhancement. This is nothing more than a land grab.

I am writing to comment on the hearing you (SFMTA) are having on June 4, 2021. In particular I am questioning the need for these specific items:

17.ESTABLISH –STOP SIGNS (Converting from partial to All-Way Controlled)Lower Great Highway, northbound and southbound, at Ortega Street (Supervisor District 4)(Approvable by the City Traffic Engineer)Maurice Growney, maurice.growney@sfmta.comAddressing traffic diversion due to the Upper Great Highway vehicular closure and increasing pedestrian safety and comfort along the Lower Great Highway and surrounding neighborhood.

None of these items would be necessary if you would just reopen the Great Highway and stop endangering all of the people who live in the area and were using the Great Highway through fare to get passed the Sunset. You have and continue to engage in these mitigation efforts when the best way to fix the problem is to reopen the road way.

I as a tax payer, voter, home owner and user of the Great Highway take offense to what the city and the District 4 supervisor along with the bike collation are doing in this matter. This is a total waste of tax payer dollars and does nothing to reduce the problems. The Great Highway was the safest way to get North and South and your continued efforts to close this road way will result in a large voter back lash and continue to put more citizen in danger along with increased pollution. All of which are things your department are obligated to mitigate.

Dear San Francisco leaders,

I want to voice strong opposition to the proposed "pilot" project for the Great Highway. The city has had 13 months of a Great Highway pilot program to date in the form of a temporary car-free promenade. This existing pilot program has already failed by directing tens of thousands of cars into roads never intended for large-scale traffic, making surrounding areas more unsafe for pedestrians and cyclists, and clogging roads with cars and their associated emissions. No additional band-aids solutions like "traffic calming" can correct this fundamental problem of shifting traffic to areas that cannot accommodate it. The city should return the Great Highway to its original and intended use immediately.

Reopening the Great Highway would not harm the "scenic public space and coastal promenade" that previously existed, and which currently remains. If the city would like to expand the existing walking path for expanded use by pedestrians and cyclists, it should pursue this separately.

Sincerely,
Beth Fox

Dear Leaders:

My family and I strongly OPPOSE the proposed "pilot" project for the Great Highway. You must take into consideration the opinions of your constituents, which was not done when this "pilot" program commenced last year.

The 13 months of a Great Highway pilot program -- in the form of a temporary car-free promenade -- has FAILED and we cannot let this continue. Tens of thousands of cars daily are diverted onto small, residential streets where families like mine live, making surrounding areas more unsafe for kids, families, pedestrians and cyclists, and clogging roads with cars and their associated emissions. These residential streets were never meant to handle this kind of traffic. The Great Highway must return to its original and intended use immediately.

There is plenty of space for pedestrians and cyclists to enjoy the landscape when the Great Highway reopens to cars. This space has always existed and will continue to exist. There are public pathways at and near Ocean Beach and Golden Gate Park.

There is no legitimate reason to take a major city thoroughfare - connecting north to south - and render it for recreational use only, especially when there are abundant recreational areas right there.

Thank you for your attention to this pressing matter.

Best,

Joanne Chan

Mr. Mar, on Memorial day a Alyse Ceirante and I visited over 60 small business in the Sunset and Richmond districts. We posted over 60 OPEN THE GREAT HIGHWAY signs in these stores. The overwhelming majority of the people, I personally spoke with, were upset over the continued closure and the desire, of some, to permanently close this highway. You can take a ride and look at all the signs posted in the windows of the merchants in YOUR district.

You closed this road way and now you MUST reopen it. It should not take an act of god to reopen the highway. It should not take political activism to reopen it; what it takes is common sense. Its continued closer, as the City reopens, is endangering not only the residents in your district, but is also hurting residents of other districts.

As I said before, this is not a Sunset problem, it is not a City problem, it is a regional problem and your continued support of the Great Parkway is going to hurt you in the long run.

Please reopen the great highway for you own sake.

Mike Regan

PS: Scott Wiener and Phil Ting your continued support of the Great Walkway is going to hurt you politically as well.

Dear Commissioners, Directors, General Manager Ginsburg, and Director Tumlin,

The pandemic had countless negative impacts, but one of the few silver linings was the creation of the Great Walkway (and other people-first spaces in our city). The Great Walkway has given countless residents a safe place to walk, roll, and connect, and we must save it by approving a pilot to extend the promenade's life while continuing to do studies, outreach, and traffic-calming improvements.

I join Kid Safe SF and countless other organizations and residents in urging you to approve a pilot that extends the Walkway's life beyond the emergency health order.

The SFCTA's survey showed that about 80% of San Franciscans support a promenade in some form, with a majority of San Franciscans supporting a four-lane promenade 24 hours per day, 7 days per week. SFMTA's data shows that at least 6,000 people are using The Great Walkway daily. It's clear that the majority of San Franciscans love The Great Walkway and want it to be kept alive.

Concerns about car traffic in the Sunset are valid, and SFMTA's work with Supervisor Mar has had a positive effect on calming car-traffic and diverting it to the arterials (Sunset Blvd. and 19th Ave.), and traffic-calming efforts should continue to ensure Sunset residents are safe. With that said, data shows that collisions in the Sunset are down more than 30% from before the pandemic — traffic-calming measures are working, and will continue to have positive impacts on the Sunset. Furthermore, Director Maguire has publicly stated that Sunset Boulevard and 19th Avenue can both take more car-traffic capacity.

Concerns about north-south traffic to/from the Richmond are valid, and there are a number of things that can be done to address these concerns and improve north-south access to/from the Richmond. These include, but are not limited to, diverting car-traffic from Chain of Lakes to Crossover Drive and Great Highway, improving/increasing north-south bus service, and optimizing traffic-signal timing on Sunset Boulevard. Solutions to these concerns are feasible and effective — we don't need to give in to demands of a small but vocal mob of car drivers who think the only solution is to use more public space for car traffic throughout our city.

It's important to address concerns about the Great Highway closure, but the answer is not to kill the Great Walkway and put cars back on that public space.

I join Kid Safe SF and countless other organizations and residents in urging you to approve a pilot that extends the Walkway's life beyond the emergency health order.

Thank you, and please take care.

Concerns about car traffic in the Sunset are valid, and SFMTA's work with Supervisor Mar has had a positive effect on calming car-traffic and diverting it to the arterials (Sunset Blvd. and 19th Ave.), and traffic-calming efforts should continue to ensure Sunset residents are safe. With that said, data shows that collisions in the Sunset are down more than 30% from before the pandemic — traffic-calming measures are working, and will continue to have positive impacts on the Sunset. Furthermore, Director Maguire has publicly stated that Sunset Boulevard and 19th Avenue can both take more car-traffic capacity.

Concerns about north-south traffic to/from the Richmond are valid, and there are a number of things that can be done to address these concerns and improve north-south access to/from the Richmond. These include, but are not limited to, diverting car-traffic from Chain of Lakes to Crossover Drive and Great Highway, improving/increasing north-south bus service, and optimizing traffic-signal timing on Sunset Boulevard. Solutions to these concerns are feasible and effective — we don't need to give in to demands of a small but vocal mob of car drivers who think the only solution is to use more public space for car traffic throughout our city.

It's important to address concerns about the Great Highway closure, but the answer is not to kill the Great Walkway and put cars back on that public space.

I join Kid Safe SF and countless other organizations and residents in urging you to approve a pilot that extends the Walkway's life beyond the emergency health order.

Thank you, and please take care.

Dear Commissioners, Directors, General Manager Ginsburg, and Director Tumlin,

The pandemic had countless negative impacts, but one of the few silver linings was the creation of the Great Walkway (and other people-first spaces in our city). The Great Walkway has given countless residents a safe place to walk, roll, and connect, and we must save it by approving a pilot to extend the promenade's life while continuing to do studies, outreach, and traffic-calming improvements.

The SFCTA's survey showed that about 80% of San Franciscans support a promenade in some form, with a majority of San Franciscans supporting a four-lane promenade 24 hours per day, 7 days per week. SFMTA's data shows that at least 6,000 people are using The Great Walkway daily. It's clear that the majority of San Franciscans love The Great Walkway and want it to kept alive.

Dear Commissioners, Directors, General Manager Ginsburg, and Director Tumlin,

The pandemic had countless negative impacts, but one of the few silver linings was the creation of the Great Walkway (and other people-first spaces in our city). The Great Walkway has given countless residents a safe place to walk, roll, and connect, and we must save it by approving a pilot to extend the promenade's life while continuing to do studies, outreach, and traffic-calming improvements.

I join Kid Safe SF and countless other organizations and residents in urging you to approve a pilot that extends the Walkway's life beyond the emergency health order.

The SFCTA's survey showed that about 80% of San Franciscans support a promenade in some form, with a majority of San Franciscans supporting a four-lane promenade 24 hours per day, 7 days per week. SFMTA's data shows that at least 6,000 people are using The Great Walkway daily. It's clear that the majority of San Franciscans love The Great Walkway and want it to kept alive.

Concerns about car traffic in the Sunset are valid, and SFMTA's work with Supervisor Mar has had a positive effect on calming car-traffic and diverting it to the arterials (Sunset Blvd. and 19th Ave.), and traffic-calming efforts should continue to ensure Sunset residents are safe. With that said, data shows that collisions in the Sunset are down more than 30% from before the pandemic — traffic-calming measures are working, and will continue to have positive impacts on the Sunset. Furthermore, Director Maguire has publicly stated that Sunset Boulevard and 19th Avenue can both take more car-traffic capacity.

Concerns about north-south traffic to/from the Richmond are valid, and there are a number of things that can be done to address these concerns and improve north-south access to/from the Richmond. These include, but are not limited to, diverting car-traffic from Chain of Lakes to Crossover Drive and Great Highway, improving/increasing north-south bus service, and optimizing traffic-signal timing on Sunset Boulevard. Solutions to these concerns are feasible and effective — we don't need to give in to demands of a small but vocal mob of car drivers who think the only solution is to use more public space for car traffic throughout our city.

It's important to address concerns about the Great Highway closure, but the answer is not to kill the Great Walkway and put cars back on that public space.

I join Kid Safe SF and countless other organizations and residents in urging you to approve a pilot that extends the Walkway's life beyond the emergency health order.

Thank you, and please take care.

Dear Commissioners, Directors, General Manager Ginsburg, and Director Tumlin,

The pandemic had countless negative impacts, but one of the few silver linings was the creation of the Great Walkway (and other people-first spaces in our city). The Great Walkway has given countless residents a safe place to walk, roll, and connect, and we must save it by approving a pilot to extend the promenade's life while continuing to do studies, outreach, and traffic-calming improvements.

I join Kid Safe SF and countless other organizations and residents in urging you to approve a pilot that extends the Walkway's life beyond the emergency health order.

The SFCTA's survey showed that about 80% of San Franciscans support a promenade in some form, with a majority of San Franciscans supporting a four-lane promenade 24 hours per day, 7 days per week. SFMTA's data shows that at least 6,000 people are using The Great Walkway daily. It's clear that the majority of San Franciscans love The Great Walkway and want it to kept alive.

Concerns about car traffic in the Sunset are valid, and SFMTA's work with Supervisor Mar has had a positive effect on calming car-traffic and diverting it to the arterials (Sunset Blvd. and 19th Ave.), and traffic-calming efforts should continue to ensure Sunset residents are safe. With that said, data shows that collisions in the Sunset are down more than 30% from before the pandemic — traffic-calming measures are working, and will continue to have positive impacts on the Sunset. Furthermore, Director Maguire has publicly stated that Sunset Boulevard and 19th Avenue can both take more car-traffic capacity.

Concerns about north-south traffic to/from the Richmond are valid, and there are a number of things that can be done to address these concerns and improve north-south access to/from the Richmond. These include, but are not limited to, diverting car-traffic from Chain of Lakes to Crossover Drive and Great Highway, improving/increasing north-south bus service, and optimizing traffic-signal timing on Sunset Boulevard. Solutions to these concerns are feasible and effective — we don't need to give in to demands of a small but vocal mob of car drivers who think the only solution is to use more public space for car traffic throughout our city.

It's important to address concerns about the Great Highway closure, but the answer is not to kill the Great Walkway and put cars back on that public space.

I join Kid Safe SF and countless other organizations and residents in urging you to approve a pilot that extends the Walkway's life beyond the emergency health order.

Thank you, and please take care.

Dear Commissioners, Directors, General Manager Ginsburg, and Director Tumlin,

The pandemic had countless negative impacts, but one of the few silver linings was the creation of the Great Walkway (and other people-first spaces in our city).

Thanks to the stimulus check I got a mobility scooter that makes it possible for me to get around again. But I had to learn to ride it. San Francisco hills were not the best place to start. It was on the Great Walkway that I discovered I can have my life back again. I'll not bore you with stories of the sheer joy I felt rolling along amongst kids, skateboarders, bicyclists. But I was sharing the joy with many other San Franciscans, in this very San Francisco place.

The Great Walkway has given countless residents a safe place to walk, roll, and connect, and we must save it by approving a pilot to extend the promenade's life while continuing to do studies, outreach, and traffic-calming improvements.

These include, but are not limited to, diverting car-traffic from Chain of Lakes to Crossover Drive and Great Highway, improving/increasing north-south bus service, and optimizing traffic-signal timing on Sunset Boulevard. Solutions to these concerns are feasible and effective — we don't need to give in to demands of a small but vocal mob of car drivers who think the only solution is to use more public space for car traffic throughout our city.

It's important to address concerns about the Great Highway closure, but the answer is not to kill the Great Walkway and put cars back on that public space.

I join Kid Safe SF and countless other organizations and residents in urging you to approve a pilot that extends the Walkway's life beyond the emergency health order.

Thank you, and please take care.

Dear Commissioners, Directors, General Manager Ginsburg, and Director Tumlin,

The pandemic had countless negative impacts, but one of the few silver linings was the creation of the Great Walkway (and other people-first spaces in our city). The Great Walkway has given countless residents a safe place to walk, roll, and connect, and we must save it by approving a pilot to extend the promenade's life while continuing to do studies, outreach, and traffic-calming improvements.

I join Kid Safe SF and countless other organizations and residents in urging you to approve a pilot that extends the Walkway's life beyond the emergency health order.

The SFCTA's survey showed that about 80% of San Franciscans support a promenade in some form, with a majority of San Franciscans supporting a four-lane promenade 24 hours per day, 7 days per week. SFMTA's data shows that at least 6,000 people are using The Great Walkway daily. It's clear that the majority of San Franciscans love The Great Walkway and want it to kept alive.

Concerns about car traffic in the Sunset are valid, and SFMTA's work with Supervisor Mar has had a positive effect on calming car-traffic an diverting it to the arterials (Sunset Blvd. and 19th Ave.), and traffic-calming efforts should continue to ensure Sunset residents are safe. With that said, data shows that collisions in the Sunset are down more than 30% from before the pandemic — traffic-calming measures are working, and will continue to have positive impacts on the Sunset. Furthermore, Director Maguire has publicly stated that Sunset Boulevard and 19th Avenue can both take more car-traffic capacity.

Concerns about north-south traffic to/from the Richmond are valid, and there are a number of things that can be done to address these concerns and improve north-south access to/from the Richmond. These include, but are not limited to, diverting car-traffic from Chain of Lakes to Crossover Drive and Great Highway, improving/increasing north-south bus service, and optimizing traffic-signal timing on Sunset Boulevard. Dear Commissioners, Directors, General Manager Ginsburg, and Director Tumlin,

I moved to San Francisco with my family because it's one of the only places in the US that we can feasibly live without a car. My son deserves a world with ample places to play, away from the noise, pollution, and risk of random death (RIP Lovisa Svallingson) that cars bring. If San Francisco is serious about being a place for everyone, and if it's serious about our climate crisis, we need to do more to support people who walk and bike, and less to subsidize and reward driving. The Great Walkway is a small step in that direction. We, as a city, need to show courage to change the status quo.

I've read the below statement from Kid Safe SF and I agree with every word. Please think of the future, think of my son, and do the right thing on the Great Walkway.

Dear Commissioners, Directors, General Manager Ginsburg, and Director Tumlin,

I write as a resident of Ocean View in SF D11.

The pandemic had countless negative impacts, but one of the few silver linings was the creation of the Great Walkway (and other people-first spaces in our city). There aren't that many safe places to stroll and bike in the city, especially in the SW corner, and this route has helped me piece together a biking loop, also including the new car-free spine of Golden Gate Park, that has allowed me a respite from long days working from home.

The Great Walkway has given countless residents a safe place to walk, roll, and connect, and we must save it by approving a pilot to extend the promenade's life while continuing to do studies, outreach, and traffic-calming improvements.

Dear Commissioners, Directors, General Manager Ginsburg, and Director Tumlin,

The pandemic had countless negative impacts, but one of the few silver linings was the creation of the Great Walkway (and other people-first spaces in our city). The Great Walkway has given countless residents a safe place to walk, roll, and connect, and we must save it by approving a pilot to extend the promenade's life while continuing to do studies, outreach, and traffic-calming improvements.

I join Kid Safe SF and countless other organizations and residents in urging you to approve a pilot that extends the Walkway's life beyond the emergency health order.

The SFCTA's survey showed that about 80% of San Franciscans support a promenade in some form, with a majority of San Franciscans supporting a four-lane promenade 24 hours per day, 7 days per week. SFMTA's data shows that at least 6,000 people are using The Great Walkway daily. It's clear that the majority of San Franciscans love The Great Walkway and want it to kept alive.

Concerns about car traffic in the Sunset are valid, and SFMTA's work with Supervisor Mar has had a positive effect on calming car-traffic an diverting it to the arterials (Sunset Blvd. and 19th Ave.), and traffic-calming efforts should continue to ensure Sunset residents are safe. With that said, data shows that collisions in the Sunset are down more than 30% from before the pandemic — traffic-calming measures are working, and will continue to have positive impacts on the Sunset. Furthermore, Director Maguire has publicly stated that Sunset Boulevard and 19th Avenue can both take more car-traffic capacity.

Concerns about north-south traffic to/from the Richmond are valid, and there are a number of things that can be done to address these concerns and improve north-south access to/from the Richmond. These include, but are not limited to, diverting car-traffic from Chain of Lakes to Crossover Drive and Great Highway, improving/increasing north-south bus service, and optimizing traffic-signal timing on Sunset Boulevard. Solutions to these concerns are feasible and effective — we don't need to give in to demands of a small but vocal mob of car drivers who think the only solution is to use more public space for car traffic throughout our city.

It's important to address concerns about the Great Highway closure, but the answer is not to kill the Great Walkway and put cars back on that public space.

I join Kid Safe SF and countless other organizations and residents in urging you to approve a pilot that extends the Walkway's life beyond the emergency health order.

Thank you, and please take care!

Jay Gardner

Concerns about car traffic in the Sunset are valid, and SFMTA's work with Supervisor Mar has had a positive effect on calming car-traffic an diverting it to the arterials (Sunset Blvd. and 19th Ave.), and traffic-calming efforts should continue to ensure Sunset residents are safe. With that said, data shows that collisions in the Sunset are down more than 30% from before the pandemic — traffic-calming measures are working, and will continue to have positive impacts on the Sunset. Furthermore, Director Maguire has publicly stated that Sunset Boulevard and 19th Avenue can both take more car-traffic capacity.

Concerns about north-south traffic to/from the Richmond are valid, and there are a number of things that can be done to address these concerns and improve north-south access to/from the Richmond. These include, but are not limited to, diverting car-traffic from Chain of Lakes to Crossover Drive and Great Highway, improving/increasing north-south bus service, and optimizing traffic-signal timing on Sunset Boulevard. Solutions to these concerns are feasible and effective — we don't need to give in to demands of a small but vocal mob of car drivers who think the only solution is to use more public space for car traffic throughout our city.

It's important to address concerns about the Great Highway closure, but the answer is not to kill the Great Walkway and put cars back on that public space.

I join Kid Safe SF and countless other organizations and residents in urging you to approve a pilot that extends the Walkway's life beyond the emergency health order.

Thank you, and please take care.

Dear Commissioners, Directors, General Manager Ginsburg, and Director Tumlin,

The pandemic had countless negative impacts, but one of the few silver linings was the creation of the Great Walkway (and other people-first spaces in our city). The Great Walkway has given countless residents a safe place to walk, roll, and connect, and we must save it by approving a pilot to extend the promenade's life while continuing to do studies, outreach, and traffic-calming improvements.

I join Kid Safe SF and countless other organizations and residents in urging you to approve a pilot that extends the Walkway's life beyond the emergency health order.

The SFCTA's survey showed that about 80% of San Franciscans support a promenade in some form, with a majority of San Franciscans supporting a four-lane promenade 24 hours per day, 7 days per week. SFMTA's data shows that at least 6,000 people are using The Great Walkway daily. It's clear that the majority of San Franciscans love The Great Walkway and want it to kept alive.

Dear Commissioners, Directors, General Manager Ginsburg, and Director Tumlin,

The pandemic had countless negative impacts, but one of the few silver linings was the creation of the Great Walkway (and other people-first spaces in our city). The Great Walkway has given countless residents a safe place to walk, roll, and connect, and we must save it by approving a pilot to extend the promenade's life while continuing to do studies, outreach, and traffic-calming improvements.

I join Kid Safe SF and countless other organizations and residents in urging you to approve a pilot that extends the Walkway's life beyond the emergency health order.

The SFCTA's survey showed that about 80% of San Franciscans support a promenade in some form, with a majority of San Franciscans supporting a four-lane promenade 24 hours per day, 7 days per week. SFMTA's data shows that at least 6,000 people are using The Great Walkway daily. It's clear that the majority of San Franciscans love The Great Walkway and want it to be kept alive.

Concerns about car traffic in the Sunset are valid, and SFMTA's work with Supervisor Mar has had a positive effect on calming car-traffic and diverting it to the arterials (Sunset Blvd. and 19th Ave.), and traffic-calming efforts should continue to ensure Sunset residents are safe. With that said, data shows that collisions in the Sunset are down more than 30% from before the pandemic — traffic-calming measures are working, and will continue to have positive impacts on the Sunset. Furthermore, Director Maguire has publicly stated that Sunset Boulevard and 19th Avenue can both take more car-traffic capacity.

Concerns about north-south traffic to/from the Richmond are valid, and there are a number of things that can be done to address these concerns and improve north-south access to/from the Richmond. These include, but are not limited to, diverting car-traffic from Chain of Lakes to Crossover Drive and Great Highway, improving/increasing north-south bus service, and optimizing traffic-signal timing on Sunset Boulevard. Solutions to these concerns are feasible and effective — we don't need to give in to demands of a small but vocal mob of car drivers who think the only solution is to use more public space for car traffic throughout our city.

It's important to address concerns about the Great Highway closure, but the answer is not to kill the Great Walkway and put cars back on that public space. In my opinion, there should never have been a four-lane highway separating our city from one of its greatest resources: the waterfront at Ocean Beach. Most other great cities in the world are in the process of removing transportation or other infrastructure that cut their waterfronts off from their cities and citizens, and we should put ourselves in that in Their company, and follow the progressive path towards making cities for people not cars.

I join Kid Safe SF and countless other organizations and residents in urging you to approve a pilot that extends the Walkway's life beyond the emergency health order.

Thank you, and please take care.

The Great Walkway has given countless residents a safe place to walk, roll, and connect, and we must save it by approving a pilot to extend the promenade's life while continuing to do studies, outreach, and traffic-calming improvements.

I join Kid Safe SF and countless other organizations and residents in urging you to approve a pilot that extends the Walkway's life beyond the emergency health order.

The SFCTA's survey showed that about 80% of San Franciscans support a promenade in some form, with a majority of San Franciscans supporting a four-lane promenade 24 hours per day, 7 days per week. SFMTA's data shows that at least 6,000 people are using The Great Walkway daily. It's clear that the majority of San Franciscans love The Great Walkway and want it to kept alive.

Concerns about car traffic in the Sunset are valid, and SFMTA's work with Supervisor Mar has had a positive effect on calming car-traffic an diverting it to the arterials (Sunset Blvd. and 19th Ave.), and traffic-calming efforts should continue to ensure Sunset residents are safe. With that said, data shows that collisions in the Sunset are down more than 30% from before the pandemic — traffic-calming measures are working, and will continue to have positive impacts on the Sunset. Furthermore, Director Maguire has publicly stated that Sunset Boulevard and 19th Avenue can both take more car-traffic capacity.

Concerns about north-south traffic to/from the Richmond are valid, and there are a number of things that can be done to address these concerns and improve north-south access to/from the Richmond. These include, but are not limited to, diverting car-traffic from Chain of Lakes to Crossover Drive and Great Highway, improving/increasing north-south bus service, and optimizing traffic-signal timing on Sunset Boulevard. Solutions to these concerns are feasible and effective — we don't need to give in to demands of a small but vocal mob of car drivers who think the only solution is to use more public space for car traffic throughout our city.

It's important to address concerns about the Great Highway closure, but the answer is not to kill the Great Walkway and put cars back on that public space.

I join Kid Safe SF and countless other organizations and residents in urging you to approve a pilot that extends the Walkway's life beyond the emergency health order.

Thank you, and please take care.

SF Pols,

Below is the posted email from this movement. But I'll add that every time I've walked on the Great Walkway, I've counted more people walking than cars driving North/South. If more people use this as a walkway, isn't that as clear a signal as any we should keep it that way?

Dear Commissioners, Directors, General Manager Ginsburg, and Director Tumlin,

The pandemic had countless negative impacts, but one of the few silver linings was the creation of the Great Walkway (and other people-first spaces in our city). The Great Walkway has given countless residents a safe place to walk, roll, and connect, and we must save it by approving a pilot to extend the promenade's life while continuing to do studies, outreach, and traffic-calming improvements.

I join Kid Safe SF and countless other organizations and residents in urging you to approve a pilot that extends the Walkway's life beyond the emergency health order.

The SFCTA's survey showed that about 80% of San Franciscans support a promenade in some form, with a majority of San Franciscans supporting a four-lane promenade 24 hours per day, 7 days per week. SFMTA's data shows that at least 6,000 people are using The Great Walkway daily. It's clear that the majority of San Franciscans love The Great Walkway and want it to be kept alive.

Concerns about car traffic in the Sunset are valid, and SFMTA's work with Supervisor Mar has had a positive effect on calming car-traffic and diverting it to the arterials (Sunset Blvd. and 19th Ave.), and traffic-calming efforts should continue to ensure Sunset residents are safe. With that said, data shows that collisions in the Sunset are down more than 30% from before the pandemic — traffic-calming measures are working, and will continue to have positive impacts on the Sunset. Furthermore, Director Maguire has publicly stated that Sunset Boulevard and 19th Avenue can both take more car-traffic capacity.

Concerns about north-south traffic to/from the Richmond are valid, and there are a number of things that can be done to address these concerns and improve north-south access to/from the Richmond. These include, but are not limited to, diverting car-traffic from Chain of Lakes to Crossover Drive and Great Highway, improving/increasing north-south bus service, and optimizing traffic-signal timing on Sunset Boulevard. Solutions to these concerns are feasible and effective — we don't need to give in to demands of a small but vocal mob of car drivers who think the only solution is to use more public space for car traffic throughout our city.

It's important to address concerns about the Great Highway closure, but the answer is not to kill the Great Walkway and put cars back on that public space.

I join Kid Safe SF and countless other organizations and residents in urging you to approve a pilot that extends the Walkway's life beyond the emergency health order.

Thank you, and please take care.

I join Kid Safe SF and countless other organizations and residents in urging you to approve a pilot that extends the Walkway's life beyond the emergency health order.

The SFCTA's survey showed that about 80% of San Franciscans support a promenade in some form, with a majority of San Franciscans supporting a four-lane promenade 24 hours per day, 7 days per week. SFMTA's data shows that at least 6,000 people are using The Great Walkway daily. It's clear that the majority of San Franciscans love The Great Walkway and want it to be kept alive.

Concerns about car traffic in the Sunset are valid, and SFMTA's work with Supervisor Mar has had a positive effect on calming car-traffic and diverting it to the arterials (Sunset Blvd. and 19th Ave.), and traffic-calming efforts should continue to ensure Sunset residents are safe. With that said, data shows that collisions in the Sunset are down more than 30% from before the pandemic — traffic-calming measures are working, and will continue to have positive impacts on the Sunset. Furthermore, Director Maguire has publicly stated that Sunset Boulevard and 19th Avenue can both take more car-traffic capacity.

Concerns about north-south traffic to/from the Richmond are valid, and there are a number of things that can be done to address these concerns and improve north-south access to/from the Richmond. These include, but are not limited to, diverting car-traffic from Chain of Lakes to Crossover Drive and Great Highway, improving/increasing north-south bus service, and optimizing traffic-signal timing on Sunset Boulevard. Solutions to these concerns are feasible and effective — we don't need to give in to demands of a small but vocal mob of car drivers who think the only solution is to use more public space for car traffic throughout our city.

It's important to address concerns about the Great Highway closure, but the answer is not to kill the Great Walkway and put cars back on that public space.

I join Kid Safe SF and countless other organizations and residents in urging you to approve a pilot that extends the Walkway's life beyond the emergency health order.

Thank you, and please take care.

Dear Commissioners, Directors, General Manager Ginsburg, and Director Tumlin,

The pandemic had countless negative impacts, but one of the few silver linings was the creation of the Great Walkway (and other people-first spaces in our city). The Great Walkway has given countless residents a safe place to walk, roll, and connect, and we must save it by approving a pilot to extend the promenade's life while continuing to do studies, outreach, and traffic-calming improvements.

Dear commissioners,

I support the idea of a Great Walkway with one caveat.

THE NEEDS OF DISABLED PEOPLE MUST BE MET.

My wheelchair using husband has NOT been able to use the Great Walkway easily because there is so little handicap access to the street from neighboring streets and there is insufficient blue zone parking.

PLEASE ADD HANDICAP ACCESS AND PARKING to plans for the Great Walkway.

Thank you.

Dear Commissioners, Directors, General Manager Ginsburg, and Director Tumlin,

My family uses the Great Walkway at Ocean beach almost daily (we live on Taraval and 43rd) and it has improved our quality of life immensely.

We have a baby and 2 year old and it is an amazing and safe place for them to bike, walk, and for us to push the stroller and enjoy the ocean views.

Please prioritize pedestrians, families, and our community over more cars.

This is a natural space that never should have had a road in the first place. It should be kept open for pedestrians, cyclists and families only, forever!

Passionately yours,
Toby Kersh Sage and Baby August Branz (a 2-mom queer family in the Outer Sunset!)

Dear Commissioners, Directors, General Manager Ginsburg, and Director Tumlin,

I write to as a parent, as a person who grew up and went to public school in San Francisco, as a cyclist who also owns a car, and as a citizen who works and lives in San Francisco.

I have used the "Great Walkway" myself and with my wife and child many, many times. My child is 4 and a half, and there are extremely few places where I can safely teach him to ride a bike. You need space to wobble and fall and not go in a straight line ...and cars must be completely out of the picture because you cannot expect a 4 year old learner to follow traffic laws and move in a predictable manner.

When I was a child there was less traffic congestion in my neighborhood and kids used to play in the street. We could play sports games and only occasionally had to move out of the street to let a car go slowly by.

Now we have Uber and Lyft drivers who are not local and AI cars and drivers using apps to direct them, and families and children playing in their neighborhoods have been left out of all of those algorithms and plans. Now the only safe play is in small containers like parks, and many don't have enough space to move around or have specific activities for their use like organized sports.

The Great Walkway has given me and my child a feeling like the streets belong to us too, like we can have open space for free play, to be able to learn and be together safely without concern about cars speeding through a residential area.

Please seriously consider keeping the Great Walkway. The "slow streets" and Golden Gate Park have been great too, but since the Great Walkway has no cross traffic, it has been a truly safe oasis - as all of those others still have cross traffic or cars (that are supposed to be) going slowly.

Here is Kid Safe SF's message, which I support:

The pandemic had countless negative impacts, but one of the few silver linings was the creation of the Great Walkway (and other people-first spaces in our city). The Great Walkway has given countless residents a safe place to walk, roll, and connect, and we must save it by approving a pilot to extend the promenade's life while continuing to do studies, outreach, and traffic-calming improvements.

I join Kid Safe SF and countless other organizations and residents in urging you to approve a pilot that extends the Walkway's life beyond the emergency health order.

The SFCTA's survey showed that about 80% of San Franciscans support a promenade in some form, with a majority of San Franciscans supporting a four-lane promenade 24 hours per day, 7 days per week. SFMTA's data shows that at least 6,000 people are using The Great Walkway daily. It's clear that the majority of San Franciscans love The Great Walkway and want it to be kept alive.

Concerns about car traffic in the Sunset are valid, and SFMTA's work with Supervisor Mar has had a positive effect on calming car-traffic and diverting it to the arterials (Sunset Blvd. and 19th Ave.), and traffic-calming efforts should continue to ensure Sunset residents are safe. With that said, data shows that collisions in the Sunset are down more than 30% from before the pandemic — traffic-calming measures are working, and will continue to have positive impacts on the Sunset. Furthermore, Director Maguire has publicly stated that Sunset Boulevard and 19th Avenue can both take more car-traffic capacity.

Concerns about north-south traffic to/from the Richmond are valid, and there are a number of things that can be done to address these concerns and improve north-south access to/from the Richmond. These include, but are not limited to, diverting car-traffic from Chain of Lakes to Crossover Drive and Great Highway, improving/increasing north-south bus service, and optimizing traffic-signal timing on Sunset Boulevard. Solutions to these concerns are feasible and effective — we don't need to give in to demands of a small but vocal mob of car drivers who think the only solution is to use more public space for car traffic throughout our city.

It's important to address concerns about the Great Highway closure, but the answer is not to kill the Great Walkway and put cars back on that public space.

I join Kid Safe SF and countless other organizations and residents in urging you to approve a pilot that extends the Walkway's life beyond the emergency health order.

Thank you, and please take care.

It's important to address concerns about the Great Highway closure, but the answer is not to kill the Great Walkway and put cars back on that public space.

I join Kid Safe SF and countless other organizations and residents in urging you to approve a pilot that extends the Walkway's life beyond the emergency health order.

Thank you, and please take care.

Dear Commissioners, Directors, General Manager Ginsburg, and Director Tumlin,

The pandemic had countless negative impacts, but one of the few silver linings was the creation of the Great Walkway (and other people-first spaces in our city). The Great Walkway has given countless residents a safe place to walk, roll, and connect, and we must save it by approving a pilot to extend the promenade's life while continuing to do studies, outreach, and traffic-calming improvements.

I join Kid Safe SF and countless other organizations and residents in urging you to approve a pilot that extends the Walkway's life beyond the emergency health order.

The SFCTA's survey showed that about 80% of San Franciscans support a promenade in some form, with a majority of San Franciscans supporting a four-lane promenade 24 hours per day, 7 days per week. SFMTA's data shows that at least 6,000 people are using The Great Walkway daily. It's clear that the majority of San Franciscans love The Great Walkway and want it to kept alive.

Concerns about car traffic in the Sunset are valid, and SFMTA's work with Supervisor Mar has had a positive effect on calming car-traffic an diverting it to the arterials (Sunset Blvd. and 19th Ave.), and traffic-calming efforts should continue to ensure Sunset residents are safe. With that said, data shows that collisions in the Sunset are down more than 30% from before the pandemic — traffic-calming measures are working, and will continue to have positive impacts on the Sunset. Furthermore, Director Maguire has publicly stated that Sunset Boulevard and 19th Avenue can both take more car-traffic capacity.

Concerns about north-south traffic to/from the Richmond are valid, and there are a number of things that can be done to address these concerns and improve north-south access to/from the Richmond. These include, but are not limited to, diverting car-traffic from Chain of Lakes to Crossover Drive and Great Highway, improving/increasing north-south bus service, and optimizing traffic-signal timing on Sunset Boulevard. Solutions to these concerns are feasible and effective — we don't need to give in to demands of a small but vocal mob of car drivers who think the only solution is to use more public space for car traffic throughout our city.

It's important to address concerns about the Great Highway closure, but the answer is not to kill the Great Walkway and put cars back on that public space.

Subject: Stop traffic violence deaths in S.F.
Date: Friday, June 4, 2021 11:57:02 AM

This message is from outside the City email system. Do not open links or attachments from untrusted sources.

Dear Commissioners, Directors, General Manager Ginsburg, and Director Tumlin,

Lovisa Svallingson is the eighth pedestrian to be killed by traffic violence in San Francisco this year and we are not even halfway through the year yet. Her only crime was crossing the street in a crosswalk with a walk light.

Crossing the street here can definitely feel like a crime, as can walking down a city sidewalk littered with illegally-parked cars and trucks, being on a stalled Muni bus stuck in traffic, walking down a “slow street” filled with speeding vehicles and reckless drivers furious about the few barriers the city has placed to driving however and wherever they wish, or riding a bike on our increasingly dangerous and crowded streets.

These conditions are out there for anyone who takes a look, and they seem to all be getting worse. But despite the horrifying statistics of 20,000 serious injuries and over 200 deaths from traffic violence in the last 6 years — and despite horrifying and heartbreaking stories like Lovisa Svallingson and her critically-injured boyfriend Daniel Ramos’s — what I don’t see is any kind of plan to actually do something to change these conditions or the political will to make stories like Lovisa’s no longer possible.

Without these changes — real changes, not just window-dressing — the injustice of ripping promising lives away from innocent people will continue, and our hearts will continue to be broken, just as my heart is now.

If these people were being killed by gun violence I know here in S.F. we would take action to stop it. But because the weapon of choice is a motor vehicle, we somehow find it acceptable — or at least acceptable enough that we are not willing to change the status quo to ensure that vehicular homicides like these will never again happen on our city streets.

I am writing this specifically because I know a hearing about Highway 1 is coming up, and I know debates are being held about re-opening Highway 1 and JFK Drive to cars. I say this in all seriousness: please stop debating about whether or not San Francisco is too safe for pedestrians, when clearly, it is not. Please stop debating about whether you should make it even more unsafe by destroying the precious few public spaces where pedestrians and bicyclists don’t have to fear for their lives, and where the number of traffic fatalities is zero.

Please turn your attention to all the other parts of the city — the whole rest of the city besides these 2 tiny stretches of roadway — where neither of those things are true, and where beautiful young people like Lovisa Svallingson have to lose their lives as a result. This is the power and the responsibility that is vested in you as public officials. It is literally the power of life and death. I beg you to start using it responsibly, and start transforming San Francisco into a city where we have more places, not fewer, where people like Lovisa Svallingson don’t have to lose their lives for the terrible mistake of crossing the street.

Sincerely,
Katherine Roberts

Dear Commissioners, Directors, General Manager Ginsburg, and Director Tumlin,

The pandemic had countless negative impacts, but one of the few silver linings was the creation of the Great Walkway (and other people-first spaces in our city). I am a resident in the Sunset, and a car owner, and despite this the great walkway has been so incredible to see. There is no more joy than seeing ALL community members safely utilizing a space, kids, the elderly, disabled people, and other community members. Losing this space would be a tremendous loss for our city, so I beg that you keep it.

Dear Commissioners, Directors, General Manager Ginsburg, and Director Tumlin,

In addition to the message below I would like to say that I take my granddaughter twice a day on the Great Walkway and the fact that she doesn't breathe car exhaust on a good portion of our commute is such a bonus and the safety of not having cross streets where people want to barely slowdown at stop signs makes it a much safer commute. Please keep it closed for the benefit of our community and our children.

The pandemic had countless negative impacts, but one of the few silver linings was the creation of the Great Walkway (and other people-first spaces in our city). The Great Walkway has given countless residents a safe place to walk, roll, and connect, and we must save it by approving a pilot to extend the promenade's life while continuing to do studies, outreach, and traffic-calming improvements.

I join Kid Safe SF and countless other organizations and residents in urging you to approve a pilot that extends the Walkway's life beyond the emergency health order.

The SFCTA's survey showed that about 80% of San Franciscans support a promenade in some form, with a majority of San Franciscans supporting a four-lane promenade 24 hours per day, 7 days per week. SFMTA's data shows that at least 6,000 people are using The Great Walkway daily. It's clear that the majority of San Franciscans love The Great Walkway and want it to be kept alive.

Concerns about car traffic in the Sunset are valid, and SFMTA's work with Supervisor Mar has had a positive effect on calming car-traffic and diverting it to the arterials (Sunset Blvd. and 19th Ave.), and traffic-calming efforts should continue to ensure Sunset residents are safe. With that said, data shows that collisions in the Sunset are down more than 30% from before the pandemic — traffic-calming measures are working, and will continue to have positive impacts on the Sunset. Furthermore, Director Maguire has publicly stated that Sunset Boulevard and 19th Avenue can both take more car-traffic capacity.

Concerns about north-south traffic to/from the Richmond are valid, and there are a number of things that can be done to address these concerns and improve north-south access to/from the Richmond. These include, but are not limited to, diverting car-traffic from Chain of Lakes to Crossover Drive and Great Highway, improving/increasing north-south bus service, and optimizing traffic-signal timing on Sunset Boulevard. Solutions to these concerns are feasible and effective — we don't need to give in to demands of a small but vocal mob of car drivers who think the only solution is to use more public space for car traffic throughout our city.

It's important to address concerns about the Great Highway closure, but the answer is not to kill the Great Walkway and put cars back on that public space.

I join Kid Safe SF and countless other organizations and residents in urging you to approve a pilot that extends the Walkway's life beyond the emergency health order.

Thank you, and please take care.

The pandemic had countless negative impacts, but one of the few silver linings was the creation of the Great Walkway (and other people-first spaces in our city). The Great Walkway has given countless residents a safe place to run, walk, roll, and connect, and we must save it by approving a pilot to extend the promenade's life while continuing to do studies, outreach, and traffic-calming improvements.

I run Ortega Street from 16th Ave to the Great Walkway, then run the Great Walkway, then run back up Ortega to 16th Ave at least once a week every week this year. It's so much safer than before when it was full of dangerous cars & trucks.

I join Kid Safe SF and countless other organizations and residents in urging you to approve a pilot that extends the Walkway's life beyond the emergency health order.

The SFCTA's survey showed that about 80% of San Franciscans support a promenade in some form, with a majority of San Franciscans supporting a four-lane promenade 24 hours per day, 7 days per week. SFMTA's data shows that at least 6,000 people are using The Great Walkway daily. It's clear that the majority of San Franciscans love The Great Walkway and want it to be kept alive.

Concerns about car traffic in the Sunset are valid, and SFMTA's work with Supervisor Mar has had a positive effect on calming car-traffic and diverting it to the arterials (Sunset Blvd. and 19th Ave.), and traffic-calming efforts should continue to ensure Sunset residents are safe. With that said, data shows that collisions in the Sunset are down more than 30% from before the pandemic — traffic-calming measures are working, and will continue to have positive impacts on the Sunset. Furthermore, Director Maguire has publicly stated that Sunset Boulevard and 19th Avenue can both take more car-traffic capacity.

Concerns about north-south traffic to/from the Richmond are valid, and there are a number of things that can be done to address these concerns and improve north-south access to/from the Richmond. These include, but are not limited to, diverting car-traffic from Chain of Lakes to Crossover Drive and Great Highway, improving/increasing north-south bus service, and optimizing traffic-signal timing on Sunset Boulevard. Solutions to these concerns are feasible and effective — we don't need to give in to demands of a small but vocal mob of car drivers who think the only solution is to use more public space for car traffic throughout our city.

It's important to address concerns about the Great Highway closure, but the answer is not to kill the Great Walkway and put cars back on that public space.

I join Kid Safe SF and countless other organizations and residents in urging you to approve a pilot that extends the Walkway's life beyond the emergency health order.

Thank you, and please take care.

Dear Commissioners, Directors, General Manager Ginsburg, and Director Tumlin,

As a D1 resident I fully support the pilot or permanent closure of the great highway to cars. There is significant and demonstrated park and quality of life benefit and opportunity here for all SF residents. Letting a minority of panicked car advocates prevail in returning this space to speeding vehicles will be a failure of leadership.

Frankly this is not even a close call. I look forward to discussion about making the great walkway even better or more activated as part of the important car free route from the zoo to the ferry building. What a resource for SF.

As an aside isn't it surprising to observe how many otherwise progressive neighbors are so resistant to Transportation engineering and curb management changes that make complete sense for the community if they may impinge on their personal driving interests. It's time for this high tide of car privilege to recede.

Best regards.

I join Kid Safe SF and countless other organizations and residents in urging you to approve a pilot that extends the Walkway's life beyond the emergency health order.

The SFCTA's survey showed that about 80% of San Franciscans support a promenade in some form, with a majority of San Franciscans supporting a four-lane promenade 24 hours per day, 7 days per week. SFMTA's data shows that at least 6,000 people are using The Great Walkway daily. It's clear that the majority of San Franciscans love The Great Walkway and want it to be kept alive.

Concerns about car traffic in the Sunset are valid, and SFMTA's work with Supervisor Mar has had a positive effect on calming car-traffic and diverting it to the arterials (Sunset Blvd. and 19th Ave.), and traffic-calming efforts should continue to ensure Sunset residents are safe. With that said, data shows that collisions in the Sunset are down more than 30% from before the pandemic — traffic-calming measures are working, and will continue to have positive impacts on the Sunset. Furthermore, Director Maguire has publicly stated that Sunset Boulevard and 19th Avenue can both take more car-traffic capacity.

Concerns about north-south traffic to/from the Richmond are valid, and there are a number of things that can be done to address these concerns and improve north-south access to/from the Richmond. These include, but are not limited to, diverting car-traffic from Chain of Lakes to Crossover Drive and Great Highway, improving/increasing north-south bus service, and optimizing traffic-signal timing on Sunset Boulevard. Solutions to these concerns are feasible and effective — we don't need to give in to demands of a small but vocal mob of car drivers who think the only solution is to use more public space for car traffic throughout our city.

It's important to address concerns about the Great Highway closure, but the answer is not to kill the Great Walkway and put cars back on that public space.

I join Kid Safe SF and countless other organizations and residents in urging you to approve a pilot that extends the Walkway's life beyond the emergency health order.

Thank you, and please take care.

Dear Commissioners, Directors, General Manager Ginsburg, and Director Tumlin,

I am writing to ask you to keep the Great Highway Park open to people and closed to cars, and to continue to invest in street safety & alternative transit throughout San Francisco. The "Great Walkway" is a city-wide asset that is a civic commons and green commute-way for residents, and also a huge draw for visitors from all over the city, bringing customers to D4 merchants and creating community around an equitable, accessible, beautiful and safe space for all to use.

It's 2021 - nearly 100 years since the first roadway was built along the ocean. Things look different now. Let's invest in creative traffic and transit solutions to address the few bottlenecks that exist, rather than reverting to a polluting and dangerous 4 lane highway through a national park. This moment calls for forward looking leadership that can help San Franciscans boldly meet the moment, with creativity and resilience.

Take a leap on a legacy and make the Great Walkway a permanent promenade along Ocean Beach, and a world-class green commuting, recreation, and community space for all.

Thanks so much for listening!

Dear Commissioners, Directors, General Manager Ginsburg, and Director Tumlin,

I am writing to ask you to keep the Great Highway Park open to people and closed to cars, and to continue to invest in street safety & alternative transit throughout San Francisco. The "Great Walkway" is a city-wide asset that is a civic commons and green commute-way for residents, and also a huge draw for visitors from all over the city, bringing customers to D4 merchants and creating community around an equitable, accessible, beautiful and safe space for all to use.

It's 2021 - nearly 100 years since the first roadway was built along the ocean. Things look different now. Let's invest in creative traffic and transit solutions to address the few bottlenecks that exist, rather than reverting to a polluting and dangerous 4 lane highway through a national park. This moment calls for forward looking leadership that can help San Franciscans boldly meet the moment, with creativity and resilience.

Take a leap on a legacy and make the Great Walkway a permanent promenade along Ocean Beach, and a world-class green commuting, recreation, and community space for all.

Thanks so much for listening!

Radmila Stolle

Dear Commissioners, Directors, General Manager Ginsburg, and Director Tumlin,

I am writing to ask you to keep the Great Highway Park open to people and closed to cars, and to continue to invest in street safety & alternative transit throughout San Francisco. The "Great Walkway" is a city-wide asset that is a civic commons and green commute-way for residents, and also a huge draw for visitors from all over the city, bringing customers to D4 merchants and creating community around an equitable, accessible, beautiful and safe space for all to use.

It's 2021 - nearly 100 years since the first roadway was built along the ocean. Things look different now. Let's invest in creative traffic and transit solutions to address the few bottlenecks that exist, rather than reverting to a polluting and dangerous 4 lane highway through a national park. This moment calls for forward looking leadership that can help San Franciscans boldly meet the moment, with creativity and resilience.

Take a leap on a legacy and make the Great Walkway a permanent promenade along Ocean Beach, and a world-class green commuting, recreation, and community space for all.

Thanks so much for listening!

On a personal note, I am a resident of the sunset. Specifically on 42nd between ulloa and Vicente. As you may know, 42nd is the first avenue that cuts through the entire sunset beyond 38th. With the closure of the highway we have seen a marked rise in traffic on our street.

I say this to call out that even with this rise in traffic I still support the great highway staying closed. It's a great resource for the neighborhood and community. It's bring San Franciscans to the sunset and helping our local economy.

Thanks
Dain Charette

Dear Commissioners, Directors, General Manager Ginsburg, and Director Tumlin,

I am writing to ask you to keep the Great Highway Park open to people and closed to cars, and to continue to invest in street safety & alternative transit throughout San Francisco. I live on 44th avenue and taking my young kids down to Great Highway for biking and skateboarding has been one of the few silver linings of this pandemic. It has become one of our favorite open spaces in the city. Please don't reopen it to cars.

Thank you.

I run a preschool in the outer sunset and the great walkway makes the beach so much more accessible (and safe) for all our local kids and families. We often will ride bikes/scooters, spend time in the dunes, and just enjoy the beach now that we can do so safely. Most of our families are within 10 blocks of great highway (and several on LGH!) and all of them favor keeping it closed and all the benefits that come from that. We can't wait to see how it will evolve- all the local art, small businesses, and play/recreational space.

Dear Commissioners, Directors, General Manager Ginsburg, and Director Tumlin,

I am writing to ask you to keep the Great Highway Park open to people and closed to cars, and to continue to invest in street safety & alternative transit throughout San Francisco. The "Great Walkway" is a city-wide asset that is a civic commons and green commute-way for residents, and also a huge draw for visitors from all over the city, bringing customers to D4 merchants and creating community around an equitable, accessible, beautiful and safe space for all to use.

It's 2021 - nearly 100 years since the first roadway was built along the ocean. Things look different now. Let's invest in creative traffic and transit solutions to address the few bottlenecks that exist, rather than reverting to a polluting and dangerous 4 lane highway through a national park. This moment calls for forward looking leadership that can help San Franciscans boldly meet the moment, with creativity and resilience.

Take a leap on a legacy and make the Great Walkway a permanent promenade along Ocean Beach, and a world-class green commuting, recreation, and community space for all.

Thanks so much for listening!
Dave Walker

I'm a SF Native. I have lived in the Sunset District most of my life. I have seen happy families, elderly people, dogs on leashes, bikers, skating, skateboarding and many other activities take place on this street since the pandemic hit. I love that this is a safe space, for people of all ages, to just be pedestrians and enjoy the beach area without having to worry about traffic. I personally don't love always going down to the sand. I have enjoyed being close to the beach, without having to be too near the water. The joy on everyone's faces and safety that this barrier has given us has been phenomenal. It would be a shame to take this away! Let's not go backwards and let us enjoy the view, unabated in safety. It has brought our community closer together and it truly has been wonderful to witness. There are enough roads open to car traffic, and plenty of space to navigate the City, as a vehicle driver. Balance is important for quality of life. We all in support of this measure, appreciate your consideration.

Thank you, from a long time resident.

Sincerely,
Akilah Washington

Dear Commissioners, Directors, General Manager Ginsburg, and Director Tumlin,

I am writing to ask you to keep the Great Highway Park open to people and closed to cars, and to continue to invest in street safety & alternative transit throughout San Francisco. The "Great Walkway" is a city-wide asset that is a civic commons and green commute-way for residents, and also a huge draw for visitors from all over the city, bringing customers to D4 merchants and creating community around an equitable, accessible, beautiful and safe space for all to use.

It's 2021 - nearly 100 years since the first roadway was built along the ocean. Things look different now. Let's invest in creative traffic and transit solutions to address the few bottlenecks that exist, rather than reverting to a polluting and dangerous 4 lane highway through a national park. This moment calls for forward looking leadership that can help San Franciscans boldly meet the moment, with creativity and resilience.

Take a leap on a legacy and make the Great Walkway a permanent promenade along Ocean Beach, and a world-class green commuting, recreation, and community space for all.

Thanks so much for listening!

Subject: Please save the Great Walkway, and approve a pilot to extend the promenade's life...

Dear Commissioners, Directors, General Manager Ginsburg, and Director Tumlin,

The pandemic had countless negative impacts, but one of the few silver linings was the creation of the Great Walkway (and other people-first spaces in our city). The Great Walkway has given countless residents a safe place to walk, roll, and connect, and we must save it by approving a pilot to extend the promenade's life while continuing to do studies, outreach, and traffic-calming improvements.

I join Kid Safe SF and countless other organizations and residents in urging you to approve a pilot that extends the Walkway's life beyond the emergency health order.

The SFCTA's survey showed that about 80% of San Franciscans support a promenade in some form, with a majority of San Franciscans supporting a four-lane promenade 24 hours per day, 7 days per week. SFMTA's data shows that at least 6,000 people are using The Great Walkway daily. It's clear that the majority of San Franciscans love The Great Walkway and want it to be kept alive.

Concerns about car traffic in the Sunset are valid, and SFMTA's work with Supervisor Mar has had a positive effect on calming car-traffic and diverting it to the arterials (Sunset Blvd. and 19th Ave.), and traffic-calming efforts should continue to ensure Sunset residents are safe. With that said, data shows that collisions in the Sunset are down more than 30% from before the pandemic — traffic-calming measures are working, and will continue to have positive impacts on the Sunset. Furthermore, Director Maguire has publicly stated that Sunset Boulevard and 19th Avenue can both take more car-traffic capacity.

Concerns about north-south traffic to/from the Richmond are valid, and there are a number of things that can be done to address these concerns and improve north-south access to/from the Richmond. These include, but are not limited to, diverting car-traffic from Chain of Lakes to Crossover Drive and Great Highway, improving/increasing north-south bus service, and optimizing traffic-signal timing on Sunset Boulevard. Solutions to these concerns are feasible and effective — we don't need to give in to demands of a small but vocal mob of car drivers who think the only solution is to use more public space for car traffic throughout our city.

It's important to address concerns about the Great Highway closure, but the answer is not to kill the Great Walkway and put cars back on that public space.

I join Kid Safe SF and countless other organizations and residents in urging you to approve a pilot that extends the Walkway's life beyond the emergency health order.

Thank you, and please take care.

This stretch of road is a very special place to take my family for a stroll, teach my son to scooter and how to ride his bike. It's saved my mental health this past year plus. It is a world class destination. I've traveled all over the world and this car-free space is second to none. We must keep it that way! But as a neighbor with a small child, I appreciate the concern of families that live nearby. We must make the surrounding perimeter safer for vehicle traffic.

Thanks so much for considering this request!

Subject: Please save the Great Walkway, and approve a pilot to extend the promenade's life...

Dear Commissioners, Directors, General Manager Ginsburg, and Director Tumlin,

The pandemic had countless negative impacts, but one of the few silver linings was the creation of the Great Walkway (and other people-first spaces in our city). The Great Walkway has given countless residents a safe place to walk, roll, and connect, and we must save it by approving a pilot to extend the promenade's life while continuing to do studies, outreach, and traffic-calming improvements.

I join Kid Safe SF and countless other organizations and residents in urging you to approve a pilot that extends the Walkway's life beyond the emergency health order.

The SFCTA's survey showed that about 80% of San Franciscans support a promenade in some form, with a majority of San Franciscans supporting a four-lane promenade 24 hours per day, 7 days per week. SFMTA's data shows that at least 6,000 people are using The Great Walkway daily. It's clear that the majority of San Franciscans love The Great Walkway and want it to be kept alive.

Concerns about car traffic in the Sunset are valid, and SFMTA's work with Supervisor Mar has had a positive effect on calming car-traffic and diverting it to the arterials (Sunset Blvd. and 19th Ave.), and traffic-calming efforts should continue to ensure Sunset residents are safe. With that said, data shows that collisions in the Sunset are down more than 30% from before the pandemic — traffic-calming measures are working, and will continue to have positive impacts on the Sunset. Furthermore, Director Maguire has publicly stated that Sunset Boulevard and 19th Avenue can both take more car-traffic capacity.

Concerns about north-south traffic to/from the Richmond are valid, and there are a number of things that can be done to address these concerns and improve north-south access to/from the Richmond. These include, but are not limited to, diverting car-traffic from Chain of Lakes to Crossover Drive and Great Highway, improving/increasing north-south bus service, and optimizing traffic-signal timing on Sunset Boulevard. Solutions to these concerns are feasible and effective — we don't need to give in to demands of a small but vocal mob of car drivers who think the only solution is to use more public space for car traffic throughout our city.

It's important to address concerns about the Great Highway closure, but the answer is not to kill the Great Walkway and put cars back on that public space.

I join Kid Safe SF and countless other organizations and residents in urging you to approve a pilot that extends the Walkway's life beyond the emergency health order.

Thank you, and please take care.

I am writing to ask you to keep the Great Highway Park open to people and closed to cars, and to continue to invest in street safety & alternative transit throughout San Francisco. I have lived on the Great Highway since 1980 and I've never understood why there was a thoroughfare right at a magnificent stretch of beach.

Lately, more people from throughout the city have started to come to the beach and to appreciate it. Children, school classes, people with dogs, cyclists, runners. It is wonderful. It is their beach. They can be rowdy. People can learn new habits. The future is moving away from cars and San Francisco should be a leader, not a holdout.

Closing the upper Great Highway to cars was a gift to us all to come out of this nightmare pandemic. Please keep it.

In any case, the Highway was impractical as a through way, only two miles long and often closed due to wind and sand. It better serves our citizens and animals.

Thank you!

I have lived in the Ocean Beach community for the last four years, and the Great Highway walkway is my new favorite part of the neighborhood. Seeing it filled with people walking, biking, skating, laughing, and enjoying the view has filled me up in this time that has left so many of us feeling empty. The section of beach that is currently the walkway has no walkway close to the beach, and the one we have on the other side of the street is pretty narrow. This space doesn't only easily invite in walkers but bikers to ride more safely.

It's 2021 - nearly 100 years since the first roadway was built along the ocean. Things look different now. Let's invest in creative traffic and transit solutions to address the few bottlenecks that exist, rather than reverting to a polluting and dangerous 4 lane highway through a national park. This moment calls for forward looking leadership that can help San Franciscans boldly meet the moment, with creativity and resilience.

Make the Great Walkway a permanent promenade along Ocean Beach, and let's show our city and the world that we can adapt to the needs of our denizens and maintain yet another world-class green commuting, recreation, and community space for all.

Thanks so much for listening!

Dear Commissioners, Directors, General Manager Ginsburg, and Director Tumlin,

The pandemic had countless negative impacts, but one of the few silver linings was the creation of the Great Walkway (and other people-first spaces in our city). The Great Walkway has given countless residents a safe place to walk, roll, and connect, and we must save it by approving a pilot to extend the promenade's life while continuing to do studies, outreach, and traffic-calming improvements.

I join Kid Safe SF and countless other organizations and residents in urging you to approve a pilot that extends the Walkway's life beyond the emergency health order.

The SFCTA's survey showed that about 80% of San Franciscans support a promenade in some form, with a majority of San Franciscans supporting a four-lane promenade 24 hours per day, 7 days per week. SFMTA's data shows that at least 6,000 people are using The Great Walkway daily. It's clear that the majority of San Franciscans love The Great Walkway and want it to be kept alive.

Concerns about car traffic in the Sunset are valid, and SFMTA's work with Supervisor Mar has had a positive effect on calming car-traffic and diverting it to the arterials (Sunset Blvd. and 19th Ave.), and traffic-calming efforts should continue to ensure Sunset residents are safe. With that said, data shows that collisions in the Sunset are down more than 30% from before the pandemic — traffic-calming measures are working, and will continue to have positive impacts on the Sunset. Furthermore, Director Maguire has publicly stated that Sunset Boulevard and 19th Avenue can both take more car-traffic capacity.

Concerns about north-south traffic to/from the Richmond are valid, and there are a number of things that can be done to address these concerns and improve north-south access to/from the Richmond. These include, but are not limited to, diverting car-traffic from Chain of Lakes to Crossover Drive and Great Highway, improving/increasing north-south bus service, and optimizing traffic-signal timing on Sunset Boulevard. Solutions to these concerns are feasible and effective — we don't need to give in to demands of a small but vocal mob of car drivers who think the only solution is to use more public space for car traffic throughout our city.

It's important to address concerns about the Great Highway closure, but the answer is not to kill the Great Walkway and put cars back on that public space.

I join Kid Safe SF and countless other organizations and residents in urging you to approve a pilot that extends the Walkway's life beyond the emergency health order.

Thank you, and please take care.

Dear Commissioners, Directors, General Manager Ginsburg, and Director Tumlin,

I am writing to ask you to keep the Great Highway Park open to people and closed to cars, and to continue to invest in street safety & alternative transit throughout San Francisco. The "Great Walkway" is a city-wide asset that is a civic commons and green commute-way for residents, and also a huge draw for visitors from all over the city, bringing customers to D4 merchants and creating community around an equitable, accessible, beautiful and safe space for all to use.

It's 2021 - nearly 100 years since the first roadway was built along the ocean. Things look different now. Let's invest in creative traffic and transit solutions to address the few bottlenecks that exist, rather than reverting to a polluting and dangerous 4 lane highway through a national park. This moment calls for forward looking leadership that can help San Franciscans boldly meet the moment, with creativity and resilience.

Take a leap on a legacy and make the Great Walkway a permanent promenade along Ocean Beach, and a world-class green commuting, recreation, and community space for all.

Thanks so much for listening!

Dear Commissioners, Directors, General Manager Ginsburg, and Director Tumlin,

Please keep upper great Hwy for the people. We live on the Great Hwy near Ulloa and have 2.5 year old twins and a dog who have been able to enjoy the upper great Hwy every day since it's been closed to cars! We have loved how safe it is for our boys and dog to roam around, get exercise and have fun on the beach and the Hwy itself. We have not found the traffic on the lower great Hwy or broadly across other nearby street to be much different than it was before. Part of this is definitely the terrific work that's been done by the city to keep the streets safe with stop signs and speed bumps.

I am writing to ask you to keep the Great Highway Park open to people and closed to cars, and to continue to invest in street safety & alternative transit throughout San Francisco. Dear Commissioners, Directors, General Manager Ginsburg, and Director Tumlin,

We live on Cutler Ave., a one block street between Lower Great Highway and 47th Ave. So my family and I use the Great Highway everyday. I run along the GH early in the morning. I drop my kids off at preschool on Lawton by riding our bike along the GH. I walk my dog along the Great Highway, the sand dunes, and the beach. My kids (ages 4 and 2) ride their bikes and scooters along the GH after school and on the weekends. One of the wonderful things about the Great Highway's closure is the safety that the closure has given us. Once we cross the Lower Great Highway, we are free to roam, walk, run, bike, scoot safely.

Much like anything these days, it's not perfect and there are things that can be improved. But not by re-opening the Great Highway to car traffic.

It's 2021 - nearly 100 years since the first roadway was built along the ocean. Things look different now. Let's invest in creative traffic and transit solutions to address the few bottlenecks that exist, rather than reverting to a polluting and dangerous 4 lane highway through a national park. Making Sunset Blvd and the surrounding main usage streets such as Sloat more ergonomic and better maintained should be the main priority here. Adding stop signs and speed bumps is mostly useless and only exasperates the issue presented by those wishing to open the great highway to cars again. If the use of these streets surrounding were more efficient then people would use them plain and simple. It may cost more but people have always complained about sunset Blvd which is why great highway is the ticket. Sloat is a wreck as well, turning lanes blocked, horrible intersections, and littered with pot holes. The surrounding community needs to be improved upon and repaired for everyone to feel like they won this fight.

Thank you,

Dear Commissioners, Directors, General Manager Ginsburg, and Director Tumlin,

I am writing to ask you to keep the Great Highway Park open to people and closed to cars, and to continue to invest in street safety & alternative transit throughout San Francisco. The "Great Walkway" is a city-wide asset that is a civic commons and green commute-way for residents, and also a huge draw for visitors from all over the city, bringing customers to D4 merchants and creating community around an equitable, accessible, beautiful and safe space for all to use.

It's 2021 - nearly 100 years since the first roadway was built along the ocean. Things look different now. Let's invest in creative traffic and transit solutions to address the few bottlenecks that exist, rather than reverting to a polluting and dangerous 4 lane highway through a national park. This moment calls for forward looking leadership that can help San Franciscans boldly meet the moment, with creativity and resilience.

Take a leap on a legacy and make the Great Walkway a permanent promenade along Ocean Beach, and a world-class green commuting, recreation, and community space for all.

Thanks so much for listening!

Dear Commissioners, Directors, General Manager Ginsburg, and Director Tumlin,

My husband and I bought our forever home on La Playa @ Kirkham in July 2018. We had our daughter on Christmas Day 2019. While I understand the closure of the Great Highway has caused an increase in parking issues - boy do we know that as we actually live on La Playa, the benefits of the closure FAR outweigh the costs. The of the great highway has helped us in more ways than we can count but let me tell you about a few briefly:

- 1) it was my refuge, my escape, my safe space following childbirth. I would go out there with my daughter in the carrier or stroller during the early months to walk her to sleep. It was the only physical exercise I could manage at the time
- 2) I had a major knee surgery and walking along the great highway has been an amazing part of my recovery and return to running
- 3) as my daughter learns how to walk, run, and scoot - the Great Highway is the perfect safe space for her to push her own boundaries and explore her physical limits without the danger of road traffic or getting in the way of sidewalk pedestrians.

I am writing to ask you to keep the Great Highway Park open to people and closed to cars, and to continue to invest in street safety & alternative transit throughout San Francisco. Dear Commissioners, Directors, General Manager Ginsburg, and Director Tumlin,

I am writing to ask you to keep the Great Highway Park open to people and closed to cars, and to continue to invest in street safety & alternative transit throughout San Francisco.

The "Great Walkway" is a city-wide asset that is a civic commons and green commute-way for residents, and also a huge draw for visitors from all over the city, bringing customers to D4 merchants and creating community around an equitable, accessible, beautiful and safe space for all to use.

Before it's closure, we would walk the upper path, (which was not at all maintained) and felt assaulted by the many cars and ridiculous packs of motorcycles who would engulf it with wheelies and choke on the exhaust they spewed as their deafening roar and dangerous driving put everyone at risk.

As a family of cyclists, riding on the Great Highway was terrifying, as cars raced past you as you negotiated the narrow and unprotected shoulder, often covered in sand; posing treacherous risk if your bike tire slid out and you fell into traffic.

During the Pandemic closure, I am certain that my family and I walked the Great Highway more than a hundred times - occasionally TWICE a day, to have the chance to fully enjoy the truly special space that the roadway offers to pedestrians, skaters and cyclists.

My fondest memories of the roadway being car-free is seeing all of the very young children riding their tiny bikes - or parents teaching their kids to ride bikes - on an open safe and FLAT area, which frankly doesn't exist anywhere else in San Francisco. When we taught my child to ride a bike, we had to sneak into school playgrounds or use public tennis courts as they are the only place in the city that offers flat, safe space to learn to ride.

The joy of a child riding along that road, fast and free - and the relief for parents, who can walk along and watch their child doing so, without concern for cars, or other risks a city presents - is truly priceless.

And as taxpayers here in San Francisco, we deserve this open space to use now and for generations to come!

By closing Great Highway to cars - you have given SO MANY the lifetime GIFT of learning how to ride a bike, skateboard, roller skate, who would never have had that opportunity presented without tremendous effort in a congested and hilly city.

I watched neighbors, old and young, walk west on the other closed streets, down to watch the evening sunsets, when that would have NEVER happened before. Picnics on the dunes, kids rolling down the sand embankments with utter abandon into the street where parents cheered them as they scrambled to race to the top to do it all over again. Taking a friend who has lived in San Francisco for 25 years on a walk there and on to the beach to stop and appreciate every sand dollar we encountered... so many special memories that having access to Ocean Beach has given me during a very dark year in life.

It's 2021 - nearly 100 years since the first roadway was built along the ocean. Things look different now. Let's invest in creative traffic and transit solutions to address the few bottlenecks that exist, rather than reverting to a polluting and dangerous 4 lane highway through one of the most expansive and beautiful urban beaches in California.

I grew up in San Diego, where our beaches and coastline are the JEWELS of our city, and are treated and planned as such, bringing residents from all over the county and tourists alike to enjoy the incredible California coastline. Please keep San Francisco's jewel accessible to all - we deserve this!

This moment calls for forward looking leadership that can help San Franciscans boldly meet the moment, with creativity and resilience.

Take a leap on a legacy and make the Great Walkway a permanent promenade along Ocean Beach, and a world-class green commuting, recreation, and community space for all.

Thanks so much for listening. I know you will vote to do the right thing for San Francisco residents, local visitors and tourists from all over the world.

Dear Commissioners, Directors, General Manager Ginsburg, and Director Tumlin,

I am writing to ask you to keep the Great Highway Park open to people and closed to cars, and to continue to invest in street safety & alternative transit throughout San Francisco. The "Great Walkway" is a city-wide asset that is a civic commons and green commute-way for residents, and also a huge draw for visitors from all over the city, bringing customers to D4 merchants and creating community around an equitable, accessible, beautiful and safe space for all to use.

It's 2021 - nearly 100 years since the first roadway was built along the ocean. Things look different now. Let's invest in creative traffic and transit solutions to address the few bottlenecks that exist, rather than reverting to a polluting and dangerous 4 lane highway through a national park. This moment calls for forward looking leadership that can help San Franciscans boldly meet the moment, with creativity and resilience.

Take a leap on a legacy and make the Great Walkway a permanent promenade along Ocean Beach, and a world-class green commuting, recreation, and community space for all.

Thanks so much for listening!

Paige Greenwood

Dear Commissioners, Directors, General Manager Ginsburg, and Director Tumlin,

I am writing to ask you to keep the Great Highway Park open to people and closed to cars, and to continue to invest in street safety & alternative transit throughout San Francisco. The "Great Walkway" is a city-wide asset that is a civic commons and green commute-way for residents, and also a huge draw for visitors from all over the city, bringing customers to D4 merchants and creating community around an equitable, accessible, beautiful and safe space for all to use.

I'm a D1 constituent of Connie Chan's, and every time I visit from the Outer Richmond, I'm delighted by the number and diversity of people walking, scooting, biking, and roller blading. Some are out enjoying family time, or visiting with friends, but it's not just about recreation. Many are clearly commuting and on their way somewhere -- taking advantage of an extremely rare route in San Francisco that is flat, safe, and car-free, to get to a job, a grocery store, a restaurant, a friend's house, etc -- in any mode other than a vehicle. It's even inspired me to get back into cycling. I hadn't been on a bike in over 10 years, partly because it doesn't feel fun or safe for a new cyclist to learn on San Francisco roads. The "Great Walkway" has changed all of that.

I know a small but vocal group of my neighbors complain loudly about traffic on Chain of Lakes getting across the park, but frankly I think they are overreacting. I drive that way too, and while it is slower than it used to be (there was virtually no traffic before), it adds at most a few minutes to my travel time. If it was regularly as bad as they say, I would be using Crossover instead.

It's 2021 - nearly 100 years since the first roadway was built along the ocean. Things look different now. Let's invest in creative traffic and transit solutions to address the few bottlenecks that exist, rather than reverting to a polluting and dangerous 4 lane highway through a national park. This moment calls for forward looking leadership that can help San Franciscans boldly meet the moment, with creativity and resilience.

Take a leap on a legacy and make the Great Walkway a permanent promenade along Ocean Beach, and a world-class green commuting, recreation, and community space for all.

Thanks so much for listening!

Sincerely,
Kristen Dybala

Dear Commissioners, Directors, General Manager Ginsburg, and Director Tumlin,

The pandemic had countless negative impacts, but one of the few silver linings was the creation of the Great Walkway (and other people-first spaces in our city). The Great Walkway has given countless residents a safe place to walk, roll, and connect, and we must save it by approving a pilot to extend the promenade's life while continuing to do studies, outreach, and traffic-calming improvements.

I join Kid Safe SF and countless other organizations and residents in urging you to approve a pilot that extends the Walkway's life beyond the emergency health order.

The SFCTA's survey showed that about 80% of San Franciscans support a promenade in some form, with a majority of San Franciscans supporting a four-lane promenade 24 hours per day, 7 days per week. SFMTA's data shows that at least 6,000 people are using The Great Walkway daily. It's clear that the majority of San Franciscans love The Great Walkway and want it to be kept alive.

Concerns about car traffic in the Sunset are valid, and SFMTA's work with Supervisor Mar has had a positive effect on calming car-traffic and diverting it to the arterials (Sunset Blvd. and 19th Ave.), and traffic-calming efforts should continue to ensure Sunset residents are safe. With that said, data shows that collisions in the Sunset are down more than 30% from before the pandemic — traffic-calming measures are working, and will continue to have positive impacts on the Sunset. Furthermore, Director Maguire has publicly stated that Sunset Boulevard and 19th Avenue can both take more car-traffic capacity.

Concerns about north-south traffic to/from the Richmond are valid, and there are a number of things that can be done to address these concerns and improve north-south access to/from the Richmond. These include, but are not limited to, diverting car-traffic from Chain of Lakes to Crossover Drive and Great Highway, improving/increasing north-south bus service, and optimizing traffic-signal timing on Sunset Boulevard. Solutions to these concerns are feasible and effective — we don't need to give in to demands of a small but vocal mob of car drivers who think the only solution is to use more public space for car traffic throughout our city.

It's important to address concerns about the Great Highway closure, but the answer is not to kill the Great Walkway and put cars back on that public space.

I join Kid Safe SF and countless other organizations and residents in urging you to approve a pilot that extends the Walkway's life beyond the emergency health order.

Thank you, and please take care.

— Marc Maniez.

Dear Commissioners, Directors, General Manager Ginsburg, and Director Tumlin,

I am writing to ask you to keep the Great Highway Park open to people and closed to cars, and to continue to invest in street safety & alternative transit throughout San Francisco. The "Great Walkway" is a city-wide asset that is a civic commons and green commute-way for residents, and also a huge draw for visitors from all over the city, bringing customers to D4 merchants and creating community around an equitable, accessible, beautiful and safe space for all to use.

It's 2021 - nearly 100 years since the first roadway was built along the ocean. Things look different now. Let's invest in creative traffic and transit solutions to address the few bottlenecks that exist, rather than reverting to a polluting and dangerous 4 lane highway through a national park. This moment calls for forward looking leadership that can help San Franciscans boldly meet the moment, with creativity and resilience.

Take a leap on a legacy and make the Great Walkway a permanent promenade along Ocean Beach, and a world-class green commuting, recreation, and community space for all.

Our children and families have suffered enough and SF is already so unfriendly to families - please take a stand to reverse this trend.

Thanks so much for listening!

Subject: Please save the Great Walkway, and approve a pilot to extend the promenade's life...

Dear Commissioners, Directors, General Manager Ginsburg, and Director Tumlin,

The pandemic had countless negative impacts, but one of the few silver linings was the creation of the Great Walkway (and other people-first spaces in our city). The Great Walkway has given countless residents a safe place to walk, roll, and connect, and we must save it by approving a pilot to extend the promenade's life while continuing to do studies, outreach, and traffic-calming improvements.

I join Kid Safe SF and countless other organizations and residents in urging you to approve a pilot that extends the Walkway's life beyond the emergency health order.

The SFCTA's survey showed that about 80% of San Franciscans support a promenade in some form, with a majority of San Franciscans supporting a four-lane promenade 24 hours per day, 7 days per week. SFMTA's data shows that at least 6,000 people are using The Great Walkway daily. It's clear that the majority of San Franciscans love The Great Walkway and want it to be kept alive.

Concerns about car traffic in the Sunset are valid, and SFMTA's work with Supervisor Mar has had a positive effect on calming car-traffic and diverting it to the arterials (Sunset Blvd. and 19th Ave.), and traffic-calming efforts should continue to ensure Sunset residents are safe. With that said, data shows that collisions in the Sunset are down more than 30% from before the pandemic — traffic-calming measures are working, and will continue to have positive impacts on the Sunset. Furthermore, Director Maguire has publicly stated that Sunset Boulevard and 19th Avenue can both take more car-traffic capacity.

Concerns about north-south traffic to/from the Richmond are valid, and there are a number of things that can be done to address these concerns and improve north-south access to/from the Richmond. These include, but are not limited to, diverting car-traffic from Chain of Lakes to Crossover Drive and Great Highway, improving/increasing north-south bus service, and optimizing traffic-signal timing on Sunset Boulevard. Solutions to these concerns are feasible and effective — we don't need to give in to demands of a small but vocal mob of car drivers who think the only solution is to use more public space for car traffic throughout our city.

It's important to address concerns about the Great Highway closure, but the answer is not to kill the Great Walkway and put cars back on that public space.

I join Kid Safe SF and countless other organizations and residents in urging you to approve a pilot that extends the Walkway's life beyond the emergency health order.

Thank you, and please take care.

I am writing to ask you to keep the Great Highway Park open to people and closed to cars, and to continue to invest in street safety & alternative transit throughout San Francisco. The "Great Walkway" is a city-wide asset that is a civic commons and green commute-way for residents, and also a huge draw for visitors from all over the city, bringing customers to D4 merchants and creating community around an equitable, accessible, beautiful and safe space for all to use.

It's a no brained to keep this roadway closed to cars and open to bike and walkers, especially since the drifting sands are a challenge for cars anyway in its current condition. This kind of open space makes our city more livable and inspires fitness and mental Heath.

I use this road for waking and am so sad to be without the car-free Twin Peaks. Please don't steal this back from us as well.

Thanks for your consideration.

Dear Commissioners, Directors, General Manager Ginsburg, and Director Tumlin, I have been a strong advocate for keeping GH car-free for a long time(I've lived in the Sunset for over 30 years). Look to the future and enable our great city to add one more deliriously beautiful arrow in its quiver of majesty...cheers to and from the people, Peter Munks

It's 2021 - nearly 100 years since the first roadway was built along the ocean. Things look different now. Let's invest in creative traffic and transit solutions to address the few bottlenecks that exist, rather than reverting to a polluting and dangerous 4 lane highway through a national park. This moment calls for forward looking leadership that can help San Franciscans boldly meet the moment, with creativity and resilience.

Take a leap on a legacy and make the Great Walkway a permanent promenade along Ocean Beach, and a world-class green commuting, recreation, and community space for all.

Thanks so much for listening!

To the Commissioners, Directors, General Manager Ginsburg, and Director Tumlin;

As a +20 year San Francisco resident and small biz owner, I beg you to please keep the Great Highway Park open to people and closed to cars!

Vision Zero requires a change in how we design San Francisco for street safety. We need to create traffic and transit solutions to address bottlenecks, not reverting to a polluting, dangerous 4 lane highway through a national park. If there are equity concerns, work with communities to ensure that negative impacts are addressed. Don't just do what was there before because old complaints about the Great Highway are less vocal in this moment.

Have you ever heard that when you create more space for cars, you get more cars? When you make great space for pedestrians, bikes, roller skates, scooters and other transportation, you get more of those.

Dear Commissioners, Directors, General Manager Ginsburg, and Director Tumlin,

I am writing to ask you to keep the Great Highway Park open to people and closed to cars, and to continue to invest in street safety & alternative transit throughout San Francisco. I've lived in San Francisco since 1998 and have really enjoyed the highway's recent incarnation as a pedestrian-friendly park. I drive, bike, and walk in the city and really appreciate the few areas that we have that are designated as friendly to pedestrians, especially as we try to reduce the number of traffic accidents by 2024 as part of Vision Zero SF.

Please make the "Great Walkway" a permanent promenade along Ocean Beach!

Dear Commissioners, Directors, General Manager Ginsburg, and Director Tumlin,

The pandemic had countless negative impacts, but one of the few silver linings was the creation of the Great Walkway (and other people-first spaces in our city). The Great Walkway has given countless residents a safe place to walk, roll, and connect, and we must save it by approving a pilot to extend the promenade's life while continuing to do studies, outreach, and traffic-calming improvements.

I join Kid Safe SF and countless other organizations and residents in urging you to approve a pilot that extends the Walkway's life beyond the emergency health order.

The SFCTA's survey showed that about 80% of San Franciscans support a promenade in some form, with a majority of San Franciscans supporting a four-lane promenade 24 hours per day, 7 days per week. SFMTA's data shows that at least 6,000 people are using The Great Walkway daily. It's clear that the majority of San Franciscans love The Great Walkway and want it to be kept alive.

Concerns about car traffic in the Sunset are valid, and SFMTA's work with Supervisor Mar has had a positive effect on calming car-traffic and diverting it to the arterials (Sunset Blvd. and 19th Ave.), and traffic-calming efforts should continue to ensure Sunset residents are safe. With that said, data shows that collisions in the Sunset are down more than 30% from before the pandemic — traffic-calming measures are working, and will continue to have positive impacts on the Sunset. Furthermore, Director Maguire has publicly stated that Sunset Boulevard and 19th Avenue can both take more car-traffic capacity.

Concerns about north-south traffic to/from the Richmond are valid, and there are a number of things that can be done to address these concerns and improve north-south access to/from the Richmond. These include, but are not limited to, diverting car-traffic from Chain of Lakes to Crossover Drive and Great Highway, improving/increasing north-south bus service, and optimizing traffic-signal timing on Sunset Boulevard. Solutions to these concerns are feasible and effective — we don't need to give in to demands of a small but vocal mob of car drivers who think the only solution is to use more public space for car traffic throughout our city.

It's important to address concerns about the Great Highway closure, but the answer is not to kill the Great Walkway and put cars back on that public space.

I join Kid Safe SF and countless other organizations and residents in urging you to approve a pilot that extends the Walkway's life beyond the emergency health order.

Thank you, and please take care.

Dear Commissioners, Directors, General Manager Ginsburg, and Director Tumlin, I am writing to ask you to keep the Great Highway open to people and closed to cars. I live in the outer Richmond. I walk about 4 miles every day and also drive a car. Like other drivers, I experience delays because of the closed Great Highway and slow streets. The delays are minor inconveniences compared to the vast benefits of being able to walk or bike without car noise, fumes, etc. The joy of experiencing people of all ages from all neighborhoods, including many families, is a great bonding experience. The physical and mental health benefits of this open space are profound. Outraged drivers say that there is a walking path next to the Great Highway, as well as a beach. There is no way that these substitute for a wide space that accommodates wheelchairs, scooters, bikes, roller skates, and feet. These outraged drivers seldom acknowledge that there are other streets for driving.

The car-free Great Highway is a city-wide treasure that offers a green commute option for mobile for residents. It is also a huge draw for visitors from all over the city and beyond.

Of course, it's also essential to continue to invest in street safety and improved transit, especially to ensure transport for people with disabilities and limited mobility. Let's also invest in creative traffic and transit solutions to address the few bottlenecks that exist, rather than reverting to a polluting and dangerous four-lane highway through a national park. For example, designating 41st Avenue as a slow street adds to traffic delays on Chain of Lakes Drive.

This moment calls for creative and courageous leadership that can help San Franciscans innovate with creativity and resilience. The future will celebrate the a permanent promenade along Ocean Beach, and a world-class green health, commuting, recreation, and community space for all. Thanks so much for listening!

Dear Commissioners, Directors, General Manager Ginsburg, and Director Tumlin,

I am writing to ask you to keep the Great Highway Park open to people and closed to cars, and to continue to invest in street safety & alternative transit throughout San Francisco.

The "Great Walkway" is a city-wide asset that is a civic commons and green commute-way for residents, and also a huge draw for visitors from all over the city, bringing customers to D4 merchants and creating community around an equitable, accessible, beautiful and safe space for all to use.

It's 2021 - nearly 100 years since the first roadway was built along the ocean. Things look different now.

Let's invest in creative traffic and transit solutions to address the few bottlenecks that exist, rather than reverting to a polluting and dangerous 4 lane highway through a national park. This moment calls for forward looking leadership that can help San Franciscans boldly meet the moment, with creativity and resilience.

Take a leap on a legacy and make the Great Walkway a permanent promenade along Ocean Beach, and a world-class green commuting, recreation, and community space for all.

I have been a resident of San Francisco for 35 years. Thanks so much for listening!

Dear Commissioners, Directors, General Manager Ginsburg, and Director Tumlin,

I support the idea to keep the Great Highway Park pathway open to humans and wildlife and closed to cars. This investment will improve street safety and promote transit in SF. The "Great Walkway" is a vision for the future that needs to be kept for generations. It is for locals and tourists. People can be safe and not worry about collisions with drivers. We need more community spaces in SF.

Golden Gate Park was a vision for a central park. Now it is time for another GGP in SF. The Great Hwy Park is adjacent to GGP. We need safety measures for climate change and the "Great Walkway" is a great example of buffering, when sea levels rise. We cannot promote unsustainable habits with air pollutions and isolating communities. Climate change is here. Gasoline prices are going up. The pandemic has shown us that access to nature and the outdoors are essential.

This is the opportunity to make a change and have a positive impact for generations to come.

Thank you,

Kristal Caidoy

Subject: Please save the Great Walkway, and approve a pilot to extend the promenade's life...

Dear Commissioners, Directors, General Manager Ginsburg, and Director Tumlin,

The pandemic had countless negative impacts, but one of the few silver linings was the creation of the Great Walkway (and other people-first spaces in our city). The Great Walkway has given countless residents a safe place to walk, roll, and connect, and we must save it by approving a pilot to extend the promenade's life while continuing to do studies, outreach, and traffic-calming improvements.

I join Kid Safe SF and countless other organizations and residents in urging you to approve a pilot that extends the Walkway's life beyond the emergency health order.

The SFCTA's survey showed that about 80% of San Franciscans support a promenade in some form, with a majority of San Franciscans supporting a four-lane promenade 24 hours per day, 7 days per week. SFMTA's data shows that at least 6,000 people are using The Great Walkway daily. It's clear that the majority of San Franciscans love The Great Walkway and want it to kept alive.

Concerns about car traffic in the Sunset are valid, and SFMTA's work with Supervisor Mar has had a positive effect on calming car-traffic and diverting it to the arterials (Sunset Blvd. and 19th Ave.), and traffic-calming efforts should continue to ensure Sunset residents are safe. With that said, data shows that collisions in the Sunset are down more than 30% from before the pandemic — traffic-calming measures are working, and will continue to have positive impacts on the Sunset. Furthermore, Director Maguire has publicly stated that Sunset Boulevard and 19th Avenue can both take more car-traffic capacity.

Concerns about north-south traffic to/from the Richmond are valid, and there are a number of things that can be done to address these concerns and improve north-south access to/from the Richmond. These include, but are not limited to, diverting car-traffic from Chain of Lakes to Crossover Drive and Great Highway, improving/increasing north-south bus service, and optimizing traffic-signal timing on Sunset Boulevard. Solutions to these concerns are feasible and effective — we don't need to give in to demands of a small but vocal mob of car drivers who think the only solution is to use more public space for car traffic throughout our city.

It's important to address concerns about the Great Highway closure, but the answer is not to kill the Great Walkway and put cars back on that public space.

I join Kid Safe SF and countless other organizations and residents in urging you to approve a pilot that extends the Walkway's life beyond the emergency health order.

Thank you, and please take care.

Sincerely,
Zach

Dear Commissioners, Directors, General Manager Ginsburg, and Director Tumlin,

Hello, My name is Diane Wallis and I am a resident of SF. I live in the Outer Richmond neighborhood. Since the Great Highway has been opened as a biking and pedestrian path, I use it 3-4 times a week. It seems like a perfect use of this roadway. It would be very sad to see cars using this road again now since so many have started to enjoy walking and biking there.

There are plenty of other roads drivers can use. There are not many places where the public can walk along the ocean.

Please keep the Great Highway open as a green space we can all enjoy.

Thank you !

Diane Wallis

This is going out to numerous public employees in decision making capacities, so-
Dear You,

I'm writing to ask you to make permanent the pedestrian-only conversion of the Great Highway. I use it near-daily, and join hundreds and hundreds of others that I see on those occasions. It's obviously a great success.

I'm also an auto driver, and am in no way inconvenienced by the closure. Sunset Blvd works just fine for the same trip.

The utilization of "Slow Streets" in SF (and elsewhere) has been one of the bright lights in a very dark time. The future of urban life is moving away from fossil fuel vehicles. Great Highway as a wonderful multi-use pedestrian/bicycling is a no brainer; it's in effect now and needs very little to make permanent. Rarely is "the right thing" such a simple thing to do. I urge you to take this opportunity.

Sincerely,
Jonathan Hess

Dear Commissioners, Directors, General Manager Ginsburg, and Director Tumlin,

Please KEEP GREAT HWY OPEN TO PEOPLE AND CLOSED TO CARS.

I live on the lower great HWY. I am a local neighborhood watch captain.

This closure to cars has been a godsend. Similar to when the Earthquake removed the embarcadero.... This past year proves it works!

It's not just the marginal utility of "traffic throughput" vs "quality of life for all Sf residents". (Which is vastly in favor of benefiting all of SF rather than mainly commuters who need to speed through our city.)

It's the positive change in the whole vibe, the whole demeanor of the outer sunset, the world class amenity it has added to our city.

Our country has become a vast strip mall. We provide "free parking" and "free roads".... But it's not free. It represents a direct wealth transfer and subsidy to drivers, big oil, and car manufacturers.

I know as a former planning commissioner myself that it will take courage. Please make the great HWY a great WALKway and keep it closed to cars permanently.

Thank you!

The "Great Walkway" is a city-wide asset that is a civic commons and green commute-way for residents, and also a huge draw for visitors from all over the city, bringing customers to D4 merchants and creating community around an equitable, accessible, beautiful and safe space for all to use.

It's 2021 - nearly 100 years since the first roadway was built along the ocean. Things look different now. Let's invest in creative traffic and transit solutions to address the few bottlenecks that exist, rather than reverting to a polluting and dangerous 4 lane highway through a national park. This moment calls for forward looking leadership that can help San Franciscans boldly meet the moment, with creativity and resilience.

Take a leap on a legacy and make the Great Walkway a permanent promenade along Ocean Beach, and a world-class green commuting, recreation, and community space for all.

Thanks so much for listening!

The Great Highway has been an invaluable resource for me as a mother in the Outer Sunset. It's a place to walk, to clear my head, to take my children for safe playtime and a much safer use of space when we cross to go to the beach.

Dear Commissioners, Directors, General Manager Ginsburg, and Director Tumlin,

The pandemic had countless negative impacts, but one of the few silver linings was the creation of the Great Walkway (and other people-first spaces in our city). The Great Walkway has given countless residents a safe place to walk, roll, and connect, and we must save it by approving a pilot to extend the promenade's life while continuing to do studies, outreach, and traffic-calming improvements.

I join Kid Safe SF and countless other organizations and residents in urging you to approve a pilot that extends the Walkway's life beyond the emergency health order.

The SFCTA's survey showed that about 80% of San Franciscans support a promenade in some form, with a majority of San Franciscans supporting a four-lane promenade 24 hours per day, 7 days per week. SFMTA's data shows that at least 6,000 people are using The Great Walkway daily. It's clear that the majority of San Franciscans love The Great Walkway and want it to kept alive.

Concerns about car traffic in the Sunset are valid, and SFMTA's work with Supervisor Mar has had a positive effect on calming car-traffic and diverting it to the arterials (Sunset Blvd. and 19th Ave.), and traffic-calming efforts should continue to ensure Sunset residents are safe. With that said, data shows that collisions in the Sunset are down more than 30% from before the pandemic — traffic-calming measures are working, and will continue to have positive impacts on the Sunset. Furthermore, Director Maguire has publicly stated that Sunset Boulevard and 19th Avenue can both take more car-traffic capacity.

Concerns about north-south traffic to/from the Richmond are valid, and there are a number of things that can be done to address these concerns and improve north-south access to/from the Richmond. These include, but are not limited to, diverting car-traffic from Chain of Lakes to Crossover Drive and Great Highway, improving/increasing north-south bus service, and optimizing traffic-signal timing on Sunset Boulevard. Solutions to these concerns are feasible and effective — we don't need to give in to demands of a small but vocal mob of car drivers who think the only solution is to use more public space for car traffic throughout our city.

It's important to address concerns about the Great Highway closure, but the answer is not to kill the Great Walkway and put cars back on that public space.

I join Kid Safe SF and countless other organizations and residents in urging you to approve a pilot that extends the Walkway's life beyond the emergency health order.

Thank you, and please take care.

Happy Trails,

Personally, I've enjoyed the Great Highway closure on a weekly basis since its inception during the pandemic/shelter-in-place. Every Monday after working from home I ride my bike from D5 along Slow Page Street through Golden Gate Park on a traffic-free JFK and out along the closed Great Highway to meet friends who live in D4 at Taraval & 44th Ave. for a weekly walk and check-in. After parking my bike at my friend's house, we walk along the closed Great Highway, safely enjoying the car-free thoroughfare.

It's 2021 - nearly 100 years since the first roadway was built along the ocean. Things look different now. Let's invest in creative traffic and transit solutions to address the few bottlenecks that exist, rather than reverting to a polluting and dangerous 4 lane highway through a national park. Let's invest in creative traffic and transit solutions to address the few bottlenecks that exist, rather than reverting to a polluting and dangerous 4 lane highway through a national park. This moment calls for forward looking leadership that can help San Franciscans boldly meet the moment, with creativity and resilience.

Take a leap on a legacy and make the Great Walkway a permanent promenade along Ocean Beach, and a world-class green commuting, recreation, and community space for all.

Thanks so much for listening!

Dear Commissioners, Directors, General Manager Ginsburg, and Director Tumlin,

I am writing to ask you to keep the Great Highway Park open to people and closed to cars, and to continue to invest in street safety & alternative transit throughout San Francisco. The "Great Walkway" is a city-wide asset that is a civic commons and green commute-way for residents, and also a huge draw for visitors from all over the city, bringing customers to D4 merchants and creating community around an equitable, accessible, beautiful and safe space for all to use.

It's 2021 - nearly 100 years since the first roadway was built along the ocean. Things look different now. Let's invest in creative traffic and transit solutions to address the few bottlenecks that exist, rather than reverting to a polluting and dangerous 4 lane highway through a national park. Subject: Please save the Great Walkway, and approve a pilot to extend the promenade's life...

Dear Commissioners, Directors, General Manager Ginsburg, and Director Tumlin,

The pandemic had countless negative impacts, but one of the few silver linings was the creation of the Great Walkway (and other people-first spaces in our city). The Great Walkway has given countless residents a safe place to walk, roll, and connect, and we must save it by approving a pilot to extend the promenade's life while continuing to do studies, outreach, and traffic-calming improvements.

I join Kid Safe SF and countless other organizations and residents in urging you to approve a pilot that extends the Walkway's life beyond the emergency health order.

The SFCTA's survey showed that about 80% of San Franciscans support a promenade in some form, with a majority of San Franciscans supporting a four-lane promenade 24 hours per day, 7 days per week. SFMTA's data shows that at least 6,000 people are using The Great Walkway daily. It's clear that the majority of San Franciscans love The Great Walkway and want it to be kept alive.

Concerns about car traffic in the Sunset are valid, and SFMTA's work with Supervisor Mar has had a positive effect on calming car-traffic and diverting it to the arterials (Sunset Blvd. and 19th Ave.), and traffic-calming efforts should continue to ensure Sunset residents are safe. With that said, data shows that collisions in the Sunset are down more than 30% from before the pandemic — traffic-calming measures are working, and will continue to have positive impacts on the Sunset. Furthermore, Director Maguire has publicly stated that Sunset Boulevard and 19th Avenue can both take more car-traffic capacity.

Concerns about north-south traffic to/from the Richmond are valid, and there are a number of things that can be done to address these concerns and improve north-south access to/from the Richmond. These include, but are not limited to, diverting car-traffic from Chain of Lakes to Crossover Drive and Great Highway, improving/increasing north-south bus service, and optimizing traffic-signal timing on Sunset Boulevard. Solutions to these concerns are feasible and effective — we don't need to give in to demands of a small but vocal mob of car drivers who think the only solution is to use more public space for car traffic throughout our city.

It's important to address concerns about the Great Highway closure, but the answer is not to kill the Great Walkway and put cars back on that public space.

I join Kid Safe SF and countless other organizations and residents in urging you to approve a pilot that extends the Walkway's life beyond the emergency health order.

Thank you, and please take care.

Dear Commissioners, Directors, General Manager Ginsburg, and Director Tumlin,

One of the few good things that came out the pandemic was the opening of several streets to pedestrians and cyclists. Every day cyclists have to use streets shared with cars. And we have to put our trust in that a driver will see us and decide not to hit us. So far I've been hit 7 times in the past year on streets like Market where private cars aren't suppose to be any longer or on streets where drivers decide to use the bike lane as a short cut.

I work at the LGBT National Help Center, the longest running and most comprehensive LGBTQIA+ hotline in the country and since the pandemic I'm the only one who's been holding down the fort in office while everyone else has been able to go remote, so every day I take my life in my hands to continue our vital work. There are only two places in the city where I feel actually safe as a cyclist, JFK when drivers don't skirt the blockades and the Great Highway. I use JFK every day, and If the Great Highway was on my route to work, you bet I would use it every single day. But at the moment I am on it at least 3 or 4 times a week at the end of a rough mental health day and a day where I need to be able to be free of cars.

The Great Highway should be changed to the Great Parkway or Pathway, or what ever you want to call it and keep it free of cars. The argument that the other streets in the Outer Sunset have become unsafe because of drivers speeding only indicates that drivers are the problem here not the route and the city should focusing their efforts on curbing drivers who don't know how to follow traffic rules.

There is already a multiple lane route through the Inner Sunset, Sunset Boulevard, not every single space in the city needs to be for cars.

We're suppose to be trying to curb the use of cars and have a vision zero, so how are we doing that? Please make a lasting change that will benefit the city, it's citizens, tourists and the generations to come and begin the cultural change. If the Great Highway becomes land used for humans not cars it may set an example that we are a city that actually means business when it comes to making positive change.

I am writing to ask you to keep the Great Highway Park open to people and closed to cars, and to continue to invest in street safety & alternative transit throughout San Francisco. The "Great Walkway" is a city-wide asset that is a civic commons and green commute-way for residents, and also a huge draw for visitors from all over the city, bringing customers to D4 merchants and creating community around an equitable, accessible, beautiful and safe space for all to use.

It's 2021 - nearly 100 years since the first roadway was built along the ocean. Things look different now. Let's invest in creative traffic and transit solutions to address the few bottlenecks that exist, rather than reverting to a polluting and dangerous 4 lane highway through a national park. This moment calls for forward looking leadership that can help San Franciscans boldly meet the moment, with creativity and resilience.

Take a leap on a legacy and make the Great Walkway a permanent promenade along Ocean Beach, and a world-class green commuting, recreation, and community space for all.

Thanks!

What an amazing opportunity this is to create a space that can be shared by locals and visitors alike. This could truly transform the Ocean Beach area in such a positive way.

Thanks so much for listening and please keep it closed to cars and open to people! We love strolling there on the weekends and it's truly become one of our favorite spots in the City.

Dear Commissioners, Directors, General Manager Ginsburg, and Director Tumlin,

The pandemic had countless negative impacts, but one of the few silver linings was the creation of the Great Walkway (and other people-first spaces in our city). The Great Walkway has given countless residents a safe place to walk, roll, and connect, and we must save it by approving a pilot to extend the promenade's life while continuing to do studies, outreach, and traffic-calming improvements.

I join Kid Safe SF and countless other organizations and residents in urging you to approve a pilot that extends the Walkway's life beyond the emergency health order.

The SFCTA's survey showed that about 80% of San Franciscans support a promenade in some form, with a majority of San Franciscans supporting a four-lane promenade 24 hours per day, 7 days per week. SFMTA's data shows that at least 6,000 people are using The Great Walkway daily. It's clear that the majority of San Franciscans love The Great Walkway and want it to be kept alive.

Concerns about car traffic in the Sunset are valid, and SFMTA's work with Supervisor Mar has had a positive effect on calming car-traffic and diverting it to the arterials (Sunset Blvd. and 19th Ave.), and traffic-calming efforts should continue to ensure Sunset residents are safe. With that said, data shows that collisions in the Sunset are down more than 30% from before the pandemic — traffic-calming measures are working, and will continue to have positive impacts on the Sunset. Furthermore, Director Maguire has publicly stated that Sunset Boulevard and 19th Avenue can both take more car-traffic capacity.

Concerns about north-south traffic to/from the Richmond are valid, and there are a number of things that can be done to address these concerns and improve north-south access to/from the Richmond. These include, but are not limited to, diverting car-traffic from Chain of Lakes to Crossover Drive and Great Highway, improving/increasing north-south bus service, and optimizing traffic-signal timing on Sunset Boulevard. Solutions to these concerns are feasible and effective — we don't need to give in to demands of a small but vocal mob of car drivers who think the only solution is to use more public space for car traffic throughout our city.

It's important to address concerns about the Great Highway closure, but the answer is not to kill the Great Walkway and put cars back on that public space.

I join Kid Safe SF and countless other organizations and residents in urging you to approve a pilot that extends the Walkway's life beyond the emergency health order.

Thank you, and please take care.

Dear Commissioners, Directors, General Manager Ginsburg, and Director Tumlin,

I am writing to ask you to keep the Great Highway Park open to people and closed to cars, and to continue to invest in street safety & alternative transit throughout San Francisco.

We live in the outer sunset and have enjoyed countless walks with our two daughters on the Great Highway Park since the pandemic. It is such a beautiful space and it would be a travesty if it reverted to a car route.

Not only are we strongly urging you to keep it, but I think there is huge potential to make minor investments (eg bike racks, seating spots, art spaces) that will make it even better.

Thanks so much for listening!

Dear SFMTA Board of Directors, Recreation and Park Commission, Jeffrey Tumlin, Director of Transportation and Christine Silva, Secretary,

The Upper Great Highway should be reopened to again function as the multi-use road it was designed to be before its temporary closure during a rare pandemic that is now under control. Its design included an existing 10' paved pedestrian walkway, a 4'-5' jogging path, several safe crosswalks, bicycle lanes, and 4 lanes for traffic that were safely and actively used before closure and are currently still in use. There is no reason for continued or permanent closure of the highway without a need for social distancing.

10' wide pedestrian walkway

also used by bicyclists and dog walkers.

4'-5' jogging path

bicycle lane on east side of highway

safe painted lighted crosswalks

While it was open and shared with bicyclists and pedestrians, 167,600-19,900 vehicles per 24-hour day (per SFTA) safely out of our parallel, 100% residential, neighborhood streets at the far edge of town where their noise and emissions were unproblematic. Now that the highway is closed, it is completely empty of pedestrians every single night when it's dark. It's also empty during the days when it's raining, or too windy or cold to recreate outside; but the noisy traffic that constantly used it during those times at night and in all types of weather is driving through our residential neighborhood spewing toxic emissions and disturbing the peace. Since its closure in April 2020, our local streets are overwhelmed with this volume of traffic which is right by our front doors and includes big rigs, trucks, dirt bike and motorcycle gangs. Their presence in our streets and at our intersections threatens our safety, and their noise and emissions threaten our health and peace.

Trucks such as these are in our streets and have taken down power lines and telephone lines on the LGH near Ortega, and on 46th Avenue near Santiago since the closure.

Traffic on our local streets is heavy and intense.

There have been major vehicle crashes on our neighborhood streets since the closure, and traffic calming steps taken to date have not prevented them.

This crash on the LGH/Santiago occurred on top of a speed cushion that was installed the day before. (1/14/21)

LGH/Ortega by a speed cushion (1/9/21)

This was taken at the site of a crash between a car and motorcyclist while the motorcyclist was still on the pavement at Lincoln/48th Avenue where highway traffic is diverted. The truck, tired of gridlock, drove over the median out of the eastbound lane into the westbound lane and continued driving east in the westbound lane. It is unconfirmed if the motorcyclist survived.

Emergency responders are delayed getting to the beach due to the highway closure when every extra second could mean life or death.

First the Emergency vehicles drove south to Taraval via the Lower Great Highway. (5/23/21 5:00 pm)

Then they had to drive all the way south to Sloat on the Lower Great Highway, get out of their truck, unlock the gates at Sloat, and drive north on the Upper Great Highway negotiating through bicyclists and any pedestrians that were on the lane with them before they could finally stop and attempt to help. When every second counts that might save a life, this needless delay is inexcusable. In this incident two adults were caught in the riptide, and were rescued.

This is from another rescue where access to the highway was essential.

When traffic was on the highway and pedestrians were limited to crossing it only at the paved crosswalks at intersections, the highway's median had landscaping on it and the dunes were rarely walked on by humans. People tended to go right down to the beach on the sandy pathways at the intersections. Now, with unrestricted access, human foot traffic tramples the dunes, destroying ice plants and sea grasses and threatening the national wildlife sanctuary as the dunes are being used for picnics and trash is discarded in them. On the seawall between Noriega and Rivera, people jump the guardrail and kill the landscaping as they climb down.

Seawall in 2021

Guardrail no longer hidden by thick seagrasses

Picnics on dunes

New paths are being forged across landscaping from foot traffic in between crosswalks

The highway median

Damaged dunes, newly forged paths from trampled grasses and trash tossed in them

As for the claim of reduced emissions due to the car-free Great Highway, most bicycles are being driven here on cars. There are more vehicles on our local streets than ever before, creating dangerous conditions. Here's a photo of a car with bicycles to unload waiting to park on the LGH. Because it's blocking and holding up southbound traffic, the vehicles behind it pass it by driving south in the northbound lane risking a head-on collision.

My husband and I have lived in our home on 48th Avenue since 1985 and never had our vehicles hit while on our block, but since the closure both of our cars were hit: his was sideswiped by a hit & run while parallel parked at the curb, mine was damaged while I was stopped waiting in my driveway for a stream of cars to pass by so I could back into the street when a vehicle that was parallel parked in front of my next door neighbor's house backed into me.

The proposed 2-year pilot program is unnecessary because the Highway has been closed since April 2020, for 14 months, and traffic in the neighborhood has been increasing as the City has been opening up. The Great Highway is an essential artery for traffic, not essential for bicyclists who also use the Lower Great Highway and the other parallel streets in the neighborhood.

There have been no statistics to date proving anything other than the Upper Great Highway was a safe multi-use road between 2017 and its closure. In fact the SFFD was called to only one incident during all those years. There was no public outcry to close it to protect the public like there is now to open it due to our unsafe streets since its closure when approximately 570,000 vehicles per month are in our local streets instead of way at the edge of town on the highway (SFCTA's figures: approximately 19,000/day x 30 days per month = 570,000)

Traffic counters have been strategically placed away from the streets with the heaviest traffic to support the agenda to keep the highway permanently closed. Right now, 46th and 45th Avenues are the first streets where diverted traffic can turn into the neighborhood but the counters are not located there.

The figures being presented by the tests being done by RPD, CTA and MTA are unreliable with a bias to keep the highway permanently closed. An independent agency should be testing and not until the city has fully opened.

This is a photo of the device counting foot traffic and bicyclists using the UGH. The two little "eyes" on the bottom left count anything passing by without distinguishing what or who or if it has gone by multiple times or only once.

Therefore, one bicyclist going back and forth on the highway several times would be counted as several people using the highway rather than one person. A child blowing bubbles, spinning around in front of it multiple times might be counted as 15 or more people going by. They had 2 counters, one at Judah and one at Taraval. If a person walked the highway back and forth passing each device twice, that's 4 people being counted instead of one. When there is an event such as a march or rally for a few hours one afternoon, those hundreds of one-time attendees go into the monthly count to make it seem like more people use it than actually do. There are hundreds of photographs available showing the use of the highway over several months with room for everyone to walk, bicycle and drive on it. I'd be happy to produce them upon request.

To offset the inability of the device to calculate who uses the closed highway, RPD sent its own employees, interns and volunteers to record the usage in person. These people were hand-picked with the biased agenda of RPD to never reopen the highway to traffic. Until recently RPD had a website calling it the great walkway in an attempt to sway public opinion their way.

What was received from Brian Stokle of RPD in response to verifying their process of collecting information was vague and unresponsive and their lack of transparency and willingness to comply with requests for public information should not be tolerated. Here are excerpts from emails I received explaining RPD's process after I questioned SFMTA's statement by Mariana Maguire that this area was used by "people in wheelchairs" and that "each month an average of 140,000 people roll and stroll along the corridor, with a recent high of 11,661 people over the course of a single day."

Thank you for inquiring about proportions of the users of the Upper Great Highway by different uses (pedestrian, biking, disabled, etc.)

I've compiled our data, which is based on site visits made in October and November 2020 in the morning, midday and late afternoon, at two locations along the Upper Great Highway. Based on our data we observed:

Pedestrians: 38%
Jogging and running: 8%
Wheelchair or other disabled: 0.2%
People walking dogs: 3%

When asked 16 more questions some requesting specific numbers, specific times when their people were observing, copies of notes and records or access to where it could be seen, no numbers were reported, no documents produced, only this:

Installed in September 2019, an automatic counter along the UGH records foot and bicycle traffic moving north and south (it does not differentiate between modes of transport) and provides the primary data for daily usage of the UGH. In order to help qualify data collected from the automatic counter, SF Rec and Park coordinated a group of 10 volunteers, interns and RPD staff to observe and record visitors to the Great Highway on the following dates: October 30, November 1, 5, 7, and 15 2020. During shifts of up to one hour at a time, volunteers observed and recorded various users walking, running, pushing a stroller, in a wheelchair or using a mobility aid device like a cane, biking, using a scooter or skateboard, walking a dog, and any vehicles on the Upper Great Highway at the intersections of Great Highway & Judah and Great Highway & Taraval streets. In addition to the discrete qualitative data collected on these dates, SF Rec and Park is working on additional studies of the area, which are not yet complete.

Apparently, they have much to hide. Since the Highway's closure has put us in harm's way as outlined above, and residents have been forced to be part of a 14-month study of what dangers exist when living in the middle of 570,000 extra vehicles per month in front of our front doors and endangering us from safely coming and going to our jobs, hospitals and families, the Upper Great Highway should not be closed during a two-year pilot program. To do so would be to ignore the public outcry of the majority of impacted residents and voters and the wishes of the over 8,100 people who have signed the petition to reopen the Great Highway. It was a road used 24/7, not just in daylight on good weather days. It was closed temporarily, not permanently, and needs to again become the space that was comfortably shared by vehicles, pedestrians and bicyclists.

Dear Commissioners, Directors, General Manager Ginsburg, and Director Tumlin,

I am writing to ask you to keep the Great Highway Park open to people and closed to cars, and to continue to invest in street safety & alternative transit throughout San Francisco. The "Great Walkway" is a city-wide asset that is a civic commons and green commute-way for residents, and also a huge draw for visitors from all over the city, bringing customers to D4 merchants and creating community around an equitable, accessible, beautiful and safe space for all to use.

It's been a place of great joy for me and a source of real mental (and physical) health - I've rediscovered my love of rollerblading! Something I hadn't done since college. But the Great Highway is big, smooth, and with plenty of space for me to remember how to skate without worrying about falling off a sidewalk into traffic or running into pedestrians. I love it!

It's 2021 - nearly 100 years since the first roadway was built along the ocean. Things look different now. Let's invest in creative traffic and transit solutions to address the few bottlenecks that exist, rather than reverting to a polluting and dangerous 4 lane highway through a national park. This moment calls for forward looking leadership that can help San Franciscans boldly meet the moment, with creativity and resilience.

Take a leap on a legacy and make the Great Walkway a permanent promenade along Ocean Beach, and a world-class green commuting, recreation, and community space for all.

Thanks so much for listening!

Dear Commissioners, Directors, General Manager Ginsburg, and Director Tumlin,

The pandemic had countless negative impacts, but one of the few silver linings was the creation of the Great Walkway (and other people-first spaces in our city). The Great Walkway has given countless residents a safe place to walk, roll, and connect, and we must save it by approving a pilot to extend the promenade's life while continuing to do studies, outreach, and traffic-calming improvements.

I join Kid Safe SF and countless other organizations and residents in urging you to approve a pilot that extends the Walkway's life beyond the emergency health order.

The SFCTA's survey showed that about 80% of San Franciscans support a promenade in some form, with a majority of San Franciscans supporting a four-lane promenade 24 hours per day, 7 days per week. SFMTA's data shows that at least 6,000 people are using The Great Walkway daily. It's clear that the majority of San Franciscans love The Great Walkway and want it to be kept alive.

Concerns about car traffic in the Sunset are valid, and SFMTA's work with Supervisor Mar has had a positive effect on calming car-traffic and diverting it to the arterials (Sunset Blvd. and 19th Ave.), and traffic-calming efforts should continue to ensure Sunset residents are safe. With that said, data shows that collisions in the Sunset are down more than 30% from before the pandemic — traffic-calming measures are working, and will continue to have positive impacts on the Sunset. Furthermore, Director Maguire has publicly stated that Sunset Boulevard and 19th Avenue can both take more car-traffic capacity.

Concerns about north-south traffic to/from the Richmond are valid, and there are a number of things that can be done to address these concerns and improve north-south access to/from the Richmond. These include, but are not limited to, diverting car-traffic from Chain of Lakes to Crossover Drive and Great Highway, improving/increasing north-south bus service, and optimizing traffic-signal timing on Sunset Boulevard. Solutions to these concerns are feasible and effective — we don't need to give in to demands of a small but vocal mob of car drivers who think the only solution is to use more public space for car traffic throughout our city.

It's important to address concerns about the Great Highway closure, but the answer is not to kill the Great Walkway and put cars back on that public space.

I join Kid Safe SF and countless other organizations and residents in urging you to approve a pilot that extends the Walkway's life beyond the emergency health order.

Thank you, and please take care.

I have ridden my bike up and down the Great Walkway, and made a trip to SF just to do that. I always loved driving that way through the city, but it's a thousand times better by bike or foot. Even on a weekday there were a lot of people using it - young, old, strollers, cyclists, walkers, scooters, you name it. The smiles on everyone's faces told the story.

Please keep the Great Highway as the Great Walkway, every day. It's such an important feature of the city now.

Dear Commissioners, Directors, General Manager Ginsburg, and Director Tumlin,

The pandemic had countless negative impacts, but one of the few silver linings was the creation of the Great Walkway (and other people-first spaces in our city). The Great Walkway has given countless residents a safe place to walk, roll, and connect, and we must save it by approving a pilot to extend the promenade's life while continuing to do studies, outreach, and traffic-calming improvements.

I join Kid Safe SF and countless other organizations and residents in urging you to approve a pilot that extends the Walkway's life beyond the emergency health order.

The SFCTA's survey showed that about 80% of San Franciscans support a promenade in some form, with a majority of San Franciscans supporting a four-lane promenade 24 hours per day, 7 days per week. SFMTA's data shows that at least 6,000 people are using The Great Walkway daily. It's clear that the majority of San Franciscans love The Great Walkway and want it to be kept alive.

Concerns about car traffic in the Sunset are valid, and SFMTA's work with Supervisor Mar has had a positive effect on calming car-traffic and diverting it to the arterials (Sunset Blvd. and 19th Ave.), and traffic-calming efforts should continue to ensure Sunset residents are safe. With that said, data shows that collisions in the Sunset are down more than 30% from before the pandemic — traffic-calming measures are working, and will continue to have positive impacts on the Sunset. Furthermore, Director Maguire has publicly stated that Sunset Boulevard and 19th Avenue can both take more car-traffic capacity.

Concerns about north-south traffic to/from the Richmond are valid, and there are a number of things that can be done to address these concerns and improve north-south access to/from the Richmond. These include, but are not limited to, diverting car-traffic from Chain of Lakes to Crossover Drive and Great Highway, improving/increasing north-south bus service, and optimizing traffic-signal timing on Sunset Boulevard. Solutions to these concerns are feasible and effective — we don't need to give in to demands of a small but vocal mob of car drivers who think the only solution is to use more public space for car traffic throughout our city.

It's important to address concerns about the Great Highway closure, but the answer is not to kill the Great Walkway and put cars back on that public space.

I join Kid Safe SF and countless other organizations and residents in urging you to approve a pilot that extends the Walkway's life beyond the emergency health order.

Thank you, and please take care.

Dear Commissioners, Directors, General Manager Ginsburg, and Director Tumlin,

I am writing to ask you to keep the Great Highway Park open to people and closed to cars, and to continue to invest in street safety & alternative transit throughout San Francisco. The "Great Walkway" is a city-wide asset that is a civic commons and green commute-way for residents, and also a huge draw for visitors from all over the city, bringing customers to D4 merchants and creating community around an equitable, accessible, beautiful and safe space for all to use.

It's 2021 - nearly 100 years since the first roadway was built along the ocean. Things look different now. Let's invest in creative traffic and transit solutions to address the few bottlenecks that exist, rather than reverting to a polluting and dangerous 4 lane highway through a national park. This moment calls for forward looking leadership that can help San Franciscans boldly meet the moment, with creativity and resilience.

Take a leap on a legacy and make the Great Walkway a permanent promenade along Ocean Beach, and a world-class green commuting, recreation, and community space for all.

Thanks so much for listening!

Dear Commissioners, Directors, General Manager Ginsburg, and Director Tumlin,

The pandemic had countless negative impacts, but one of the few silver linings was the creation of the Great Walkway (and other people-first spaces in our city). The Great Walkway has given countless residents a safe place to walk, roll, and connect, and we must save it by approving a pilot to extend the promenade's life while continuing to do studies, outreach, and traffic-calming improvements.

I join Kid Safe SF and countless other organizations and residents in urging you to approve a pilot that extends the Walkway's life beyond the emergency health order.

The SFCTA's survey showed that about 80% of San Franciscans support a promenade in some form, with a majority of San Franciscans supporting a four-lane promenade 24 hours per day, 7 days per week. SFMTA's data shows that at least 6,000 people are using The Great Walkway daily. It's clear that the majority of San Franciscans love The Great Walkway and want it to kept alive.

Concerns about car traffic in the Sunset are valid, and SFMTA's work with Supervisor Mar has had a positive effect on calming car-traffic an diverting it to the arterials (Sunset Blvd. and 19th Ave.), and traffic-calming efforts should continue to ensure Sunset residents are safe. With that said, data shows that collisions in the Sunset are down more than 30% from before the pandemic — traffic-calming measures are working, and will continue to have positive impacts on the Sunset. Furthermore, Director Maguire has publicly stated that Sunset Boulevard and 19th Avenue can both take more car-traffic capacity.

Concerns about north-south traffic to/from the Richmond are valid, and there are a number of things that can be done to address these concerns and improve north-south access to/from the Richmond. These include, but are not limited to, diverting car-traffic from Chain of Lakes to Crossover Drive and Great Highway, improving/increasing north-south bus service, and optimizing traffic-signal timing on Sunset Boulevard. Solutions to these concerns are feasible and effective — we don't need to give in to demands of a small but vocal mob of car drivers who think the only solution is to use more public space for car traffic throughout our city.

It's important to address concerns about the Great Highway closure, but the answer is not to kill the Great Walkway and put cars back on that public space.

I join Kid Safe SF and countless other organizations and residents in urging you to approve a pilot that extends the Walkway's life beyond the emergency health order.

Thank you, and please take care.

Dear Commissioners, Directors, General Manager Ginsburg, and Director Tumlin,

I am writing to ask you to keep the Great Highway open to people and closed to cars, and to continue to invest in street safety and alternative transit throughout San Francisco.

I live on 44th Avenue and Quintara Street and use the Great Highway multiple times per week as my primary jogging route, space for fresh air after work days and for gathering with friends on weekends.

I have noticed a slight increase in traffic around my house due to the road closure to cars, however I believe the benefits of the newly-created park make it worth it. I do believe the safety concerns should be addressed with regards to traffic, however it is unreasonable to live by Ocean Beach and not expect high volumes of visitors to the attraction, just like at any other landmark in the city.

Let's invest in creative traffic solutions to address the few bottlenecks that exist, such as (1) making Sunset Boulevard more efficient for cars and (2) improving the public transit to and from the neighborhood (especially going downtown: it would be great for the 48 Quintara and L Taraval to be a continuous route), rather than reverting to a polluting and dangerous 4 lane highway through a national park.

Thank you!
Caterina Belardetti

Dear Mayor Breed, General Manager Ginsburg, Director Tumlin, Recreation and Park Commissioners, and Board of Supervisors,

I love the new, Kid Safe Great Walkway, and want it to stay!

San Francisco needs safe, inclusive, joyous public spaces for everyone, now more than ever. Parks with protected public spaces are where residents and visitors of San Francisco can be active, enjoy nature, and spend time with friends and family. Thanks to you, people of all ages, abilities, and backgrounds have been flocking to Kid Safe Great Walkway to enjoy the most vital protected public space in the heart of San Francisco, including myself, my husband, and our 4 year old daughter.

If it's safe for kids, it's safe for everyone.

But I have become aware that this safe space for kids along Ocean Beach will be turned back into a dangerous highway if nothing is done. I remember riding along that stretch of the Great Highway before the closure, and being forced to either endanger pedestrians and myself by riding on the narrow elevated walkway, or take my chances on the shoulder next to speeding cars. It was awful, and it would be even more awful for it to go back to that.

We're aware of the concerns from a small group of Sunset residents about car traffic and reckless driving on their streets, and we empathize with our fellow San Franciscans — we feel strongly that car-commute traffic and reckless driving has no place on Kid Safe streets. Supervisor Mar has worked effectively with SFMTA to address concerns about traffic on Lower Great Highway and the outer avenues, and we encourage more traffic calming to address the remaining concerns of Sunset residents.

Currently, the Great Walkway is set to expire soon, and that would be a travesty to the thousands of residents who love this space and use it daily.

Our ask is simple: Approve an extension of the Great Walkway while further studies, outreach, and improvements are implemented. The people need you to step up and take action to save this space before it is taken away due to a lack of action and leadership.

I'm writing today to urge you to support saving Kid Safe Great Walkway and approve an extension of the space while ongoing study, outreach, and traffic calming improvements are completed.

The kids of San Francisco love Kid Safe Great Walkway, and I do too!

Can we count on you, and are you willing to publicly support saving Kid Safe Great Walkway?

Dear Commissioners, Directors, General Manager Ginsburg, and Director Tumlin,

My family and I love having more outdoor places to safely walk, ride, play, and enjoy our beautiful city. It's been so lovely to have big wide places where my little kids can bike, I can jog, and we can run into our neighbors. Please keep the Great Walkway accessible to us!

Dear Commissioners, Directors, General Manager Ginsburg, and Director Tumlin,

Since the “Great Highway” along Ocean Beach became the “Great Walkway”, I have used it multiple times per week as a get-away from the home-office. As a Mission resident, I ride my bike along the “wiggles” and through Golden Gate Park to this awesome extension of our shared outdoor space.

I am writing to ask you to keep the Great Highway Park open to people and closed to cars, and to continue to invest in street safety & alternative transit throughout San Francisco. The "Great Walkway" is a city-wide asset that is a civic commons and green commute-way for residents, and also a huge draw for visitors from all over the city, bringing customers to D4 merchants and creating community around an equitable, accessible, beautiful and safe space for all to use.

It's 2021 - nearly 100 years since the first roadway was built along the ocean. Things look different now. Let's invest in creative traffic and transit solutions to address the few bottlenecks that exist, rather than reverting to a polluting and dangerous 4 lane highway through a national park. This moment calls for forward looking leadership that can help San Franciscans boldly meet the moment, with creativity and resilience.

Take a leap on a legacy and make the Great Walkway a permanent promenade along Ocean Beach, and a world-class green commuting, recreation, and community space for all.

Thanks so much for listening!

Dear Commissioners, Directors, General Manager Ginsburg, and Director Tumlin,

I am writing to please keep the Great Highway Park open to people and closed to cars! The pandemic has shown that there is no need for a four lane highway along the beach and that the space can be better repurposed for people to safely enjoy. I visit the Great Highway Park at least twice a week from my home in Soma, and it has been a pleasure to visit, try out local businesses in the Sunset, enjoy, and feel safe from cars on a stretch of asphalt. It also closes a major bikeway gap in San Francisco, allowing me to get from GGP to Sloat safely and efficiently.

Reopening this to cars is the definition of induced demand--there will always be demand for more roads and in order to build a safe city for all, we have to resist the temptation to always add new roadways. Let's invest in creative traffic and transit solutions to address the few bottlenecks that exist, rather than reverting to a polluting and dangerous 4 lane highway through a national park. This moment calls for forward looking leadership that can help San Franciscans boldly meet the moment, with creativity and resilience.

It's clear what kind of civic enjoyment closing a four-lane road can do--I hope it stays that way permanently!

Thanks so much for listening!

Even in its current iteration it connects the western end of the city to a national shore system (ocean beach and fort function) and city parks (lake merced and golden gate). One could safely ride bicycles from one end of the city to the other. Dear Mayor Breed,

I urge you to withdraw the City's litigation against the State Water Resources Control Board and direct SFPUC to start investing aggressively in water recycling today.

I am writing to you in the early days of yet another punishing drought. While San Franciscans are doing their part to save water at the household level, SFPUC is mismanaging San Francisco's main water source, the Tuolumne River, and it isn't doing nearly enough to prepare for drought this year—or in the decades to come.

Other cities have learned the lessons of California's unpredictable climate and are quickly adopting water recycling to reduce their burden on rivers, while increasing the reliability of their supply. Orange County gets more than 75 percent of its water through its water reuse program. Las Vegas recycles nearly all of its water used indoors. And Los Angeles is on the path to reusing 100 percent of its wastewater by 2035.

But, as SFPUC's draft Urban Water Management Plan recently revealed, San Francisco currently has no plans to make recycled water widely available in the next 25 years. Instead, the city is pursuing multiple expensive and misguided lawsuits so that it can continue to rely, almost exclusively, on the Tuolumne River—one of the state's most overtapped rivers—for the next several decades. San Francisco and large agribusiness water districts divert four out of every five gallons of water that flow in the Tuolumne River during a typical year.

This overuse has caused the river's once mighty Chinook Salmon populations to crash. Meanwhile, low river flows from the Tuolumne contribute to deteriorating water quality—including toxic algae blooms—downstream, in the Delta and San Francisco Bay.

It's unacceptable for the city with the nation's greenest reputation to shirk its responsibilities to preserve California's precious and unpredictable water supply. We support increasing river flows to uphold San Francisco Bay's fisheries, water quality, and recreation. San Franciscans want the city to do its part to protect the Bay and its rivers—water recycling is a common-sense way to limit the city's water use, increase the reliability of its supply, and protect the Bay from harmful wastewater treatment plant effluent.

Thank you,

Bill McLaughlin

Dear Mayor Breed,

I urge you to withdraw the City's litigation against the State Water Resources Control Board and direct SFPUC to start investing aggressively in water recycling today.

I am writing to you in the early days of yet another punishing drought. While San Franciscans are doing their part to save water at the household level, SFPUC is mismanaging San Francisco's main water source, the Tuolumne River, and it isn't doing nearly enough to prepare for drought this year—or in the decades to come.

Other cities have learned the lessons of California's unpredictable climate and are quickly adopting water recycling to reduce their burden on rivers, while increasing the reliability of their supply. Orange County gets more than 75 percent of its water through its water reuse program. Las Vegas recycles nearly all of its water used indoors. And Los Angeles is on the path to reusing 100 percent of its wastewater by 2035.

But, as SFPUC's draft Urban Water Management Plan recently revealed, San Francisco currently has no plans to make recycled water widely available in the next 25 years. Instead, the city is pursuing multiple expensive and misguided lawsuits so that it can continue to rely, almost exclusively, on the Tuolumne River—one of the state's most overtapped rivers—for the next several decades. San Francisco and large agribusiness water districts divert four out of every five gallons of water that flow in the Tuolumne River during a typical year.

This overuse has caused the river's once mighty Chinook Salmon populations to crash. Meanwhile, low river flows from the Tuolumne contribute to deteriorating water quality—including toxic algae blooms—downstream, in the Delta and San Francisco Bay.

It's unacceptable for the city with the nation's greenest reputation to shirk its responsibilities to preserve California's precious and unpredictable water supply. We support increasing river flows to uphold San Francisco Bay's fisheries, water quality, and recreation. San Franciscans want the city to do its part to protect the Bay and its rivers—water recycling is a common-sense way to limit the city's water use, increase the reliability of its supply, and protect the Bay from harmful wastewater treatment plant effluent.

Thank you,

Bill McLaughlin

San Francisco, CA

Dear Commissioners, Directors, General Manager Ginsburg, and Director Tumlin,

I'm going to keep the rest of this email template, but I want to add a personal note. Having the Great Highway available for biking and walking has been such a godsend. I moved to SF from DC, where I biked 6 miles each way to work on a greenway. It was incredible for my health. I'm not a confident urban rider and I've had a hard time finding a safe place to ride safely without cars on a flat road for multiple miles in SF, and the Great Highway is exactly this. I've felt safe and physically energized on Great Highway Park in a way I hadn't before in SF. I even felt safe there alone at sunset and after dark. It's so special. The closure of Great Highway to cars has also meant that I can ride along the beach, while I can't when the coast is just sand dunes.

I occasionally work on the ocean exploration ship EV Nautilus. The ocean is literally life. It is the source of most of our oxygen and breathes comfort and life into people who get to interact with it. It's wild to me that SF has this unbelievable gem of a natural resource, the great Pacific Ocean, and that the coast is most valued by some people as a thoroughfare. The cost of not having the coast available is too great to justify a more convenient commute. I cannot fathom another great global city feeding its treasure to cars; in fact, most great cities are pushing cars out in favor of green space.

Oh, another personal story: I am a very attentive driver. I was once driving through a green light and came within actual inches of hitting a pedestrian, who was running across despite his red light. People are always running across the Highway to get to the beach, holding hands with toddlers and carrying surfboards. Clearly this stretch is incredibly important for recreation and is dangerous to have as a Highway.

I am so so thrilled that keeping the Great Highway as a park is on the table. Thank you for considering it. In a time when people are grasping to identify the good that has come out of this past year, this park is a clear pandemic win for our community.

Thanks so much,
Savanna

Now for the template:

I am writing to ask you to keep the Great Highway Park open to people and closed to cars, and to continue to invest in street safety & alternative transit throughout San Francisco. The "Great Walkway" is a city-wide asset that is a civic commons and green commute-way for residents, and also a huge draw for visitors from all over the city, bringing customers to D4 merchants and creating community around an equitable, accessible, beautiful and safe space for all to use.

It's 2021 - nearly 100 years since the first roadway was built along the ocean. Things look different now. Let's invest in creative traffic and transit solutions to address the few bottlenecks that exist, rather than reverting to a polluting and dangerous 4 lane highway through a national park. This moment calls for forward looking leadership that can help San Franciscans boldly meet the moment, with creativity and resilience.

Take a leap on a legacy and make the Great Walkway a permanent promenade along Ocean Beach, and a world-class green commuting, recreation, and community space for all.

Thanks so much for listening!

Dear Commissioners, Directors, and General Manager Ginsburg,

I and my family have enjoyed the mental freedom that walking along a carfree Great Highway has provided, especially during the pandemic. Now, my family has really come to value being able to walk, run, or bike stress-free, not worrying about speeding cars, along one of the most beautiful parts of San Francisco.

I am writing to ask you to keep the Great Highway Park open to people and closed to cars, and to continue to invest in street safety & alternative transit throughout San Francisco. Dear Commissioners, Directors, General Manager Ginsburg, and Director Tumlin,

My name is Johnny, my family and I are city residents. My children are too young to write to you today and so I am writing on behalf of all of us.

The pandemic had countless negative impacts, but one of the few silver linings was the creation of the Great Walkway (and other people-first spaces in our city). The Great Walkway has given countless residents a safe place to walk, roll, and connect, and we must save it by approving a pilot to extend the promenade's life while continuing to do studies, outreach, and traffic-calming improvements.

I join Kid Safe SF and countless other organizations and residents in urging you to approve a pilot that extends the Walkway's life beyond the emergency health order.

The SFCTA's survey showed that about 80% of San Franciscans support a promenade in some form, with a majority of San Franciscans supporting a four-lane promenade 24 hours per day, 7 days per week. SFMTA's data shows that at least 6,000 people are using The Great Walkway daily. It's clear that the majority of San Franciscans love The Great Walkway and want it to be kept alive.

Concerns about car traffic in the Sunset are valid, and SFMTA's work with Supervisor Mar has had a positive effect on calming car-traffic and diverting it to the arterials (Sunset Blvd. and 19th Ave.), and traffic-calming efforts should continue to ensure Sunset residents are safe. With that said, data shows that collisions in the Sunset are down more than 30% from before the pandemic — traffic-calming measures are working, and will continue to have positive impacts on the Sunset. Furthermore, Director Maguire has publicly stated that Sunset Boulevard and 19th Avenue can both take more car-traffic capacity.

Concerns about north-south traffic to/from the Richmond are valid, and there are a number of things that can be done to address these concerns and improve north-south access to/from the Richmond. These include, but are not limited to, diverting car-traffic from Chain of Lakes to Crossover Drive and Great Highway, improving/increasing north-south bus service, and optimizing traffic-signal timing on Sunset Boulevard. Solutions to these concerns are feasible and effective — we don't need to give in to demands of a small but vocal mob of car drivers who think the only solution is to use more public space for car traffic throughout our city.

It's important to address concerns about the Great Highway closure, but the answer is not to kill the Great Walkway and put cars back on that public space.

I join Kid Safe SF and countless other organizations and residents in urging you to approve a pilot that extends the Walkway's life beyond the emergency health order.

Sincerely,

Johnny Maas

Dear Commissioners, Directors, General Manager Ginsburg, and Director Tumlin,

I profoundly love the Great Walkway and use it every day.

My mother lives near the Murphy windmill and I live near the zoo. Even so, the Great Highway is not the best route between our homes, and I commute back and forth usually several times a day.

I've used that highway many times in the past but always for joyriding.

It also looks like more people are using the promenade along with the beach. Would love to see permits for food trucks on the Great Walkway.

It is 1000 times more valuable as a carless promenade than as a useless highway.

Thank you!

Subject: Please save the Great Walkway, and approve a pilot to extend the promenade's life...

Dear Commissioners, Directors, General Manager Ginsburg, and Director Tumlin,

The pandemic had countless negative impacts, but one of the few silver linings was the creation of the Great Walkway (and other people-first spaces in our city). The Great Walkway has given countless residents a safe place to walk, roll, and connect, and we must save it by approving a pilot to extend the promenade's life while continuing to do studies, outreach, and traffic-calming improvements.

I join Kid Safe SF and countless other organizations and residents in urging you to approve a pilot that extends the Walkway's life beyond the emergency health order.

The SFCTA's survey showed that about 80% of San Franciscans support a promenade in some form, with a majority of San Franciscans supporting a four-lane promenade 24 hours per day, 7 days per week. SFMTA's data shows that at least 6,000 people are using The Great Walkway daily. It's clear that the majority of San Franciscans love The Great Walkway and want it to be kept alive.

Concerns about car traffic in the Sunset are valid, and SFMTA's work with Supervisor Mar has had a positive effect on calming car-traffic and diverting it to the arterials (Sunset Blvd. and 19th Ave.), and traffic-calming efforts should continue to ensure Sunset residents are safe. With that said, data shows that collisions in the Sunset are down more than 30% from before the pandemic — traffic-calming measures are working, and will continue to have positive impacts on the Sunset. Furthermore, Director Maguire has publicly stated that Sunset Boulevard and 19th Avenue can both take more car-traffic capacity.

Concerns about north-south traffic to/from the Richmond are valid, and there are a number of things that can be done to address these concerns and improve north-south access to/from the Richmond. These include, but are not limited to, diverting car-traffic from Chain of Lakes to Crossover Drive and Great Highway, improving/increasing north-south bus service, and optimizing traffic-signal timing on Sunset Boulevard. Solutions to these concerns are feasible and effective — we don't need to give in to demands of a small but vocal mob of car drivers who think the only solution is to use more public space for car traffic throughout our city.

It's important to address concerns about the Great Highway closure, but the answer is not to kill the Great Walkway and put cars back on that public space.

I join Kid Safe SF and countless other organizations and residents in urging you to approve a pilot that extends the Walkway's life beyond the emergency health order.

Thank you, and please take care.

Dear Commissioners, Directors, General Manager Ginsburg, and Director Tumlin,

I am writing to ask you to keep the Great Highway Park open to people and closed to cars and to continue to invest in street safety & alternative transit throughout San Francisco. The "Great Walkway" is a city-wide asset that is a civic commons and green commute-way for residents, and also a huge draw for visitors from all over the city, bringing customers to D4 merchants and creating a community around an equitable, accessible, beautiful, and safe space for all to use.

I am using the Great Highway nearly every day. I couldn't imagine myself not being able to run or bike on it anymore. Great Highway is my best friend and my therapist. From my personal experience accessibility of a highway to pedestrians attracts more people to the neighborhoods around it, which helps local businesses to thrive and we love local businesses, don't we? Let's keep the highway open to people!

It's 2021 - nearly 100 years since the first roadway was built along the ocean. Things look different now. Let's invest in creative traffic and transit solutions to address the few bottlenecks that exist, rather than reverting to a polluting and dangerous 4 lane highway through a national park. This moment calls for forward-looking leadership that can help San Franciscans boldly meet the moment, with creativity and resilience.

Take a leap on a legacy and make the Great Walkway a permanent promenade along Ocean Beach, and world-class green commuting, recreation, and community space for all.

Thanks so much for listening!

Best,
Masha

I am writing to ask you to keep the Great Highway Park open to people and closed to cars, and to continue to invest in street safety & alternative transit throughout San Francisco. The "Great Walkway" is a city-wide asset that is a civic commons and green commute-way for residents, and also a huge draw for visitors from all over the city, bringing customers to D4 merchants and creating a community around an equitable, accessible, beautiful and safe space for all to use.

It's 2021 - nearly 100 years since the first roadway was built along the ocean. Things look different now. Let's invest in creative traffic and transit solutions to address the few bottlenecks that exist, rather than reverting to a polluting and dangerous 4 lane highway through a national park. This moment calls for forward looking leadership that can help San Franciscans boldly meet the moment, with creativity and resilience.

Take a leap on a legacy and make the Great Walkway a permanent promenade along Ocean Beach, and a world-class green commuting, recreation, and community space for all.

Please help us make this a city that strives for putting people's health, well being, community, and access to our unique and world renowned beachfront before cars.

Thanks so much for listening!

** As a resident of the Outer Sunset, I use the Great Highway every day on my commute to and from work, via bicycle, as well as for general exercise and just being outside in the fresh air. As someone who also owns a car, I recognize that people do need their car daily to get to and from work/school/the store. However, I have not seen any uptick in local traffic, long traffic jams in the Avenues, or any disruption to the way cars move about the neighborhood. Sure, I see cars that wait in a 5-7 minute "traffic jam" along Chain of Lakes Dr at 5pm (I've been stuck in that "jam" too, it's not bad at all!), but the overall benefit of keeping Great Highway car-free is greater than 5 minutes of someone's commute. The people that are out enjoying the car-free strip far outweigh those that only drive on it down for a few minutes to get to work and back.

Thanks so much for listening!

Personally, I've enjoyed the Great Highway closure on a weekly basis since its inception during the pandemic/shelter-in-place. Every Monday after working from home I ride my bike from D5 along Slow Page Street through Golden Gate Park on a traffic-free JFK and out along the closed Great Highway to meet friends who live in D4 at Taraval & 44th Ave. for a weekly walk and check-in. After parking my bike at my friend's house, we walk along the closed Great Highway, safely enjoying the car-free thoroughfare.

It's 2021 - nearly 100 years since the first roadway was built along the ocean. Things look different now. I use the Great Walkway almost every day on my bicycle for work. It's so lovely, safe, and quick to access for cyclists, pedestrians, and everyone without cars. Please consider keeping this beautiful natural area with less pollution and access barriers such as vehicles.

Thank you!

Dear Commissioners, Directors, General Manager Ginsburg, and Director Tumlin,

I am writing to ask you to keep the Great Highway Park open to people and closed to cars, and to continue to invest in street safety & alternative transit throughout San Francisco. The "Great Walkway" is a city-wide asset that is a civic commons and green commute-way for residents, and also a huge draw for visitors from all over the city, bringing customers to D4 merchants and creating community around an equitable, accessible, beautiful and safe space for all to use.

It's 2021 - nearly 100 years since the first roadway was built along the ocean. Things look different now. Let's invest in creative traffic and transit solutions to address the few bottlenecks that exist, rather than reverting to a polluting and dangerous 4 lane highway through a national park. This moment calls for forward looking leadership that can help San Franciscans boldly meet the moment, with creativity and resilience.

Take a leap on a legacy and make the Great Walkway a permanent promenade along Ocean Beach, and a world-class green commuting, recreation, and community space for all.

Thanks so much for listening!

I use the Great Walkway every day to walk safely to the beach or to run or bike with plenty of space and no worries about cars. I love seeing the people of all ages enjoying this natural treasure we are so lucky to have in our city.

It's 2021 - nearly 100 years since the first roadway was built along the ocean. Things look different now. It's been a place of great joy for me and a source of real mental (and physical) health - I've rediscovered my love of rollerblading! Something I hadn't done since college. But the Great Highway is big, smooth, and with plenty of space for me to remember how to skate without worrying about falling off a sidewalk into traffic or running into pedestrians. I love it!

It's 2021 - nearly 100 years since the first roadway was built along the ocean. Things look different now. Let's invest in creative traffic and transit solutions to address the few bottlenecks that exist, rather than reverting to a polluting and dangerous 4 lane highway through a national park. Dear Commissioners, Directors, General Manager Ginsburg, and Director Tumlin,

I am writing to ask you to keep the Great Highway Park open to people and closed to cars, and to continue to invest in street safety & alternative transit throughout San Francisco. The "Great Walkway" is a city-wide asset that is a civic commons and green commute-way for residents, and also a huge draw for visitors from all over the city, bringing customers to D4 merchants and creating community around an equitable, accessible, beautiful and safe space for all to use.

It's 2021 - nearly 100 years since the first roadway was built along the ocean. Things look different now. Let's invest in creative traffic and transit solutions to address the few bottlenecks that exist, rather than reverting to a polluting and dangerous 4 lane highway through a national park. This moment calls for forward looking leadership that can help San Franciscans boldly meet the moment, with creativity and resilience.

Take a leap on a legacy and make the Great Walkway a permanent promenade along Ocean Beach, and a world-class green commuting, recreation, and community space for all.

You may not know how important this walkway is to thousands of City residents. We walk, jog, ride bikes, roller-skate, skateboard, get pushed in strollers and learn to ride bikes on this beautiful stretch of roadway. It is a uniquely level walkway along a special bit of San Francisco's shoreline. I am healthier and more invigorated by walking this road three times per week. Please consider the health benefits to us seniors and dedicate this walkway for the recreation of all citizens now and long into the future.

Thank you for listening,

Tryg and Sherry McCoy

The Great Highway has been an invaluable resource for me as a mother in the Outer Sunset. It's a place to walk, to clear my head, to take my children for safe playtime and a much safer use of space when we cross to go to the beach.

It's 2021 - nearly 100 years since the first roadway was built along the ocean. Things look different now. Let's invest in creative traffic and transit solutions to address the few bottlenecks that exist, rather than reverting to a polluting and dangerous 4 lane highway through a national park. Dear Commissioners, Directors, General Manager Ginsburg, and Director Tumlin,

I'm going to keep the rest of this email template, but I want to add a personal note. Having the Great Highway available for biking and walking has been such a godsend. I moved to SF from DC, where I biked 6 miles each way to work on a greenway. It was incredible for my health. I'm not a confident urban rider and I've had a hard time finding a safe place to ride safely without cars on a flat road for multiple miles in SF, and the Great Highway is exactly this. I've felt safe and physically energized on Great Highway Park in a way I hadn't before in SF. I even felt safe there alone at sunset and after dark. It's so special. The closure of Great Highway to cars has also meant that I can ride along the beach, while I can't when the coast is just sand dunes.

I occasionally work on the ocean exploration ship EV Nautilus. The ocean is literally life. It is the source of most of our oxygen and breathes comfort and life into people who get to interact with it. It's wild to me that SF has this unbelievable gem of a natural resource, the great Pacific Ocean, and that the coast is most valued by some people as a thoroughfare. The cost of not having the coast available is too great to justify a more convenient commute. I cannot fathom another great global city feeding its treasure to cars; in fact, most great cities are pushing cars out in favor of green space.

Oh, another personal story: I am a very attentive driver. I was once driving through a green light and came within actual inches of hitting a pedestrian, who was running across despite his red light. People are always running across the Highway to get to the beach, holding hands with toddlers and carrying surfboards. Clearly this stretch is incredibly important for recreation and is dangerous to have as a Highway.

I am so so thrilled that keeping the Great Highway as a park is on the table. Thank you for considering it. In a time when people are grasping to identify the good that has come out of this past year, this park is a clear pandemic win for our community.

Thanks so much,
Savanna

Dear Commissioners, Directors, General Manager Ginsburg, and Director Tumlin,

I am writing to ask you to keep the Great Highway Park open to people and closed to cars, and to continue to invest in street safety & alternative transit throughout San Francisco.

We live in the outer sunset and have enjoyed countless walks with our two daughters on the Great Highway Park since the pandemic. It is such a beautiful space and it would be a travesty if it reverted to a car route.

Not only are we strongly urging you to keep it, but I think there is huge potential to make minor investments (eg bike racks, seating spots, art spaces) that will make it even better.

Thanks so much for listening!

Dear Commissioners, Directors, General Manager Ginsburg, and Director Tumlin,

I profoundly love the Great Walkway and use it every day.

My mother lives near the Murphy windmill and I live near the zoo. Even so, the Great Highway is not the best route between our homes, and I commute back and forth usually several times a day.

I've used that highway many times in the past but always for joyriding.

It also looks like more people are using the promenade along with the beach. Would love to see permits for food trucks on the Great Walkway.

It is 1000 times more valuable as a carless promenade than as a useless highway.

Thank you!
Saam Barrager

Dear Commissioners, Directors, General Manager Ginsburg, and Director Tumlin,

Imagine having a garbage dump in the middle of Yosemite! That's how I as a local resident feel about having a highway so close to Ocean Beach! Valid piece of infrastructure it may be, it's just not a good use for this premium space. Please consider keeping it closed and start evaluating plans for developing it into something more pedestrian friendly, including opening it up for some retail activity.

Thanks so much for listening!

It's 2021 - nearly 100 years since the first roadway was built along the ocean. Things look different now. Let's invest in creative traffic and transit solutions to address the few bottlenecks that exist, rather than reverting to a polluting and dangerous 4 lane highway through a national park. This moment calls for forward looking leadership that can help San Franciscans boldly meet the moment, with creativity and resilience.

Take a leap on a legacy and make the Great Walkway a permanent promenade along Ocean Beach, and a world-class green commuting, recreation, and community space for all.

Thanks so much for listening!

Dear Commissioners, Directors, General Manager Ginsburg, and Director Tumlin,

I am writing to please keep the Great Highway Park open to people and closed to cars! The pandemic has shown that there is no need for a four lane highway along the beach and that the space can be better repurposed for people to safely enjoy. I visit the Great Highway Park at least twice a week from my home in Soma, and it has been a pleasure to visit, try out local businesses in the Sunset, enjoy, and feel safe from cars on a stretch of asphalt. It also closes a major bikeway gap in San Francisco, allowing me to get from GGP to Sloat safely and efficiently.

Reopening this to cars is the definition of induced demand--there will always be demand for more roads and in order to build a safe city for all, we have to resist the temptation to always add new roadways. Let's invest in creative traffic and transit solutions to address the few bottlenecks that exist, rather than reverting to a polluting and dangerous 4 lane highway through a national park. This moment calls for forward looking leadership that can help San Franciscans boldly meet the moment, with creativity and resilience.

It's clear what kind of civic enjoyment closing a four-lane road can do--I hope it stays that way permanently!

Thanks so much for listening!
Hansen

Dear Commissioners, Directors, General Manager Ginsburg, and Director Tumlin,

I am writing to ask you to keep the Great Highway Park open to people and closed to cars, and to continue to invest in street safety & alternative transit throughout San Francisco. The "Great Walkway" is a city-wide asset that is a civic commons and green commute-way for residents, and also a huge draw for visitors from all over the city, bringing customers to D4 merchants and creating community around an equitable, accessible, beautiful and safe space for all to use.

It's 2021 - nearly 100 years since the first roadway was built along the ocean. Things look different now. Let's invest in creative traffic and transit solutions to address the few bottlenecks that exist, rather than reverting to a polluting and dangerous 4 lane highway through a national park. This moment calls for forward looking leadership that can help San Franciscans boldly meet the moment, with creativity and resilience.

Take a leap on a legacy and make the Great Walkway a permanent promenade along Ocean Beach, and a world-class green commuting, recreation, and community space for all.

** As a resident of the Outer Sunset, I use the Great Highway every day on my commute to and from work, via bicycle, as well as for general exercise and just being outside in the fresh air. As someone who also owns a car, I recognize that people do need their car daily to get to and from work/school/the store. However, I have not seen any uptick in local traffic, long traffic jams in the Avenues, or any disruption to the way cars move about the neighborhood.

Sure, I see cars that wait in a 5-7 minute "traffic jam" along Chain of Lakes Dr at 5pm (I've been stuck in that "jam" too, it's not bad at all!), but the overall benefit of keeping Great Highway car-free is greater than 5 minutes of someone's commute. The people that are out enjoying the car-free strip far outweigh those that only drive on it down for a few minutes to get to work and back.

Thanks so much for listening!

Dear Commissioners, Directors, General Manager Ginsburg, and Director Tumlin,

Since the “Great Highway” along Ocean Beach became the “Great Walkway”, I have used it multiple times per week as a get-away from the home-office. As a Mission resident, I ride my bike along the “wiggle” and through Golden Gate Park to this awesome extension of our shared outdoor space.

I am writing to ask you to keep the Great Highway Park open to people and closed to cars, and to continue to invest in street safety & alternative transit throughout San Francisco. I am using the Great Highway nearly every day. I couldn't imagine myself not being able to run or bike on it anymore. Great Highway is my best friend and my therapist. From my personal experience accessibility of a highway to pedestrians attracts more people to the neighborhoods around it, which helps local businesses to thrive and we love local businesses, don't we? Let's keep the highway open to people!

It's 2021 - nearly 100 years since the first roadway was built along the ocean. Things look different now. Dear Commissioners, Directors, General Manager Ginsburg, and Director Tumlin,

One of the few good things that came out the pandemic was the opening of several streets to pedestrians and cyclists. Every day cyclists have to use streets shared with cars. And we have to put our trust in that a driver will see us and decide not to hit us. So far I've been hit 7 times in the past year on streets like Market where private cars aren't suppose to be any longer or on streets where drivers decide to use the bike lane as a short cut.

I work at the LGBT National Help Center, the longest running and most comprehensive LGBTQIA+ hotline in the country and since the pandemic I'm the only one who's been holding down the fort in office while everyone else has been able to go remote, so every day I take my life in my hands to continue our vital work. There are only two places in the city where I feel actually safe as a cyclist, JFK when drivers don't skirt the blockades and the Great Highway. I use JFK every day, and If the Great Highway was on my route to work, you bet I would use it every single day. But at the moment I am on it at least 3 or 4 times a week at the end of a rough mental health day and a day where I need to be able to be free of cars.

The Great Highway should be changed to the Great Parkway or Pathway, or what ever you want to call it and keep it free of cars. The argument that the other streets in the Outer Sunset have become unsafe because of drivers speeding only indicates that drivers are the problem here not the route and the city should focusing their efforts on curbing drivers who don't know how to follow traffic rules.

There is already a multiple lane route through the Inner Sunset, Sunset Boulevard, not every single space in the city needs to be for cars.

We're suppose to be trying to curb the use of cars and have a vision zero, so how are we doing that? Please make a lasting change that will benefit the city, it's citizens, tourists and the generations to come and begin the cultural change. If the Great Highway becomes land used for humans not cars it may set an example that we are a city that actually means business when it comes to making positive change.

Dear Commissioners, Directors, General Manager Ginsburg, and Director Tumlin,

I am writing to ask you to keep the Great Highway Park open to people and closed to cars, and to continue to invest in street safety & alternative transit throughout San Francisco. The "Great Walkway" is a city-wide asset that is a civic commons and green commute-way for residents, and also a huge draw for visitors from all over the city, bringing customers to D4 merchants and creating community around an equitable, accessible, beautiful and safe space for all to use. Even in its current iteration it connects the western end of the city to a national shore system (ocean beach and fort function) and city parks (lake merced and golden gate). One could safely ride bicycles from one end of the city to the other. I have personally noticed a sharp decline in commuter traffic and secondary route takers since the great highway has been closed to car traffic.

It's 2021 - nearly 100 years since the first roadway was built along the ocean. Things look different now. Let's invest in creative traffic and transit solutions to address the few bottlenecks that exist, rather than reverting to a polluting and dangerous 4 lane highway through a national park. This moment calls for forward looking leadership that can help San Franciscans boldly meet the moment, with creativity and resilience.

Take a leap on a legacy and make the Great Walkway a permanent promenade along Ocean Beach, and a world-class green commuting, recreation, and community space for all.

Thanks so much for listening!

Sincerely,

Dear Commissioners, Directors, General Manager Ginsburg, and Director Tumlin,

I am writing to ask you to keep the Great Highway open to people and closed to cars, and to continue to invest in street safety and alternative transit throughout San Francisco.

I live on 44th Avenue and Quintara Street and use the Great Highway multiple times per week as my primary jogging route, space for fresh air after work days and for gathering with friends on weekends.

I have noticed a slight increase in traffic around my house due to the road closure to cars, however I believe the benefits of the newly-created park make it worth it. I do believe the safety concerns should be addressed with regards to traffic, however it is unreasonable to live by Ocean Beach and not expect high volumes of visitors to the attraction, just like at any other landmark in the city.

Let's invest in creative traffic solutions to address the few bottlenecks that exist, such as (1) making Sunset Boulevard more efficient for cars and (2) improving the public transit to and from the neighborhood (especially going downtown: it would be great for the 48 Quintara and L Taraval to be a continuous route), rather than reverting to a polluting and dangerous 4 lane highway through a national park.

Thank you!
Caterina Belardetti

Dear Commissioners, Directors, General Manager Ginsburg, and Director Tumlin, The pandemic had countless negative impacts, but one of the few silver linings was the creation of the Great Walkway (and other people-first spaces in our city). The Great Walkway has given countless residents a safe place to walk, roll, and connect, and we must save it by approving a pilot to extend the promenade's life while continuing to do studies, outreach, and traffic-calming improvements. I join Kid Safe SF and countless other organizations and residents in urging you to approve a pilot that extends the Walkway's life beyond the emergency health order. The SFCTA's survey showed that about 80% of San Franciscans support a promenade in some form, with a majority of San Franciscans supporting a four-lane promenade 24 hours per day, 7 days per week. SFMTA's data shows that at least 6,000 people are using The Great Walkway daily. It's clear that the majority of San Franciscans love The Great Walkway and want it to be kept alive. Concerns about car traffic in the Sunset are valid, and SFMTA's work with Supervisor Mar has had a positive effect on calming car-traffic and diverting it to the arterials (Sunset Blvd. and 19th Ave.), and traffic-calming efforts should continue to ensure Sunset residents are safe. With that said, data shows that collisions in the Sunset are down more than 30% from before the pandemic — traffic-calming measures are working, and will continue to have positive impacts on the Sunset. Furthermore, Director Maguire has publicly stated that Sunset Boulevard and 19th Avenue can both take more car-traffic capacity. Concerns about north-south traffic to/from the Richmond are valid, and there are a number of things that can be done to address these concerns and improve north-south access to/from the Richmond. These include, but are not limited to, diverting car-traffic from Chain of Lakes to Crossover Drive and Great Highway, improving/increasing north-south bus service, and optimizing traffic-signal timing on Sunset Boulevard. Solutions to these concerns are feasible and effective — we don't need to give in to demands of a small but vocal mob of car drivers who think the only solution is to use more public space for car traffic throughout our city. It's important to address concerns about the Great Highway closure, but the answer is not to kill the Great Walkway and put cars back on that public space. I join Kid Safe SF and countless other organizations and residents in urging you to approve a pilot that extends the Walkway's life beyond the emergency health order. Thank you, and please take care.

I am writing to comment on the continued closure of the Great Highway that Park & Rec along with MTA and the bike coalition are forcing on the residence of San Francisco which I am steadfastly against.

I find that Park and Rec, SFMTA and the bike coalition are not trust worthy. I have read the D4 mobility study and find it to be flawed. I don't believe a word of the findings. If you want people to believe the study then you should have had some integrity and had an independent study conducted. These two city agencies are in collusion with the bike coalition to remove this road way from the people for their own gains. Park and Rec wants bragging rights for creating the continents' newest "great walkway". SFMTA wants to please its friends in bike coalition at the expense of the motorist of San Francisco. I have come to the conclusion that the heads of both Park and Rec and SFMTA have proven bias and should not be in charge of their respective agencies. The only thing on their minds and their only priority is furthering their careers.

Both agencies have failed in their duties to reach out to the people most affected by this continued closure. I am a Veteran with a service connected disability and use that road to get to the Fort Miley VA and have been told by people supporting this closing to find another route or ride a bike. That says volumes about the character of the people who are advocating for this closure.

You believe that 19th Ave and Sunset Blvd can handle the increase in traffic from the great highway closure I beg to differ. Sunset blvd dead ends at the park and with MLK drive also being closed people are forced to go left or right at Lincoln, so Sunset Blvd is not a through fare. Prior to the pandemic 19th avenue could not handle the existing traffic let alone the additional 18 to 20 thousand cars being diverted. I have been on it many times trying to exit the city north and been stuck in traffic. It should not take 45 minutes to travel less than 6.6 miles to get out of or through the city. The removal of the great highway eliminates one of three south bound evacuation routes out of the city.

In closing I am going to withdraw my vote (the only real voice I have) from any politician who continues to support the flawed concept of the GREAT WALKWAY.

Subject: Great Highway Joint Hearing June 10
Date: Wednesday, June 9, 2021 10:10:52 AM

I am a long time resident of the outer Sunset District. I oppose the closing of the Great Highway for the following reasons:

1. The Great Hwy is a north/south thoroughfare along with Sunset Blvd and 19th Ave. 19th Ave is a major thoroughfare that leads to the Golden Gate Bridge and does not allow any Left turns. Sunset basically leads you straight into Golden Gate Park. I have experienced the many backups in GGPark (MLK to Park Presidio, 41st Ave to Chain of Lakes) The Great Hwy provides easy access to the Richmond District (The VA hospital is a major destination as well as the Sutro Bath area) Having folks unnecessarily wind through the Sunset residential neighborhoods causes vehicle exhaust (Semi delivery trucks, VA shuttle buses, delivery vans etc) to be distributed throughout the area with all the stop and go required to navigate the streets. I, as well as others I have spoken to, have had near misses with both vehicles and bikes on the residential streets.
2. The temporary closure of the Great Highway was supposed to allow folks to safe distance themselves and enjoy the outdoor activity. It was well utilized a number of times, but recently the numbers have dwindled drastically (some due to weather, some with the opening up of schools/businesses). The Outer Sunset district had always been known for it's unpredictable elements (wind, salt air, sand) and the sand removal has always been part of the maintenance of keeping the highway open as well as preserving the barrier created to protect the homes along the Lower Great Highway and beyond. I believe ALL my representatives and ALL working on this project have taken advantage of the pandemic to close a major thoroughfare without taking into consideration the original purpose of the Great Highway. The recent decision to do a pilot program after over a year of closure is insulting to those of us who have requested the reopening for a multitude of reasons. You should have been doing studies since the decision to close. Taking advantage of the closure to promote a car free highway without wide local input is another insult to those of us who are affected. I believe a great push by outside/unaffected groups has greatly influenced the decision to close the Great Highway. To promote a 2 year pilot program without full transparency is also a unfair tactic.
3. If you want slow streets (which I believe does not serve a purpose for any resident other than creating an elitist climate-we are not Berkeley) then vehicles should have access to the Great Highway thoroughfare that is easy and avoids navigating through residential streets and adding more fumes. I am trying to understand the whole purpose of the slow streets- are kids supposed to play in the street and risk being hit by a delivery truck or neighbor (who are allowed to drive on the slow street). In my many years of life we taught our kids not to play in the streets to avoid any chance of being hurt. The sidewalks and local playgrounds were sufficient for outdoor play for our children. With all the money and effort to install speed humps and stop signs, there is no reason to keep the Great Highway closed. Why not add funding to maintain our many local playgrounds for kids to play and enjoy a safe environment. The promotion of closing the Great Highway as a safe zone for kids to 'play on the street, ride their bikes and draw with chalk while enjoying the beautiful open space' makes me believe whoever promoted that does not know the Great Highway conditions very well.
4. With the idea of keeping the Great Highway closed, has anyone done a study regarding the effect of folks trampling on the dunes and medians? Where are the safeguards for the snowy plovers? There is signage regarding dogs, snowy plovers and beach safety at all the pedestrian crossings/traffic signals along the Great Highway. With the closure, many folks are crossing over the ice plant/protections between the Upper and Lower Great Highway. There is no regard for the purpose of the ice plant on the median and dunes, which protects the residential homes along the Lower Great Highway and beyond. The sand removal maintenance has always been needed and keeping the closure will not prevent that need.

5. Last year, fireworks were set off along the Upper Great Highway, rather than the beach. A home caught fire from a firework spark. I personally feel safer having illegal fireworks set off from the beach for safety reasons. Keeping the Great Hwy open will prevent many from trying to set off fireworks from the highway (let's hope). Also, are Fire and rescue services being obstructed by not being able to access the Great Hwy with ease?

5. There are many dangerous intersections created by keeping the Great Highway closed. The corner of Sloat/45th Ave is extremely dangerous. The left hand turn that used to be down at 47th/Sloat is blocked off, so folks turn at 45th where vision is impaired with the parking median and folks trying to beat the light. I have seen many near misses. The corner of 46thAve/Lincoln is unsafe without an three way stop. Google takes you that route and turning left is very dangerous (why isn't there a sign there?) Please note that several years ago I had asked for a stop sign at my intersection. I was told it was too expensive. There is one there now because of safety issues. With all the money used to install the stop signs, I feel they should at least be placed where they would serve best (left turns on busy streets).

6. On a very sunny day, many Bay Area folks drive to the beach. Having the Great Highway closed only adds more vehicles in the residential area looking for parking. There will always be many vehicles on sunny days, but keeping those passing through on the Great Hwy instead of the residential streets is much safer and creates less rage. Reopening the Great Highway will prevent unnecessary traffic from our residential streets creating safer streets and less exhaust fumes.

7. I have written numerous emails to representatives. I have rarely received a response. I feel there is a huge influence from the Bicycle Coalition to eliminate cars from the streets of San Francisco. I feel San Francisco has worked vigorously to aid the bicycle community to meet it's road sharing goals. However, it is beginning to feel as though the bicycle community is doing its best to prevent drivers of our city from having access to established roadways. I am not anti bike - I think it's wonderful to have folks ride bikes if they are capable. No one should feel they can't ride their bike, walk or drive their car. Closing off streets exclusively for bicycles and pedestrians when there sidewalks are plentiful and bike lanes available is unnecessary. Our city is built on a grid and it has always been easy to divert through residential streets when necessary. That has been the beauty for those of us who know these streets. For those who are visiting the city, being able to avoid residential streets is a plus - that is why the Great Highway is important. The folks visiting via motor vehicles have the frustration of getting lost greatly when they have to figure out another route. Are the working class folks who are driving to and from the Richmond district, and are certainly inconvenienced by time and obstructions, being considered? I have heard the closure folks stating that adding time to a commute is a minor inconvenience, but are they considering the environmental impact created? We want our city to have clean air, yet we want to force drivers to add time and fuel because of a 2 mile road that has served a great purpose for many years. Keeping the folks traveling thru the Sunset by driving along the Great Highway keeps less fumes on residential streets. Please note that there are 2 paths on both sides of the Great Hwy for pedestrians - the beach side is not maintained very well, but there is a beach that is accessible to walk along. The paved path could easily be widened if necessary (although, recently, there has been so few people on both the highway and walkway, maybe do a study on that once the Great Highway is re-opened).

I hope ALL of you will address ALL the concerns for re-opening the Great Highway submitted by me and others. I know there are many of my peers who feel our voices re not heard because we don't have a big name behind us and it appears that you ALL have concluded that the Great Highway will remain car free. I have emailed many of you on different occasions with a multitude of reasons for reopening, with NO response. I have asked "Who decided to rename the Great Highway the Great Walkway as shown on the Rec & Park website?" Why won't anyone answer that question. I am one resident who would truly like to know the answer. No one has had the integrity to answer. Shame on all of you.

Once again, I thank you for your time,

S Garrett
San Francisco Outer Parkside/Sunset District Resident

Hello,

My name is Tiff and I'm a young 3rd gen Chinese-American person living in the Richmond with my grandma. I don't own a car, and before the pandemic and now I bike to work most days using JFK (currently closed) in Golden Gate Park and Page Street (slow street). I also currently bike for fun using the Great Highway.

I am requesting that you keep these streets, and other closed and slow streets in other parts of the city, as they are post-pandemic. I can't imagine JFK open to cars - when I bike home during rush hour it's quite crowded and full of people of all ages commuting, exercising and recreating - and there wouldn't be enough space for all of them if the street were open to cars. Page Street and the Great Highway are also quite busy and seem to have opened up an entirely new idea of recreation and public space that I think San Francisco benefits from.

I understand that there are auto traffic concerns - I can say that heading from the Inner Richmond to the Inner Sunset to see my friends, pre-pandemic it was just as fast to drive through the park next to the Academy of Sciences as it was to drive completely around using Stanyan. And, this holds true during the pandemic. I cannot speak to other traffic concerns, but the future is surely to invest in routes, vehicles and public transit that does not involve having to personally own and maintain a personal vehicle to travel across the city. I think we can creatively problem solve to mitigate negative consequences of keeping the Great Highway open.

Additionally, San Francisco would benefit enormously from investing in e-bikes and e-bike infrastructure, including closed cross-city bike paths ("bike highways") for bikes and electric wheelchair and scooter users to move quickly with very limited stop signs. As someone who has both a conventional bike and an e-bike, I can say that e-bikes and e-bike paths are the future of San Francisco and Daly City - the fastest, cheapest and easiest way for me to get to cross the city, including up hills - and if bike highways were introduced San Franciscans could get around faster and easier, take a load off of road for cars, de-crowd the buses, give a non-public transit option for low-income folks that can't afford cars, and put San Francisco on the map the way Amsterdam or Copenhagen is. I also support subsidies for low-income folks to buy e-bikes, the way the state of CA is considering now.

Sincerely,
Tiff Chang

Dear Commissioners, Directors, General Manager
Ginsburg, and Director Tumlin,

Please keep the great Great Highway Park open to pedestrians, skaters, cyclists and more, and closed to cars. The closed Great Highway has become a wonderful asset to San Francisco. It's breathtaking! I am a native of SF and grew up a few blocks from the Great Highway. I and many others have never been able to enjoy the area as much as we have with the closure of the dangerous Great Highway to cars.

For our health and sanity, please keep the Great Highway Park!

With my thanks,

Jon Pierucci

RE: Re Open the Great Highway

Dear Director Tilly Chang, General Manager Phil Ginsburg, Director Jeffrey Tumlin, Supervisor Gordon Mar and Supervisor Connie Chan,

As a resident of Ingleside Terraces and a former resident of the Sunset, I am writing in strong support of a complete and UNCHANGED REOPENING of the Great Highway. This space has become a waste land with very few people using it at the expense of the residents of San Francisco, the peninsula and the north bay.

I believe that the current changes to the infrastructure touted as traffic mitigation has further comprised and is endangering the residence in Sunset. I do not support an in-depth study of the traffic on the adjacent streets, and DO NOT believe that a full-time closure is the best option for the space. I urge you to completely reopen the Great Highway to vehicles.

I use that road way frequently to drive to the VA and to visit friends and relations in the Richmond district. The closure of this road way puts an undue burden on people just trying to live and survive.

You closed this road TEMPORARILY due to COVID and now you are underhandedly attempting to make the closure permanent.

By continued support of the closure you are going to lose my support for any other changes you want to make and will lose my vote in any upcoming elections.

Sincerely,

Mike Regan

Dear Commissioners, Directors, General Manager Ginsburg, and Director Tumlin,

I am writing to ask you to keep the Great Highway Park open to people and closed to cars, and to continue to invest in street safety & alternative transit throughout San Francisco. The "Great Walkway" is a city-wide asset that is a civic commons and green commute-way for residents, and also a huge draw for visitors from all over the city, bringing customers to D4 merchants and creating community around an equitable, accessible, beautiful and safe space for all to use.

It's 2021 - nearly 100 years since the first roadway was built along the ocean. Things look different now. Let's invest in creative traffic and transit solutions to address the few bottlenecks that exist, rather than reverting to a polluting and dangerous 4 lane highway through a national park. This moment calls for forward looking leadership that can help San Franciscans boldly meet the moment, with creativity and resilience.

Take a leap on a legacy and make the Great Walkway a permanent promenade along Ocean Beach, and a world-class green commuting, recreation, and community space for all.

Thanks so much for listening!

Dear Commissioners, Directors, General Manager Ginsburg, and Director Tumlin,

The pandemic had countless negative impacts, but one of the few silver linings was the creation of the Great Walkway (and other people-first spaces in our city). The Great Walkway has given countless residents a safe place to walk, roll, and connect, and we must save it by approving a pilot to extend the promenade's life while continuing to do studies, outreach, and traffic-calming improvements.

I join Kid Safe SF and countless other organizations and residents in urging you to approve a pilot that extends the Walkway's life beyond the emergency health order.

The SFCTA's survey showed that about 80% of San Franciscans support a promenade in some form, with a majority of San Franciscans supporting a four-lane promenade 24 hours per day, 7 days per week. SFMTA's data shows that at least 6,000 people are using The Great Walkway daily. It's clear that the majority of San Franciscans love The Great Walkway and want it to be kept alive.

Concerns about car traffic in the Sunset are valid, and SFMTA's work with Supervisor Mar has had a positive effect on calming car-traffic and diverting it to the arterials (Sunset Blvd. and 19th Ave.), and traffic-calming efforts should continue to ensure Sunset residents are safe. With that said, data shows that collisions in the Sunset are down more than 30% from before the pandemic — traffic-calming measures are working, and will continue to have positive impacts on the Sunset. Furthermore, Director Maguire has publicly stated that Sunset Boulevard and 19th Avenue can both take more car-traffic capacity.

Concerns about north-south traffic to/from the Richmond are valid, and there are a number of things that can be done to address these concerns and improve north-south access to/from the Richmond. These include, but are not limited to, diverting car-traffic from Chain of Lakes to Crossover Drive and Great Highway, improving/increasing north-south bus service, and optimizing traffic-signal timing on Sunset Boulevard. Solutions to these concerns are feasible and effective — we don't need to give in to demands of a small but vocal mob of car drivers who think the only solution is to use more public space for car traffic throughout our city.

It's important to address concerns about the Great Highway closure, but the answer is not to kill the Great Walkway and put cars back on that public space.

I join Kid Safe SF and countless other organizations and residents in urging you to approve a pilot that extends the Walkway's life beyond the emergency health order.

Thank you, and please take care.

Dear Commissioners, Directors, General Manager Ginsburg, and Director Tumlin,

The pandemic had countless negative impacts, but one of the few silver linings was opening of the upper great highway for people. What has been called The Great Walkway has given me and countless residents a safe place to walk, roll, and connect, and I urge you to save it by a pilot to extend the promenade's life while continuing to do studies, outreach, and traffic-calming improvements.

I live in the Inner Sunset and in the past going to Ocean Beach has been a thing I've largely overlooked in my years here. I've gone by, but the traffic has been overwhelming and it's never been a great experience to go there for me. This has absolutely changed with with the conversion to The Great Walkway, where you can sit and hear the waves in peace and be able to find a sense of tranquility in a busy city during such a tumultuous time in the world.

The SFCTA's survey showed that about 80% of San Franciscans support a promenade in some form, with a majority of San Franciscans supporting a four-lane promenade 24 hours per day, 7 days per week. SFMTA's data shows that at least 6,000 people are using The Great Walkway daily. It's clear that the majority of San Franciscans love The Great Walkway and want it to be kept alive.

With that said, data shows that collisions in the Sunset are down more than 30% from before the pandemic — traffic-calming measures are working, and will continue to have positive impacts on the Sunset. Furthermore, Director Maguire has publicly stated that Sunset Boulevard and 19th Avenue can both take more car-traffic capacity. I also understand that 19th Avenue currently has some construction on it, and can understand this can feel like it exasperates these problems, so I think that should also be done in as smooth and efficient manner as possible.

Concerns about north-south traffic to/from the Richmond are valid, and there are a number of things that can be done to address these concerns and improve north-south access to/from the Richmond. These include, but are not limited to, diverting car-traffic from Chain of Lakes to Crossover Drive and Great Highway, improving/increasing north-south bus service, and optimizing traffic-signal timing on Sunset Boulevard. Solutions to these concerns are feasible and effective — we don't need to give in to demands of a small but vocal group of car drivers who think the only solution is to use more public space for car traffic throughout our city. While many present that simply returning the great highway to car traffic will magically alleviate all traffic problems, many gloss over the fact that there were regular concerns before the great highway was ever closed to car traffic as well.

It's important to address concerns about the Great Highway closure, but the answer is not to kill the Great Walkway and put cars back on that public space! I join Kid Safe SF and countless other organizations and residents in urging you to approve a pilot that extends the Walkway's life beyond the emergency health order.

Thank you!

Subject: OPEN THE GREAT HIGHWAY - ALL 4 LANES
Date: Wednesday, June 9, 2021 3:34:08 PM

This message is from outside the City email system. Do not open links or attachments from untrusted sources.

I am a 4th generation San Franciscan, Richmond and Sunset resident, my niece 5th generation. I have driven the Great Highway daily working at the SF Zoo (weekends included), attending Lowell High School, and San Francisco State University, shopping at Stonestown, Westlake, and the Geary and Sloat corridors, visiting the Legion of Honor, Lands End, Fort Funston, Lake Merced, Harding Park, and traveling to the outer Mission, Peninsula, and Marin, Napa, and Sonoma counties to visit relatives and friends (again, much of this weekends included).

I have seen a significant increase in volume of cars using Sunset Blvd in the last few years since the development of new homes went up along Brotherhood Way. Closing the Great Highway further congests an already impacted Sunset Blvd. Furthermore, it is extremely unsafe forcing 3 lanes of traffic into one northbound lane in order to loop onto Lincoln to reach Chain of Lakes Dr. or the northern stretch of Great Highway.

MLK Jr. Dr. Needs to be reopened as well as the Great Highway. These streets comprise the westernmost neighborhood residents right of ways across Golden Gate Park. Forcing cars 24 blocks (1.5 miles) east to a severely congested 19th Ave when we simply need to move north/south is incredibly screwed up. As is, forcing cars in a circle if they alternatively choose to drive west then up or down the northern stretch of Great Highway to reach Sunset Blvd not to mention forcing more cars into Golden Gate Park.

Contrary to what some would claim, the Great Highway is not without its own traffic issues, particularly during weekends, summer months, and special events. Backups often occurred demonstrating the critical nature of this vital artery and all its 4 lanes. Closing the Great Highway is shortsighted and detrimental to residents, families, seniors, tourists, small businesses and service providers as it is creating traffic, environmental, accessibility, safety, evacuation, and emergency response issues. Most appallingly, closing the Great Highway creates an elitist ableist utopia reducing accessibility to the beach and parklands for low income, people of color, disabled, and seniors.

Let's also recognize that unless people live fairly close to the Great Highway, it is highly likely they will be driving their cars and parking in the neighborhood in order to walk or bike along it - totally negating the car free agenda and compounding traffic volume, hazards, and emissions.

SF is a world-renowned tourist destination, the Great Highway itself part of the scenic 49 mile drive. SF is a world leader in urban open recreational and park space. There is zero lack of such space for cyclists. Stop touting a compromise for a waterfront promenade. The existing paved pedestrian/cyclist path can be widened and improved. If it is deemed insufficient and unappreciated then let's just yield it back to the cars. Enough is enough.

Who does closing the Great Highway serve? Certainly not the environment, as more cars are detoured farther out of their way idling longer in traffic nor the snowy plovers whose dunes are now being trampled, not the city kids whose residential streets absorb the influx of cars nor park goers with cars stuck in traffic along Chain of Lakes and Crossover Dr., definitely not local residents and daily commuters from the North or South Bay with the already congested alternate routes absorbing even greater volumes of cars, and absolutely not the local small businesses whose customers don't even want to bother trying to get to them anymore because it's become too difficult. Cars are a reality, whether gas or alternative energy...making driving more difficult and frustrating is not good for anyone and frankly, the divisive and sneaky tactics used to push the closure agenda is infuriating let alone the frustration and anguish this issue has caused while people are simply trying to rebuild their lives after a long devastating global pandemic. Shameful.

While we are at it, who screwed up the timed lights on 19th and Sunset Blvd???? Restore catching the green lights at 35 mph. Get rid of the red lanes and forced turns on Mission St! Stop eliminating traffic lanes. Open JFK Blvd. Believe it or not, people actually live here and have limited time to get around to conduct our business, get our kids to activities around town, and see our folks. Bikes and public transit are not always viable options. Stop making living here too hard for real people. We pay exorbitant taxes and we don't want to continue being forced out of our city.

OPEN THE GREAT HIGHWAY

Sincerely,
Joleen Russo

This road should never have been temporarily closed if you weren't going to open it back up. This is my main route between the Richmond district and Daly City. Who wants to stop at every intersection or sit in traffic with gas prices out of control??? We don't all have the luxury of choosing public transit. The residents clearly don't want the traffic re-routed through their neighborhood. Recreationists are clearly driving from all parts of the city and surrounding cities to access the Great Highway for recreation - completely hypocritical. Widen the bike path if it is so critical they need more space. Why should motorists have to defend their roads, why don't we start eliminating bike lanes? We've already conceded to sharing so many city streets and lost several critical traffic lanes compounding congestion. Where does it end?? There are so many beautiful recreation spaces in Golden Gate Park, the Presidio, etc - stop the anti-car agenda.

Sincerely,

Tim Anderson

I have read a document from MTA Streets for Item #3 and on page 14 it describes the cost associated with keeping it as a promenade be 1.6 million and to reopen it would be 1.5 million but in those reopen cost you include trash removal and custodial maintenance of the restrooms. What do trash and restrooms have to do with reopening the highway that is solely a cost associated with people using the path ways. You also claim that it will cost 5 million due to planned signal replacement, what is wrong with the existing signals they have worked fine for as long as I can remember. It seems that you are padding the cost to reopen the highway. You also state that it would cost 5.6 million for a permanent closure.

Sounds like a much better deal even with your padding to reopen the road way to cars.

PLEASE REOPEN THE GREAT HIGHWAY NOW!

Esteemed Committee Members,

As a 3rd generation native San Franciscian and resident of the Richmond District for 31 years, who walks and bikes as well as drives and takes Muni, I believe that it is imperative that you reopen Great Highway to vehicle traffic. This is necessary for safety reasons, San Francisco is due for a major earthquake and at risk for other natural disasters as well, Great Highway maybe the only means of escape were disaster to strike. It is often also the fastest route for emergency vehicles, even for surf rescue a delay of a few minutes to open the gate could be life or death.

Additionally Great Highway is one of the major thoroughfares for commuters, as businesses reopen and people return to working in person, we need this faster commute route to cut down the stop and go pollution of driving through the avenues.

As vaccines have become commonplace, people are no longer social distancing and do not need that wide open space while exercising, with Great Highway open to cars there are still multiple sidewalks and other safe paths for recreation and non-motor vehicle transportation, meanwhile less and less people seem to be taking advantage of the current open space at all.

Subject: Remove Cars from the Great Highway Forever
Date: Wednesday, June 9, 2021 4:22:31 PM

This message is from outside the City email system. Do not open links or attachments from untrusted sources.

Dear Mayor Breed, General Manager Ginsburg, Director Tumlin, Recreation and Park Commissioners, and Board of Supervisors:

I'm a voter and resident of San Francisco.

I wanted to write in and say that I fully support removing cars entirely from the Great Highway, permanently. It has been a place of health and wellness for all who want to use it, and a grand promenade, and not a cut through to dangerous, unhealthy car traffic that is a blight on our city.

There are four major reasons I think you need to consider:

- Opening the Great Highway to cars at varying times doesn't provide equal access. People who work nights or weekends need to have access to the Great Highway as recreation and active transportation space. Any "hours of use" compromise will never provide equitable access to the promenade and will exclude people.
- San Francisco has declared a Climate Emergency. With transportation being the largest contributor to the city's greenhouse gas emissions, we must begin taking dramatic action to not only reduce our car infrastructure, but to also increase the space for active, cleaner transportation. Letting cars back into this space induces car traffic and is in contradiction with our stated values as a city to reduce our residents' carbon footprints.
- We are a 3x over "Transit First" city. This policy, reaffirmed by voters multiple times over the years, only mentions that we need to deprioritize cars. Right now I can't see how San Francisco is anything other than a haven for cars. Giving this space back to the people of San Francisco for safe, active transportation 24/7 is the only option that meets the "Transit First" criteria you are bound to follow.
- Cars are very loud. The tires, brakes, and exhaust pipes all spew toxic, carcinogenic material into the air. Having lanes of highway traffic next to the pedestrianized space is bad for health, destroys the peaceful environment, and in essence gives the entire space back to the motorists of San Francisco. Cars anywhere on the promenade is not healthy or equitable for all who use the space.

Please do not take away San Francisco's grand promenade. Please follow our city's aspirations, goals, and values by transforming this space into the Great Walkway permanently.

Thank you,

Parker Day

Dear Civic Leaders:

Please open up the Great Highway to cars immediately. While it made sense to open it to pedestrians during the heart of the pandemic so people could be outside and socially distanced, it is currently much less necessary and it is a major inconvenience to thousands of people.

Pedestrians and bicyclists have a wonderful array of areas to be outside in that area. There is the beach, the wide walkways, and Golden Gate Park.

As a senior with limited mobility, being able to ride near the ocean gives me great joy and peace of mind. The Great Highway is also the best route from the Western end of the Richmond District to the Sunset District and beyond and now that it is safe to go places, it is needed for commuters and tourists. It is needed for people who have to or want to go places. Currently, the cars that need that route are congesting the neighborhoods and polluting much more than they would on a straight highway which is made for cars.

I am extremely concerned about safety. Residents and visitors need this evacuation route in the event of a major disaster like an earthquake. There are countless people who need to be rescued at sea in Ocean Beach. Emergency vehicles need to get there with no delays. Delays cause deaths.

All of our qualities of life have been changed by the pandemic. Now that many of us are vaccinated and still being very careful, we need to be able to be in fresh air. For me and many seniors, when we have to go out, riding near nature adds to our quality of life. This is absolutely true for disabled people as well. I feel deeply for families with several children who need this route and for people who need the route to commute to work. It is absurd to send cars wending their ways through residential neighborhoods. This causes much more pollution and takes away from their quality of life when they spend a lot more time on their commute and away from their families.

The only reason the pandemic experiment with closing it to cars didn't create more damage is that fewer people were working out of the home and going places. Please do the right thing for our residents and our tourists and open The Great Highway immediately.

Sincerely,

I am writing in objection to the proposed "pilot" for the Upper Great Highway - not only in substance, but in process as well.

It has become clear that one or more city officials are complicit in purposeful activity to defraud citizens of their lawful use of this public resource. As part of this process, one or more public employees have simultaneously been receiving compensation from lobbying groups or other conflicted entities, including the bicycle coalition. Due to this inherent conflict, data studies have been abused and open requests for access to public records have been denied.

It is unfathomable to me that city officials would flaunt the legal and compliance requirements associated with the accurate and transparent collection and use of data and city records. I am hard-pressed to understand why a "pilot" program is even being explored prior to the completion of an review of these matters by the appropriate attorney and ethics staff of the city.

Please kindly ensure that my inquiry for a full investigation is entered into the public record for this matter.

Thank you

Dear Commissioners, Directors, General Manager Ginsburg, and Director Tumlin,

I am writing to ask you to keep the Great Highway Park open to people and closed to cars, and to continue to invest in street safety & alternative transit throughout San Francisco. The "Great Walkway" is a city-wide asset that is a civic commons and green commute-way for residents, and also a huge draw for visitors from all over the city, bringing customers to D4 merchants and creating community around an equitable, accessible, beautiful, and safe space for all to use.

It's 2021 - nearly 100 years since the first roadway was built along the ocean. Things look different now. Let's invest in creative traffic and transit solutions to address the few bottlenecks that exist, rather than reverting to a polluting and dangerous 4 lane highway through a national park.

This moment calls for forward-looking leadership that can help San Franciscans boldly meet the moment, with creativity and resilience. Take a leap on a legacy and make the Great Walkway a permanent promenade along Ocean Beach, and a world-class green commuting, recreation, and community space for all.

Thanks so much for listening!

So I sent this late today which may be past the deadline for email feedback for the June 10 hearing:

"And finally now that you have released more details about the proposed pilot, I have to commend you on your "unbiased" verbiage. 4600 recreational users/day (again, a doubtful number) are "joyful at the ability to walk on the GH" yet 18,000 motorists day are "a few drivers inconvenienced". 4600 means joy for many whereas 18,000 means small inconvenience for a few.

I might also add that the approval number of 54% constantly touted by the D4 mobility study represents 1988 people (54% of 2700 respondents) compared to over 8000 people who have signed the change.org petition to reopen the Great Highway. Not to mention that the D4 mobility study also showed that 76% of Richmond district respondents favored some sort of cars on the Great Highway (either all four lanes, shared, or timed closures). Somehow that statistic never gets mentioned."

On Jun 3, 2021, at 4:49 PM, Christina Shih <christinashih@comcast.net> wrote:

Since my last email I have also had a chance to review the Ocean Beach Master Plan in addition to my previous review of the SF Park and Rec Master Plan.

I would like to add my comment that in the Ocean Beach Master Plan complete closure of the GH to cars was not the recommendation after they considered the multipurpose needs (transit for cars, pedestrians, bicyclists, recreational, wildlife protection, coastal erosion). They recommended narrowing of the GH, not complete closure, and acknowledged that there was going to need to be major mitigation efforts (beyond speed cushions, bollards, turn restrictions) but improvements to alternative routes (19th and Sunset Blvd), traffic analysis and improvements to the immediate neighborhood. The D4 mobility study eliminated this option for cost/benefit reasons and recommended complete opening or complete closing of the GH to cars so the two initiatives seem to be at cross purposes. Not to mention the SF Park and Rec Master Plan that also stated that the Great Highway should be maintained for non-park traffic which is currently being violated.

Transit needs for parents with children, education and after school activities, workers, people needing to go to medical and other appointments, access for emergency responders should not be given second priority to recreational users. 18,000 users/day vs 4,000 (if that is really an accurate number) seems to make it obvious as to which group of people actually USE the Great Highway. There are many other opportunities for recreational walking and biking, not so many for efficient commuting by car/truck without negative impacting neighborhood streets not designed for 18,000 cars/day.

I join Kid Safe SF and countless other organizations and residents in urging you to approve a pilot that extends the Walkway's life beyond the emergency health order.

The SFCTA's survey showed that about 80% of San Franciscans support a promenade in some form, with a majority of San Franciscans supporting a four-lane promenade 24 hours per day, 7 days per week. SFMTA's data shows that at least 6,000 people are using The Great Walkway daily. It's clear that the majority of San Franciscans love The Great Walkway and want it to be kept alive.

Concerns about car traffic in the Sunset are valid, and SFMTA's work with Supervisor Mar has had a positive effect on calming car-traffic and diverting it to the arterials (Sunset Blvd. and 19th Ave.), and traffic-calming efforts should continue to ensure Sunset residents are safe. With that said, data shows that collisions in the Sunset are down more than 30% from before the pandemic — traffic-calming measures are working, and will continue to have positive impacts on the Sunset. Furthermore, Director Maguire has publicly stated that Sunset Boulevard and 19th Avenue can both take more car-traffic capacity.

Concerns about north-south traffic to/from the Richmond are valid, and there are a number of things that can be done to address these concerns and improve north-south access to/from the Richmond. These include, but are not limited to, diverting car-traffic from Chain of Lakes to Crossover Drive and Great Highway, improving/increasing north-south bus service, and optimizing traffic-signal timing on Sunset Boulevard. Solutions to these concerns are feasible and effective — we don't need to give in to demands of a small but vocal mob of car drivers who think the only solution is to use more public space for car traffic throughout our city.

It's important to address concerns about the Great Highway closure, but the answer is not to kill the Great Walkway and put cars back on that public space.

I join Kid Safe SF and countless other organizations and residents in urging you to approve a pilot that extends the Walkway's life beyond the emergency health order.

Thank you, and please take care.

Dear Commissioners, Directors, General Manager Ginsburg, and Director Tumlin,

I agree with everything in the letter below, but I would like to preface it with my own personal experience.

About this time last year, my wife and I were adjusting to life during the pandemic working from home, venturing outside carefully as much as we could. We live in the Tenderloin, far from any open green space. When Page became a slow street we bought bikes and started regularly riding to Golden Gate Park.

Closing JFK and the Great Highway expanded our ability to safely travel through the city. Golden Gate Park and the Great Highway are these incredible urban oases now. Every time we go we see thousands of people enjoying these spaces. We see countless children learning to skate or ride bikes. During the pandemic I also started running and am now training for the SF marathon on these two amazing car-free spaces.

It would be tragic to take these away as the pandemic winds down. As people return to the city and to “normal” life, it will be even more important to have safe, accessible places to exercise and decompress. Removing cars from the Great Highway has created an amazing new space that makes this city so much more pleasant to live in. I urge you to approve the extended car-free pilot for car-free Great Highway and eventually make it permanent. Thank you!

Dear Commissioners, Directors, General Manager Ginsburg, and Director Tumlin,

Be the leaders you were elected to be and LEAD us. Take the steps we need to meet the urgency of the moment. As a longtime lower Great Highway homeowner and resident, as a car owner, as a parent, as a San Franciscan - I am calling on you to keep a 24/7 extension of the Great Highway Park while we study the full impact and potential solutions. You have done the research and the data are clear: a 24/7 promenade is the best option from every angle. The city survey says that a 24/7 promenade is the most popular option (2:1 over returning to a dangerous, polluting 4 lane highway through a national park). Traffic collisions and injuries are down 30% in D4, according to TransBase. Air quality is cleaner. The Great Highway Park is the 2nd most popular/used park space after Golden Gate Park in the entire city.

San Franciscans want you to extend the park, 24 hours a day, 7 days a week. It is the best decision for the city, for the environment, for the people...Only allowing the park to exist on weekends means that people like myself - who have switched to clean bicycle commuting thanks to the park - will not have the ability to safely commute to work during the week. You would be unfairly prioritizing car commuters over those of us that commute via other, cleaner means (bikes, skateboards, scooters, walking, etc) - mode-shifting that we MUST encourage if we are to meet the climate goals we have set for our city.

It's 2021 - nearly 100 years since the first roadway was built along the ocean. Things look different now. Let's invest in creative traffic and transit solutions to address the few bottlenecks that exist, rather than reverting to a polluting and dangerous 4 lane highway through a national park. This moment calls for forward looking leadership that can help San Franciscans boldly meet the moment, with creativity and resilience.

Take a leap on a legacy and make the Great Walkway a permanent promenade along Ocean Beach, and a world-class green commuting, recreation, and community space for all.

Thanks so much for listening!

Dear Commissioners, Directors, General Manager Ginsburg, and Director Tumlin,

I live in Sunnyside (District 7), and am joining Kid Safe SF and the Great Highway Park initiative in urging you to support a full-time closure of the Great Highway during the proposed pilot period, to extend the Great Walkway's life beyond the end of the pandemic. A weekend/weekday compromise is simply not enough.

A compromise with cars decimates safety benefits for thousands of people who are either not able to come on the weekends, or who need places to walk, roll, and enjoy our city's waterfront on weekdays: senior citizens who walk every day, people with disabilities, who need safe, smooth, flat surfaces to roll without cars, people who work non-traditional M-F job schedules, and neighbors who rely on a safe route to school or work by foot, scooter, or bike on the walkway.

Personally, on my maternity leave last year, I spent many lonely weekday mornings on the waterfront walking my newborn in her stroller -- there are few flat, smooth spaces in San Francisco that a new mom can get roll a stroller and get some fresh air without the pollution and noise caused by cars in our city. We often take our kids to the Walkway after school so my 5 year old can ride his bike and go to the beach, which we WOULD NOT EVER do if there were cars on the roadway -- it would be unsafe with small children, and the path on the side is not wide enough or smooth enough to support the volume of traffic the walkway sees today.

Compromise is possible, but the compromise should be redirecting funds for traffic calming in the neighborhood, and improving the experience for car commuters on the several other existing highways in the Sunset (Sunset Blvd and 19th). Car drivers have 48 north-south routes through the Sunset to use 24/7 already, while people who walk and bike and roll have ZERO safe routes. The real compromise is giving just one short stretch of road back to people for a safe, protected space to get north-south.

Let's not compromise our city's values of prioritizing transit, protecting the climate, and showing the world how beautiful and forward-thinking cities can be. Putting cars back on the road AT ALL is a step backwards for safety, the climate, our most vulnerable populations, and most of all, our vision for the future of San Francisco.

I join Kid Safe SF and countless other organizations and residents in urging you to approve a pilot that extends the Walkway's life every day of the week beyond the emergency health order.

Thank you,

Hello Land Use and Transportation Committee,

On behalf of over 1,000 San Francisco Travel Association businesses in the tourism industry, I am writing to support the Shared Spaces Legislation and the Small Business Recovery Act. The pandemic has negatively impacted San Francisco and our industry and both pieces of legislation will help give businesses new opportunities to thrive, offer new experiences to visitors, and support our entire city in economic recovery.

Attached, please find letters of support for each legislation.

Thank you.

Dear Mayor Breed, Director Ginsburg, and Director Tumlin, Recreation and Park Commissioners, and Board of Supervisors,

I love the new, Kid Safe JFK, and want it to stay!

San Francisco needs safe, inclusive, joyous public spaces for everyone, now more than ever. Parks with protected public spaces are where residents and visitors of San Francisco can be active, enjoy nature, and spend time with friends and family. Thanks to you, people of all ages, backgrounds and abilities have been flocking to JFK to enjoy the most vital protected public space in the heart of San Francisco.

If it's safe for kids, it's safe for everyone.

But I have become aware that this protected space for kids in Golden Gate Park is at risk of turning back into one of the most dangerous streets in San Francisco. JFK was previously a high-injury corridor, with 5-10 people being injured or killed on the street every year.

Just last month, a woman was hospitalized with life-threatening injuries when crossing from the safe JFK promenade to the Panhandle. Director Tumlin said a "more protective crossing" is "contingent" on what the city does with JFK Drive.

I'm writing today to urge you to support keeping JFK Kid Safe and car free permanently.

I have heard that the museums are concerned about free public parking and ADA access, and Recreation and Parks reports there are over 3,500 free public parking spaces in Golden Gate Park, most concentrated near the museums, along with countless more free parking spots along Fulton and Lincoln. Surely there are ways to solve for ADA access — like the garage built for the museums — that don't put children and seniors at risk, and ruin the oasis that has been created in the Park. The city and the museums can find a solution that does not destroy the most important protected space in the heart of Golden Gate Park.

The kids of San Francisco love JFK, and I do too!

Can we count on you, and are you willing to publicly support keeping JFK and Golden Gate Park Kid Safe?

Thanks to you, people of all ages, backgrounds and abilities have been flocking to JFK to enjoy the most vital protected public space in the heart of San Francisco.

If it's safe for kids, it's safe for everyone.

But I have become aware that this protected space for kids in Golden Gate Park is at risk of turning back into one of the most dangerous streets in San Francisco. JFK was previously a high-injury corridor, with 5-10 people being injured or killed on the street every year.

Just last month, a woman was hospitalized with life-threatening injuries when crossing from the safe JFK promenade to the Panhandle. Director Tumlin said a "more protective crossing" is "contingent" on what the city does with JFK Drive.

I'm writing today to urge you to support keeping JFK Kid Safe and car free permanently.

I have heard that the museums are concerned about free public parking and ADA access, and Recreation and Parks reports there are over 3,500 free public parking spaces in Golden Gate Park, most concentrated near the museums, along with countless more free parking spots along Fulton and Lincoln. Surely there are ways to solve for ADA access — like the garage built for the museums — that don't put children and seniors at risk, and ruin the oasis that has been created in the Park. The city and the museums can find a solution that does not destroy the most important protected space in the heart of Golden Gate Park.

The kids of San Francisco love JFK, and I do too!

Can we count on you, and are you willing to publicly support keeping JFK and Golden Gate Park Kid Safe?

Dear San Francisco Supervisors,
I have been increasingly appalled at the one-sided and deeply ableist media coverage of the JFK Drive closure issue. It has both reflected and fuelled the most bald-faced, aggressive and concerted ableism I have ever encountered in my nearly seventy years of life as a person with cerebral palsy.

There is widespread opposition to the closure of JFK Drive throughout San Francisco, but the voices of opposition are being drowned out by members and allies of the Bicycle Coalition who have commandeered the press to their cause.

But, closing JFK Drive permanently would effectively mean that people with disabilities who cannot independently ride on Muni, and then walk or roll far enough from the bus stop, will never again be able to visit nearly all of the most famous and most popular attractions in Golden Gate Park. It would be a gross and utter violation of our access rights, and our civil rights.

I am writing to formally request that you include the petition, "Keep Golden Gate Park Open to Everyone Re: Open JFK Drive" in the Board of Supervisors' list of petitions, communications and letters.

Here below is a link to this petition, which already has nearly 850 signatures.

Hello again, Michael.

I'm forwarding another article I received today describing the closing of the main road that runs through Golden Gate Park. Apparently that main roadway will be closed every day of the week.

I'm a grandparent who drives from Sonoma County, picks up my wife and grandsons in Marin, and drives to San Francisco and park in one of the wheelchair accessible parking spaces along John F. Kennedy Drive in Golden Gate Park so we can visit the Academy of Science or De Young Museum, which are both located in Golden Gate Park near where we would park, won't be able to do that any longer.

The City elected officials have completely ignored the voices of seniors and people with disabilities who have asked them repeatedly not to close the Park to them. I believe this is a civil rights issue that needs immediate attention and hope that you/Cal DOJ will contact the San Francisco Mayor's Office and let them know that the City has created an untenable situation with its decision to close portions of Golden Gate Park to vehicles.

Thank you.

Michael Newman, Chief
Civil Rights Division
Department of Justice, State of California

Dear Mr. Newman,

I am writing in support of the complaint filed by Mr. Planthold, Ms. Bruckner, and Howard Chabner concerning the permanent closure of JFK Drive in Golden Gate Park in San Francisco.

I became furious when I learned of the proposal to keep the eastern end of JFK closed permanently. I am disgusted by the selfishness and insensitivity of those who would make such a suggestion. As so well-stated by the aforementioned complainants, closing this part of JFK essentially closes it too all but the able-bodied - those able to walk or ride a bike, scooter, skateboard or any other non-motorized means of transportation. Cars have been so demonized in this bike-centric city that many overlook the importance of a vehicle to so many who are in need of them. People with mobility issues need a car to access the park, it's that simple. This should not even be up for discussion.

When my father was in his eighties, he had arthritis in his hips to the extent that he could barely walk. He loved the gardens at the Conservatory of Flowers and he loved to sit and look at not only the flowers, but to people gathered there. It was about more than going to the gardens for him; it was a social outlet as well. There was always parking directly in front of or near the Conservatory during the week, and it was such a treat to be able to take him there. We could not have done so without my car.

Closing this section of JFK is beyond inequitable; rather, it has moved into the realm of pure discrimination against those with mobility issues. I hope you will do everything you can to ensure that everyone, and not just a select few, can enjoy the beauty and peacefulness that is Golden Gate Park.

Sincerely,

This 2007 agreement was supposed to last for 5 years, from 2007 through into 2012, meaning from Newsom's 2nd term through into Ed Lee's first full term. An early indication of the disability-ignoring biases from City Hall, Rec & Park, MTA, et al. can be seen if you look at the list of signatories -- and what groups are NOT on it:

Mayor's Disability Council
SF Paratransit Council
Advisory Council to the [ then-] Commission on Aging
SF Childcare Council
Haight-Ashbury Neighborhood Council
ILRCSF
Lighthouse for the Blind
Senior Action Network--now Senior & Disability Action

Thus a look at an early example of this ongoing pattern -- that City hall and Rec & Park look at Golden Gate Park as primarily  $\frac{1}{2}$  for the able-bodied.

Dear Editors,

I'm writing to express my strong support for Ted Loewenberg's article calling for the immediate opening of John F. Kennedy Drive. As a 43-year resident of San Francisco who has a lifelong mobility disability, and a former longtime resident of West Portal, I'm not at all ready to give up my access to all the primary attractions in Golden Gate Park that are placed along JFK Drive!

I can no longer take Muni independently, and must rely on being driven to the museums, the Japanese Tea Garden, the Conservatory of Flowers, the Rhododendron Dell and Stow Lake, all of which are along JFK Drive.

Because I can no longer walk the distance from a faraway parking place, opening JFK Drive to vehicles and providing nearby parking are both essential for me, as they are for most disabled people, seniors, and families with children who must travel longer distances to reach the Park.

Golden Gate Park is not solely the private backyard garden of those who live nearby and/or have the physical stamina to bike to all the Park's attractions. It is not the private preserve of the affluent and fit! Golden Gate Park belongs to ALL of us. Open JFK Drive now!

Dear Director Ginsburg, Mayor Breed, and Director Tumlin, Rec and Park Commissioners, and members of the Board of Supervisors,

Thank you for your continued support of Car-Free JFK! Having car-free space in our largest park has been an eye-opening and uplifting experience for me and countless other people in our city.

Writing to urge you to support keeping JFK car-free permanently — your support is needed now more than ever.

San Francisco deserves more people-first spaces where residents and visitors can be active, enjoy nature, and spend time with friends and family. People of all ages and abilities have been flocking to JFK to enjoy the car-free space.

Keeping JFK car-free would allow these people (and countless others) to get outside, enjoy nature, improve their health, and visit attractions in the Park.

Best of all, keeping JFK car-free would allow people of all ages, abilities, and means to access our beautiful park by whatever method they prefer — walking, biking, rolling, taking public transit, or driving a car — thanks to the ample access options, including buses, shuttles, the 3,000+ free parking spots throughout the Park and along Lincoln Way and Fulton Street, and the parking garages underneath the Music Concourse.

Finally, this 3+ mile car-free connection between the panhandle and ocean beach is a critical active-transportation corridor (walk, run, bike, scoot, roll) that encourages the most environmental and climate-conscious means of running errands, getting to work, visiting friends, and taking children to school.

Please join me, along with countless other residents and advocacy organizations, in supporting keeping JFK car-free forever.

Thanks again, and please take care.

Re: Support for Shared Spaces Legislation

May 20, 2021

Dear Supervisors Melgar, Peskin, and Preston,

On behalf of over 1,000 San Francisco Travel Association businesses in the tourism industry, I am writing to support the Shared Spaces Legislation. The pandemic has negatively impacted our industry, especially restaurants. Shared Spaces have given new life to our neighborhood corridors, created new experiences for residents and visitors, and gave San Francisco restaurants an opportunity to survive and thrive during the pandemic.

This legislation creates a consistent framework and guidelines for permitting, access, entertainment, and enforcement for all types of shared spaces. We understand that there are complexities to be worked out and we hope that you will support the program and the intent so that it can offer a long term activation on our streets.

Prior to the pandemic, San Francisco welcomed over 25 million visitors who spent over $10 Billion in hotels, restaurants, retail, and the arts. Visitor spend helped generate over $770 Million in taxes and fees and the industry employed over 80,000 people from the Bay Area. The Shared Spaces program has helped businesses weather the pandemic and this legislation offers a way for shared spaces to continue to benefit the communities they serve, as well as offer a new and safe experience for visitors of San Francisco.

Best regards,

Re: Support for Shared Spaces Legislation

May 20, 2021

Dear Supervisors Melgar, Peskin, and Preston,

On behalf of over 1,000 San Francisco Travel Association businesses in the tourism industry, I am writing to support the Small Business Recovery Act. The pandemic has had serious impacts on our industry and the small businesses that support it. It is critical that small businesses are given the flexibility and the support to recover so our entire city can recover together.

The Small Business Recovery Act includes components that will have a direct and positive impact on the tourism industry. This legislation will expand Prop H's streamlined permitting process to Union Square, downtown, and SoMA, which are key visitor areas, as well as expedite the process for bars and nighttime entertainment to receive permits, while still allowing community input. The Act's increased flexibility also allows for small businesses to use rooftop spaces, creating new experiences for residents and visitors. Additionally, this legislation supports arts and culture venues by expanding business hours for live performances. All of these components will help businesses recover and demonstrate that San Francisco is open and ready to welcome visitors.

Prior to the pandemic, San Francisco welcomed over 25 million visitors who spent over $10 Billion in hotels, restaurants, retail, and the arts. Visitor spend helped generate over $770 Million in taxes and fees and the industry employed over 80,000 people from the Bay Area. The Small Business Recovery Act will help jumpstart our economy, provide job opportunities, and welcome visitors back to San Francisco.

Best regards,

Joe D'Alessandro

Subject: Keep JFK Kid Safe & Car Free

This message is from outside the City email system. Do not open links or attachments from untrusted sources.

Dear Mayor Breed, Director Ginsburg, and Director Tumlin, Recreation and Park Commissioners, and Board of Supervisors,

I love the new, Kid Safe JFK, and want it to stay!

San Francisco needs safe, inclusive, joyous public spaces for everyone, now more than ever. Parks with protected public spaces are where residents and visitors of San Francisco can be active, enjoy nature, and spend time with friends and family. Thanks to you, people of all ages, backgrounds and abilities have been flocking to JFK to enjoy the most vital protected public space in the heart of San Francisco.

If it's safe for kids, it's safe for everyone.

But I have become aware that this protected space for kids in Golden Gate Park is at risk of turning back into one of the most dangerous streets in San Francisco. JFK was previously a high-injury corridor, with 5-10 people being injured or killed on the street every year.

Just last month, a woman was hospitalized with life-threatening injuries when crossing from the safe JFK promenade to the Panhandle. Director Tumlin said a "more protective crossing" is "contingent" on what the city does with JFK Drive.

I'm writing today to urge you to support keeping JFK Kid Safe and car free permanently.

I have heard that the museums are concerned about free public parking and ADA access, and Recreation and Parks reports there are over 3,500 free public parking spaces in Golden Gate Park, most concentrated near the museums, along with countless more free parking spots along Fulton and Lincoln. Surely there are ways to solve for ADA access — like the garage built for the museums — that don't put children and seniors at risk, and ruin the oasis that has been created in the Park. The city and the museums can find a solution that does not destroy the most important protected space in the heart of Golden Gate Park.

The kids of San Francisco love JFK, and I do too!

Can we count on you, and are you willing to publicly support keeping JFK and Golden Gate Park Kid Safe?

Please keep it for individuals to enjoy! Best,
Alexis

As a senior living close to Twin Peaks in the Miraloma District, I along with my family very much hope that Twin Peaks can become an even better place for the neighborhoods close-by, for the our city, for all ages, and for the thousands of visitors that visit it from all over the world. I support the Re-Imagine Twin Peaks Resolution. We need better safety measures both in walking paths and roads, and we need staff on site to give information, tours and talks. We need volunteer projects, and we need shuttles to prevent so much car and bus traffic. We need safety and educational measures for children and seniors. Please support Re-Imagine Twin Peaks.

God bless you for loving our city!

Sincerely,
Louise Hamre

I support the resolution that is urging the Recreation and Park Department, Municipal Transportation Agency, Real Estate Division, and Public Works to work collaboratively on a long-term Recovery and Revitalization Plan. This process will involve immediate neighbors and community stakeholders, to re-imagine Twin Peaks and identify resources to improve accessibility, safety, cleanliness, environmental sustainability, and the ability to build upon a welcoming environment for residents and tourists alike.

Dear Mayor London Breed and the SF Board of Supervisors,

Re: Miraloma Park Neighborhood Involvement in the Long Range Plan to Re-Envision Twin Peaks

The Board of the SF Miraloma Park Improvement Club wishes to voice our unanimous support for the efforts to create a long-range plan to re-envision Twin Peaks and its natural areas.

MPIC strongly supports the Board of Supervisors in their resolution of May 17th for the various SF City Departments to think creatively by working with the small business community, the arts and cultural institutions, and others to develop a broad re-imagining of the potential future design and use of space in Twin Peaks. Most importantly for MPIC, we strongly support the Board of Supervisors to enforce the resolution that this project engages early and throughout the entire process with immediate neighbors, including Miraloma Park, and our community members in a collaborative process to address our safety and maintenance concerns.

Thank you for your attention in this matter.

I support the resolution urging the Recreation and Park Department, Municipal Transportation Agency, Real Estate Division, and Public Works to work collaboratively on a long-term Recovery and Revitalization Plan for Twin Peaks. As a neighbor of Twin Peaks and one who enjoyed being able to safely walk the mountain during the pandemic, I am especially interested in the City developing a comprehensive, long-range plan for this special area of San Francisco.

Development of the Plan will involve immediate neighbors and community stakeholders, allowing them to re-imagine Twin Peaks. Key to this work will be identifying resources to improve accessibility, safety, cleanliness, environmental sustainability for residents and tourists.

This message is from outside the City email system. Do not open links or attachments from untrusted sources.

Dear Mr. Carroll,

I'd like to submit public comment for tomorrow's meeting.

I live and work in San Francisco, based in the D8 Castro Neighborhood. My comment is in support of Agenda Item 1 (210459) Supporting the Establishment of a Compassionate Alternative Response Team (CART).

By 2016, the San Francisco Police Department faced significant criticism over a series of high-profile deaths and injuries caused by police, misconduct scandals, & negative assessments by a Civil Grand Jury investigation and a Blue Ribbon Panel (among others). Then-Supervisors London Breed and Malia Cohen, with Mayor Ed Lee, and SFPD asked the U.S. Department of Justice for a voluntary, top-to-bottom review of the San Francisco Police Department's practices.

In October 2016, the U.S. DOJ's COPS office (for "Community Oriented Policing Services") released the most comprehensive independent assessment of the San Francisco Police Department in city history. The 432-page report identified five areas of improvement in line with the principles of President Obama's Task Force on 21st Century policing. In total, the U.S. DOJ made 94 findings and 272 recommendations for improvement.

In 2017 then-U.S. Attorney General Jeff Sessions ended the U.S. DOJ's participation in collaborative reform partnerships nation wide. The San Francisco Police Department was the only major city police department to continue reforms as a voluntary state-level collaboration. Since 2018, SFPD has worked in partnership with the California Department of Justice and consultant Hillard Heintze, to implement the 272 recommendations.

An essential piece of the CRIs was to establish Working Groups with a wide range of stakeholders in the 5 areas of reform. The League of Women Voters participated in several of these working groups. Early on, the fundamental idea of CART was raised in those Working Groups. We need the community, not police alone, defining what safety is. Government works for us. For all of us. The police need to be transparent & accountable. Public Safety needs to be a collaborative effort. This is the most basic idea behind reform.

In January 2019, the San Francisco Police Commission passed a resolution that called for an end to police response to homelessness. It called for the Board of Supervisors to create a stakeholders' group to develop an alternative. Because 37% of San Francisco's homeless population are black (compared to just 5% of the city's total population), removing police from the city's response to homelessness is also a racial justice issue.

CART was born from the city's community policing commitment.

Meetings started Feb 2020 under the leadership of Police Commissioner John Hamasaki to design an inclusive community process. Delayed for a few months when the pandemic hit, the formal process started in July 2020. A detailed plan was generated (which of course is open to negotiation as part of the implementation process): <https://www.cartsf.org/our-plan#h.dlldrrta9glp>

YES! There are other slowly growing pilot programs run by government for a non-police (but still government) response to non-criminal calls for service. CART is the only one which is by and for the community. We need *more* responders & we need this *very different* design.

Given all the work that has gone into this, shouldn't CART be a shining example of San Francisco's community policing approach? Why would you refuse to fund the program you asked San Franciscans to create? And you'd be completely missing the point if you instead made this a government program, when a grassroots community program was how it was designed.

Hello Mr. Carroll,

My name is Joshua Redel, I am a San Francisco Resident in Bernal Heights, and I would like to provide written comment in advance of the June 10 Public Safety and Neighborhood Services Committee Meeting starting at 10am. Here is what I'd like to say:

- I've called 311 many times in the hopes of getting help for unhoused people from the Homeless Outreach Team. Usually, the team's guidelines around not approaching people using drugs prevented them from taking action. Further, it was extremely time consuming to get a hold of the HOT in the first place, requiring multiple transfers and arcane knowledge of the government phone systems. Often I would just give up and call 911.
- CART is the clear, logical, community-endorsed alternative to street policing. This item can be funded by reworking proposed funding for the proposed new Street Wellness Team or by reducing police and sheriff funding. CART would give unhoused people needed resources while providing a direct line for housed and unhoused San Franciscans to call for help.
- There needs to be a reallocation in the SFPD budget, and 4.8 million dollars of the reduction should go to funding CART - in addition to the 2 million dollars that are already on reserve for an alternative response to policing.

Thanks,
Joshua Redel

Supervisors,

This morning the legislative committee of the San Francisco Council of District Merchants Associations (SFCDMA), representing 34 merchant associations, voted to support the Free Muni pilot. We hope small businesses can count on your support for this much needed investment in our city's public transportation network which would in particular benefit youth, low income customers, and retail & restaurant workers.

Small businesses like mine are located in neighborhood commercial corridors which are designed to be transit rich destinations and which have seen substantially reduced foot traffic due to the pandemic. Our bar restaurant, the Alembic, and independent bookstore, the Booksmith, rely on foot traffic and a vibrant commercial corridor to meet our rent obligations & pay our staff. We believe that a three month Free Muni pilot will be a significant boost at a critical time in our small businesses' economic recovery.

We also support increasing the service levels of transit lines and believe that the Free Muni pilot will provide an important "test" period to learn about how reducing fares impact ridership across the city. Thank you for your consideration & in advance for your support of small businesses in your district and citywide.

Sincerely,
Christin

Dear Supervisor Melgar,

I am writing to you as a worker in SF to strongly urge you to support Supervisor Preston and Haney's ordinance for a three-month Free Muni pilot. The pandemic continues to burden disproportionately the working-class residents of our city and people of color, many of whom are our essential and front-line workers -- nurses, janitors, grocery store workers, restaurant staff, delivery drivers, security guards, shelter workers, and many more -- who have given so much to our community throughout this pandemic.

We must take bold steps to meet our Transit First mandate and bring public transit back strong. That means ramping up service, investing in operators and making Muni free. We must do all three. Fortunately, with renewed federal investments, we can do just that. Free Muni is a key part of the path forward. We should pilot this now, in the pandemic, to get people back on Muni, put money back in struggling workers' pockets, and jumpstart our recovery. Piloting Free Muni in this way won't cost a lot, and will show the benefits to our public transportation system and our overall recovery.

The pandemic has had unprecedented rippling economic effects at the national, state, and local level. Transit ridership is at a historic low, fare revenue has plummeted, and people are reluctant to get back on public transit a year into the pandemic. With lines suspended and riders nervous, Muni is a fraction of its former self and car usage is on the rise.

A Free Muni pilot will:

- Boost ridership during a time when ridership is at all time low
- Save frequent MUNI riders at least $81 a month
- Reduce traffic congestion
- Help the city reach their vision zero and climate goals

I strongly urge you to join the organizations below to support Supervisor Preston and Haney's proposal for a three month Free Muni pilot. We are a Transit First city and should do everything possible to support riders and encourage ridership.

Dear Matt,

Your editorial misses the point. I already get free transit and always have with my employer. But due to the hours that I work, and the fact that the Twin Peaks tunnel is closed indefinitely makes free transit completely useless to me. I'd gladly pay $5 a ride, if I knew it was always going to show up, and be at least as fast as driving. (And I'm not going to ride a bike over Mount Sutro in the dark.)

You simply cannot torture people out of their cars. Transit has to be better, not make driving worse.

Jeff knows that I'm a huge fan of rail, having commuted with him for years to Stanford via a Caltrain, and on the Friday night party train. And he helped Stanford create a terrific network of Marguerite rapid shuttles to and from the train station, all free, but more importantly all very frequent, clean, and reliable on a consistent schedule. But ironically, all of us drove our cars to and from the 22nd Street Caltrain station, because there was no fast way to get to the station, and the Muni ride to the station took longer than getting all the way to Palo Alto, something that hasn't changed despite endless red lanes, road diets, parklets and speedbumps.

And Jeff, could you please re-open Church Street and have the J go downtown again? Enough is enough with the "slow streets." Enough with our neighbors all screaming at each other.

Piloting Free Muni in this way won't cost a lot, and will show the benefits to our public transportation system and our overall recovery.

The pandemic has had unprecedented rippling economic effects at the national, state, and local level. Transit ridership is at a historic low, fare revenue has plummeted, and people are reluctant to get back on public transit a year into the pandemic. With lines suspended and riders nervous, Muni is a fraction of its former self and car usage is on the rise.

A Free Muni pilot will:

- Boost ridership during a time when ridership is at all time low
- Save frequent MUNI riders at least $81 a month
- Reduce traffic congestion
- Help the city reach their vision zero and climate goals

I strongly urge you to join the organizations below to support Supervisor Preston and Haney's proposal for a three month Free Muni pilot. We are a Transit First city and should do everything possible to support riders and encourage ridership.

Dear Supervisor Melgar,

I am writing to you as a resident of San Francisco to strongly urge you to support Supervisor Preston and Haney's ordinance for a three-month Free Muni pilot. The pandemic continues to burden disproportionately the working-class residents of our city and people of color, many of whom are our essential and front-line workers -- nurses, janitors, grocery store workers, restaurant staff, delivery drivers, security guards, shelter workers, and many more -- who have given so much to our community throughout this pandemic.

We must take bold steps to meet our Transit First mandate and bring public transit back strong. That means ramping up service, investing in operators and making Muni free. We must do all three. Fortunately, with renewed federal investments, we can do just that. Free Muni is a key part of the path forward. We should pilot this now, in the pandemic, to get people back on Muni, put money back in struggling workers' pockets, and jumpstart our recovery. Piloting Free Muni in this way won't cost a lot, and will show the benefits to our public transportation system and our overall recovery.

Dear Supervisor Myrna Melgar,

My name is Eugene Alejo, a 2nd generation Filipino-American and a San Francisco native residing in District 11. I often come to District 7 for essential errands including grocery shopping at Stonestown, Whole Foods and the newly opened H-Mart at Oceanview Village. I also commend your ongoing support for small businesses, particularly the extensive selection of Asian restaurants in District 7 including Go Go 7 on Ocean Avenue & Plymouth and Odumak on Taraval Street & 17th Avenue.

I am writing to you as a resident of San Francisco to strongly urge you to support Supervisor Preston and Supervisor Haney's ordinance for a three-month Free Muni pilot. While I am glad that the K Ingleside has just returned as a functioning streetcar, the ongoing pandemic continues to burden disproportionately the working-class residents of our city and people of color, many of whom are our essential and front-line workers -- nurses, janitors, grocery store workers, restaurant staff, delivery drivers, security guards, shelter workers, and many more -- who have given so much to our community throughout this pandemic. As an essential worker who recently returned to working in-person, it also burdens me to spend an extra $81.00 per month on a Clipper Muni pass. I understand that some companies offer transit benefits and some may qualify for free or reduced muni fare, however most folks in San Francisco do not qualify due to extremely low income limits and do not have the privilege for pre-tax and reimbursed Muni fare.

We must take bold steps to meet our Transit First mandate and bring public transit back strong. That means ramping up service, investing in operators and making Muni free. We must do all three. Fortunately, with renewed federal investments, we can do just that. Free Muni is a key part of the path forward. Please kindly consider the Free Muni Pilot Program so that underserved Muni riders will benefit from a more equitable, reliable and financially accessible public transit system. I'll be happy to ride the K and 29 more often, once it becomes free for the time being and reliable in the coming months and years.

Hello members of the board,

My name is Gabriel Chan, San Francisco born and raised. I'm reaching out today, because like all of you, I care deeply about our city and Muni.

I graduated in 2020 from UCLA with a Master's degree in transportation policy and planning where my capstone project examined exactly this topic—how transit fares affect ridership in San Francisco.

Some board members have stated that the goal of establishing this fund for free transit is to boost ridership. If long-lasting and durable increased transit ridership is really the goal here, I recommend a different course of action.

The primary factors that drive increased ridership are quality and reliability of service, safety, cleanliness, and the cost of available alternatives. In past surveys, Muni riders consistently say their top priorities are better service, enforcement, and cleanliness.

In a 1990 study by Robert Cervero, transportation planning expert at UC Berkeley, he finds that riders are largely not sensitive to changes in fare rates and methods of payment. And much more sensitive to things like the quality of service and the cost of driving and parking.

If we want to make transit more accessible to low-income San Franciscans, we can expand SFMTA's already well-established free and discounted Muni programs.

And if you want to use these funds to bolster transit ridership, you should direct them towards initiatives that have decades of research behind them. Things like fast-tracking transit reliability projects in your districts or establishing a congestion pricing scheme—something long overdue.

In the end, any investment in Muni is a good one. But I'm afraid the benefits of a free Muni pilot program will be minimal and fleeting. I urge you to reconsider and redirect these funds to initiatives that will result in a meaningful transit ridership recovery beyond even pre-pandemic levels.

Thank you.

Mayor Breed, Supervisor Preston,
Mayor, right now, from my daily experience on multiple lines, the citizens that are riding muni are low income, unhoused, and those that are still travelling for essential services. Costco, grocery stores, and SF General.

<https://sfist.com/2021/05/26/breed-says-shell-veto-free-muni/>

"The mayor believes we need to return Muni to full service to support our economic recovery, especially for our lower income communities before we use precious general fund dollars to provide free rides for those who don't need it," said the mayor's spokesperson Jeff Cretan, in a statement.

"The Board has messed with the wrong mayor."

(This statement to me, signals the Mayor is essentially trying to run a rogue independent city, it's her corrupt appointments, her rules of who gets what, who stays, who gets services, who gets harassed out..much like Palm Springs City Manager David Ready ran Palm Springs for 21 years)

SUGGESTION: for three months, EVERY Supervisor, every City department head, and the top two-three layers of their direct reports should be REQUIRED to ONLY use Muni to get to and from work, and to get to and from meetings during their work day. No escorts, no protection, just on their own with their backpack and phone. Direct experience is the only way ANY of them will understand what the rest of us face.

I live in the Bayview, and used the T to commute to my downtown job. Before that I lived in the Mission and rode the 14. Currently I work from home but eventually we will all be back in the office.

ANYONE who thinks making Muni free is going to help anything has not used the system, certainly not in the past 10-12 years. By my observation roughly one-half of riders do not pay, and they are mostly ones who from their attire and gadgetry could easily afford the fare. Combine that with the non-payers who are drunk, drugged up, suffering a mental breakdown, criminally aggressive, panhandling, dragging bags of refuse and otherwise problematic, and it is small wonder that ridership has dropped off.

Even before the pandemic I tried to avoid Muni - if I could catch a ride with my spouse who drives to work a half-mile from my job I would do that even if it meant being an hour early. And if I could afford it on my "average person" salary I'd try Lyft.

Muni's problems are not based on the fares being too high. They are based on a high level of toxic, scary riders, and a general level of filth that is up with the transit system in Mumbai and Delhi (where I spent time some years ago).

If you remove the last very small barrier to toxic riders, you will lose most of the rest but with no benefit to the riders who are clean and who pay.

To get more riders on Muni, make it safe and clean. Block those who are using Muni as a place to camp for a few hours. Block those who are hassling other riders, stealing and panhandling. Otherwise you will get more riders but they will be the "wrong" kind and the system will deteriorate further.

Most importantly, the Free Muni pilot will not impact the restoration of any lines in District 7. The timeline for lines to return is the sole decision of the MTA and this money is separate from the MTA operating budget.

The concerns you raised at the Board of Supervisors are no longer true. The MTA originally stated that the system could not handle the extra capacity because we were operating under COVID distancing restrictions that limited riders to about 50% of capacity, however, just last week at the TA meeting, the MTA shared that they plan to roll back social distancing and capacity restrictions by mid June, weeks before the pilot is set to begin. The timing of this pilot works perfectly with the lifting of restrictions which will dramatically increase capacity on our buses.

I strongly urge you to join the organizations below and vote to support Supervisor Preston and Haney's proposal for a three month Free Muni pilot. We are a Transit First city and should do everything possible to support riders and encourage ridership.

Dear Supervisor Melgar,

Today we write to you as residents of this city, as community members, and as organizations that serve San Francisco's most vulnerable communities: low-income and working-class families, immigrants, City College students, seniors, people with disabilities and those without homes to urge you to vote in support of Supervisor Preston and Haney's ordinance for a three-month Free Muni pilot.

The pandemic continues to burden disproportionately the working-class residents of our city and people of color, many of whom are our essential and front-line workers -- nurses, janitors, grocery store workers, restaurant staff, delivery drivers, security guards, shelter workers, and many more -- who have given so much to our community throughout this pandemic.

Free Muni would benefit 52% of low income riders earning under $45,000 a year, 73% under $75,000, and 84% under $100,000. As you know, the Free Muni pilot is one vote short of the eight votes needed to override a mayoral veto and as someone who committed to free muni during your campaign, we hope that you will reconsider your vote and support the pilot.

We must take bold steps to meet our Transit First mandate and bring public transit back strong. That means ramping up service, investing in operators and making Muni free. We must do all three. The Free Muni pilot will not affect the MTA's timeline for restoring service and their 2-year budget, which is fully funded as a result of the large infusion of federal recovery funds.

The pandemic has had unprecedented rippling economic effects at the national, state, and local level. Transit ridership is at a historic low, fare revenue has plummeted, and people are reluctant to get back on public transit a year into the pandemic. With lines suspended and riders nervous, Muni is a fraction of its former self and car usage is on the rise.

A free Muni pilot will:

- Boost ridership during a time when ridership is at all time low
- Save frequent MUNI riders at least $81 a month
- Reduce traffic congestion
- Help the city reach their vision zero and climate goals

With that, we urge your support of Supervisor Preston and Haney's proposal for a three month free Muni pilot. We are a transit first city and should do everything possible to support riders and encourage ridership.

THERE'S NOTHING FREE ABOUT "FREE MUNI"

By: Bob Feinbaum

President, SaveMUNI

Date: June 8, 2021

There is no such thing as free Muni. Someone always has to pay, and in the case of this ill-advised proposal by two Supervisors, it will be the entire city of San Francisco.

Sure, providing free rides will bump up ridership for two months. But it won't help Muni long-term, and it will have some negative consequences.

What about Muni operators who already have a tough job ? Does anyone seriously think that they won't be subject to more abuse when passengers have to be told that the service is no longer free after this summer ?

It's a bad precedent to give a benefit and then take it away. Marketers may give out samples to introduce a new product. Burt Muni is hardly new. And riders are unlikely to notice improvements that would make them continue riding after the free period.

Over and over again surveys of transit riders show that they want safe, reliable, convenient and frequent service. Especially if Muni hopes to attract riders who have access to cars (or can pay for Ubers) those are the characteristics that will increase ridership, not temporary free passes.

Of course the MTA will lose some revenue from giving out rides. But of more importance, Muni proposes to use the money, slated to come from its reserves, to restore service with a goal of returning to pre-pandemic levels. That will have much more of an impact than temporary free rides.

With all the talk of equity it is strange that those parts of the city now shut out from Muni service wouldn't be accorded the right to have service restored. After all they have been paying taxes to support the service all along.

Last but not least, it is unclear whether the Board of Supervisors even has the authority to direct a line item budget expenditure by the Muni. Theirs is only the power to vote the entire MTA budget up or down.

By all means Mayor Breed should follow through on her intention to veto this political stunt, and instead direct that money be used to restore Muni service to pre-pandemic levels.

Hello Supervisor,

I live in District 7 and am seeking your vote for the Free MUNI pilot program on Tuesday.

The program would take cars off the road, consequently it would reduce carbon emissions. If MUNI were free, I would use my car much less than I do. Others like me would use MUNI more often, which would solve the current problem of low ridership.

Another reason to support Free MUNI is that the costs of collecting fares and enforcement would produce a great saving to the City. Most importantly, a Free MUNI program would create the kind of social and racial equality that you often speak about, because it would normalize public transit for all classes and racial groups.

Thanks for considering. I hope I can count on your support.

Dear Mayor Breed, Supervisor Walton, Commissioner Cohen, Director Davis, and Director Simley:

RE: First Quarter 2021 Report per Chapter 96A, Law Enforcement Reporting Requirements and Crime Victim Data Reporting

As required by Administrative Code Chapter 96A, the San Francisco Police Department (SFPD) is submitting the attached Quarterly Activity and Data Report (QADR).

The 96A quarterly information and comparisons provide an opportunity to analyze the progress of reforms indirectly correlated with policing engagements. In 2016, the Board of Supervisors voted unanimously to pass local legislation supporting police reforms and specified law enforcement reporting requirements pertaining to stops, searches, arrests, uses of force, and alleged bias-related complaints. The data outlined in this report is an effort to continue meeting a quantitative analysis of the 1st quarter data, utilizing a basic population benchmark against police districts and activities.

We appreciate the San Francisco Board of Supervisors commitment to the San Francisco Police Department's reform process and data transparency. We believe these efforts are in alignment with the values of our department and create a closer step to re-envisioning policing.

If you have any further questions, please do not hesitate to contact me or my staff, Director of Policy and Public Affairs, Diana Oliva-Aroche at diana.oliva-arocha@sfgov.org. # Quarterly Activity and Data Report Executive Summary Quarter I 2021

The Racial and Identity Profiling Act of 2015 (AB953) took effect on January 1, 2016 and requires California law enforcement agencies to collect and report data to the Office of the California Attorney General. The requirements of Assembly Bill 953 include reporting on any complaints alleging racial or identity profiling and detailed demographic data for traffic and pedestrian stops.

In 2016 the City and County of San Francisco also passed local legislation to support the police reform efforts of the San Francisco Police Department. The Board of Supervisors voted unanimously on an ordinance that established Administrative Code Sec. 96A (Law Enforcement Reporting Requirements) and specified reporting requirements for the San Francisco Police Department (SFPD). The Quarterly Activity and Data Report (QADR) (previously named the “96A report,” short for the Administrative Code Sec. 96A: Law Enforcement Reporting Requirements) was developed to (and still serves to) meet the quarterly reporting requirements and includes data pertaining to stops, searches, arrests, use of force and alleged bias-related complaints.

The data presented in this report can, in part, be used to evaluate the effectiveness of current police reforms undertaken by the San Francisco Police Department. The information is also utilized internally to identify areas of disproportionate contact and to inform and improve policies, training, and tactics in policing.

Additionally, in Quarter Three of 2020, the Department started conducting quarterly in-depth quantitative analysis with rotating scope and topic and included references to academic research on the topic of disparities in policing.

This report represents part of SFPD’s ongoing commitment to delivering Safety with Respect, advancing reforms, and increasing trust and transparency.

Although the report serves to satisfy the requirements in Administrative Code Sec. 96A: Law Enforcement Reporting Requirements, it also represents a best practice in accountability and transparency, as identified by President Obama’s Task Force on 21st Century Policing.

This report provides analysis of data captured from January 1, 2021 through March 31, 2021.

The questions of discrimination and racial bias remain prevalent across different domains such as employment, education, healthcare and criminal justice, and includes policing. Statistics continue to show racial disparities in which people of color, particularly African American males, are overrepresented throughout the criminal justice system. Disproportionate contact and representation in the criminal justice system remains an institutional issue and one that police agencies must acknowledge and work to mitigate.

This section discusses what SFPD data shows regarding contact with police among various demographics, identifies some of the factors that may contribute to policing disparities, and proposes a framework and approach to understand and reduce the impact of these contributing factors, leading to potential reduction of disparate police contact.

SFPD Data Review

As discussed and demonstrated in the Executive Summary of this report, and in the full report, SFPD's contact with African American and Latinx populations is disproportionate. A few charts below show reason for future optimism, but more noticeably, illustrate the extent of disparities in police contact since the initial collection of these data. We highlight stops, searches, and uses of force because they reflect the interactions most discussed in the public or are recommended metrics by academic experts.

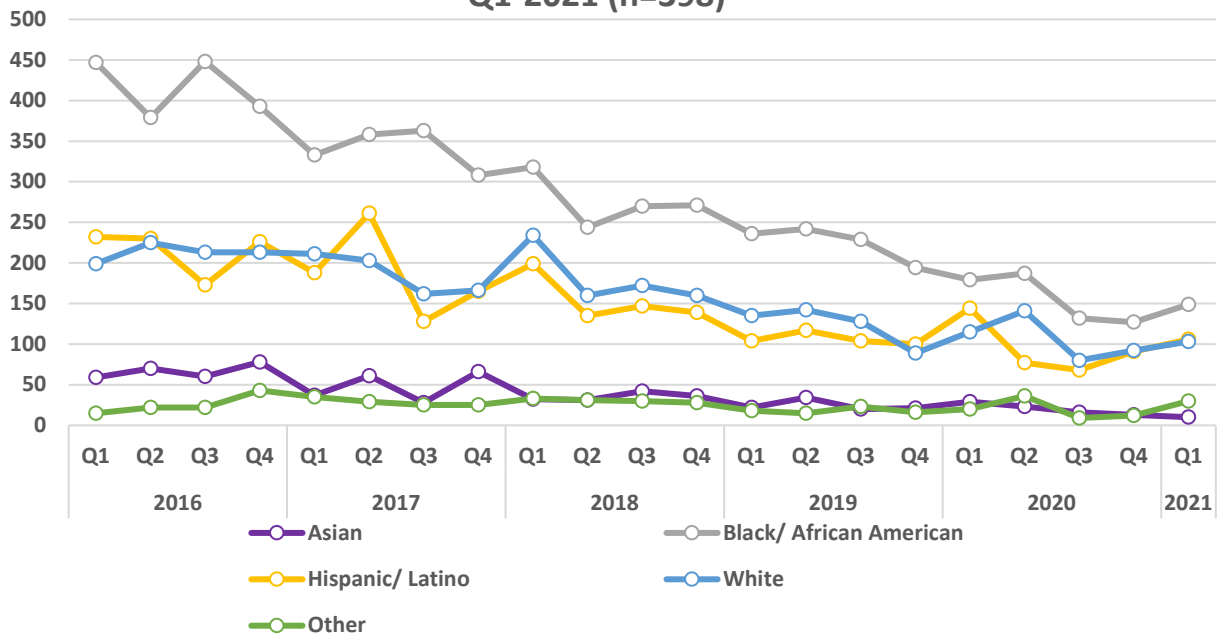

As shown in the charts, African Americans represent the highest number of searches and uses of force, despite being the second most stopped.

Searches by Perceived Race

Use of Force by Race/Ethnicity Q1-2021 (n=398)

The below charts show that when comparing the portion of these contacts to the representation in San Francisco residents and against other demographics, the indications of disparity appear even worse.

Factors Contributing to Disparities in Police Interactions

To understand and address these disparities, SFPD has partnered with the Center for Policing Equity (CPE) to examine SFPD data further, with more scientific rigor, in order to understand root causes. CPE has completed its first review and did find a link between interactions with police and race but could not identify a specific cause or series of causes of these disparities. The lack of data has been a partial roadblock to identifying root causes in San Francisco and many other jurisdictions. As a result, researchers have recommended additional data collection for agencies with which they have been in partnership and have worked with government bodies to craft legislation to mandate the capture of these data.

The Center for Policing Equity's (CPE) San Francisco Police Department City Report suggests, "additional research is needed to better understand the extent to which these disparities can be attributed to the actions of individual police officers, the culture and policies of the department, and the relationship between SFPD and the community...". These factors represent a starting point for developing approaches that may reduce disparities in police contact.

Academic-Based Framework for Addressing Disparities in Policing

SFPD has developed a framework for mitigating disparate impacts of those four factors outlined in CPE's Analytical Framework using approaches from research conducted in

Framework for Addressing Policing Disparities

Oakland by Dr. Jennifer Eberhardt and her Stanford research center and others being used in SFPD. The outline of this framework, and accompanying discussion, are below.

Policy Change Framework:

SFPD is during the first of an ongoing cycle of revisions to its policies that provide direction to personnel on how to approach all facets of their jobs, from detaining people to what is required to be worn while in uniform. This recommendation from the USDOJ Collaborative Reform Initiative Assessment Report (CRI) is vital to the Department's ability to continually update policies, incorporating new research, best practices, and requests of the community. As SFPD has made these changes, it is giving consideration to the following criteria:

- What are the impacts to various members of communities in San Francisco (i.e., is it an equitable policy)?
- Is there a need to add "friction"?
- Are there any objective standards that should be applied?

By asking the first question, SFPD is determining if the approaches used to enforce the law have resulted in equitable outcomes. An extreme example of this, for illustration purposes, would be if a policy were to mandate personnel stop and detain anyone observed in or with a minor traffic infraction (moving or otherwise). Resulting impacts may include a higher rate of stops and detentions of people trying to get to work sites not located near public transit and/or potentially people who cannot afford to maintain their vehicle as frequently or readily as others. These same people may not have the appropriate financial liability, or another enforceable issue only discovered during the detention. We know that public transit is not as widely available in poorer communities and communities of color. We also know that communities of color are disproportionately lower income. As a result, such a policy could impact communities of color more than others and, in the revision process, SFPD would adjust this policy.

Adding “friction” to a policy seeks to slow down the situation that officers might find themselves in. Research suggests that anyone in a high-intensity situation is flooded with stress hormones and more likely to make a mistake. In addition, stress hormones, combined with split-second decision-making, can trigger reliance on implicit biases, or underlying and unknown assumptions and stereotypes. SFPD is adding friction to its policies in two ways – slowing interactions down on the front end and requiring officers to articulate or document the reasons they are conducting an enforcement action.

One example, in policy, of slowing interactions down, is the emphasis on time, distance, and de-escalation tactics that are required in the SFPD’s Use of Force Policy. The Critical Mindset, Coordinated Response training puts this into practice, as well. This training instructs officers to initiate responses to critical incidents with planning and assigning roles to personnel on scene, officers must slow down and think about what kind of response the incident requires and how their role fits into that response. By slowing down the response, officers are provided thinking time. This thinking time reduces stress responses, thus reducing an officer’s reliance on “instinct,” which can include judgements based on implicit biases or stereotypes.

Another way SFPD is adding friction to its policies is by requiring personnel to articulate, with an activated body worn camera, in an incident report, or through other methods, any justification that is necessary to conduct an action. By asking officers to document this, through training and practice, they will think about what justifies the action they are about to take – whether they have reasonable suspicion or probable cause, for instance. By requiring these mental tests of our officers, a reliance on “instinct” is reduced and, again, less reliance on implicit biases or stereotypes.

Finally, SFPD is examining policies to ensure objective standards are included in the direction it gives to personnel when deciding. SFPD has applied this to its policy on Investigative Detentions, noting that personnel may not use ethnicity as the sole matching description of a suspect in their decision to detain someone. In forthcoming policy implementation related to searches, SFPD will be applying more specific search standards as well. These standards reflect a clearer and narrower articulation of the circumstances in which these enforcement actions may be taken. Inherently, objective standards require personnel to apply the same standards to everyone they encounter or upon whom they take enforcement action.

Future policy adjustments may include finding more ways to reduce threat (Critical Mindset, Coordinated Response training helps with this as well). This threat reduction would be another way to reduce stress response and the resulting effect of implicit biases on officers' actions.

Management and Leadership Direction

By monitoring and adjusting deployment decisions and ensuring both individual members of the Department and the Department itself is held accountable, management and leadership can reduce levels of institutionally influenced disparities.

Day to day direction from Management and Leadership provides the focus for enforcement actions taken by sworn personnel. This direction can take many forms, for example, visible presence in a commercial district during busy shopping seasons, surveilling bait cars in an area that has had increased vehicle break-ins, addressing open air drug dealing in an area such as the Tenderloin or Mission, or seeking a particular suspect with a particular description. In each of these types of deployment, interactions such as stops, will happen in varying quantities and with a variety of people. However, when management is asking personnel to conduct the same type of enforcement, in the same locations, and with the same type of approach, it will skew the number of interactions of a particular type and the demographics of people with whom personnel interact. Essentially, by directing officers to do certain work in certain places, management is imbedding patterns and trends into the interactions of personnel, and therefore into the data itself.

SFPD has been narrowing its enforcement action to those that are threats to the safety of the public. For example, as dangerous stunt driving events have increased in 2020 and 2021, SFPD developed an approach to enforcement that kept safety of the community at the highest priority. Traditional enforcement action might have intended to apprehend as many attendees of this type of event as possible. SFPD now seeks to end the event in a way that prevents participants from leaving at high speeds and apprehends only those who are actively participating.

SFPD is also launching the first phase of a systematic review of demographic data attributable to traffic-related stops at the district station level. Captains are expected to look at station-level data to identify trends in enforcement action that are higher for certain demographics than others. With this information, they will research the work assigned to personnel to determine whether those assignments are causing those higher instances of enforcement action. Captains may adjust directed enforcement to test whether the assignments change the demographic trends.

Accountability is key to ensuring adherence to the values of SFPD and the San Francisco community. The increase of accountability, no matter the type, raises the professionalism of and promotes fairness within any organization. To ensure conduct aligns to values, SFPD is updating its Standards of Conduct. Discipline is pursued when these standards are violated. A recent update to the guidance for imposing discipline reflects the emphasis on key values of the Department and San Francisco Community, such as...

Specific to efforts to reduce bias, SFPD prohibits the expression of explicit biases and holds personnel accountable to that prohibition. SFPD audits electronic platforms and pursues internal investigations and discipline, as necessary, when prohibited activity is found.

In addition, to ensure accurate and complete data for analysis of demographic disparities, SFPD has directed personnel how to complete stops data entries and use of force evaluations and entries. Use of force evaluations are returned should they not contain required information, and the originator of the evaluation is coached.

Build Better Relationships with the Community

Building better relationships with communities and members of communities will help SFPD build mutual trust, respect, and understanding. These elements are the foundation of police legitimacy. By expanding and making improvements to Community Policing efforts and implementing the recommendations of the Collaborative Reform Initiative, SFPD will improve its relationships with the communities it serves and interact with communities in a different way. SFPD expects that this difference will manifest, in partnership with the efforts outlined in other sections, as a reduction in disparities, among other benefits.

To build better relationships, SFPD is focusing on three improvements:

- Listening and responding to community preferences for enforcement methods
- Working collaboratively with more Community Based Organizations
- Increased/smarter community engagement events/efforts

The San Francisco Police Commission adopted a new Department General Order (DGO) 1.08 Community Policing, which formalizes, systematizes and codifies a long-standing practice among District Stations to use a Community Policing Advisory Board (CPAB) to share concerns of the community with District Station leadership. These groups serve to identify and resolve crime or other public safety issues in collaboration with each District Station.

This DGO also articulates guiding principles for community policing and establishes infrastructure and process for reviewing and improving practices in the Department. All these oversight and input bodies include members of the community to ensure that SFPD works in tandem with the community when making decisions and improvements.

SFPD's Crime Strategies Division (CSD) is also tasked with finding community-generated and community-led approaches to addressing crime as concerning trends develop in broader ways. For instance, as gun violence increased in 2020 and 2021, CSD worked with an academic and non-profit think-tank to review the characteristics of gun violence for commonalities. As the analysis was completed, SFPD is working with the same organization to work collaboratively with local community-based organizations to develop the best approach to address gun violence based on the trends and information found.

Finally, SFPD will be improving the use of community engagement events by surveying attendees to understand whether events built mutual respect and understanding.

Those events that suggest success will be encouraged to be replicated elsewhere in the Department. The events that are successful will receive the focus of efforts and be improved because of surveying.

In addition to these improvements, SFPD prioritized the completion of the implementation of Collaborative Reform Initiative recommendations. Many of those recommendations speak to the concepts in the above improvements and changes that are discussed throughout this report section. However, SFPD is also demonstrating legitimacy and trustworthiness by committing to implementing all recommendations and then abiding by that commitment. Furthermore, the USDOJ wrote in their assessment report of SFPD, “the goal ... is to ... [implement] and [sustain] ... reforms that increase public trust [emphasis added] through improvements in community policing practices, transparency, professionalism, and accountability...”.

Train Officers

The final group of efforts to address disparities has to do with building awareness among personnel of their implicit biases, how their biases impact their actions, and from where these biases may originate. SFPD is accomplishing this awareness-building through training of personnel.

SFPD began training on implicit biases in 2017, seeking to improve the approach and content for relevance to more members of the Department. In 2021, SFPD began using an evidence-informed technology-based approach for personnel to self-assess their implicit biases.

Since individual biases are tightly linked to societal influences, SFPD believes that providing US historical context, especially in policing, is critical to bringing awareness to personnel regarding the importance of mending and rebuilding relationships with the community, particularly with the African American community. As such, SFPD is in the beginning stages of developing a reading list and curriculum surrounding the history of US and San Francisco Law Enforcement.

Conclusion

SFPD is committed to making the changes necessary to mitigate the disparities shown in the analysis of police interaction data. It believes that training, building better relationships with the community, strong management, and leadership, and using a policy change framework as outlined will make improvements toward this goal. These changes, and their results, will mean SFPD is living up to its aspirational strategy statement:

SFPD stands for safety with respect for all. We will engage in just, transparent, unbiased, and responsive policing; do so in the spirit of dignity and in collaboration with the community; maintain and build trust and respect as the guardian of constitutional and human rights.

Throughout the first quarter of 2021, the City and County of San Francisco continued a downward trend with the number of positive COVID-19 cases which led to Governor Newsom lifting the “Regional Stay at Home” Order on January 25, 2021. Outdoor dining, personal services, and other non-essential activities had been prohibited since December. The City eventually advanced to the “Orange Tier” (the second least restrictive category) of California’s covid reopening plan, and most indoor businesses were able to resume with limited capacities. As a result of the City’s reopening and easing of covid restrictions, the Department has seen an overall increase in stops, searches, crimes, arrests, and calls for service compared to the previous three quarters. The extent to which data collected during the COVID19 prevention response are considered outliers remains to be seen, but caution is advised when comparing across quarters.

SEARCHES BY LEVEL OF DISCRETION – Sec. 96A.3(a)

The Department classifies the various types of searches into three categories: consent only searches, supervision searches, and other searches. Consent only searches require an officer to ask and receive consent to search. In such cases, officers have the most flexibility in determining who to search and include only those occurrences where consent is the only basis provided.

| Consent Only Searches                                           | Supervision Searches*                                                                                                   | Other Searches                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 |

Supervision searches include those that occur as a result of a search warrant, arrest or vehicle inventory. Other searches have a variable range of discretion and include reasons such as officer safety, suspected weapons, visible contraband, evidence of crime, etc.

The 1,963 total searches conducted in Q1-2021 were categorized below. Many of these incidents have more than one cause for search and are included in multiple categories.

- Consent Only Searches: 154 (29%)
- Supervision Searches: 1,017 (50%)
- Other Searches: 1,287 (37%)

Consent only searches have decreased 34% overall since Q1-2020.

Other searches have decreased 34% overall since Q1-2020.

SEARCH YIELD RATES

ARRESTS BY DISTRICT

It's important to note that arrests made by Department members at San Francisco International Airport are investigated by and reported as part of San Mateo County data and are not included in the City totals.

The "Outside SF/Other" category includes arrests made by Department members outside the jurisdiction of the City and County of San Francisco by the SFPD and arrests inside the City and County of San Francisco by agencies other than the SFPD that are captured by our Incident Reporting system.

Overall arrests made by Department members within the City and County of San Francisco jurisdiction declined in Q1-2021 compared to Q1-2020; however, Outside SF/Other arrests increased significantly by 156%. A majority of this increase is due to increased arrests by other agencies operating within the City and County of San Francisco.

The quarter over quarter comparison is likely impacted by the COVID 19 shelter in place order and may explain some of the significant decline as compared to 2020.

Population Benchmark Analysis, Per Capita Race/Ethnicity

The San Francisco Police Department received requests from various community key stakeholders to present a Per Capita population benchmark analysis. This analysis captures a particular race or ethnicity, as compared to their representation in a similar population of 1000 individuals. We adjust for population in our analysis by the race/ethnic demographic groups in our data. This analysis is compared within quarter four and all quarters with data available. A disparity analysis-the contrast between different race/ethnicity groups against each other- is also considered to generate a numerical comparison. This analysis may surface potential racial disparities when comparing policing activities with the various demographic groups. In all cases, a population benchmark analysis that presents results per capita will continue to retain challenges that any population benchmark may have and are noted below.

What is a benchmark?

A benchmark is a common frame of reference, created by comparing at least two sets of data to each other, to consider trends presented in the data and provide context to the data. In this analysis, we compare citywide population demographics against pre and post stop activities by SFPD, and then convert those contact ratios into a Per Capita (or by 1000) number.

Population Benchmark Weaknesses

As noted by the California Department of Justice in their RIPA 2021 report, “An assumption of this type of comparison is that the distribution of who is stopped would be like who resides within a comparable geographic region. However, this is not always the case, as people may travel a considerable distance from where they live for a number of reasons (e.g., to go to work, visit family).<sup>1</sup>” The assumption that who is included in police data should match the local residential population makes several assumptions that are not addressed in this analysis, and may reduce or increase comparative disparities noted in the analysis.

Comparing against residential population does not account for individuals who travel outside their home residential district in the residential population count, potentially causing over or under representation in the data<sup>2</sup>. For example, roughly 20%<sup>3</sup> of individuals booked into the San Francisco Jail system have home residences outside of SF. Should that proportion of non-SF residents continue to appear in the data, their presence may cause an overestimation or underestimation of disparities in the analysis.

Residential population demographics (in this case, Census ACS data) are categorized differently than SFPD and RIPA data standards.

When Racial & Identity Profiling Act (RIPA) board data is used, it is perceived demographic data being compared to self-reported demographics in the residential population data.

“Population counts generally overestimate bias in stop decisions, as differences in poverty, education, and labor market opportunities vary across identity groups in the U.S. Because education and employment affect criminal behavior, disparities along these dimensions will lead to disparities in who commits crime. In this way, pre-existing social disparities will tend to make the fraction of Black or Latinx people in the population smaller than the fraction of Black or Latinx people who are potentially subject to being stopped, overestimating any bias in a stop decision.<sup>4</sup>”

Despite these known limitations in working with population data within a benchmark, it does not mean analysis using a population benchmark is invalid. They should, however, be kept in mind when interpreting results of any population benchmark. Results of population benchmarks can inform future analysis’ and provide insight into potential disparities, trends, and differences between SFPD districts.

Population Benchmark Strengths

A key benefit in using a population data benchmark is the intuitive ease of understanding as compared to other benchmarks. Other benchmarking techniques can utilize univariate or multivariate statistical analysis that can be hard to explain succinctly and can quickly become overwhelming.

What did we do?

The SFPD took a citywide demographic dataset, generated by the US Department of Justice analysis in 2016, to serve as a population benchmark<sup>5</sup>. The percentage demographic representation in various data and generated a per capita (per 1000 residents) count along with a table and graph for each activity. Data used for comparison to the population benchmark and per capita calculation was gathered during the first quarter of 2021 (January 1, 2021 – March 31, 2021.). All available data was used for the historical per capita analysis, reaching back to either 2016 or the second half of 2018, depending on the dataset.

Then, all available prior year data was compared with overall trends per capita against types of SFPD activity, by demographic group.

Finally, we conduct a disparity analysis by comparing per capita demographic data for certain groups against each other to determine if disparate treatment may be occurring.

Specific Methodology Notes

In addition to the general challenges of a population benchmark, noted above, the SFPD would like to highlight the additional methodological notes for clarity and context.

- Census/ACS data considers “Hispanic” as an ethnicity, while the suspect, stops, searches, uses of force, and arrest data considers “Hispanic” as a race.
- Suspects per District: Crime Data Warehouse was searched for persons categorized as “Suspects” on police incident reports. Suspect demographic information may be developed from calls for service, or it may be developed at a subsequent point during investigation of an incident. All police incident reports (initial or supplemental) having a date value are included. Suspects with unknown race values are not included. While some suspects are subsequently arrested, and also listed as “booked” or “cited” on police incident reports, this category is not intended to include arrestees.
- Stops information provided reflects entries into the Stop Data Collection System (SDCS), a data collection tool provided by the California Department of Justice to assist departments in complying with AB953 and the RIPA Board’s data collection requirements. Stops information with regard to demographic data are perceptive data.
- Searches information provided reflects entries into the SDCS, with the same caveats as above.
- Uses of Force information provided reflects entries into the Department UoF Database and account for a distinct count of uses of force force, broken down by District and Race of Subject on Whom Force was Used.
- Arrests: Persons “booked” and “cited” where an incident report (initial or supplemental) had a date value.

Quarter Per Capita Interactions

Using the previously mentioned methodologies, SFPD finds that Black/African Americans are overrepresented per capita in all interactions with the SFPD.

Citywide suspect data shows in Q1 of 2021, slightly over 56 of every 1000 Black/African American residents of San Francisco may be reported as a suspect to a crime, as compared to almost 4 of every 1000 White residents.

Citywide stops data shows in Q1 of 2021, slightly over 47 of every 1000 Black/African American residents of San Francisco may be stopped, as compared to slightly over 7 of every 1000 White residents.

Citywide search data shows in Q1 of 2021, a little over 15 of every 1000 Black/African American residents of San Francisco may be searched as part of another interaction with the SFPD, as compared to a little over one of every 1000 White residents.

Citywide Use of Force data shows in Q1 of 2021, slightly over 3 of every 1000 Black/African American residents of San Francisco may be subject to a use of force, as compared to less than one of every 1000 White residents.

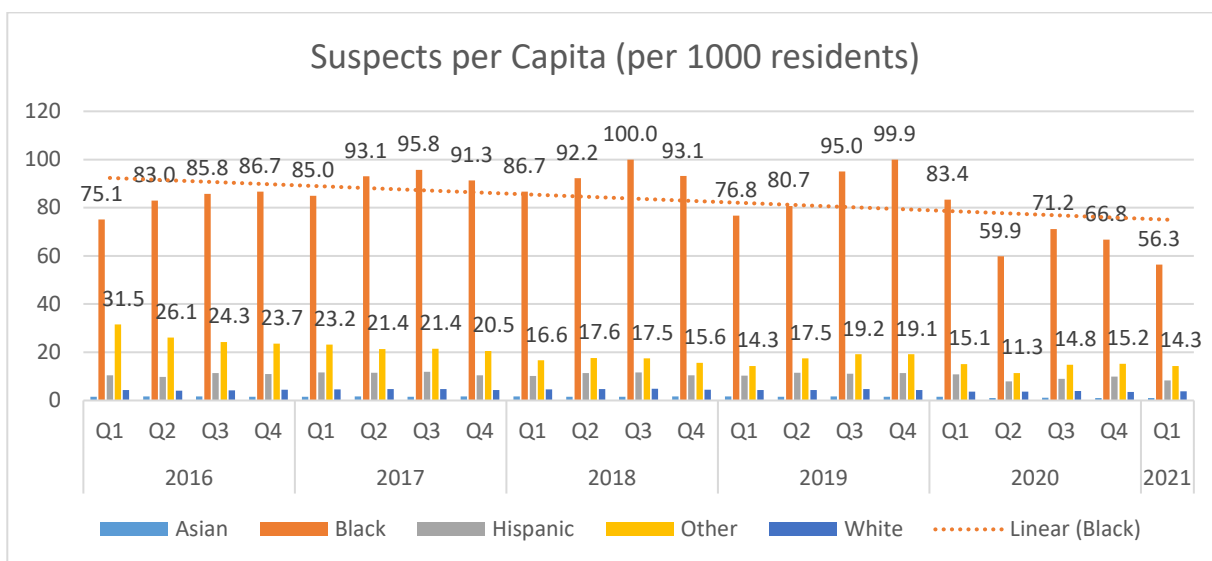

Citywide arrest data shows in Q1 of 2021, a little over 24 of every 1000 Black/African American residents of San Francisco may be stopped, as compared to a little over two of every 1000 White residents.

Per Capita Interactions by Race

We further conducted an analysis using the above methodology across all quarters from which we have useful data. In this case, starting in Q1, 2016 for Arrests, Uses of Force and Suspect data, and 2018 for Stops and Searches. We find that Black/African American demographic group are overrepresented, per capita, in every interaction. We further find that these interactions with the Black/African American demographic group have declined over time. Data labels and trend lines for the most impacted group(s) are included for context and clarity.

Citywide suspect data shows since 2016, between a low of 56 and a high of 100 of every 1000 Black/African American residents of San Francisco may have been reported as a suspect to a crime, significantly higher than the 'other' demographic category, with a high of 31.5 and low of 11.3 'other' residents per 1000. There has been a slight decline over time, on average, of the per capita inclusion of Black/African American residents within suspect reporting.

| Rate of Decrease, Suspects Per Capita |        |
|---------------------------------------|--------|
| Race                                  | Slope  |
| Black                                 | -0.866 |
| Asian                                 | -0.026 |
| Hispanic                              | -0.084 |
| White                                 | -0.035 |
| Other                                 | -0.671 |

A linear trendline is produced for the most impacted group. Slopes for all trendlines shown in the above table to allow for comparison. Slope represents the average change, per demographic group, per quarter. In this case the number of Black/African American individuals included in suspect data goes down .86, per 1000 Black/African Americans, per quarter, on average, over time.

Citywide vehicle and pedestrian stop data shows since mid-2018, between a low of about 40 and a high of about 160 of every 1000 Black/African American residents of San Francisco may have been stopped, significantly higher than the Hispanic demographic category, with a high of about 44 and low of about 10 Hispanic residents per 1000. There has been a significant decline over time, on average, of the per capita number of Black/African American stopped in a vehicle or pedestrian stop since mid-2018.

| Rate of Decrease, Stops Per Capita |         |

A linear trendline is produced for the most impacted group Slopes for all trendlines shown in the above table to allow for comparison. Slope represents the average change, per demographic group, per quarter. In this case the number of Black/African American individuals included in stops data goes down 13.4, per 1000 Black/African Americans, per quarter, on average, over time.

Citywide search data shows since mid-2018, between a low of about 13 and a high of about 46 of every 1000 Black/African American residents of San Francisco may have been searched, significantly higher than the Hispanic demographic category, with a high of about 9 and low of about 3 Hispanic residents per 1000. There has been a significant decline over time, on average, of the per capita number of Black/African Americans searched since mid-2018.

A linear trendline is produced for the most impacted group. Slopes for all trendlines shown in the above table to allow for comparison. Slope represents the average change, per demographic group, per quarter. In this case the number of Black/African American individuals included in search data goes down 3.5, per 1000 Black/African Americans, per quarter, on average, over time.

Citywide Use of Force data shows since 2016, between a low of about 3 and a high of about 9 of every 1000 Black/African American residents of San Francisco may have been subject to a Use of Force, significantly higher than the Hispanic demographic group, with a high of about 2 and low of about 1 Hispanic residents per 1000. There has been a significant decline over time, on average, of the per capita number of Black/African Americans upon whom use of force has been used since 2016.

Slope represents the average change, per demographic group, per quarter. In this case the number of Black/African American individuals included in UoF data goes down .3, per 1000 Black/African Americans, per quarter, on average, over time.

Citywide arrest data shows since 2016, between a low of 25 and a high of about 48 of every 1000 Black/African American residents of San Francisco may have been subject to arrest, significantly higher than the Hispanic demographic category, with a high of about 11 and low of about 7 Hispanic residents per 1000. In this case the number of Black/African American individuals included in Arrest data goes down .32, per 1000 Black/African Americans, per quarter, on average, over time.

Yearly Per Capita Disparity Analysis

We further conduct a disparity analysis by baselining the 3 most represented demographics against each other to find a numerical representation of the disparity between groups, per SFPD interaction, per year, plus Q1 2021. As with the other per capita analysis', Black/African American residents of San Francisco have higher rates of disparity in the data as compared to the White and Hispanic demographics in the data.

Citywide suspect data shows that since 2016, Black/African American residents are between about 15 to 20 times more likely to be listed as a suspect, than White residents.

Citywide vehicle and pedestrian stop data shows that since mid-2018, Black/African American residents are between six and seven times more likely to be stopped than White residents.

Citywide search data shows that since mid-2018, Black/African American residents are between about 11 and 12 times more likely to be stopped than White residents.

Citywide search data shows that since mid-2018, Black/African American residents are between around 12 to 17 times more likely to have force used upon them than White residents.

Citywide arrest data shows that since 2016, Black/African American residents are between 11 to 12 times more likely to be arrested than White residents. This trend has on average increased since 2016.

What did we find?

We found that Black/African American residents are significantly more involved in various SFPD enforcement activities more often than their representation in the population, especially when compared to White residents.

These findings provide context around who is involved with the SFPD at various points of activity but does not answer the question of 'why' this is the case.

It is possible that some or all of the factors discussed in the benchmark description section, above, are affecting the data in some way, or that other factors, to include officer bias, is at work, or an entirely different unknown factor is at hand and is affecting these analyses.

The context provided gives us a common frame for conversation, mutual understanding, and a jumping off point from which additional analysis may occur.

What's next?

The Department looks forward to continuing analysis of data quarterly. More in-depth analysis includes using different benchmarks to more accurately reflect the population of individuals involved with the SFPD, using tests to include discovery/hit rate analysis, ‘Veil of Darkness’, and multivariate analysis. Due to the complexity of some of these analysis’, the SFPD may require time to build analytic capacity before attempting.

The SFPD has also partnered with multiple academic entities to assist in academic level analyses of SFPD data, to include the California Policy Lab at UC Berkeley and UC Los Angeles, Stanford’s SPARQ center, Palo Alto University and Policing Equity, Inc.

Good afternoon:

Please find below information required in Resolution 094-21 for inclusion into the official file:

- Following Board approval to expand the Airport's Commercial Paper (CP) Program to $600.0 million from $500.0 million (Resolution #094-21), the Airport executed an agreement for a $100.0 million letter of credit on May 27, 2021, which expanded CP capacity to this new limit.
- The Airport currently has $279.3 million of outstanding CP notes that were issued to finance the Capital Improvement Plan (CIP).
- The Airport continues to benefit from low short-term interest rates for its CP note issuances (most recently at 0.14%-0.16% rates) as it finances the remaining active CIP of approximately $300.0 million. Issuing CP notes reduces debt costs as long-term bond issuances can be deferred for the near to medium term.
- CP notes are issued on an as-needed basis to complete work on high-priority projects, including Harvey Milk Terminal 1, runway, taxiway, and other projects. Due to the impacts of the COVID-19 pandemic, the Airport has suspended $2.0 billion of project costs from its approved $7.8 billion CIP. Airport staff periodically review the projects in the CIP that have been suspended, and have reinstated and may continue to reinstate CIP projects and adjust timing of CIP projects as passenger traffic and other factors warrant.
- The timing of CP Note issuances to finance projects in the Airport's CIP will depend on the pace of passenger traffic recovery, capital expenditures, and market conditions.
- An important factor in the Airport's credit rating, the expanded CP Program also provides the Airport additional financing flexibility and bolsters its available liquidity.

Thank you,
Dyanna Volek

Greetings Supervisors,

After waiting for close to four months, Communities United for Health & Justice (CUHJ) received the attention to our community's concerns regarding the unexpected changes to the AMI levels at the Balboa Upper Yard 100% affordable housing project. These changes had resulted in a new precedent for our city where some units in the project targeted AMI levels at close to market rents.

We appreciate the important questions and accountability that was raised during the GAO committee hearing on June 3rd and for Board Members urging MOHCD Director Eric Shaw to respond to the community's concerns that date as far back as February 25th, 2021.

CUHJ's discussion with Director Shaw demonstrated that we still have very far to go as a City in learning how to establish meaningful partnerships between community based organizations, non-profit developers, city agencies, and elected officials, in order to advance developments that are truly affordable and responsive to community needs. Once again, CUHJ would like to be first in line in working with all partners to be able to model how to achieve this important balance.

As a result of our conversation with Director Shaw, we have been told that MOHCD resolves to reconfigure the Balboa Upper Yard project to establish a 90% AMI ceiling for the units at the highest AMIs. Doing so would eliminate the need to provide a 20% discount to the rents that would have corresponded to AMIs at the 109% level because they are so close to current market rents in District 11. It would also allow the project to meaningfully target moderate income residents as opposed to subsidizing the rents of residents earning significantly more than District 11 median incomes. This approach would make for a more stable operating income as rents would not be tied to fluctuating market rates.

Despite our requests, MOHCD declined to offer a clear timeline to explore alternatives for substituting a citywide metric for AMIs with neighborhood or district-level AMIs. Because of the extreme wealth inequality in San Francisco, citywide AMIs often skew affordability levels out of reach of our lower income neighbors in working class districts such as District 11, resulting in close to market rents at the Balboa Upper Yard project.

All of us want to see this project succeed and regret being forced into a position of having to accept an imperfect project because our city agencies, nonprofit developers, and district supervisor were unwilling to meaningfully address legitimate concerns raised by community based organizations.

We are hopeful that this has been an important learning experience and that it opens the door for stronger and more meaningful collaboration moving forward.

Greetings Supervisors,

Over the past 10 years our communities have initiated, championed, and stewarded community engagement around the Upper Yard project. I can say unequivocally that there is great support for what will certainly be a beautiful community asset. In fact we have worked tirelessly to make sure of that.

It is with great eagerness and apprehension that we share our concerns. The current iteration of the Upper Yard is a significant departure from the vision that has been crafted by our community and reaffirmed by the developer, the City, and our Supervisor. In particular:

- The upper level AMI thresholds are out of sync with actual local neighborhood incomes and demographics.
- The current AMIs perpetuate existing racial disparities.
- The increased AMIs deviate from standard MOHCD practice of a 60% AMI ceiling, and in rare cases as high as 80% AMI which is reflected in 100% affordable housing developments across the city where MOHCD is a partner.

In District 11, we are actively providing a high reaching and wide range of AMIs that can serve moderate income residents through existing market rate development projects currently under construction, at 65 Ocean and 915 Cayuga, so it is imperative that we protect deep affordability at the only two 100% affordable housing projects in D11 in years.

In recent years, we have experienced a severe disconnect in dialogue between community stakeholders, the development team and our City partners. Indeed there is a distinction between being updated about a policy decision that was held strictly within the discretion of the City and development team, as opposed to genuine work to uphold the original community vision and meet a legitimate obligation to that vision as uplifted by community efforts that MOHCD legitimated in its own RFQ.

As such, we see a path forward to achieve a meaningful solution and would like to thank Supervisor Preston and Supervisor Chan for pointing us in this direction during yesterday's hearing. We propose the following amendments:

- First, the Balboa Upper Yard project must utilize District 11-based Area Median Incomes as opposed to city-wide Area Median Incomes in order to reassure all stakeholders that the units are indeed being income-targeted to the needs of residents in District 11.
- Second, instead of providing a 20% discount to the rents that correspond to the highest AMI levels because they are so close to market rate, the Balboa Upper Yard project must adjust the AMIs downward. This will allow the project to meaningfully target moderate income residents as opposed to subsidizing the rents of residents earning significantly more than District 11 Median Incomes. This approach would also make for a more stable operating income as rents would not be tied to fluctuating market rates.

- Third, we see an urgent need to challenge the assumption that critical policy decisions impacting housing and affordability can be made in a vacuum, given that low income communities are often the first to bear the consequences of these decisions, and yet have no seat at the table. Projects like the the Balboa Upper Yard would not even exist with the visioning, organizing, advocacy, and negotiation of community stakeholders like PODER, and it should be standard practice to involve these stakeholders in ANY significant deviation from number of units, unit mix, unit sizes, and incomes served from the original agreements.

Please see the attached letter sent to MOHCD on February 24th, 2021 outlining our community's opposition to the highest AMI thresholds at the project.

Please consider these submissions for your discussion during tomorrow's meeting.

Best regards,

Dear colleagues,

This has been an extremely challenging time where we have had to make significant adjustments and I want to acknowledge your department's contributions to our City. I would also like to thank you for your commitment and partnership in working towards San Francisco's goal of zero waste.

The Department of the Environment is required to submit an annual report to the Board of Supervisors about the Resource Conservation Ordinance, Chapter 5 of the Environment Code. This ordinance requires City departments to prevent waste, maximize recovery (recycling and composting), purchase products with recycled content, and appoint one Zero Waste (ZW) Coordinator per facility. The Department of the Environment's City Government Zero Waste team then works with the ZW Coordinators to meet the requirements of the ordinance.

We will be submitting the 2020 Report, to the Board of Supervisors, on Tuesday, June 22nd, 2021. As we mentioned last year, while the Board has not commented on this report before, we would like to provide you with an opportunity to review the report before we submit it. Please note that this report is for calendar year 2020 (during the COVID-19 pandemic).

If you have any comments, questions, or concerns regarding the report, please let me know by Thursday, June 17th, 2021.

Please also let me know if you need further assistance, or you can contact:

Resource Conservation Ordinance – 2020 Annual Report

Pursuant to the requirements of the Resource Conservation Ordinance (Chapter 5, Environment Code, Sec. 510), the Department of the Environment hereby submits our annual report to the Board of Supervisors. This report also outlines compliance with Chapter 5, section 503 (d), the requirement for each department to submit an annual refuse assessment.

The Resource Conservation Ordinance requires city departments to prevent waste, maximize recovery (recycling and composting), and purchase products with recycled content. It is the goal of the City Government Zero Waste Program to support all city and county agencies in meeting these requirements, to demonstrate leadership in our waste reduction efforts, and exemplify what is possible for the entire community of San Francisco. 2020 was a difficult year due to the COVID-19 pandemic. Despite sheltering in place and City staff deployed as Disaster Service Workers, the City Government Zero Waste Team was able to provide assistance to departments. Below is a summary of the City Government Zero Waste team highlights from 2020.

Refuse Separation Compliance Ordinance

The Refuse Separation Compliance Ordinance (RSO) went into effect July 1st, 2019. The ordinance requires that Large Refuse Generators (LRG) have their refuse audited at least every 3 years to assess compliance with mandatory recycling and composting. If a property fails an audit, the law requires them to engage the services of a Zero Waste Facilitator. Twenty-two (22) city department locations have been identified as LRGs and are subject to audits between the months of July through January.

In 2020, Seven (7) city department locations were audited; SFMTA – Flynn, Green, Islais Creek, Muni Metro East (MME), Potrero, and Woods Divisions, and Office of the City Administrator - Hall of Justice. All the locations passed the audits.

Zero Waste at City Permitting Center 49 South Van Ness Ave

In 2020, City Government Zero Waste staff collaborated with the Real Estate Division (RED) to move fourteen (14) permitting departments, including Board of Appeals, Department of Building Inspection, Entertainment Commission, Planning, SFDPH – Environmental Health, Recreation and Parks Department, and SF Public Works, from several locations to the new Permitting Center at 49 South Van Ness. Staff worked with the RED Chief Sustainability Officer set up color-coded and signed three-stream collections stations, to educate employees, and to identify Zero Waste Coordinators for department to help with maintenance of the programs.

Employee Trainings

The City Government Zero Waste Team dedicates significant time and energy ensuring city employees are properly trained on how and why to reduce, reuse, recycle and compost. In 2020, staff pivoted to virtual presentations and trained 1,639 city employees, including 94 departmental Zero Waste Coordinators.

Green Purchasing

In 2020, the City Government Zero Waste and the City Government Toxics Reduction staff (the Green Purchasing Team) continued to collaborate with the interdepartmental working group, the Sustainable Purchasing Committee, to work on citywide sustainable purchasing priorities, initiatives, process improvements, and communications by hosting quarterly virtual meetings. The team also collaborated with the Office of Contract Administration to incorporate environmental specifications in citywide term contracts. The City Government Zero Waste team provided language improvements for the city government refuse collection services and Chapter 2 Regulations.

Construction and Demolition Debris Recovery

The City Government Zero Waste team worked with City Representatives at SF Public Works, SF Port, and San Francisco International Airport, helping them educate contractors on construction and demolition debris recovery to ensure their projects meet the minimum requirement of 75% recovery. Staff attended three (3) virtual pre-bid/pre-construction meetings and educated 29 City Representatives and contractors on the debris recovery requirements. Staff worked with the Construction and Demolition Debris Recovery and Municipal Green Building teams to implement the Green Halo System, an electronic platform, to digitize the paper forms and further reduce paper usage and increase efficiencies in tracking debris recovery.

The Surplus Disposal Program

City Government Zero Waste staff manage the Surplus Disposal Program, which is comprised of the scrap metal recycling and surplus auctions contracts, and the Virtual Warehouse. The Virtual Warehouse is an online materials exchange system for city surplus items. Useable, unwanted items are redistributed to other city agencies, non-profit organizations, and schools via an online database. In 2020, 3,103 items (furniture, equipment, and electronics) were reused and redistributed through the Virtual Warehouse surplus materials exchange program. These items weighed 48.5 tons and were valued at $698,104.48.

Through the scrap metal contract with Circosta Iron and Metal Company, departments can recycle several types of scrap metal, such as broken metal desks, metal filing cabinets, rails from the SFMTA system, brass fixtures, and copper pipes. In 2020, the city recycled 1,311 tons of scrap metal and received revenue from the sale of the scrap metal totaling $79,922.34.

2020 Zero Waste Assessment Surveys

The Resource Conservation Ordinance requires each department to designate at least one person responsible for compliance with this chapter (who we call a “Zero Waste Coordinator”) and that designee shall complete an annual zero waste assessment survey. The survey is developed annually by Staff and is simple but intended to summarize disposal reduction efforts, assist the departments in better understanding their current programs, and identify opportunities for improvement. Since many city departments occupy multiple locations and each location is unique, departments were asked to fill out one survey for each location and appoint one Zero Waste Coordinator per location. Below is a table which outlines compliance with the aforementioned Resource Conservation Ordinance requirements.

| Department Name                         | Zero Waste Coordinators assigned at all locations? | Zero Waste Assessment Survey (ZWA) turned in for all locations? | Number of ZWA's completed? |

Subject: BMR Problems: "Jim Crow" Mira SF BMR Units from Tishman Speyer

To the SF Board of Supervisors:

I am writing because I am concerned that developer Tishman Speyers is abusing the affordable housing regulations to intentionally create inferior "Jim Crow" BMR units so they remain vacant and lower income people do not move into their buildings. I want the board of supervisors to create new regulations that developers creating BMR units must install comparable appliances and fixtures to the market rate units (i.e., separate but equal) rather than inferior accommodations in the Mira SF.

Read more below.

Thank you,

Christine McDow

The developer Tishman Speyer had several choices when building in SF to accommodate the affordable housing policy. They could offer BMR units within their building or pay a fee which the city would use to build 100% affordable housing elsewhere. Rather than just pay the fee, Tishman Speyer decided to offer BMR units but with inferior "American Standard" and "Frigidaire" appliances and compared to the luxury fixtures advertised on their website for their market rate units. The Supreme Court case Brown v. Board of Education, the court overturned Plessy v. Ferguson and ruled that "separate but equal" is inherently unequal. I guess Tishman Speyer thought they could offer these separate but equal units in 2019 and get away with it because the BMR buyer would knowingly accept inferior units. It's so blatant that BMR unit owner's HOA dues (which are the same as market rate HAO dues) subsidize the free gas in the take market rate units, but they have Frigidaire electric stoves so they are paying for cooking fuel twice. They do have equal access to the common areas, however in COVID those are mostly closed.

Here's the irony: Nearly a year and a half after the MIRA offered the BMR units, 20% are still sitting vacant. As such the developer is losing money everyday. In the end, the developer may end up breaking even or losing money, making it clear that they would have been better off investing those funds in their property rather than indulging their greed.

The developer must be undereducated in black history because when developers opened offered inferior housing units in the black community in the 1950s, bombing, extrajudicial killings, and outright exclusion from FHA loans forced the black community to put up with these separate but equal Jim Crow housing. Over half a century later the BMR buying firstly are not by and large not black, so their parents and grandparents never experienced Jim Crow. They aren't going to start putting up with separate but equal now. Although lower income than the market rate buyers, BMR buyers are terribly smart, because they figured out how to navigate a terribly complicated bureaucracy.

My advice to Tishman Speyer and other would-be Jim Crow developers is the Golden Rule: "Treat others the way you would like to be treated."

My advice to potential market rate buyers at the MIRA and any other Tishman Speyer's property is this: boycott them like Northerners boycotted the Woolworth lunch counters during the sit-ins of the 1960s. You have your pick of luxury developments. Pick another where the developers hold themselves to a higher moral standard.

My advice to BMR buyers: New listings are being posted to Dahlia everyday. Buy a unit where the developer offers that same internal fixtures in the market rate and BMR units. If it's a re-sale unit, be glad to know that you're paying it forward, by helping that former first-time homebuyer family to move on to the free market.

To the Mayor's office of housing and the board of supervisors: update the housing code to make it clear that the city sides with the supreme court and affirm that separate but equal is inherently unequal. I would say that Tishman Speyer's should have to pay the affordable housing fee from now on as restitution, but that decision is beyond my paygrade.

Tishman Speyer doesn't want poor people in their buildings so they are intentionally making the units so inferior that they won't sell. The developer should be forced to renovate these units to be comparable to the market rate units.

Jim Crow MOHCD BMR Units by Tishman Speyer

Message

Details:

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisor,

I am writing because I am concerned that developer Tishman Speyer is abusing the affordable housing regulations approved by the Board of Supervisor and enforced by the Mayor Office of Housing and Community Development to intentionally create inferior "Jim Crow" Below Market Rate units, so they remain vacant and lower income people do not move into their buildings. This is urgent because other developers are not building Jim Crow BMRs but they may start too if they see what Tishman Speyer is getting away with which could undermine the entire affordable housing program.

In terms of action, I want the board of supervisors to create new regulations so that developers creating BMR units must install comparable appliances and fixtures to the market rate units (i.e., separate but equal) rather than unconstitutional, inferior "Jim Crow" accommodations in the Mira SF (280 Speyer St, District 6). An appropriate penalty would be to force the developer to pay a fine or to force the developer to renovate the Jim Crow BMRs to be comparable to the market rate units.

Can you help save this tree that was extra-judicially condemned by SFMTA?

Notice received today, 6/4/21:

Geary Rapid Project Construction Forecast: June 5 to June 18, 2021

As part of the Geary Rapid Project, work to replace aging water lines, in coordination with San Francisco Public Utilities Commission, continues. Surface transportation improvements, including upgraded traffic signals and streetlights, sidewalk extensions at bus stops and intersection corners, improved median refuges and roadway repaving, are also underway and are being managed by San Francisco Public Works.

The following two-week construction forecast is subject to change due to weather delays or unexpected field conditions.

Steiner Street – Van Ness Avenue Mondays through Fridays between 8:00 a.m. and 7:00 p.m.:

- Sidewalk and median work are planned for the weeks of June 7 and June 14 on Geary Boulevard at the intersections of Steiner Street, Webster Street and Buchanan Street.

My comment:

- So, what might that announcement mean? Will they be working on the median at Buchanan Street this or next week? And, if so, what exactly would they be doing?

- The median at Buchanan Street is where an 80-person waiting platform is intended. It is so (unnecessarily) large that it would require the destruction of the Monterey Cypress on the median. Would they be working on this platform? Would they be attacking the tree?
- I contend that the median does not have to be large enough to hold 80 people, as planned. I have to assume that the only reason to expect that so many as 80 people would be crossing at the same time is that the Rosa Parks Elementary school might sometime choose to use that crossing rather than the Webster Street crossing (with its super-safe overhead span) as they have been and are now doing. I believe that 80 is an extremely inflated number. Each class has at most 20 children. Although several classes may go out on a trip to Japantown at the same time, no responsible teachers would attempt to lead 3 or 4 classes at once across that intersection. Duh! Each class is escorted by more than one adult. So of course the group would split up and cross the boulevard in smaller sections, not all on the same signal. Therefore there should be no need for the platform to be so large as to cause the removal of the tree.

After all, the tree should remain as was ruled by the DPW/BUF only to be overruled on an appeal heard, with scant notice, by SFMTA's own in-house hearing officer. Quite an unusual procedure. This indigenous tree is healthy, beneficial to the environment, has a long life-span ahead of it; it has a right to remain there as the treasure it is.

I sent the message below to all the staff and administrators at my daughter's previous School and only in English teacher responded. I was really hoping someone could help so I'm reaching out to my elected officials.

Hi this is the mother of Alexis Bell one of the many students last year who did not get a graduation. I know at least my student hate seeing all the kids this year that are getting graduations especially after many staff members and teachers said they would do a redo this year. I'm reaching out to everyone I have in my contact list to find out if anything is being planned or even thought of! Our kids missed out a crucial part of their lives and the recognition for all their hard work and dedication! My child especially went through and overcame so much to graduate only to have all of the fanfare she deserves be ripped away!

The Mayor's Budget does not restore this year's $3 million to the Dignity Fund, despite a healthy budget. We look to you to help assure that services and supports for older adults and people with disabilities are in place to meet the needs, made worse by the pandemic. See below for additional signers.

This fiscal year, the $3 million contribution to the Dignity Fund at the Department of Disability and Aging was suspended - in what was a most difficult year for older adults and adults with disabilities due to the pandemic. We could have really used these funds as service providers had to provide a higher level of services and provide them remotely keeping participants and staff safe.

Next year will be twice as challenging as we have to begin to open in person services safely AND continue to provide remote service for those who continue to feel unsafe. What is being called a hybrid model is really two tracks of services requiring significantly more staffing and support.

Now that the City's finances are much better, we urge you to restore the $3 million promised for this year as part of the 2020-2021 budget as we struggle to serve the more than 20% of the City's residents who are older adults and adults with disabilities (most of whom are low income and living on fixed incomes.)

Restore the Promise of the Dignity Fund

In November 2016, the citizens of San Francisco voted on Proposition I and overwhelmingly approved it, thereby establishing the Dignity Fund. It guarantees funding for expansion of supportive services to assist Older Adults (60+ years old, 21% of SF's populations) and adults with disabilities (18-59 years old) age with dignity in places they call home.

Since 2017, the Dignity Fund has expanded much needed services in areas of support to older adults, adults with disabilities, including targeted services to communities of color, veterans, LGBTQ individuals, and neighborhoods that have historically been left behind. Click here for a summary of the focused, high impact programming that the Dignity Fund made possible.

Due to the COVID-19 pandemic, the City was anticipating a budget shortfall and with uncertainty about the future, suspended the $3 million annual contribution to the Dignity Fund. When the legislation for the fund was being drafted, the Mayor and the City's Controller insisted on including language which dictated this type of suspension when the City was facing a significant shortfall.

However, the City's fortunes greatly improved during the current fiscal year (FY 2020-2021) with an expected $125.2 million General Fund balance (Controller's Office 6-month Budget Status Report). Expected allocations from the state and federal government have added to funding streams and will likely continue to off-set losses. In the end, there is no excuse to withhold the promised contributions to the Dignity Fund this year and there certainly should not be next year!

We need your support to restore the annual contribution of $3 million to the Dignity Fund in the upcoming budget! The pandemic has disproportionately affected older adults and people with disabilities, literally being trapped in their homes for a year, isolated, unable to access regular health care or transportation to medical appointments, increased food insecurity, and more, all of which has been exasperated by the digital divide. We ask that you hear our voice. Don't leave out in the cold some of their most vulnerable constituents and ensure continuity of programs and services that enable them to age with Dignity.

Restore this year's annual $3 million allocation to the Department of Disability and Aging Services \(DAS\), which administers the funds and ensures delivery of critical services!

Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to show my displeasure with SFPD's conduct regarding a case where I was a victim of a violent crime. In addition to an improper investigation at the scene, I was repeatedly denied a victim written statement at the station, and the investigation that followed is still incomplete although the incident occurred on January 31st, 2020. I've been in contact with Lt. Guzman of the DA's office who agrees that this case has not been investigated properly (as outlined in my email below), although SF DPA has found "no misconduct" on the officers' part.

I've spoken with other police departments around the Bay Area, and it appears the common reputation of SFPD is that "they just do things differently...." This is highlighted in San Francisco's low police clearance rate compared to the rest of the state and the country.

I grew up in San Francisco, a once-proud city that can now be seen all over social media with residents showing their displeasure of the governance, and particularly, the crime situation. I hope I am never a victim of a violent attack again, especially in a city that does not take them seriously enough to demotivate criminals.

Best regards,
Ricky Lam

To Whom It May Concern,

This is my last email regarding this case as it is apparent that SF DPA is no longer interested in moving forward (I have received no updates over half a year although I have previously inquired). I just want to express my deep disappointment that SFPD is not committed to excellence in police work, and that SF DPA fails to hold them accountable. Your investigation into police conduct of this investigation is contrary to that of the DA's office and my own personal first hand account. With some of the highest tax rates, and some of the lowest police clearance rates, it is evident why many residents of this once proud city can be seen showing great displeasure all over social media (reference below):

To Whom It May Concern,

I am writing in regards to an incident on January 31, 2020 wherein I was a victim of a brutal assault at the establishment IchiPub located at 1706 Post Street, 2nd Fl., San Francisco, CA 94115.

After being beaten with clenched fists and beer bottles by a group of men, my friend and I suffered facial and head lacerations and bleeding, in addition to blood shot eyes. SFPD was called onto the scene and a report was produced; however, I believe the investigation was severely lacking and therefore the attackers were able to hide within the establishment without being detected. Video evidence of the incident from the establishment was eventually obtained, but the SFPD investigator told me that it is very unlikely that the DA office would prosecute the crime against the attackers.

I was able to carry out my own investigation, which led to the identification of the main perpetrator (and one of my attackers) from that night. Specifically, an acquaintance of mine who was present at the scene identified this attacker as "Calvin Tran" who, at least one point in time, has worked in the Parts and Supplies Department at Honda Automotive in San Francisco. The acquaintance (his name is Jonathan Chan) was his co-worker at Honda in the same department, and was visiting the establishment with Calvin Tran. Jonathan can be reached at (415) 531-6236. I believe a call to the witness can, at least in-part, put out a warning that violent crimes are not tolerated within the city, even if it doesn't lead to an arrest.

Recently, I've been in touch with Lieutenant Guzman from the DA's office, who suggested that I reach out directly to Captain Paul Yep to request that the investigation of this case be continued as it may still be incomplete (by requesting an officer reach out to the witness). I have made this request numerous times but without fruition. Although Cpt. Yep informed me twice that he has been in contact with the investigations unit at SFPD Northern Station, it has been over three months that I've heard any updates

Although I have given up any hopes of SFPD moving forward with this case, I'd like to bring to your attention that this entire situation from the time of my initial interaction with the responding officers at the scene, to being repeatedly denied a victim's written statement at the station (which is likely a violation of my right), and to the pending investigation, has been an uphill battle to get any attention to the matter. I was even informed that the case was marked as "do not proceed", even though I have made every effort to provide adequate information to SFPD. In addition, I've spoken with other police departments around the Bay Area (including an SFPD officer), and it appears SFPD has a reputation of "just doing things differently".

I am attaching here for your ease of understanding:

1) The incident report that I sent to SFPD Northern Station on February 3rd, 2020. There is a Dropbox link at the end of the report that includes photos, videos and a diagram of the incident (the files are too large to include in this email). I am also including it here:

<https://www.dropbox.com/sh/uh9ip012ufx58zu/AAAUtCzZqhnlTLaAOWpNOBKoa?dl=0>

2) Diagram of the incident to aid in your understanding of the overall events that led up to, and followed thereafter, the incident.

RE: Victim Incident Report

To Whom It May Concern,

This is an attempt to document as fully and completely as possible the events that led up to, during, and after, an incident that occurred on January 31, 2020 at the establishment “IchiPub”, located at 1706 Post Street, 2nd Fl, San Francisco, CA 94115 to the best of my knowledge and memory.

For clarity and ease of understanding, a timeline comprising time approximations and brief descriptions of the entries is presented below:

|         |                                                   |
|---------|---------------------------------------------------|
| 12:50AM | Assault occurred.                                 |
| 12:59AM | My brother who arrived onto the scene dialed 911. |
| 01:00AM | 5-6 officers arrived at the scene.                |
| 01:25AM | My brother, my friend, and I went to our vehicle. |

| 01:50AM | The officers returned and approached our vehicle after my unsuccessful attempts at getting a criminal attorney onto the scene in a desperate effort to gather evidence before the attackers leave the premise. |
| 03:30AM | I arrived at home to clean my wounds, wherein I discovered that my injuries were more severe than initially thought.                                                                                           |
| 06:00AM | I arrived at SFPD Northern Station located at 1125 Folsom Street of San Francisco.                                                                                                                             |
| 08:21AM | I spoke with Sgt. Shaw by telephone, who was much more receptive.                                                                                                                                              |

As stated in the timeline, at approximately 12:50AM, my friend and I were physically assaulted after a patron at the establishment decided to make his way over to our table. After arriving, he stood in front and over us and began speaking in a light-hearted manner; however, his speech quickly became hostile without any provocation. Although it took me aback initially, I did not respond to the patron even after he began insisting that he drink our beverages sitting on our table that we had just purchased from the establishment. At this point, my friend remarked that if the patron wishes to have a drink with us, he would need to get his own drink, and that we did not know him personally to offer him our drinks. That message apparently did not sit well with this patron as he elevated his hostility towards us. I felt that we were, at least, verbally harassed and bullied, and therefore I stood up from my seat to confront him about his actions, and without physically touching the patron.

I believe that my getting up had provoked the patron and his friends, who were also patrons at the establishment, to begin their physical assault. As we were being attacked by multiple people at this point, we slowly made our way towards the exit while being surrounded and cornered at least three distinct times. At one point, the attackers blocked our path from the entrance of the establishment and continued their barrage. We were not only pinned down and continually punched in our faces, but some of the attackers even hit us with beer bottles, which resulted in both of our heads bleeding.

As we eventually exited the establishment, my brother came onto the scene and whom I had called earlier to pick us up and drive us home as our designated driver. My brother quickly assessed the situation and dialed 911, fearing that our attackers may advance their assault, which fortunately did not happen.

A few minutes after the call, officers quickly arrived onto the scene and sat my friend and I, who are at this point riled up from being assaulted momentarily while intoxicated, near a wall downstairs of the establishment on the 1st Fl. of 1706 Post Street. After a few minutes of explaining to the officers that we had just been assaulted and that I wished to press charges against the assailants, I noticed that the officers were reluctant to properly investigate the situation, even though we were two victims with significant head trauma. I begged and pleaded with the officers to go into the establishment with me so that I can point out the people who assaulted us, and perhaps to request viewing of camera footage belonging to the establishment; however, the requests were continually denied. One of the officers responded by saying that “an officer had already went into the establishment and asked the bartender what happened, to which she answered that she ‘didn’t see anything’”. Even though at this point I was extremely frustrated at their inaction, I believe my behavior was neither threatening nor aggressive; and therefore, I fail to understand the responding officers’ unwillingness to conduct a proper investigation.

When the responding officers initially arrived on-scene, and in an attempt to establish credibility with the officers, I verbally stated that "I am a USPTO-registered patent agent", to which one of officers whom I would later meet again at the Northern Station suggested that "you should not have stated your PTO number", implying that at least in-part, it led to his team's inaction on the scene.

After we were denied any police service from the responding officers and were told to leave the premise, we made our way to our vehicle where I unsuccessful tried to get a criminal attorney onto the scene as a final desperate attempt to prevent the perpetrators from leaving the scene, and possibly removing the evidence. The officers briefly left the scene and came back to approach us at our vehicles, which I suspect was the direct result of my attempt in searching for an attorney to help us. We eventually left in our vehicle, and I made it home at approximately 3:30AM that day.

When I arrived at home to clean up my wounds, I discovered that my injuries were much more severe than I thought—perhaps the adrenaline kept me from feeling the pain immediately after the attack. It was then that I realized that this is a serious crime that I felt the responding officers did not perform their duties to their fullest capabilities. I decided to get my injuries on record with legal authorities and, therefore, made my way to SFPD's Northern Station.

After arriving at the station at approximately 6:00AM, I requested a police statement for the incident, to which one of the responding officers on the scene handed me a case number and directed me to the SFPD Police Headquarters Report Management Section at 1245 3rd Street, First Floor, San Francisco. I then asked to leave a victim's written statement, and the officer replied that "we already got your verbal statement from our interaction with you" at the scene of the crime, and that I was "not going to get anything from here". Determined to at least have some kind of documentation of my ordeal and visit to the station, I requested that a picture of my injuries be taken. The same officer who had just denied me of a written statement then remarked that "your injuries look worse than it did before" and proceeded to photograph my wounds.

Finally, at 8:21AM, I was able to get in touch with Sgt. Shaw telephonically after multiple attempts, having initially being told that a sergeant was not on duty, and even having the phone abruptly hung up on me for requesting to do so. To my surprise, and unlike my earlier encounters, I found Sgt. Shaw to be personable, understanding, and overall receptive to what I had to communicate to him. To the responding officer's defense, the Sergeant explained to me that, from comparing bodycam footage of the incident, it was obvious that I was intoxicated, acted in an "excited" manner, and that in general my demeanor in the video and during my conversation with him differed. While for the most part, I agree with Sgt. Shaw, I respectfully submit that I had just been physically assaulted minutes prior and suffered substantial head trauma, I believe it is within the range of predictable behavior to be excited. I exclaimed to the Sergeant that although I may have been speaking loudly and quickly (in-part because of my frustration at the responding officers' inaction), I was never threatening or aggressive to the officers, and to which Sgt. Shaw agreed, "Yes, you were not threatening". In addition, I respectfully submit that I spoke with the Sergeant over 7 hours after the event, which may have led to my calmer demeanor.

In closing, from the responding officer's unwillingness to conduct a proper investigation to denying the victims a written statement, I honestly do not understand the reluctance of the officers after seeing two civilians badly injured, even if the officers may find them distasteful. I believe in all occupations there will be situations we may find less than appealing; however, that should not mean the responsibility to our jobs is no longer in effect, such as, e.g., a medical doctor refusing to treat a patient based on the doctor's personal opinion of the patient's character. A Contra Costa County officer with whom I had the pleasure to speak with after the incident confirmed that from visual inspection of my injuries, the incident should have been investigated by the responding officers as a felony assault. And lastly, from the apparent details of my account found within this writing, to the photographs and video evidences being provided, and to the diagram drawn of the incident that is also being provided, I would like to respectfully submit that perhaps I was not as intoxicated as the responding officers' assumption.

Evidence Submission

For ease of understanding, a brief description of the evidence is as follows:

1. "Injuries" folder: This folder contains photographic images of my injuries from the assault.
2. "1-1" file: This image shows my injured face with an officer overlooking in the background.
3. "1-2" file: This image shows bloodstains from the headrests of our vehicle. The blood came from our injured heads from the assault.
4. "2-1" file: This video clip is my attempt to document my visit to the SFPD Northern Station.
5. "2-2" file: This video clip is of the scene after we were denied the officer's name, badge number, and overall service. I can be heard verbalizing my dismay at the situation while keeping my distance from the officers.
6. Figure 1: This is a diagram of the location, setting, and events of the incident.

Dear Supervisor Shamann Walton,

Public safety is important in our AAPI community. With rising attacks and racism against our community, it is important that we advocate for a budget that includes hiring of bilingual/multi-lingual police officers.

Every year, many police officers retire, and if we don't have funding to train and hire new officers, we will lose the police officers on our streets who keep our community safe. Our City must make sure that this department can serve at the current staffing level as it loses officers every year.

We need to have a police presence in the community working in partnership with community partners. We need police officers from our own diverse communities. We need police officers to respond to violent and serious crimes and to hold perpetrators accountable.

That's why we are here to advocate for a budget that includes new police officers and to urge the Board of Supervisor to do the right thing by approving the Mayor's proposed budget that adds new police academy classes each year. Please do NOT cut police officers. We don't want to lose police officers in our community. We believe that we will be able to assemble diverse and community-driven police officers to focus on engaging, serving and protecting us.

Sincerely,

Dear APAPA Colleagues and Friends,

NEED YOUR SUPPORT TOMORROW! Just learned that a group called CART, which stands for "Compassionate Alternate Response Teams" which was devised by the Coalition on Homelessness and its allies seek to transfer another $6.8 million in SFPD funding to their nonprofits to respond so they claim to homeless-related 911 calls.

This is in addition to last year's $120 million cuts from our SFPD budget. The $6.8 million cut to SFPD will force layoffs of 38 police officers when our SFPD staffing is already about 15% from where it should be. The cuts will likely be from more recent hires which means mostly minorities, especially at this time when we need more police staffing to protect our API communities.

The CART plan was developed with input from 29 nonprofit and government partners, NOT ONE OF THESE PARTNERS IS FROM ANY OF SAN FRANCISCO'S AAPI COMMUNITIES.

ONCE MORE THE 36% AAPI POPULATION OF SAN FRANCISCO ARE IGNORED!

Hello All,

If you were at the Chinese Playground on Tuesday, 6/1/2021 around 12pm, you already know that the Mayor has announced a budget. This is not final and City Hall needs to hear from the AAPI community. Next Wednesday, 6/9/2021, the City will have a Budget Committee hearing. Nancy Tung who has been an advocate for the AAPI community just contacted me this morning to ask our AAPI leaders to go to City next Wednesday, 6/9/2021 at 10am to do a short 30 minute press conference in front of City Hall on the Polk Street side. Then walk to offices of 5 Supervisors who are on the City Budget Committee and the Mayor's Office (6 doors total inside City Hall).

We will bring letters to each of the 5 Supervisors and the Mayor. The letter is basically to encourage the Budget Committee members NOT to DEFUND the POLICE, instead to fund better training for new recruits and existing members of SFPD. I will continue to update this group as I get more information. If you have any suggestions on what should go on these letters, please let me know.

Please also invite other AAPI community leaders to this group. Our goal is to get AAPI leaders and community members to this rally and City Hall Walk Thru next Wednesday between 10am-11am to send City Hall a message NOT to ignore the AAPI community anymore. If you have contacts in the AAPI community whom you want to invite, please forward this email to them. Thank you!

Many Blessings,

Dear Supervisor Shamann Walton,

Public safety is important in our AAPI community. With rising attacks and racism against our community, it is important that we advocate for a budget that includes hiring of bilingual/multi-lingual police officers.

Every year, many police officers retire, and if we don't have funding to train and hire new officers, we will lose the police officers on our streets who keep our community safe. Our City must make sure that this department can serve at the current staffing level as it loses officers every year.

We need to have a police presence in the community working in partnership with community partners. We need police officers from our own diverse communities. We need police officers to respond to violent and serious crimes and to hold perpetrators accountable.

That's why we are here to advocate for a budget that includes new police officers and to urge the Board of Supervisor to do the right thing by approving the Mayor's proposed budget that adds new police academy classes each year. Please do NOT cut police officers. We don't want to lose police officers in our community. We believe that we will be able to assemble diverse and community-driven police officers to focus on engaging, serving and protecting us.

Aside from misinterpreting when a child 12 and older can consent to medical treatment w/out parent consent, this can create a dangerous situation for children who may not fully understand their own medical history & potential side effects of medication that could be administered without their parent present. As a parent, I should not be afraid that a school official, even if well intentioned, will give a medication to my child without my knowledge or consent. A school official does not know my child's health history & therefore should NOT be able to give medications or medical procedures without first obtaining parental consent. This health order opens up schools to major lawsuits & puts children's health at risk, not to mention adding already to heightened anxiety for parents that something could happen to their children at school --- we do NOT need more stress during this time. Children at this age are particularly vulnerable to peer pressure & they should not be put into a situation where they make serious decisions about their health without the knowledge & approval of their parents.

Thank you for your time in considering this.

Sincerely,

Brett Dampier

Dear Dr Susan Philip and team,

Last year, San Francisco lost double the number of people to drug use than COVID-19. Being from here used to be a source of pride and coming home from out of town used to be a delightful experience, but now travelling out of the city makes me realize how disheveled and dim it has become. It is time to get our priorities straight in terms of what this city truly needs to shine like it once did.

This letter is in response to your Order No. C19-19 (<https://www.sfdph.org/dph/alerts/files/Order-C19-19-Vaccination-Minors.pdf>), which states that minor children 12 years and older, in the City and County of San Francisco, can themselves consent to a FDA-authorized or approved COVID vaccine, if a parent is not reachable. We ask you to rescind your Order No. C19-19 or update it to accurately reflect state law.

In the order, you mention that "this ability to consent is similar to the concept used elsewhere in state law that minors 12 years old or older may consent to the diagnosis or treatment of infectious diseases, including specifically COVID-19, without parental consent."

The current state statute is very clear about the times when a minor 12 or older can consent to treatment, fully outlined in this document: <http://teenhealthlaw.org/wpcontent/uploads/2019/08/2019CaMinorConsentConfChartFull.pdf>.

The state legislature has brought forward bills and passed laws on what minors 12 years and older can and cannot do, using the deliberative legislative process, which includes input from the public and interested parties.

There are two sections of Family Code § 6926, which you seem to be conflating: "A minor who is 12 years of age or older and who may have come into contact with an infectious, contagious, or communicable disease may consent to medical care related to the diagnosis or treatment of the disease, if the disease... is one that is required by law...to be reported...." "A minor 12 years of age or older who may have come into contact with a sexually transmitted disease may consent to medical care related to the diagnosis or treatment of the disease.

A minor who is 12 years of age or older may also consent to medical care related to the prevention of a sexually transmitted disease." The first very clearly is related to the diagnosis and treatment of an infectious disease. The second, specifically includes consent related to medical care for the prevention of a sexually transmitted disease.

The current statute does NOT give minors 12 and older the ability to consent to medical care related to the prevention of infectious diseases that are not sexually transmitted. For this to become law the legislature would have to pass a new bill. The City and County of San Francisco does not have the authority to create, conflate nor extrapolate California statute.

Your order is extremely misleading and, if followed, could put those administering vaccines in a position to be sued by parents for not following the law.

Furthermore, this order puts the City and County of San Francisco in the position of potentially being held liable for any adverse events related to the vaccination of these minors.

You make the declaration that "in some cases, it may be difficult to obtain the consent of a minor's parent or guardian. For example, consent may not be easily obtainable if the parent or guardian resides outside the City's jurisdiction (including outside the United States) or the minor resides with a relative who does not have authority to consent to a minor's medical care and the parent or guardian cannot be reached."

This is a completely false narrative given that any un-emancipated child living in California has to have a legal guardian, who by definition has the ability to give medical consent, in California. You go on to state "if children and adolescents are unable to consent to receive an FDA-approved or authorized COVID-19 vaccine, then a segment of the population will remain at risk for contracting COVID19, especially if and when children and youth return to in-person schooling....The intent of this Order is to allow minors 12 years of age and older who desire to receive, and are otherwise eligible to receive, a COVID-19 vaccine to consent to a COVID-19 vaccine, even if they lack the consent of a person who is legally authorized to make healthcare decisions for the minor, such as a parent or guardian.

This Order is necessary to effectively prevent and control the spread of COVID-19 in our community and reduce barriers to accessing approved or authorized vaccines." There is no statistical or scientific basis to your reasoning that vaccinating minors without parental consent will prevent and control the spread of COVID-19, especially in an age group where the hospitalization and death rate from COVID is extremely low and in a county where the vaccination rate is extremely high.

While your order may be considered a positive action when seen through the lens of public health, such guidance is the beginning of a very slippery slope, which, if implemented, will land those administering vaccines, as well as the City and County Health Department, in a place rife with lawsuits.

We ask you to rescind your Order No. C19-19 or update it to accurately reflect state law and make those administering vaccines to minors 12 and older aware that they must receive the consent of a parent or legal guardian to administer the COVID-19.

Thank you for your time and consideration. Please feel free to contact me if you have any questions.

Sincerely,

The law in Family Code 629 states that a 12 year old child can go treated for sexually transmitted diseases without parental consent. It does not say a 12 year old can get other medical treatment or become part of a medical experiment without parental consent. Only the Nazis experimented on humans without their consent!

Do any of you have children?

If children are encouraged to not listen to their parents, why should they listen to their teachers or any authority figure?

The available vaccines are experimental and should not be tested on children. Children are not laboratory animals!!!!

Alice Williams, mother

Dear Supervisor Ronen, et. al.,

Yesterday, I told Supervisor Ronen that I was going to post this on Nextdoor Neighbor if the encampments in our neighborhood caused by the Safe Sleeping Area were not removed. It wasn't. It is now around the corner on 26th Street at Shotwell. It is in violation of the following: There is an enormous encampment in violations of these SF Gov Guidelines:

- (1)Tents and structures cannot be within 6 feet of a doorway to a business or residence. SF Health Code 581 (nuisance); Shelter In Place (SIP) Order; DPH Guidance 5/19/2020 at p.3
- (2)Tents and structures cannot block a doorway or exit, even if a building is not in use. SF Fire Code, Section 504.1 (building and doorways and exits)
- (3)Tents and structures cannot make sidewalks impassable; sidewalk must have a 4 foot wide path of travel free of obstacles such as street trees, parking meters, tents, etc. SF Public Works Code 724(a)(2); SF Pub. Works Code 723; DPH Guidance 5/19/2020 at p.3
- (4) Unsanitary or excess items in an encampment cannot create safety or health hazards. Public Works Code section 174; SF Health Code 581 (nuisance); SF Fire Code, Sec. 304.1; SF Fire Code, Sec 304.2

I talked with two police officers yesterday and asked them why they don't enforce the guidelines for the homeless on the SF Gov.org website. They said that I should contact DPH and fire department, but the ordinance stipulates the following:

"If your concern is related to an encampment blocking the sidewalk, and sidewalk is fully obstructed or there is less than 6 ft of clearance from entrances to a home or business, you should call Non-Emergency Police at 415-553-0123."

Homeless encampments are the number one issue for residents in San Francisco, yet not even the police know what their responsibility is. I need clarity. This encampment violates all of the above and I want it removed.

Encampment at 26th and Shotwell. These people were kicked out from SSA on Wednesday:

Sincerely,
Francesca Pastine

Subject: MORE TENTS ACROSS FROM SAFE SLEEPING AREA
Date: Tuesday, June 1, 2021 9:41:24 AM

This message is from outside the City email system. Do not open links or attachments from untrusted sources.

Dear Supervisor Ronen, et al.,

Not a week goes by with more people setting up encampments across the street from the graffiti-covered Safe Sleeping Area. This tent moved in last night (it is the first thing I saw when I woke up this morning):

Your policies have created an environment in the Mission that is hazardous, unhealthy, and psychologically devastating to people who are just trying to have a life in this neighborhood. This has gone on for years now with no improvement whatsoever.

For years you have turned a blind eye to the easily fixable problems like blight, illegal dumping, drunkenness, and littering. This has created a squalled environment that attracts more of the same. It is like the day I heard a lot of rowdy yelling in the alley behind my house at seven in the morning. I went back there to discover several men drinking. I asked them to quiet down and to please pick up the beer and whisky bottles and beer boxes they had thrown on the sidewalk. They pointed out to me that the alley was a trash heap as it was so what's more trash?

Any responsible person voted into office by the people should realize that what is important to the people are clean and safe neighborhoods. You are absolutely incapable of delivering this. On the contrary, by blocking the housing project at 1515 South Van Ness Avenue, you have created a half a block of city blight. You then exploit this property to bring in hundreds of people through the Navigation Center and now the Safe Sleeping Area who often are addled with addiction and severe mental health issues. These shelters then kick out people who are not fit enough to follow their rules and they wind up in encampments in front of our houses and businesses to do whatever they want. All this in a neighborhood that already suffers from overcrowding and has a struggling population of immigrants and low-income households.

I have asked you for years to start a 'Keep the Mission Clean' campaign to bring awareness to the potential beauty here and discourage littering. Instead, you go after the banking system. Hillary, the banks are not the problem in this neighborhood. You are. Your homeless policy, your anti-housing policy, and your blind eye to the real issues in the mission are the problem. In short, your politics are killing us.

Sincerely,
Francesca Pastine

To the Board of Supervisors:

On behalf of First 5 San Francisco, we are pleased to strongly support Resolution (File No.43) to bolster AB123 and maintain San Francisco's progressive stance on paid family leave. First 5 applauds both the state-wide budget proposal and the Board of Supervisors for their proactive stance on the role PFL plays in the health and well-being of families.

When families struggle, children struggle, and COVID-19 has only heightened inequities and stressors that families face daily. California must deploy all resources available to truly meet the moment that we face to support children and families now and mitigate the impacts of trauma and toxic stress to come. For many reasons, First 5 San Francisco supports both the budget proposal and encourages the Board of Supervisors to utilize and enhance all existing family strengthening assets within our communities.

Thank you for your consideration of this critical request. Should you have additional questions, please contact Theresa.Zighera@First5sf.org.

RE: File No. 43 Passage of AB 123 and Re-Affirming Support for City's Paid Family Leave Program – SUPPORT

Dear Supervisors:

I am writing on behalf of First 5 San Francisco, endorsing File No. 43, re-affirming San Francisco's support for equitable and fair Paid Family Leave (PFL). San Francisco's Paid Parental Leave Ordinance, amended in 2020 to change the paid family leave composition for the City's residents, is a benchmark for the rest of the State. First 5 firmly believe that this Resolution (File No.43) will continue San Francisco's progressive standards in support of the well-being of children and their families.

San Francisco established the first PFL program in the nation in 2004, funded by deductions from workers' paychecks and administered through the State's Employment Development Department. This Resolution (File No.43) serves two critical purposes: continue San Francisco's bold leadership around PFL and bring alignment between state and local PFL policies, which together will help to address and identify racial disparities in current PFL legislation.

Both state and local PFL legislation are instrumental in realizing a seamless policy landscape that offers newborns valuable bonding time with their parents, boosting babies' healthy development and family resiliency. Also, San Francisco's service landscape is well established to help families maximize this critical time in a young child's life.

The Family Resource Center Initiative and Nurse-Family Partnership Home Visiting programs are designed to work in tandem with PFL, creating an accessible, convenient and welcoming environment for parents to voice concerns and questions, and receive additional information and support. They set families and young children up for success with early experiences that build the brain's structure so that children can learn, thrive, and be well.

We applaud the Board of Supervisors in their continued leadership in this policy realm. We are enthusiastic about the potential this legislation holds to advance more equitable systems and structures that support all children and families in San Francisco throughout their entire lifespan. Should you have additional questions, please contact me: Theresa.Zighera@First5sf.org.

Sincerely,

Dear Supervisor Preston and Board,

I'm writing in advance of today's hearing on the city's bathroom programs. I strongly support continuing existing bathroom programs / locations and expanding these programs. These programs are effective. People use them, and they reduce waste on the sidewalk. Ultimately we need to house people, but as long as we have people living on the street, they need somewhere to use the bathroom. It's a basic human right. DEM, HSH, and the mayor need to be held to account for prioritizing neighbor and building owner complaints over people's basic human needs.

Sincerely,
Evan Owski

The Charter requires that the Controller comment on revenue estimates assumed in the Mayor's FY 2021-22 and FY 2022-23 proposed budget. We find tax revenue assumptions to be reasonable, but caution they are highly dependent on the course of economic reopening, will require frequent monitoring, and are subject to updates as conditions change. The budget relies heavily on federal stimulus funds to support operations during the two-year budget period, and a structural gap is likely to persist following the exhaustion of those funds. Voter-approved baseline requirement are funded at or above required levels.

FY 2021-22 and FY 2022-23 Revenue Letter

Controller's Discussion of the Mayor's Proposed Budget

The Charter requires that the Controller comment on revenue estimates assumed in the Mayor's FY 2021-22 and FY 2022-23 proposed budget. We find tax revenue assumptions to be reasonable, but caution they are highly dependent on the course of economic reopening, will require frequent monitoring, and are subject to updates as conditions change. The budget relies heavily on federal stimulus funds to support operations during the two-year budget period, and a structural gap is likely to persist following the exhaustion of those funds. Voter-approved baseline requirements are funded at or above required levels.

About the Budget & Analysis Division

The Budget and Analysis Division (BAD) manages the technical development of the City's annual budget, including forecasting tax revenues, costing and budgeting labor and benefit costs, and assisting the Mayor and Board of Supervisors with costing and budgeting of policy initiatives. The group manages the City's adherence to voter-approved spending requirements and financial policies and produces a variety of reports, including quarterly budget status updates and various fee-related reports. Additionally, the division manages property tax apportionment, rate setting, and reporting to the state, places special assessments on property tax bills, and processes the Assessor's changes to prior and current year property tax rolls.

Executive Summary

The Charter and other local laws require the Controller to comment on the reasonableness of the projected revenues assumed in the Mayor's Proposed Budget, as well on whether various other financial requirements are met. In this report, we present our findings related to those requirements and financial risks the City faces over the coming several fiscal years.

Overview of key assumptions and requirements in the Mayor's Proposed Budget:

- Tax revenue assumptions are reasonable and based on the expectation that San Francisco's economy will recover from the public health emergency over several years. The budget broadly assumes General Fund revenue recovers to pre-pandemic levels by FY 2023-24, with significant projected growth during the two budget years. However, the impact of the pandemic on specific revenues, including hotel, sales and parking taxes, is assumed to linger until FY 2025-26.

In FY 2021-22, the largest increases in General Fund tax revenues are in property, business, and transfer taxes, with increases of $96.0 million, $130.7 million, and $212.1 million, respectively, from the FY 2020-21 original budget. This growth is partially offset by significant reductions in sales and hotel tax versus pre-pandemic levels. In FY 2022-23, General Fund revenue continues to grow from FY 2021-22, with continued strength in property and transfer taxes and rapid growth in business and hotel tax, as the city continues its economic recovery. FY 2022-23 also assumes $60.0 million in revenue from a new tax on executive pay approved by voters in November 2020.

The revenue outlook for the City is closely tied to the recovery of sectors most affected by the pandemic: tourism, office industries, and small businesses. The extent to which changes in these sectors, including the prevalence of telecommuting, patterns of out-migration, resumption of conventions and international travel, are temporary or permanent will be critically important to the City's tax base. The Controller's Office will closely monitor and report on revenues during the upcoming fiscal year, and active management of the City's budget will likely be required by the Mayor and Board of Supervisors.

- The budget assumes very significant levels of one-time federal funding, primarily from the American Rescue Plan Act (ARPA) of March 2021. The budget appropriates $624.8 million of ARPA Coronavirus State and Local Fiscal Recovery Funds (CSLFRF) over the two budget years. As discussed in the March 2021 Update to the Five Year Financial Plan, this single source is largely responsible for balancing projected shortfalls in FY 2021-22 and FY 2022-23.
- The budget relies on other one-time sources including $267.5 million of reserves and use of the $157.3 million current year fund balance projected in the Controller's Nine-Month Report. The Board of Supervisors has adopted a nonrecurring revenue policy, codified in Administrative Code Section 10.61, which requires selected nonrecurring revenues to be used only for nonrecurring expenditures. As defined by this policy, the FY 2021-22 budget relies on $267.5 million of one-time sources, to support $468.9 million of one-time expenditures, complying with the City's nonrecurring revenue policy.

- The Mayor's budget includes, for the first time, several new general and special purpose taxes. Some of these are sources the City has experience collecting and projecting, including the transportation network tax (November 2019 Proposition D, effective FY 2019-20), the transfer tax rate increase (authorized by November 2020 Proposition I, effective FY 2020-21), the business tax overhaul which adjusted gross receipts tax and business registration rates (authorized by November 2020 Proposition D, effective FY 2021-22), commercial rents tax (authorized by June 2018 Proposition C, effective FY 2020-21), and homeless gross receipts tax (November 2020 Proposition C, effective FY 2020-21). The risk with these sources is largely commercial real estate volatility and recovery of office-using business sectors. Others are sources that the City has little to no experience collecting or projecting, including the retail vacancy tax (authorized by March 2020 Proposition D, effective FY 2022-23), the cannabis tax (authorized by November 2018 Proposition D, effective FY 2021-22), , and the tax on executive pay (authorized by November 2020 Proposition L, effective FY 2022-23), a volatile revenue source due to the narrow base of expected payers, annual fluctuations in the value and form of executive compensation, and possible tax-avoidance behavior, that is budgeted at $60 million in FY 2022-23.
- The budget preserves the balances of the City's economic stabilization reserves, and code-mandated reserves are funded and maintained at required levels. The Mayor's proposed budget maintains a balance of $380.3 million in the combined Rainy Day and Budget Stabilization reserves (also known as combined "Economic Stabilization Reserves"), as well as $54.8 million in the Budget Stabilization One-Time reserve. Pursuant to the City's financial policies, Economic Stabilization Reserves can be fully drawn by FY 2022-23, split 50% in each of the budget years, and the Budget Stabilization One-Time Reserve can be used on one-time uses at any time. General Reserve funding levels in the budget are at code-mandated levels.
- Voter-adopted spending requirements are met, or exceeded, at a total cost exceeding $1.4 billion annually. The financial baselines include mandated spending for transit, libraries, schools, early childhood education, homelessness housing and services, street trees, and other programs. Several programs are funded above the required levels, including the Children's Services baseline, Transitional Aged Youth baseline, Recreation and Parks baseline, the Our City, Our Home Baseline (November 2018 Prop C), and the Early Care and Education baseline (June 2018 Prop C). Finally, the budget prefunds $17.6 million of future Housing Trust Fund requirements in FY 2021-22, which will reduce payments over a five year term beginning in FY 2023-24.
- The Mayor's budget adheres to the Minimum Compensation Rate. The Minimum Compensation Ordinance, Section 12P of the Administrative Code, sets a minimum compensation rate for employees at public entities and nonprofit organizations that have contracts with the City. For public entities, the minimum compensation rate is scheduled to increase from $17.25 to $18.00 on July 1, 2021. For nonprofits, the minimum compensation is scheduled to increase at the rate of inflation from $17.05 to $17.34 (1.7 percent). These increases only go into effect if sufficient funds are appropriated to fund the increases. The proposed budget includes appropriations for the increase in the minimum compensation rate for public entities. It also includes a "cost of doing business" appropriation that provides nonprofits an increase of three percent to their budgets, which is sufficient to support the minimum compensation increase for nonprofits. These compensation increases, therefore, will be effective on July 1, 2021.

- While we find the revenues assumptions in the Mayor's proposed budget to be reasonable, we believe the City faces several key financial risks in coming fiscal years. These risks include (1) disallowance of claims for federal revenues assumed in the City's emergency response budgets, (2) a slower recovery than assumed in the budget, and (3) the projected structural budget gap following depletion of one-time federal stimulus funds.
  - Federal revenue risk. In total since the beginning of the public health emergency, the City has budgeted to receive $430 million of reimbursements from the Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA), including $49.5 million in the proposed FY 2021-22 budget. Of this total, the City has submitted claims to date of $180.5 million, of which $36.3 million have approved and $14.6 million have been paid. The balance is subject to risk of both lower claiming than that assumed in the budget and potential disallowance of claimed costs. The federal reimbursement and auditing process will likely continue for the coming fiscal year at a minimum, leaving a key risk to budgeted revenues.
  - Economic risk. The budget assumes an economic recovery will drive annual tax revenue growth of $251.2 million in FY 2021-22 and $502.7 million in FY 2022-23. While these assumptions track to our economic and financial projections, they are subject to significant uncertainty. Key factors to monitor include whether public conditions in the City will remain relatively favorable and continue to permit a growing amount of economic activity to resume; whether large-scale telecommuting will wane rapidly in the coming two fiscal year as assumed in these projections; and whether the local hospitality and convention industries will recover at the pace underpinning these tax revenue projections. Modest changes in these key factors would drive significant variances in actual financial revenue performance.
  - Structural budget challenges in future fiscal years. As noted above, the Mayor's proposed budget is balanced with a heavy reliance on one-time sources, most notably federal stimulus funds allocated to the City under the ARPA. As proposed, these funds would be depleted over the two-year budget period, leaving a structural budget challenge, projected to be $350 million in FY 2023-24 and $499.3 million in FY 2025-26 in the March 2021 update to the Five-Year Financial Plan. While these projected future year shortfalls are modestly mitigated by actions proposed in the Mayor's proposed budget, significant gaps are likely to remain in fiscal years beyond the two-year budget period.
- The Mayor's proposed budget preserves and repurposes several key reserve balances in response to these risks. The Mayor's proposed budget reassigns $100.0 million of the COVID Response and Economic Loss contingency reserve to a Federal and State Emergency Grant Disallowance Reserve to manage potential revenue shortfalls related to potential reimbursement disallowances and $293.9 million to a Fiscal Cliff Reserve for the purpose of managing anticipated budget shortfalls in FY 2023-24 and beyond. Additionally, the Mayor's proposed budget maintains a balance of $380.3 million in the combined Rainy Day and Budget Stabilization reserves (also known as combined "Economic Stabilization Reserves"), as well as $54.8 million in the Budget Stabilization One-Time reserve.

As shown in Exhibit 1, the Mayor's proposed budget for FY 2021-22 includes $6.3 billion in General Fund sources and $13.1 billion in all funds sources, representing an increase from the FY 2020-21 original budget of 1.7 percent in the General Fund and a decrease of 3.9 percent in all funds. The Mayor's proposed budget for FY 2022-23 includes $6.3 billion in General Fund sources, unchanged from the FY 2021-22 proposed budget, and $12.8 billion in all funds sources, a 2.5 percent decrease from FY 2021-22 proposed budget.

NOTES

1. Prior Year Fund Balance

The proposed budget assumes $782.5 million in unassigned General Fund surplus will be available in the two budget years. In May 2021, the Controller's Nine Month Report projected a mid-year surplus of $157.3 million. After the publication of the Nine-Month report, $624.8 million of American Recovery Plan Act (ARPA) Coronavirus State and Local Fiscal Recovery Funds (CSLFRF) was determined to be available to balance the upcoming budget. Due to timing and revenue recognition issues, those funds are evenly budgeted as "Prior Year Fund Balance" in each of the two fiscal years, instead of as a "federal grants and subventions." Pending final guidance from the United States Treasury Department, Annual Appropriations Ordinance Administration Provision 32.2 allows the City Controller to reclassify this and other revenue federal and state emergency-related revenue budgets to manage timing differences and cash flow needs driven by changing guidance and approvals from granting agencies, provided that such adjustments shall not change cumulative total revenue budgets. An additional $0.4 million of expenditure savings was also identified after the publication of the Nine Month Report. The use of fund balance in the Mayor's budget does not assume current year appropriations of $26.7 million supporting rent relief and social housing, pending at the Board of Supervisors.

2. Use of Reserves

As shown in Exhibit 1-3, the Mayor's proposed budget uses of $267.5 million in prior year reserves. See Appendix 2 for more details.

3. Property Tax

The FY 2021-22 General Fund share of property tax revenue is budgeted at $2,115.6 million, which is $96.0 million (4.8 percent) more than the FY 2020-21 budget and 196.0 less (9.3 percent) from the Nine Month Report. The FY 2022-23 General Fund share of property tax revenue is budgeted at $2,211.7

million, which is $96.1 million (4.5 percent) more than the proposed FY 2021-22 budget. The largest driver of these year-to-year variances is related to excess Educational Revenue Augmentation Fund (ERAF) assumptions. Excess ERAF is budgeted at $245.0 million in FY 2021-22, which is $58.0 million (31.0 percent) more than the original FY 2020-21 budget, and $260.1 million in FY 2022-23, which is $15.1 million (6.2 percent) more than the FY 2021-22 proposed budget. In accordance with State Controller's Office guidance on the calculation of excess ERAF, the budget assumes ERAF is allocated to the School District for charter schools in the "in lieu" amount, and that historical "residual tax increment" in San Francisco is recognized in ERAF calculations, consistent with fiscal year 2020-21 Nine-Month Report projections.

Changes in property tax revenues will lag other COVID-induced revenue changes due to statutory deadlines related to the January 1 property lien date. FY 2020-21 revenues were largely based on values as of the January 1, 2020 lien date, which predated the pandemic in the United States. FY 2021-22 revenues are largely based on values as of January 1, 2021, and we anticipate significant growth in both the number and value of assessment appeals by the September 15 filing date. The FY 2021-22 locally assessed secured property roll growth budget assumption is essentially flat, as 3.2 percent growth in the working roll is offset by just under $10 billion in assumed reductions in hotel, retail, office and multifamily residential assessed values, reflecting declines of 20 percent, 20 percent, 5 percent, and 3 percent, respectively. A 20 percent reduction in unsecured business property tax assessments is included in the projection, reflecting the possibility of business closures.

4. Business Tax

FY 2021-22 business tax revenue is budgeted at $957.1 million, which is $130.7 million (15.8 percent) more than what was budgeted in FY 2020-21 and $324.7 million more (51.3 percent) than the Nine-Month Report. FY 2022-23 business tax revenue is budgeted at $1,065.4 million, which is an additional $108.3 million (11.3 percent) higher than the proposed FY 2021-22 budget. Business tax revenue is comprised of business registration fees, administrative office tax, and gross receipts tax. Projected increases are driven by our expectation of strong economic growth of 6 percent in tax year 2021 and 4 percent in tax year 2022 as businesses reopen to full capacity and recover from the COVID public health emergency. In addition, we expect workers in office-using sectors to transition from near full-time telecommuting at the end of FY 2020-21 to an average of 25% telecommuting by the end of FY 2022-23, which could result in increased apportionments of gross receipts to the City.

Economic Growth. Revenues from business tax and registration fees have generally followed economic conditions in the City, primarily employment and wage growth. The response to the COVID emergency has significantly affected them, and the City's economic condition is still in distress relative to pre-pandemic levels. The unemployment rate peaked at 12.6 percent in April 2020 and declined steadily since then, reaching 5.4 percent in March 2021, higher than at any point pre-pandemic since 2013. In January and February 2020, before shelter-in-place was first instituted, weekly initial claims for unemployment were less than 1,000. As of May 2021, weekly initial claims remained just over 4,000, a number which has remained level since October 2021. With low COVID case rates and high vaccination rates, the City's economic condition is projected to continue improving.

Exhibit 1-4 shows monthly labor force and employment levels for the previous ten years through March 2021. In April 2020, during the most restrictive phase of the shelter-in-place order, employment fell to a level not seen since the end of 2012. While employment has generally increased since May 2020, it remains well below the long-term trajectory. The labor force, which is the number of people employed or seeking work, has continued to decline. The estimated impact of the pandemic on San Francisco's population varies from a decline of roughly 2 to 7 percent between 2019 and 2020.

Exhibit 1-4. San Francisco Employment and Labor Force, January 2011 through June 2020

Return to Office. Remote work occurring outside the City creates fiscal risk, because for certain categories of businesses, the gross receipts tax is dependent on their San Francisco payroll, and firms only need to calculate their San Francisco payroll expense for employees that physically work within the City's geographic boundaries. Approximately half of the workers in major tax-paying sectors such as Professional Services, Financial Services, and Information live outside of San Francisco. Some of the City's largest employers in these sectors have indicated that employees may be able to work from home permanently or with a hybrid schedule after COVID restrictions have been lifted. For example, Twitter plans to let employees work from home indefinitely and Google expects most employees to work in the office a few days per week. Although some San Francisco residents who previously commuted out of the City are now telecommuting from within the City, many of these residents work for employers who do not have a nexus in the City, and thus are not subject to business taxes. In the long term, we expect the number of days worked at home for employees in office-centric sectors to remain at 25 percent above pre-pandemic levels.

5. Sales Tax

In FY 2021-22, local sales tax revenue is budgeted at $145.7 million, which is $37.9 million (20.7 percent) less than what was budgeted in FY 2020-21 and $13.5 million more (10.2 percent) than projected in the Nine-Month Report. FY 2022-23 local sales tax revenue is budgeted at $174.9 million, which is $29.1 million (20.0 percent) higher than the proposed FY 2021-22 budget. The decline in FY 2021-22 is due to poor performance in FY 2020-21, resulting in a much lower sales tax level from which the City must recover. Besides lower daytime population from the lack of travelers and in-commuters who shop and dine out, San Francisco also experienced significant out-migration of its residents during the COVID public health emergency. The estimated impact of the pandemic on San Francisco's population varies from a decline of roughly 2 to 7 percent between 2019 and 2020. As a result, sales tax collected from online retailers did not offset losses at brick-and-mortar stores in San Francisco, unlike nearly every other California county. Additionally, many businesses were closed or operating at reduced capacity during FY 2020-21, with restrictions slowly loosening up in Spring 2021. As businesses reopen to full capacity over FY 2021-22 and FY 2022-23, the budget assumes rapid growth in sales tax revenue from restaurant, hospitality and non-essential retail activity, but it will not reach pre-pandemic levels until FY 2025-26.

6. Hotel Tax

General Fund hotel tax revenue is budgeted at $78.5 million in FY 2021-22, which is $47.8 million (37.8 percent) less than what was budgeted in FY 2020-21 and $57.8 million more (280.1 percent) than the projection in the Nine-Month Report. FY 2022-23 revenue is budgeted at $235.3 million, an increase of $156.9 million (199.9 percent) from the proposed FY 2021-22 budget. Total hotel tax revenue across all funds is budgeted at $92.9 million in FY 2021-22, $63.7 million (40.7 percent) less than budgeted in FY 2020-21. FY 2022-23 hotel tax revenue is budgeted at $268.6 million across all funds, $175.6 million (189.0 percent) more than budgeted in FY 2021-22.

The difference between total and General Fund hotel tax is primarily due to funding requirements set forth in November 2018 Proposition E, which allocated 1.5% of the 14% hotel tax rate (or approximately 10.7% of the total hotel tax revenue) to arts programs outside of the General Fund. Due to the unprecedented decline in hotel tax revenues, these allocations are budgeted at $9.9 million in FY 2021-22 and $28.7 million in FY 2022-23. Both are short of the 10% ceiling and floor authorized in the Proposition E. The Mayor's budget proposes General Fund backfill of the arts allocations to the 10% levels in both budget years.

The projected FY 2021-22 revenue decline is due to the unprecedented drop off in hotel occupancy and rates in FY 2020-21, resulting in a much lower hotel tax level from which the City must recover. Global travel restrictions, the cancellation of conventions, and overall shape of the pandemic were among the factors which led to closure of a large portion of the City's hotels, and hotel tax was significantly depressed in FY 2020-21. The City's five-year forecast anticipates hotel tax will return to pre-pandemic levels by FY 2025-26, with pent-up demand for leisure travel initially driving growth in FY 2021-22 and the resumption of large group events at full capacity contributing to additional rapid growth in FY 2022-23.

San Francisco's hotel tax is derived from hotel stays from individual business travelers, group events such as conferences and meetings, and leisure tourists. These visitors primarily travel to the City by air. In April 2020, at the height of the first peak of the COVID pandemic, enplanements at SFO decreased by 97% compared to prior year. While air travel has grown since April 2020, the recovery in San Francisco has lagged other metropolitan areas, with FY 2020-21 average enplanements 78.9% below FY 2019-20 enplanements. San Francisco International Airport's (SFO) geographic location lends itself to being the "gateway to Asia," and a hub for international travel, which is anticipated to lag domestic travel. The budget assumes the recovery in hotel tax begins with visits to the City from domestic leisure tourists, with the return of business travelers, group events, and international visitors following, given the time needed to plan large gathering and reestablish policies for in-person business meetings. Conventions drive up hotel room rates through compression pricing, which is important to the full recovery of the City's hotel tax base.

Revenue per Available Room (RevPAR), a measurement of hotel tax revenue growth, is a function of occupancy and average daily room rates (ADR). Exhibit 1-7 shows a history of annual RevPAR. Despite some slowdown in the growth in the hospitality industry after the 9/11 attacks in 2001 and the global financial crisis in 2008, average annual RevPAR has generally grown at a steady rate from FY 2000-01 to FY 2018-19. In FY 2018-19, RevPAR reached all-time high of $263.90. In the first eight months of FY 2019-20, RevPAR declined to $224.50. Due to the COVID-19 pandemic and associated flight bans and shelter-in-place orders, RevPAR reached an historic all-time low of $14.40 in April 2020. RevPAR has fluctuated throughout over the course of FY 2021-21, bringing the annual average up to $37.60 as of March 2021. In April 2021, with a successful local rollout of COVID vaccines and loosened restriction, RevPAR increased to $51.30. The budget assumes RevPAR will increase significantly in the next two fiscal years. However, RevPAR is not expected to recover to pre-pandemic levels until FY 2025-26.

7. Utility Users Tax

Utility user tax revenue is budgeted at $77.7 million in FY 2021-22, which is $3.4 million (4.2 percent) less than what was budgeted in FY 2020-21 and $3.5 million more (4.7 percent) than the Nine-Month Report. FY 2022-23 revenue is budgeted at $83.7 million, which is $6.1 million (7.8 percent) higher than the proposed FY 2021-22 budget. The budget reflects increased commercial gas and electric utility usage as COVID restrictions are lifted and more workers return to the office, but lower than pre-pandemic levels due to continued telecommuting.

8. Parking Tax

Parking tax revenue is budgeted at $55.9 million in FY 2021-22, which is $3.5 million (5.8 percent) less than what was budgeted in FY 2020-21, and $12.9 million (30.0 percent) more than the Nine-Month Report projection. FY 2022-23 revenue is budgeted at $68.8 million, which is $12.9 million (23.1 percent) higher than the proposed FY 2021-22 budget. As businesses reopen, parking tax revenues will increase, but they are not expected to reach pre-pandemic levels in the next two years due to an increase in employees working from home rather than commuting into the City. Parking tax revenues are deposited into the General Fund, from which an amount equivalent to 80 percent is transferred to the Municipal Transportation Agency for public transit as mandated by Charter Section 8A.105.

9. Real Property Transfer Tax

Real property transfer tax (RPTT) revenue is budgeted at $350.1 million in FY 2020-21, which is $212.2 million (153.7 percent) more than the FY 2020-21 budget and $23.8 million more (7.3 percent) from the Nine-Month Report. In FY 2022-23, RPTT revenue is budgeted at $373.9 million, an increase of $23.8 million (6.8 percent) above the proposed FY 2021-22 budget. The budget includes the effects of November 2020 Proposition I, which doubled transfer tax rates on transactions greater than $10.0 million. The impact of Proposition I is estimated to be $127.0 million in FY 2021-22 and $135.7 million in FY 2022-23, or $101.6 million and $108.5 million, respectively, net of baseline funding requirements. Transfer tax is anticipated to increase each year toward its rate-adjusted long-term average by FY 2023-24. Considering the highly volatile nature of this revenue source, the Controller's Office monitors collections throughout the fiscal year and provides regular updates to the Mayor and Board of Supervisors.

Exhibit 1-8 shows revenue collections beginning in FY 2000-01. As the City's most volatile revenue source, collections can see large year-over-year changes that have exceeded 70% in some instances. The volatility is seen with month-to-month revenue as well: In the past ten years, the lowest monthly revenue total was in February 2021 ($7.1 million) and the highest was in March 2021 ($88.2 million). The main factors creating volatility are sales of high-value properties, availability of financing, and the relative attractiveness of San Francisco real estate compared to global investment options, all of which track well with economic cycles, as well as voter-approved rate changes, which occurred in 2008, 2010, 2016 and 2021.

Exhibit 1-8. Historical Real Property Transfer Tax Revenue ($ millions), FY 2000-01 through FY 2022-23

Exhibit 1-9 shows historical RPTT revenue by transaction size after being adjusted to reflect rate changes from Prop W (November 2016), Prop N (November 2010), and Prop N (November 2008), and demonstrates how RPTT is driven by the sale of high-value (largely commercial) properties over $25 million. In FY 2008-09, transactions above $25 million would have generated only $10.6 million under the current rates compared to the peak in FY 2016-17, when these transactions generated $295.8 million. Since the end of the recession in FY 2009-10, these large transactions made up on average 58.0 percent of total revenue but only 0.6 percent of the transaction count. This means RPTT revenue is determined by a handful of transactions. In the past two recessions, revenue collected on large transactions fell dramatically, as shown by the narrowing between the blue and orange lines in FY 2001-03 and FY 2008-09.

Exhibit 1-9. Real Property Transfer Tax Rate-Adjusted Revenue by Transaction Size, FY 2000-01 through FY 2019-20 ($ millions)

Deposits to the Budget Stabilization Reserve are funded with a portion of volatile revenues, including 75 percent of RPTT revenue in excess of the prior five-year average adjusted for any rate increases during the period. No deposits are expected during FY 2021-22 or FY 2022-23 as RPTT revenue is projected to be below the prior five-year average. See Appendix 2 for more detail on the Budget Stabilization Reserve.

10. Stadium Admissions Tax

Stadium admissions tax revenue is budgeted at $3.6 million in FY 2021-22, $1.1 million (44.0 percent) more than the FY 2020-21 budget and $3.4 million (1,500 percent) more than the Nine-Month report projection. Baseball and basketball events have already resumed with limited capacity and the first concerts at Chase Arena are expected in September 2021. FY 2022-23 stadium admission tax revenue is budgeted at $5.4 million, $1.8 million (50 percent) more than the proposed FY 2021-22 budget. Attendance at large events and the schedule of events are expected to return to full capacity by FY 2022-23.

11. Cannabis Tax

Cannabis tax revenue is budgeted at $4.4 million in FY 2021-22, $0.2 million (3.5 percent) more than the FY 2020-21 budget and $4.4 million more than the Nine-Month report projection. FY 2022-23 revenue is budgeted at $8.8 million, which is $4.4 million (100 percent) higher than the proposed FY 2021-22 budget. In November 2018, voters approved a new gross receipts tax (Proposition D) of 1% to 5% on marijuana businesses and permits the City to tax businesses that do not have a physical presence in the city. The excise tax on cannabis was initially set to take effect on January 1, 2021. However, in November 2020, the Mayor and Board of Supervisors delayed the imposition of the tax to January 1, 2022 and increased the exemption thresholds. FY 2022-23 will be the first full fiscal year that the tax will have been collected.

12. Tax on Executive Pay

The Tax on Executive Pay is budgeted at $60.0 million in FY 2022-23. In November 2020, voters adopted Proposition L, a new tax on businesses in the City, where compensation of the businesses' highest-paid managerial employee compared to the median compensation paid to the businesses' employees based in the City exceeds a ratio of 100:1. The measure takes effect on January 1, 2022 for tax year 2022, so revenues will not be received until FY 2022-23. Revenue from this tax is expected to be highly volatile due to the narrow base of expected payers, annual fluctuations in the value and form of executive compensation, and tax-avoidance risk associated with tax increases. Estimates based on prior years' activity may not be predictive of future revenues.

13. Sugar Sweetened Beverage Tax

Sugar Sweetened Beverage Tax revenue is budgeted at $12.2 million in FY 2021-22, $1.8 million (12.6 percent) less than the FY 2020-21 budget and $1.7 million (16.5 percent) more than the Nine-Month report projection. FY 2022-23 revenue is budgeted at $14.0 million, which is $1.8 million (14.5 percent) higher than the proposed FY 2021-22 budget. The City's one cent per ounce tax on sugar sweetened beverages became effective January 1, 2018. Pandemic restrictions on restaurant operations have reduced revenue collections in FY 2020-21. By FY 2022-23, we assume collections will recover to a pre-pandemic amount of $14.0 million, then slowly decline in future years as consumers switch to beverages not subject to the tax.

14. Access Line Tax

FY 2021-22 access line tax revenue is budgeted at $49.6 million, or $0.7 million (1.4 percent) higher than was budgeted in FY 2020-21 and $1.3 million (2.8 percent) more than the Nine-Month report projection. FY 2022-23 revenue is budgeted at $51.3 million, or $1.7 million (3.3 percent) higher than the proposed FY 2021-22 budget. Budgets reflect inflationary increases to the access line tax rate as described in Business and Tax Regulations Code Section 784.

15. Interest & Investment Income

Interest and investment income for FY 2021-22 is budgeted at $36.2 million, an increase of $12.8 million (54.3 percent) from the FY 2020-21 budget and $1.6 million (4.6 percent) from the projection in the Nine-Month Report. FY 2022-23 revenue is budgeted at $38.3 million, $2.1 million (5.7 percent) more than budgeted in FY 2021-22. This increase is a result of higher cash balances due to slower than anticipated spending. The Federal Reserve continues to keep interest rates low, so growth in interest and investment income has moderated from prior years.

16. Intergovernmental – Federal

Federal support in the General Fund is budgeted at $378.5 million for FY 2021-22, which represents a decrease of $238.2 million (38.6 percent) from the FY 2020-21 budget. FY 2022-23 revenue is budgeted at $312.2 million, which is $66.3 million (17.5 percent) less than the proposed FY 2021-22 budget. The FY 2021-22 decrease is driven by a reduction in Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA) reimbursements for COVID-related expenditures from a full fiscal year in FY 2020-21 to just one quarter of FY 2021-22, as well as the loss of CARES Act Coronavirus Relief Fund monies. The FY 2022-23 decrease is driven by the sunset of FEMA reimbursements. Adjusting for the receipt of ARPA CSLFRF revenues of $312.8 million in FY 2020-21 and FY 2021-22 but spent as fund balance in the budget, the change in federal revenue would be an increase of $74.6 million in FY 2021-22 and a decrease of $66.3 million in FY 2022-23.

17. Intergovernmental – State – Public Safety Sales Tax

Public safety sales tax revenue is budgeted at $82.0 million in FY 2021-22, a decrease of $15.1 million (15.5 percent) from the FY 2020-21 budget and $25.6 million (23.8 percent) decrease from the Nine-Month Report. FY 2022-23 revenue is budgeted at $80.4 million, which is $1.6 million (2.0 percent) less than the proposed FY 2021-22 budget. Public safety sales tax revenue is based on two factors, the statewide sales tax revenue and the County's portion of statewide sales tax in the most recent calendar year. While statewide revenue is projected to grow in the budget period, the County's allocation factor is anticipated to shrink, resulting in reduced local revenues. During the pandemic, San Francisco sales tax revenue declined significantly and at a faster rate than any other county in California, given lowered visitor and residential activity. In addition, in FY 2020-21, a large online retailer restructured its business operations, shifting sales tax previously apportioned to San Francisco to counties with distribution centers.

18. Intergovernmental – State – 1991 Health & Welfare Realignment

In FY 2021-22, the General Fund share of 1991 realignment revenue is budgeted at $231.6 million, or $41.5 million (21.8 percent) more than the FY 2020-21 budget and $20.5 million (9.7 percent) more than the projection in the Nine-Month Report. The FY 2022-23 revenue is budgeted at $223.4 million, which is $8.2 million (3.5 percent) less than the proposed FY 2021-22 budget. The increase in FY 2021-22 is due to better state sales tax performance in FY 2020-21, which results in growth funding for FY 2021-22. Growth funding is projected to decline in FY 2022-23, as the state's overall sales tax recovery is anticipated to slow.

19. Intergovernmental – State – Public Safety Realignment

Public Safety Realignment (AB 109), enacted in early 2011, transfers responsibility for supervising certain kinds of felony offenders and state prison parolees from state prisons and parole agents to county jails and probation officers. This revenue is budgeted at $45.2 million in FY 2021-22, a $9.1 million (25.3 percent) increase from the FY 2020-21 budget and $6.4 million (16.5 percent) more than FY 2020-21 as projected in the Nine-Month Report. The FY 2022-23 proposed budget remains the same as FY 2021-22 proposed budget at $45.2 million. The increase in FY 2021-22 is primarily due to better state sales tax performance, resulting in growth payments for both FY 2021-22 and FY 2022-23.

20. Intergovernmental – State – Other

Other state funding is budgeted at $477.7 million in FY 2021-22, an increase of $61.9 million (14.9 percent) from the FY 2020-21 budget and $40.6 million (9.3 percent) more than the projection in the Nine-Month Report. In FY 2022-23, other state funding is budgeted at $438.0 million, a decrease of $39.7 million (8.3 percent) from the FY 2021-22 proposed budget. The increase in FY 2021-22 is attributable to a series of increases including $31.6 million in Short-Doyle Medi-Cal funds, $19.6 million for the State Whole Person Care Pilot Program, $8.1 million for child welfare services, $7.3 million for Medi-Cal eligibility determination services, $5.0 million for food stamps, $4.5 million in IHSS Public Authority funding, and $4.3 million for foster care services, partially offset by the decrease of $15.2 in 1991 Health and Welfare Realignment in the CalWORKs Maintenance of Effort subaccount, $2.0 million in the Kinship Guardian Assistance Payment (Kin-GAP) Program, and $1.6 million in foster care administrative funding. The decrease in FY 2022-23 is primarily due to the anticipated wind down of the Whole Person Care Pilot Program, a reduction of $40.2 million that is only marginally offset by an increase of $0.3 million in IHSS Contract Mode funding and $0.3 million in child welfare services.

21. Operating Transfers In

Transfers-in to the General Fund are budgeted at $158.3 million in FY 2021-22, a decrease of $288.8 million (64.6 percent) from the FY 2020-21 budget. In FY 2022-23, transfers-in are budgeted at $162.9 million, an increase of 4.6 million (2.9 percent) from the FY 2021-22 proposed budget. The large reduction in transfers in is due to the loss of one-time advance repayments associated with two recent voter approved taxes, the commercial rent tax (June 2018 Proposition C) and the homeless gross receipts tax (November 2018 Proposition C). The transfers in include a portion of Airport concessions revenue and 15% of commercial rent tax collections as authorized by June 2018 Proposition C.

Appendix 2. General Fund Reserve Uses and Deposits

The Mayor's proposed budget includes the use of $253.5 million and $14.0 million from reserves in FY 2021-22 and FY 2022-23, respectively. The Mayor's proposed budget also includes $58.9 million and $62.8 million in deposits to General Fund reserves during FY 2021-22 and FY 2022-23, respectively. These appear to be prudent and reflect anticipated General Reserve, Memoranda of Understanding (MOU), litigation, and general contingency reserve requirements.

NOTES

1. General Reserve

The General Reserve, established in Administrative Code Section 10.60, is intended to address revenue and expenditure issues not anticipated during budget development, and is typically used to fund supplemental appropriations or to offset significant revenue losses following the adoption of the budget.

The policy required the General Reserve to increase to 3.0 percent of General Fund revenue by FY 2020-21, with unused General Reserve carried forward from the prior year into the new budget year. However, in years when the City withdraws from the Rainy Day reserves, the required balance of the General Reserve is reset to 1.5 percent of General Fund revenue, growing to 3.0 percent of General Fund revenues in 0.25 percent annual increments thereafter. Given de minimis proposed withdrawals from the Rainy Day Reserve in the Mayor's proposed budget, the General Reserve required funding level is maintained at 1.5% of the General Fund, requiring deposits of $3.1 and $5.8 in FY 2021-22 and FY 2022-23, respectively, given projected increases in overall General Fund revenue.

2. Rainy Day Reserves

The Rainy Day Reserve is established in Charter Section 9.113.5 and is funded by excess revenue growth in good years. During a recession, the maximum allowable withdrawal from the City's Rainy Day Economic Stabilization Reserve is 50 percent of the balance in each year. Rainy Day Reserve balances are comprised of three separate reserves: City Rainy Day Economic Stabilization Reserve, SFUSD Rainy Day Economic Stabilization Reserve, and the City's Rainy Day One-Time Reserve.

The Mayor's budget maintains an anticipated balance of $114.5 from FY 2020-21. Per the voter-adopted policy, the City is eligible to withdraw $57.3 million in FY 2021-22 and the remaining $57.3 million in FY 2022-23.

No deposits or withdrawals of the City's Rainy Day One-Time Reserve and SFUSD's Rainy Day Economic Stabilization Reserve are budgeted in either year.

3. Budget Stabilization Reserve

Established by Administrative Code Section 10.60(c), the Budget Stabilization Reserve augments the Rainy Day Reserve. These two reserves are available to support the City's budget in years when revenues decline. The Budget Stabilization Reserve is funded by 75 percent of three volatile sources: real property transfer tax revenue adjusted for rate increases, ending unassigned fund balance, and certain asset sales. No deposit is budgeted to this reserve in either budget year.

During a recession, the maximum allowable withdrawal from the combined balance of City's Rainy Day Economic Stabilization Reserve and the Budget Stabilization Reserve is 30% in the first year and 50% in the second year, and the remainder in the third year. The Mayor's budget maintains an anticipated balance of $265.8 million. Per the policy, the maximum allowable withdrawal from the Budget Stabilization Reserve is $132.9 million in FY 2021-22 and the remaining $132.9 million in FY 2022-23. The policy may be suspended for a given fiscal year by a 2/3rds vote of the Board of Supervisors.

4. COVID Response and Economic Loss Reserve

Section 32 of the administrative provisions of the FY 2020-21 Annual Appropriations Ordinance established a COVID Response and Economic Loss Reserve, which has an anticipated balance of $507.4 million in FY 2020-21. The FY 2020-21 ending balance of the COVID reserve does not assume current year appropriation of $12.5m supporting free MUNI, pending at the Board of Supervisors. The Mayor's budget appropriates withdrawals of $99.5 million and $14.0 million in FY 2021-22 and FY 2022-23. The remaining balance is reassigned to the Federal and State Emergency Grant Disallowance Reserve and the Fiscal Cliff Reserve as detailed below.

5. Federal and State Emergency Grant Disallowance Reserve

Section 32 of the administrative provisions of the Mayor's proposed budget establishes a Federal and State Emergency Grant Disallowance Reserve of $100.0 million for the purpose of managing revenue shortfalls related to reimbursement disallowances from the Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA) and other state and federal agencies. This reserve is comprised of a portion of the remaining balance of the COVID-19 Response and Economic Loss Contingency Reserve.

6. Fiscal Cliff Reserve

Section 32.1 of the administrative provisions of the Mayor's proposed budget establishes a Fiscal Cliff Reserve of $293.9 million for the purpose of managing projected budget shortfalls following the spend down of federal and state stimulus funds and other one-time sources used to balance the FY 2021-22 and FY 2022-23 budget. This reserve is comprised of the balance of the COVID-19 Response and Economic Loss Contingency Reserve (COVID Reserve) remaining after funding the Federal and State Emergency Grant Disallowance Reserve in Section 32 and accounting for the use of the COVID Reserve in the FY 2021-22 and FY 2022-23 budget.

7. Business Tax Stabilization Reserve

The Business Tax Stabilization Reserve was created in Section 35 of the administrative provisions of the FY 2020-21 Annual Appropriations Ordinance to equalize the benefit of large one-time advance repayments associated with Commercial Rent Tax (June 2018 Proposition C) and Homeless Gross Receipts Tax (November 2018 Proposition C) budgeted in FY 2020-21 and FY 2021-22. The proposed budget spends the $149.0 million balance of this reserve in FY 2021-22.

8. Public Health Revenue Management Reserve

The Public Health Management Reserve is authorized under Section 12.6 of the administrative provisions of the Annual Appropriation Ordinance, authorizing the Controller to defer surplus transfer payments, indigent health revenues, and Realignment funding to offset future reductions of audit adjustments associated with the Affordable Care Act and funding allocations for indigent health services. This provision was adopted by the Board of Supervisors to smooth volatile state and federal revenues that can lead to large variances between budgeted and actual amounts due to unpredictable timing of payments, major changes in projected allocations, and delays in final audit settlements. The FY 2020-21 ending balance of the reserve is projected to be $59.5 million, as reported in the Nine-Month Report. There are no anticipated deposits or withdrawals from this reserve.

9. Recreation & Parks Savings Incentive Reserve

The Recreation and Park Savings Incentive Reserve is established by Charter Section 16.107(c) and prior to Proposition B, passed by the voters on June 7, 2016, was funded by the retention of year-end net expenditure savings and revenue surplus from the Recreation and Park Department. Proposition B eliminated the ability to retain expenditure savings while preserving deposits from surplus revenue. Any withdrawals from the reserve must go towards one-time expenditures. The Nine-Month Report assumed the reserve would be fully spent in the current fiscal year.

10. Free City College Reserve

The Free City College Reserve was authorized by Administrative Code Section 10.100-288 in November 2016 to provide a degree of funding stability to the Free City College Program. The initial deposit of $1.0 million was made in FY 2017-18. By the end of FY 2018-19, the ending balance of this reserve was $2.0 million. In September 2019, Ordinance 175-19 revised the funding mechanism for this reserve. From FY 2019-20 to 2022-23, any unspent funds for the Free City College Program for that year shall be deposited in the reserve. From FY 2023-24 to 2028-29, 50% of unspent funds shall be deposited in the reserve. Due to the pandemic, the annual audit for the Free City College Program for FY 2019-20 is delayed. The FY 2020-21 ending balance of the reserve is projected to be $2.0 million.

11. Mission Bay Transportation Improvement Fund Overlapping Event Reserve

The Mission Bay Transportation Fund was authorized in 2015, prior to the construction of the Chase Center arena. The fund was established to pay for services and capital improvements to address transportation and other community needs in connection with events at the arena. The increase in all tax revenues, both on-site and off-site, attributable to the operation of the arena are dedicated to this fund. When the arena is fully operational, the fund is expected to receive more than $12 million annually. The legislation establishing the fund created a reserve of $1.0 million to address transportation and other community needs when overlapping events occur at both the Chase Center and Oracle Park. No deposits or withdrawals to this reserve are assumed in the Mayor's proposed budget.

12. Urgent Needs Reserve

The Urgent Needs Reserve was established in ordinance 44-21, which was finally approved on April 9, 2021 to support unanticipated needs in the current fiscal year. The Mayor's proposed budget does not draw on the $6.5 million balance of this reserve.

13. Hotel Tax Loss Contingency Reserve

Ordinance 44-21 created a Hotel Tax Loss Contingency Reserve of $6.0 million in FY 2020-21 to ensure continuity in funding for arts programming, should there be unanticipated fluctuations in hotel tax as the City's economy recovers from the economic effects of the COVID public health emergency. One million ($1.0 million) of the reserve is expected to be used in FY 2020-21 and the Mayor's proposed budget uses $5.0 million of this reserve in FY 2021-22. In addition, the Mayor's budget deposits $2.5 million to this reserve in FY 2021-22.

14. Litigation Reserve

The Mayor's proposed budget includes $11.0 million for the litigation reserve in both FY 2021-22 and FY 2022-23. The reserve provides funding for judgments and claims paid out during the budget period based on historical experience and consistent with the level adopted in the Five Year Financial Plan. The City also maintains a separate reserve funded from prior year appropriations for large cases pending against the City.

15. Reserve for Technical Adjustments

Reserves of $5.0 million in each budget year allow for technical adjustments during the budget review process. The Mayor's Office will inform the Budget and Finance Committee prior to the final Committee vote on the budget as to the amount required for technical adjustments up to that point and any balance that may be available for other uses.

16. Salary & Benefits Reserve

The Mayor's proposed budget provides $37.3 million and $40.9 million in FY 2021-22 and 2022-23, respectively, to cover costs related to adopted MOUs with labor organizations based on projected reserve uses in FY 2020-21.

Appendix 3. One-time Sources and Nonrecurring Revenue Policy

The use of one-time or nonrecurring sources to support ongoing operations creates a future budget shortfall, requiring expenditures to be reduced or replacement resources identified. In December 2011, the Board approved a Nonrecurring Revenue Policy, codified in Administrative Code Section 10.61, which requires selected nonrecurring revenues to be used only for identified nonrecurring expenditures. The Controller is required to certify compliance with this policy. The selected revenues include:

- General Fund prior year-end unassigned fund balance, before reserve deposits, above the prior five-year average;
- The General Fund share of revenues from prepayments provided under long-term leases, concessions, or contracts after accounting for any Charter-mandated revenue transfers, set-asides, or deposits to reserves;
- Otherwise unrestricted revenues from legal judgments and settlements; and
- Otherwise unrestricted revenues from the sale of land or other fixed assets.

Controller's Certification

General Fund prior year-end unassigned fund balance is budgeted at $470.1 million for FY 2021-22 and $312.4 million for FY 2022-23, which includes $312.4 million in anticipated federal stimulus revenues allocated from the American Rescue Plan Act (ARPA) in each fiscal year. These amounts are below the prior five-year average of year-end fund balance of $539.6 million (average of FY 2015-16 through FY 2019-20 ending fund balance) for FY 2021-22 budget and projected balance of $539.4 million (average of FY 2016-17 through FY 2020-21) for FY 2022-23 budget. Thus, for the purposes of the non-recurring revenue policy, the use of fund balance is not considered a one-time source. The proposed budget also uses $267.5 million in prior year reserves, $253.5 million in FY 2021-22 and $14.0 million in FY 2022-23. As shown in Exhibit 3-1, the budget contains $267.5 million of budgeted nonrecurring sources and $468.9 million nonrecurring expenditures. Therefore, the Controller's Office certifies compliance with the policy.

NOTES

1. Municipal Transportation Agency (MTA) Baselines

Charter section 8A.105 established a Municipal Transportation Fund to provide a predictable, stable and adequate level of funding for the MTA. Consistent with the Charter, in FY 2000-01 a base amount of funding was established. Charter subsection (c) (1) requires the Controller's Office to adjust the base amount from year to year by the percent increase or decrease in General Fund Aggregate Discretionary Revenues (ADR). This baseline is required to be adjusted for significant service increases. Beginning in FY 2021-22, the MTA baseline will increase due to operating costs associated with the opening of the Central Subway.

Beginning in FY 2002-03, this Charter section also established a minimum level of funding (required baseline) for the Parking and Traffic Commission based upon FY 2001-02 appropriations. Proposition B, passed by the voters in November 2014, requires that in addition to adjusting annually for the change in ADR, these baseline amounts be increased for 10 years of population growth in the City in FY 2015-16 and annual population growth thereafter. Additionally, 80 percent of parking tax revenue is allocated to the MTA.

In total, the Mayor's proposed budget includes funding for these MTA baselines at the required levels of $467.7 million in FY 2021-22 and $531.7 million in FY 2022-23.

2. Library Baseline

Charter Section 16.109 established a Library Preservation Fund to provide library services and to construct, maintain, and operate library facilities. Consistent with the Charter, in FY 2006-07 a base amount of funding was established, which is adjusted annually by the percent increase or decrease in ADR. Based on revenue in the Mayor's proposed budget, the Library Baseline requirements of $87.9 million in FY 2021-22 and $99.6 million in FY 2022-23 are met.

3. Property Tax-Related Set-Asides

Charter Sections 16.108, 16.109, and 16.107 mandate property tax-related set-asides for the Children and Youth Fund, the Library Preservation Fund, and the Open Space Fund, respectively. The Children and Youth Fund receives an allocation of $0.0400 on each $100 valuation of taxable property. The Library Preservation Fund and the Open Space Fund receive allocations of $0.025 for each $100 valuation of taxable property. The Mayor's proposed budget includes required funding of $110.3 million in FY 2021-22 and $115.1 million in FY 2022-23 for the Children and Youth Fund, and $68.9 million and $71.9 million in FY 2021-22 and FY 2022-23, respectively, for both the Library Preservation Fund and Open Space Fund.

4. Children's Baseline

Charter Section 16.108 established a Children and Youth Services baseline. Consistent with the Charter, in FY 2000-01 a base amount of funding was established, which is adjusted annually by the percent increase or decrease in ADR. Proposition C, approved by voters in November 2014, amended the Charter to exclude medical health services as an eligible service. As a result, and as part of establishing the Disconnected Transitional-Aged Youth Baseline, the Controller reviewed City appropriations included in the fund and excluded medical health services and other expenditures now mandated by state law. The Controller then recalculated City appropriations as a percentage of ADR to arrive at an adjusted baseline rate. The required Children's baselines for FY 2021-22 and FY 2022-23 are $185.8 million and $210.3 million, respectively. The Mayor's proposed budget includes Children's Baseline appropriations of $223.1 million and $210.4 million, which exceed the minimum requirement by $37.3 million in FY 2021-22 and $0.1 million in FY 2022-23.

5. Disconnected Transitional-Aged Youth Baseline

Proposition C, approved by voters in November 2014, amended Charter Section 16.108 to increase the Children's Baseline to include services for Disconnected Transitional-Aged Youth (TAY), known as the TAY Baseline. The Charter requires that the TAY Baseline be added to the Children's Baseline, however, it is tracked separately for reporting purposes. The TAY Baseline amount was established in FY 2013-14 and like the Children's Baseline is adjusted annually by the percent increase or decrease in ADR. The required baselines for FY 2021-22 and FY 2022-23 are $22.3 million and $25.3 million, respectively. The Mayor's proposed budget includes TAY eligible baseline appropriations of $36.2 million in each year, which exceed the minimum requirement by $13.9 million in FY 2021-22 and $11.0 million in FY 2022-23.

6. Public Education Services Baseline

Charter Section 16.123-2 established a Public Education Enrichment Fund. Consistent with the Charter, in FY 2001-02 a base amount of funding was established, which is adjusted annually by the percent increase or decrease in ADR. The Mayor's proposed budget includes the required $10.4 million in FY 2021-22 and $11.2 million in FY 2022-23 for this baseline.

7. Public Education Enrichment Fund Annual Contribution

In addition to the Public Education Services Baseline, Charter Section 16.123-2 requires the City to support education initiatives with annual contributions equal to the City's total contribution in the prior year, adjusted for the change in ADR. The proposed budget includes $117.6 million and $133.1 million for the Public Education Enrichment Fund Annual Contribution in FY 2021-22 and FY 2022-23, respectively. One third of the contribution supports the Preschool for All program at the Office of Early Childhood Education and two thirds of the contribution supports programming at the San Francisco Unified School District.

8. Recreation & Parks Baseline

In June 2016, voters approved Proposition B, a Charter amendment which requires an annual contribution from the General Fund to the Recreation and Parks Department that will increase by $3.0 million per year for the next ten fiscal years, and then be adjusted at the same rate as the percentage increase or decrease in ADR. The City may suspend growth in baseline funding in years when the City forecasts a budget deficit of $200 million or greater. Growth in the required spending level in FY 2020-21 was suspended because of the forecasted budget deficit; however, the requirement continues to grow for FY 2021-22 and FY 2022-23 by $3.0 million in each year, to $79.2 million and $82.2 million, respectively. The Mayor's proposed budget includes General Fund appropriations of $84.2 million and $85.9 million, which exceed the minimum requirement by $5.0 million in FY 2021-22 and $3.8 million in FY 2022-23.

9. Housing Trust Fund

In 2012, voters established the Housing Trust Fund (Charter section 16.110), which requires an annual contribution from the General Fund to the Housing Trust Fund of $20.0 million beginning in FY 2013-14 and increasing annually by $2.8 million. The Mayor's proposed budget includes funding of $60.0 million and $45.4 million in FY 2021-22 and FY 2022-23, respectively. This is $17.6 million more than the required amount in FY 2021-22 and the exact required amount in FY 2022-23. Administrative provision Section 11.25 of the Annual Appropriations Ordinance directs the Controller to credit the $17.6 million as an advance against required appropriations of the Housing Trust Fund, with a required annual repayment to the General Fund of $3.52 million beginning in FY 2023-24 for five years.

10. Dignity Fund

In November 2016, voters approved Proposition I, establishing the Dignity Fund to support programming for seniors and adults with disabilities. Charter section 16.128-3 establishes a baseline contribution from the General Fund to the Dignity Fund of $38.1 million beginning in FY 2016-17, increasing by $6.0 million in FY 2017-18 and by $3.0 million per year from FY 2018-19 through FY 2026-27. From FY 2027-28 and beyond, the baseline is adjusted by the percentage increase or decrease in ADR. The Charter allows the City to suspend growth in this baseline in years when the City forecasts a budget deficit of $200 million or greater. Growth in FY 2020-21 was therefore suspended for one year, at a level of $50.1 million. The Mayor's proposed budget includes the required General Fund appropriations of $53.1 million and $56.1 million in FY 2021-22 and FY 2022-23, respectively.

11. Street Tree Maintenance Fund

In November 2016, voters approved Proposition E, establishing the Street Tree Maintenance Fund to maintain the City's street trees. Charter section 16.129 establishes a baseline contribution from the General Fund to the Street Tree Maintenance Fund of $19.0 million in FY 2017-18 and adjusted by the percentage increase or decrease in ADR every year thereafter. The Mayor's proposed budget includes the required funding of $19.8 million and $22.4 million in FY 2021-22 and FY 2022-23, respectively.

12. Municipal Symphony Baseline

Charter Section 16.106(1) mandates that the City provide an appropriation equivalent to 1/8 of $0.01 of each $100 of assessed valuation of property tax for the San Francisco Municipal Symphony Orchestra. Based on budgeted assumptions of assessed valuation, the required funding for the Municipal Symphony Baseline is $3.7 million in FY 2021-22 and $3.9 million in FY 2022-23.

13. City Services Auditor Baseline

Charter Section F1.113, approved by voters through Proposition C in November 2003, established the Controller's Audit Fund with a baseline funding amount of 0.2 percent of the City budget to fund audits of City services. The Mayor's proposed budget includes $23.4 million in FY 2021-22 and $22.3 million in FY 2022-23 for the City Services Auditor baseline.

14. Mission Bay Transportation Improvement Fund

The Mission Bay Transportation Fund was authorized in 2015, prior to the construction of the Chase Center arena. The fund was established to pay for services and capital improvements to address transportation and other community needs in connection with events at the arena. The increase in all tax revenues, both on-site and off-site, attributable to the operation of the arena are dedicated to this fund. When the arena is fully operational, it is expected to receive more than $12 million annually. The Mayor's proposed budget includes the required minimum deposit to the fund of $7.6 million in FY 2021-22 and $8.8 million in FY 2022-23. These funds are allocated to the Municipal Transportation Agency, Department of Public Works, and the Police Department.

15. Our City, Our Home Baseline

The Homeless Gross Receipts Tax authorized by Proposition C in November 2018 created a requirement to maintain homeless spending at FY 2017-18 budgeted levels. The base amount of funding was subsequently calculated to be $215.0 million. The proposed budget exceeds this requirement, appropriating $324.0 million in FY 2021-22 and $337.2 million in FY 2022-23.

This requirement is calculated by totaling all Proposition C-eligible spending, excluding the Our City, Our Home special revenue fund. The calculation includes spending in the General Fund, various special revenue funds, and other funds.

16. Early Care and Education Baseline

The Commercial Rent Tax for Early Care and Education authorized by Proposition C in June 2018 established a requirement to fund early childhood care and education. A base amount of funding was established for FY 2017-18, which is adjusted annually by the percent increase or decrease in ADR. The required baselines for FY 2021-22 and FY 2022-23 are $85.1 million and $96.3 million, respectively. The proposed budget exceeds minimum funding levels by appropriating $91.3 million in FY 2021-22 and $96.5 million in FY 2022-23.

17. Police Minimum Staffing Baseline (Repealed)

In November 2020, voters adopted Proposition E, a Charter amendment to remove the City's mandatory police staffing level of 1,971 sworn full-duty officers. The staffing level of 1,971 was previously adopted by voters through Proposition D (1994). The Chief of Police is required to submit a report to the Police Commission by November 1 each odd-numbered year, a report describing the number of sworn full-duty officers and recommended staffing levels.

Hi Supervisors,

I was planning on showing the attached slides re: PUC payments and Herrera's PR person during general public comment, but it's possible I will have to attend SOTF by the time you get to public comment.

Also, consider having a special order for timing of general public comment instead of having people wait for an indeterminate period of time on the phone.
Police Commission does it well - BoS can too.

Regards,

What is this money for? RDJ is “invoiced” by CBOs dated April 1, 2020 for $3,500 each for various community orgs with essentially identical invoices. RDJ appears to pay out those $3,500 checks on March 13 - prior to the invoice date. Invoices lack any itemization so it is unclear what work was done vs not required due to the CANCELLATION of the ceremony.

Tucker!

Hope you're surviving this madness. You've bene doing a great job on the SFUSD stuff. Quick question for you. I like this line -- Research is increasingly showing that, despite the best efforts of teachers, many students are struggling with distance learning, while their mental and emotional health are at greater risk. -- from one of your recent stories: <https://www.sfchronicle.com/education/article/Calling-all-billionaires-S-F-plans-to-ask-15862836.php>

It would help me out if you could point me to a study or two that talks about the mental health toll on kids from distancing learning.

Thank you and stay safe!
